Mr. Stultz Returns From Culligan Meeting

Harold Stultz has just returned from the annual spring meeting of Culligan Soft Water Service dealers in this region.

Attending the meeting at the Olds hotel in Lansing were home office executives of Culligan, Inc., the parent company located at Northbrook, Ill.

Mr. Stultz reports that soft water will be used by 3½ million people by the end of this year, an expansion of 15 per cent.

He reports that spring promotion activities were considered during the session, including discussion of expansion of the rural market for soft water. Dealers were also advised of the redesign and repricing of home-owned water softeners.

Culligan Inc., the largest of 200 manufacturers of water conditioning equipment for the home, now has more than 1,100 independent dealers in 3,000 communities in this country and Canada. These dealers offer soft water on a service basis similar to gas and electricity, and they also sell softeners and other water conditioning equipment.

Savings in soap cost and longer fabric life which result from the use of soft water, and the greater convenience it provides, are stimulating industry growth, Mr. Stultz says.

Grade School News

Grade 4
Mrs. Baily

We are so happy to have a flag up in our room. The V.F.W. Post 4187 and the V.F.W. Auxiliary gave us a new flag and pole. We appreciate it very much.

There is a new pupil in our room. Billy Parham was transferred from Patterson. We hope he will be happy with us.

Donna Cubberly had the only birthday in our room in March.

Mrs. Baily is reading "Heidi" to us and in our reading book we have been learning about some famous people of long ago.

In geography we are visiting a little boy and girl in Africa. They live in the valley of the Nile River.

We have been making posters in science. Some of us made them with pictures of energy foods, others of body-building foods, and the rest of protective foods.

In social studies we are studying about six important cities of our own country. New York, New Orleans, Seattle, Minneapolis, Pittsburgh, and Phoenix. We are learning why they are located where they are and what made them grow to be such large cities.

Grade 5
Mrs. Uckele

Last fall our pupils were divided into two groups. Each group was to do something special. Group No. 1 made a mural last semester. March twelfth Group No. 2 gave a program patterned after a Groucho Marx T.V. show. Inez Boltz and Evelyn Beland were the planning committee. Dennis Ireland took the part of Groucho Marx. Susan Day introduced the contestants. The questions were about our school subjects and were made by various pupils in the group. Mr. Greene visited our room to hear the program.

We have been making food charts in our health class. These are to help us to see how many of the basic foods we eat each day for a week. We are also making posters showing energy foods, body-building foods, and which foods contain minerals and vitamins.

Our blackboard has a border of gay umbrellas, which are suggestive of April weather.

We miss Judy Ward, Patty Squires, Robert Foreman, and Jerry Kapnick who are absent because of illness.

Patterson School—Grade 3
Mrs. Osburn

Our grade has taken over the duties of the Patrol and the Service Squad. Most of us are enjoying our duties. Larry Titley is the lieutenant.

We have decorated our room for Easter with flowers, birds, and bunnies. We also have an Easter Egg Tree.

We have had some new legs put on some of the desks for the taller pupils.

Tommy Barton brought a large starfish, which his grandmother brought from Florida, to school this week.

We completed our poppy posters for art this week and some of them were very good.

In language we have been writing business letters. Mike Green and Tommy Barton mailed theirs and have received replies.

This week we completed our basic readers and are starting to read the Trails to Treasure.

Sonny Evans gave us a fish bowl and two gold fish this week.

Several of the boys have started stamp collections.

The girls are progressing nicely with their knitting. All but one have knitted a dish cloth and a hot pad holder. Dianne Fuller and Camilla Grigg have knitted hats. Nancy Smith is knitting a pair of mittens and Anna Kay McCann is knitting bed socks. They have also knitted some squares for an afghan to send to Korea.

Thursday will be the final test in Health. We are going to start our Science book again next week.

Central School—Grade 5
Mrs. Runk

We fifth graders have been busy this past month. We have worked hard and we're getting tired. We are waiting for Easter vacation.

We are proud of ourselves, though, for yesterday we had a spelldown on our spelling list for the week, and not one of us spelled down.

In Social Studies we have been studying the United States. Many of us sent to the various states for information. Some interesting materials were sent to us: a cotton boll and some seeds from Louisiana; a chart showing steps in the making of steel; a chart showing copper mining, smelting, and refining of steel; a booklet on oil drilling, from Texas; and many others.

Our new officers for March are Gale Kimerer, president; Carol Greiman, secretary; and Kenneth Beevers, vice president and treasurer.

Judy Mangrum, Bruce LaFevre, Susan Nichols, Kenneth Beevers, Don Linden, and Jim Ripley can name all the states, their capitols, and their abbreviations.

We are beginning to have some sunny days now which make us doubly grateful for our goodlooking venetian blinds. They keep the glare off our desks while letting the light in.

All of us are looking forward to having physical education in the big gym. We are looking forward to taking showers, too.

Charlotte Elder left our room, and Ann Wilson has moved, also. We are glad she will still be coming to our school, though.

Grade 4
Mrs. Whiting

We have finished our regular reading book and are now reading "Single Wheels," which is all about pioneers.

The girls are working on four Easter panels, and the boys are working on four United States maps during their 25 minutes free period each day.

Everyone has been busy making Poppy Posters. Some are very good. We wonder who will win the prizes.

We have had quite a few absences this month, because of colds and bad weather. We hope April will be nicer.

Each Friday we have movies in place of Social Studies, if we have been good citizens. Bruce Parrott ran the projector for us last week.

Jean Osworth is the only one who had a birthday in March. There will be four in April — Jean Packard, Donald Schmidt, David Crosby, and Joyce Durham.

In Language class we are studying about business letters. In Social Studies we have just finished about Benjamin Franklin, and are now reading about Abraham Lincoln.

We have made food posters for Health class.

Patterson School—Grade 4
Mrs. Colson

Last week when we were talking about a dairy farm and a creamery, we decided we would like to find out for ourselves what happens when cream is made into butter.

Nancy Beland brought us a glass churn and Billy Truesdale brought some cream which was just right for churning. We took turns turning the handle of the churn, and before very long we began to see a change in the cream. A short time later, instead of the cream, we had butter and buttermilk.

We took the butter out of the churn, washed and salted it, and worked all the buttermilk out with a large spoon.

When the butter was ready to eat we spread it on crackers which Carol Green had brought for us. We had fun making the butter, and of course we enjoyed eating it!

We have been reading about the kinds of wheat and how wheat is grown. We are planning to visit the Hayden Flour Mills sometime soon to see how flour is made. Perhaps we can tell you about that next time.

Couple Celebrates Forty Years Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Dean VanValkenburg inivited fifty relatives, neighbors and friends to their home west of town Friday evening to help them celebrate the fortieth anniversary of their marriage. Their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald VanValkenburg assisted them in receiving guests and a granddaughter Marjorie VanValkenburg had charge of the guest book while her sister Jane distributed favors.

An informal program of music and reading was the evening's entertainment opening with a rhymed welcome by the hostess in which she described the wedding of forty years before which had taken place in Tecumseh at the home of her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Lynne Butrick.

Music was supplied by Marjorie, Mrs. Raynor, Faye and Dalton VanValkenburg and by Mrs. W. G. Waldron and Russell Spalding. There were readings and short talks by Mrs. Leon VanValkenburg, Mrs. Claire Beland, Alvin Brazee and Harry Waldron and the program was brought to a fitting close with a typically original solo by the host.

The wedding cake was cut by Mrs. Leon VanValkenburg, Mrs. Faye VanValkenburg poured coffee and Mrs. W. G. Waldron, Mrs. Bevi Baker and Mrs. Elsie Ayling, the latter two from Adrian, also assisted in serving.

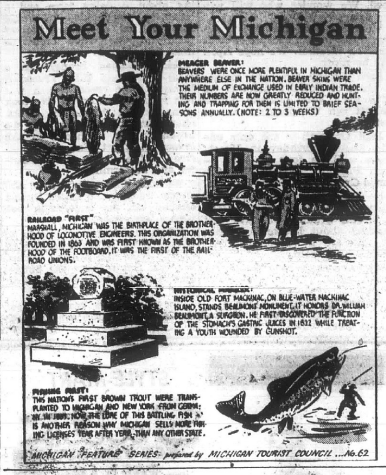
Meet Your Michigan



David Ousterhout Wed In Illinois

At the First Methodist church in Oregon, Ill., last Saturday afternoon David Ousterhout, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Ousterhout of Tecumseh, and Donna Jane Anderson were united in marriage by the Rev. Fred Anderson. The double ring ceremony took place at 2 p.m. in a candlelighted church that was beautifully decorated with white stock, snapdragons and palms. Organ music before and during the ceremony was played by William Hooks, a close family friend.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Anderson of Oregon, wore a waltz length gown of white nylon net and her veil which fell from a white floral band was sprinkled with rhinestones. She carried a cascade bouquet of white hyacinth flowerettes and lilies of the valley, interspersed with tiny, pale pink Demure roses.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Nancy Aurand, was gowned in spring green also of nylon net and made in a style similar to that worn by the bride. Her cascade bouquet was of pale pink hyacinth flowerettes and ivy with a center cluster of shell pink camelias. She wore a half hat made of nylon net matching her gown and interwoven with pink flowerettes.

The groom was attended by Howard Pennington of Ridgeway as best man.

Before the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Anderson entertained their out-of-town guests at a luncheon and immediately after the wedding a reception was held at the Anderson home. Pink and white flowers decorated the house and a tiered wedding cake centered the serving table. It was topped by an unusual, imported miniature bride and groom and circled with smilax and pink Demure roses.

Mrs. Anderson csoe a light blue, two-piece dress with pale pink accessories for her daughter's wedding while Mrs. Ousterhout wore a navy blue silk suit with an azalea pink flowered hat. Both wore corsages of pink camelias.

After a few days in Chicago, Pvt. and Mrs. Ousterhout will motor to their new home in Red Bank, N. J., stopping over for a short stay in Tecumseh. Pvt. Ousterhout is stationed with the Microwave Division of the Signal Corp at Fort Monmouth, N. J.

Mrs. Ousterhout, a graduate of Oregon high school attended Knox College, Ill., and Michigan State College, where she was affiliated with Alpha Xi Delta sorority.

Pvt. Ousterhout also graduated from M.S.C. and both majored in floriculture. For the past year the bride has been employed as a designer at the Van Peenan Flower shop in Lansing.

Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Ousterhout and daughter Barbara, Miss Jene Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ringman attended the wedding from Tecumseh, Howard Pennington from Ridgeway and Mr. and Mrs. Clark Rathbun from Fowlerville.

LEGION ENTERTAINS PAST COMMANDERS

A most pleasant social afternoon followed the two o'clock dinner at the Legion Home Sunday, the event being the annual entertainment of the Past Commanders of Underwood-Orr Post No. 34 and their wives ad of the past presidents of the Auxiliary and their husbands.

Fifty were present including Mrs. Florence Honsinger of Ypsilanti, Mrs. John Larsen of Jackson and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Blessing of Monroe.

The dinner was prepared and served by a committee made up of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Howe, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Curtiss, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smith and the invocation was given by Mr Curtiss.

The occasion was marked by the presence of Past Commander Louis Schneider, who attended for the first time since his illness. A photographer was present to take pictures of Past Commanders in order to complete the files of the Post.

The O. W. Laidlaws, Ned Baldwins, E. J. Aebersolds, Mrs. Gertrude Schneider and Perry Satterthwaite were appointed as a committee for next year's dinner.

Christian Science Services Listed

How sickness and disability may be overcome by bringing thinking into accord with the truth of God and man through prayer will be the topic of Christian Science services Sunday.

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon. Selections to be read from the Bible include the account (Matthew 9) of Christ Jesus' raising the Jairus' daughter from the dead, his restoring of sight to the two blind men, and his healing of the "dumb man possessed with a devil."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following passage will be read:

"Jesus strips all disguise from error, when his teachings are fully understood. By parable and argument he explains the impossibility of good producing evil; and he also scientifically demonstrates this great fact, proving by what are wrongly called miracles, that sin, sickness, and death are beliefs — illusive errors — which he could and did destroy" (343:14).

The Golden Text is from Jeremiah:

"Heal me, O Lord, and I shall be healed; save me, and I shall be saved: for thou art my praise" (17:14).

the expenses for educating their children.

The Waring District owns its own bus so the Tecumseh Public Schools would then own this bus and operate it without direct cost to the local taxpayers as the State reimburses the schools for total bus operational costs.

The East Branch School has been condemned by the State Department of Public Instruction and the State Fire Marshall for many years.

It has fallen into disrepair due to lack of use and since its lower windows are boarded up, it presents an unsightly appearance.

The property, however, is valuable and it is hoped that the District will vote at the election to enable the board of education to dispose of the property. Funds derived from its sale may be used to provide better educational facilities.

Additional elementary school rooms will be necessary by the fall of 1955. Since this land has been condemned by the Department of Public Instruction for school purposes, it perhaps should be sold soon as additional funds are needed by the local district.

SPRING LUNCHEON CLOSES SEASON FOR MONDAY CLUB

One of the pleasant events of the season, the spring luncheon of the Monday Club, was held in the Methodist church parlors at 1 o'clock. Eighty members and guests were present. Easter colors in daffodils, narcissus, pussywillows and heather decorated the tables and Easter bunny favors, made by Girl Scout Troop 17 marked the places. Place cards designated the places of the new and retiring officers.

The luncheon was served by the ladies of the W.S.C.S. and the invocation was given by Mrs. Ronald Brunger. Annual reports were given by the officers and the president, Mrs. O'Hara announced the meeting of the County Federation to be held in Adrian Wednesday, April 21. The luncheon will be held at the Presbyterian church at 1 p.m. and reservations must be made by April 19 with Mrs. O'Hara. Transportation will be arranged.

Because of this meeting the date of the club trip to the Toledo Art Museum has been changed to April 20. Twenty-three reservations have already been made with Miss Lillian Cannon but 38 are necessary to charter a bus. Anyone wishing to take advantage of this opportunity may call Miss Cannon, 359-J or Mrs. Jennie Satterlee, 279-M.

Announcement was also made of the Adult Education course in Ann Arbor May 5 and 6.

Mrs. O'Hara reported on the State Federation meeting at Grand Rapids March 31 and April 1 which she attended. Tecumseh was honored by having a member, Mrs. Guy Pocklington as chairman of sale of U. S. Defense Bonds. In recognition of her work Mrs. Pocklington was presented with a plaque inscribed with President Eisenhower's inauguration prayer.

Mrs. T. Rentschler, as program leader, then introduced members of Girl Scout Troop 17 whose leaders are Mrs. Victor Peterson and Mrs. Gerald Griffin, and who presented the entertainment of the afternoon.

There was a tap dance by Vicky Peterson; a playlette in cleverly rhymed dialogue entitled "The Hat Shop" in which ten scouts took part; a swimming song by five members and a skit "Dancing down the Bunny Trail" by Linda Griffin in costume. The girls closed their program with their good night song and the club adjourned to meet again in October.

Mayor

of the proudest moments of my life when you placed your trust in me as the first Mayor of Tecumseh. However, conditions and situations change with amazing rapidity and I have lately found myself at the crossroads. Until last Friday I had not been at our Marion plant this year. Of necessity I must protect my occupation and give my employers and employees a fair day's work. I cannot allow outside interests to permeate my thinking to the point where I am not doing the best job I am capable of and know how to do.

"I also realized I was not doing the best possible job for the Council or Community as I was not prepared to meet the manifold situations which arose. The study and preparations required to be a good Councilman and Mayor requires much time and that time could be made available only at the sacrifice of other duties. This position has become untenable for me.

"Your cooperation and indulgence is appreciated beyond expression. You are a fine group of citizens and I only hope that in appointing a successor to me on the Council you will find a person as conscientious, responsible, and interested in the City's welfare as you are yourselves. You have a fine City Manager in Ed Nelson, and I am sure with Hugh Hanna in the chair Tecumseh will progress and move forward without falter.

"Thank you for your consideration.

Yours very truly,
Charles H. Mensing"

GRIZZLY BEARS

Outside the areas in which they are deliberately protected it is doubtful if anyone these days can get much experience from a free, wild Grizzly Bear inside the limits of the United States. True, they may be seen in our National Parks and in our zoos but this a far cry from the days when Grizzlies were more or less the dominating animal in much of the western half of the United States and the western third of Canada. On the whole, this is probably an improvement but it seems unfortunate that somehow a more mutually satisfactory arrangement could not have been worked out. Human nature and bear nature being what they were, it was hard to reach a natural reconciliation and as is usual the bear paid the price.

Many of us have had plenty of opportunities to see free Grizzlies in our National Parks, particularly at the points where they are fed for the entertainment of visiting tourists. Those of us fortunate to have visited these parks before the present enormous numbers went to them had more intimate and sometimes more startling experiences with them. To probably many persons, however, a Grizzly Bear is an enormous animal interested primarily in chasing and killing hunters or live stock. To those who have read Seton's story of Wah, the animal is one to be admired and pitied. Probably none of these accounts give us the true story of the animal.

An adult male Grizzly Bear may be over eight feet long and stand four feet high at the shoulder, which is higher than one finds in the related Black Bear. Grizzly males may attain a weight of 1,150 pounds. The females are smaller in size and weight than their mates. Both sexes are colored a yellowish brown with a gray or "grizzly" wash. The Alaskan Brown Bear is larger than the typical Grizzly, reaching a weight of over 1,600 pounds and is probably the largest carnivorous mammal on earth. There is much difference of opinion as to the proper classification of the Grizzly Bear group. Some give the Alaskan Brown Bear rank as a subspecies, while others recognize it as a distinct species. Some 86 forms have been recognized as being distinct by the zoologists.

Grizzly Bears mate for the season. The 2 to 4 young are born 236 days after the breeding takes place and each weighs about 1-1/2 pounds and has a length of about 8 inches. At 3 months of age, the young Grizzly weighs about 12 pounds. At 3 years, it reaches breeding age and usually by 25 years it has completed its normal life span.

The food of Grizzlies includes not only larger animals like deer, cattle and horses, but sheep, snakes, birds and even ants. They may also eat fruits and other plant foods when necessary.

Generally Grizzlies mind their own business but when crossed by another animal they can put up a prodigious fight. The track of a Grizzly shows the hind foot reaching a length of 11 inches as against a corresponding length of 6 inches in a Black Bear.

It is hoped that these magnificent creatures may never become extinct. The National Wildlife Federation is interested in reasonable protection of animals in danger of becoming extinct.

Is That So!

By Clara Waldron

A clipping from the COLUMBUS OHIO DISPATCH, telling of the birthplace and career of the Shawnee Indian chief for whom Tecumseh was named has been received from a roving friend of the HERALD, with the comment, "I always thought Tecumseh was born in Canada."

Others seem to have thought so too and, since one of the compensations of this column is its free-wheeling choice of subjects, perhaps this is as good a time as any to write of one of the most admirable of the characters of early middle west history.

The places where Washington slept are not much more numerous than the birth and burial places of Chief Tecumseh. One local historian has proudly stated that he was born here, "near the Dancing Ground," that he belonged to the Lenawee tribe and became a Shawnee only by the second marriage of his mother. This seems in doubt since there was no "Lenawee" tribe. Another colorful tale has its origin in Fort Malden, Canada and quotes Tecumseh himself as saying he was born in an Indian village of Kisapooke on "Plum Run" in Pickaway county about 1768 and that his father's name was Pucksinwa. This was near the Scioto River, the traditional home of the Shawnees, who were supposed to have been closely allied with the Pottawatamies, the Indians of this region.

There is still more question about the burial place of Tecumseh, although bones purported to be his were given ceremonial burial by Indians on Walpole Island in 1934 and an imposing monument erected in his memory. Another monument stands at Thamesville, Canada, near where he was killed in one of the last battles of the war of 1812 and still another honors him at Tecumseh, Ontario.

Where he was born or buried has little significance, however, compared to the way he lived. It was admiration for what he had done and for the qualities of his mind and spirit that led the founders of Tecumseh, Michigan, to give his name to their infant village, although only a vague tradition linked him with this area. This was the legend that he had addressed the assembled tribes here in the pre-historic amphitheater called the "Dancing Ground." Choice of his name for the town was the more remarkable as 1824 was so soon after the River Raisin Massacre and hate and fear of the Indian was ingrained in many settler's minds.

It was true, of course, that Tecumseh had led a revolt against white domination and that in final desperation he had joined the English enemy but according to the careful study of the late Dr. W. B. Hindsdale of the U. of M. there had been much right on his side. He had tried to unite the Indian tribes for what he hoped might be more just land treaties. To an Indian, land, like air, water and sunshine, was the common property of all. When one local chief ignorantly bargained away hundreds of miles for a few trinkets, the others could not believe it was no longer theirs.

Tecumseh, who had spent much time with the whites and knew their strength, probably realized he was waging a losing battle but his struggle was for some semblance of justice for his people. He was a wiley leader and strategist and a savage fighter but many stories prove that he showed more mercy than most Indians and mere honesty than many white men. He repeatedly saved captives from massacre and torture although that was the accepted procedure of Indian warfare; and on at least one occasion he castigated a British general for not protecting his prisoners.

With the surrender of Detroit in 1812, the British and Indians were in victorious possession of that area and took what they wished from the few settlers. Tecumseh himself is said to have "requisitioned" a pair of oxen belonging to a Monroe farmer to feed his young men, promising that the authorities would pay for them. When the British refused to honor his order, Tecumseh made a day's journey to Detroit with the owner and calmly told the commander that all his braves would be withdrawn if the money was not paid.

It was because of qualities like this that our town was named for Chief Tecumseh.

His death, according to Dr. Hinsdale, was as dramatic as his life. He had been given the rank of Brigadier General by the British but the morning of the Battle of the Thames, when he realized his cause was lost, changed the British uniform for Indian dress saying, "The sun is my father, the earth is my mother. Today I return to her bosom."

Living With Peace Of Mind

By KIRBY PAGE

It is a sobering and yet exhilarating experience to reflect unhurriedly upon the men chosen by Jesus to be his companions and the transmitters of his message to oncoming generations. Not one of them could sign himself, Ph.D. There was not a consecrated priest or an ordained minister among them. You look there in vain for a genius in science, or a financier under whose touch everything turns to money or a potentate with mighty power. The only office-holder in the lot had been a despised tax-collector in the pay of the enemy. The only military man included probably had been a Zealot in the army of rebellion.

All of the twelve came from the am-har-arets, the people of the land who failed to observe the ceremonial laws and were therefore looked upon as accursed by the orthodox. They were fishermen, artisans, peasants, consumed with the business of keeping themselves and their families alive.

Even after they had walked with Jesus, they quarreled about chief places in the kingdom; they went to sleep during the crisis when he needed them most; once they wanted to burn down a village; one of them denied with oaths that he even knew the master; one of them betrayed him with a kiss.

Yet these are the men selected and trusted by Jesus with the responsibility of continuing his work. He gave them no code of laws and did not write down for them a summary of his teachings. He loved them with an affection which passes understanding, he shared with them his in-sights, he placed responsibility upon them, he prayed for them, he trusted them.

Off in a remote corner of the Roman Empire, these obscure followers of a Lord who had been crucified as an enemy of the community began to turn the world upside down and swerved history into new channels.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Easy Does It—Again!

Ladies Aid Society had their rummage sale the other night—and as soon as the doors opened, "Easy" Roberts was inside.

Without a word, he headed straight for the coat counter, picked out a shabby old tweed jacket, and paid for it. "Easy" told me a little later that buying his jacket back was getting to be a regular habit.

"That's been my favorite smoking jacket for years," he said. "And my wife talks me into giving it away regularly. Then I get to thinking how much I like it and hurry down to buy that jacket back. This is the third time I've done it!"

From where I sit, everyone's entitled to his own likes—whether it's a sports jacket, a baseball team, or the beverage he likes for dinner. For example, the wife likes coffee along with Saturday night spaghetti while I like a glass of beer. We never try to "sell" each other on our personal preferences.

From the world's largest maker, a completely new kind of V-8

The V-8 engine has come a long way since Ford introduced its first V-8 over 22 years ago. During these years, preference for the V-8 engine has grown steadily . . . and today there are twice as many V-8's being built as there were right after World War II. This demonstration of car buyers' preference is proof that the V-8 engine is best suited to modern motoring needs.

For 1954, Ford has stepped even farther out front with the revolutionary new Ford Y-Block V-8 . . . the most modern "eight" in any car at any price! This new deep-block, low-friction engine brings you even smoother, quieter power . . . even longer engine life and less gas waste. And this great, overhead-valve V-8 costs less than any other "eight". . . less than practically any other "six," too.

But the new Y-block V-8 engine is only one of the many "Worth More" features you get in a V-8 Ford. You also get the smoother riding and easier handling of Ford's new Ball-Joint Front Suspension. You get your pick of 14 brilliant new body styles—with trend-setting interiors. And you can have power steering, power brakes, power windows, power front seat, and Ford-o-matic Drive as options.*

JENKINS—HOWELL

The United Brethren church, Adrian, was the scene of the Saturday evening wedding of Nancy Jean Howell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Howell of Clinton and Dearel E. Jenkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carey Jenkins of Adrian. The Rev. Vaughn Whited of Clinton performed the double ring ceremony assisted by the Rev. H. B. Peter before an altar with palms and large white vases filled with white snapdragons and pompoms.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Marjorie Greenfield of Clinton sang "Because," "O Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Traditional wedding music was played by Miss Norma Lee Pifer of Adrian as the bride approached the altar on the arm of her father, gowned in nylon lace over net and bridal satin, featuring a fitted bodice with portrait neckline embroidered with pearls and irridescent sequins. The full skirt swept into a chapel train and a double circular veil fell from a pearl trimmed lace Juliet cap. She wore pearls, the gift of the bridegroom and carried a white Bible topped with a crescent of white roses, white stephanotis, tiny tufts of white maline and narrow white satin ribbon tied with lovers' knots.

Wearing identical waltz length dresses of nylon net over taffeta, Miss Joyce Howell, sister of the bride in aqua and the Misses Phyllis Frost and JoAnn Leszczewski in yellow, preceded the bride to the altar. They wore half hats and mitts of matching net. The maid of honor carried a crescent bouquet of yellow carnations and white double narcissus, yellow maline and satin streamers. The bridesmaids had bouquets of aqua-tinted double narcissus and heather with aqua satin streamers.

Little Susan Hunt of Adrian as flower girl wore a floor length aqua net dress with matching head piece and carried a basket of variegated lantana and chrysanthemums. Dennis Kirkwood carried the rings on a heart shaped lace pillow.

Kenneth Jones of Lyons, Ohio, acted as best man and Clayton Schmid of Petersburg and Merrill Bales of Adrian seated the guests.

Mrs. Howell chose for her daughter's wedding a navy blue crepe dress with navy and white accessories and an orchid corsage. Mrs. Jenkins wore beige faille with black and white accessories and also had an orchid corsage. Grandmothers of the bride and bridegroom wore corsages of white gardenias.

A reception was held in the church parlors following the ceremony for 250 guests from Wayne, Dearborn, Clinton, Tecumseh, Macon, Dundee, Holloway, Deerfield, and Lyons, Ohio. The four-tiered wedding cake was cut by Jeannine Craig, while Rena Rebottaro poured punch and Mrs. Ruth Walcutt poured coffee. Mrs. Arlene Wilson had charge of serving. Miss JoAnn Burke had charge of the guest book.

After a week's tour of the southern states, the newlyweds will be at home at 210 S. Maiden Lane, Tecumseh. For the wedding trip the bride wore a powder blue suit with pink coat and navy blue accessories.

The new Mrs. Jenkins is a graduate of Clinton high school and is now employed as switchboard operator and receptionist at Tecumseh Products Co. Mr. Jenkins graduated from Adrian high school, served four years with the air force and is also employed at the Products.

Guess how much is enough to cover your next hospital bill!

☐ $20 A DAY? ☐ $40 A DAY?

THE FACT IS, there just isn't any way of predicting a hospital bill! Yet, when you can't tell how much a hospital bill will be, how can you be sure your family is adequately protected?

And think of how important adequate protection is . . . with one in every three families facing a hospital bill each year!

Would you feel adequately protected if the hospital services you needed were to cost $25 a day or more . . . yet, to pay for these services, your protection allowed you only $10, $15, or some other limited amount per day?

On the other hand, wouldn't you feel adequately protected if you knew that in case of illness, you'd be automatically entitled to needed hospital services themselves? This is the Blue Cross idea!

Not for profit, Blue Cross is the only organization for hospital care officially approved by the American Hospital Association. Over 3,000,000 Michigan people have Blue Cross. Chances are, your neighbor has it. See if he doesn't agree that there is no finer protection at any price!

Hospital Service Protection . . . the Blue Cross way

When you become a member of a Blue Cross Group it is like becoming the "owner" of a wide range of hospital services . . . such as bed and board, expensive extras like oxygen, drugs and medicines, operating room and so forth. Blue Cross hospital service benefits apply at over 200 Blue Cross participating hospitals in Michigan alone. And every enrolled member in your family is entitled to the same protection.

Doctor Bill Protection . . . the Blue Shield way

There is no problem of unpredictable cost, however, when it comes to paying doctor bills. Because, in almost every case, your doctor can tell you beforehand what his charge will be. The thing he can't tell you, however, is when you are going to need his services. So, against that need, Blue Shield offers a smart way to take doctor bills in your stride.

Blue Shield offers two basic plans—one, a straight surgical plan, the other, a medical-surgical plan. Under either plan, Blue Shield pays generous, specific amounts directly to your doctor for thousands of surgical procedures, including maternity care. And in non-surgical cases, under the medical-surgical plan, Blue Shield also pays liberal amounts for your doctor's visits to you in the hospital. Often the doctor's full bill is covered.

The cost is low

For only pennies per day, Blue Cross - Blue Shield entitle you to the most complete protection against hospital and medical bills it is possible to obtain. One way you can help keep the cost low is by using Blue Cross - Blue Shield only when necessary. Please do not ask your doctor to put you in the hospital for diagnostic treatment which could just as easily be performed in his office.

How to get Blue Cross - Blue Shield

Ask your employer or your union representative how you can get low-cost Group Enrollment. A company with as few as 5 employees may qualify as a group. Check your Farm Bureau. Write or phone your nearest Blue Cross - Blue Shield office.

You can't fool the ladies when it comes to styling.

From clothes and hemlines, to cars and color schemes—they insist on a fresh new look and a fresh new change—and anything else won't do.

So it's easy to see why the gals—bless 'em!—have been going for Buick in a great big way—going for the glamorous modernity of these new-day automobiles ever since the first public showing a few short months ago.

From the beginning, they've been going for the sleeker, longer, lower lines—the futuristic shaping of the new windshields—the stunning décor of the striking new fabrics—the clean simplicity of the new instrument panels.

But you ought to see how they go for the gay new car models in Buick's Spring Fashion Show! Fresh new Convertibles, Rivieras and Estate Wagons never before available—and in gorgeous new summer colors never shown before!

And you ought to see how they go—as the men certainly do—for the thrilling new V8 power, the buoyant new ride, the superb new control, and the almost effortless handling ease that are all part and parcel of every new 1954 Buick.

Why not visit our Spring Fashion Show and see for yourself the fresh new tomorrow that's here now—in today's Buick? Then we can show you the prices that make this beauty the buy of the year.

Retail Plans Start Here

Notice of the reactivation of the Tecumseh Retail Association went out to merchants this week.

Purpose of the group is to lead merchants to bigger and better business.

All merchants will be protected by by-laws.

In its letter, the retail association made these points:

To work properly, complete cooperation is needed with a majority vote ruling on all activities.

A yearly calendar was enclosed for the merchants' study and judgement. The calendar, if used properly, will help to unify Tecumseh merchants.

The letter asked for comments on Friday and Saturday night and Thursday afternoon closings and for suggestions on the annual Christmas party for children.

It pointed out "Let's get together with merchants who have hours like your own and be sure you are all opening and closing at the same time. Don't confuse your public."

The letter asked that all merchants be members of the association and said "let's start modernizing our business procedures. Let's make people want to shop in Tecumseh."

Our Boy Oz Is Quite A Guy

The HERALD is mighty proud of Duane Oswald. Oz, as he is known around the shop, would have been known in an earlier generation as a printer's devil told to watch out for type lice or sent for the page stretcher but today, in the era of gentlemen working in the print shop, he is know as an apprentice printer.

The HERALD is proud of Oz for two good reasons. He is a conscientious and capable employee and he is an honor student at Tecumseh High School.

He will graduate twelfth in his class of 81 seniors and he ranks third among the boys in his class.

Born and raised on farms near Riga and Ottawa Lake, he has been working on the HERALD for 17 months.

He has been a student at Tecumseh High School for two years, having started his high school work at Blissfield.

He is a member of the Grace Lutheran Church Young People's Society.

Oz would have liked school sports but work always had to come first with him.

His hobbies are fussing with radio and electronics and at one time he built model planes.

There are a number of things our Oz wants to do and some of these plans may be changed one day by Uncle Sam.

First he plans to continue his work at the HERALD on a full time basis as soon as school is out. How long he doesn't know. Perhaps by next December he may volunteer for Navy duty. After a tour as a tar, he wants to enter college.

Oh, well, he's only 18. He's got a lot of time.

One thing is certain. Regardless of what he might be doing he'll be giving it his best.

School Electors Vote On Two Proposals Monday

Electors in District No. 7 Tecumseh Public Schools will vote on proposals next Monday. The proposals are: Shall the district annex District No. 9 (Waring) and shall the local district sell East Branch School?

Polls in the new high school gym lobby will be open from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m. Easiest access to the polls is through the southeast entrance from either north Maumee or east Shawnee.

Since Tecumseh Dist. No. 7 (Tecumseh Public Schools) is a registration district and encompasses areas outside of the City of Tecumseh, new poll booths have been set up by the board of education from the records of the city clerk and the township clerk.

Any persons registered with the city are eligible to vote as also are any persons registered in the township who live within the boundaries of Tecumseh District No. 7.

The election board for the special school election is composed of Mrs. Lillian Service, LeRoy Titley and Rudy Mead.

Recess

Students and teachers in the Tecumseh Public Schools will have a short Easter recess from classes beginning after school today.

They will resume their school work next Tuesday morning.

78 Sign For Safe Driving Contest

"They're doing a good job."

This comment was made by Police Chief George Kilbourn about contestants in the teen-age safe driving contest now underway.

Sponsored by the city and by local merchants, the contest began April 1 and will continue through Sept.

At the end of the contest prizes will be awarded to drivers who have the best records.

The chief has 78 young people signed for the contest. Half are boys and half are girls.

Saterpost

The current issue of the SATURDAY EVENING POST of April 17th carries a huge advertising section in behalf of the National Hardware Dealers Association. Individual stores as well as manufacturers have subscribed to this section which takes in about 50 pages.

The Baldwin Hardware Company of Tecumseh, Michigan is one of the participating members. This week their store is decorated for the occasion of this big sale which has taken the largest magazine section ever given over to one retail event.

Her work during the last decade was carried on under incredible difficulties.

Bob Wallace Of Britton Goes To Detroit As Mayor

Folks here are saying where is Burlington? Folks in Detroit certainly are saying where is Britton?

They are asking these questions because Mayor Pro-Tem H. H. Hanna becomes Mayor of Burlington for the day May 5 and Mayor Clair Hill of Burlington comes here during part of Michigan Week activities.

Burlington is south and east of Battle Creek in Calhoun County. It has a population of 329.

Folks around here certainly know where Britton is but Detroit folks probably don't know much about our neighboring town of 517. But they probably will know a lot about Britton after May 5.

Mayor Cobo of Detroit will tell them. He is going to be mayor for the day and Bob Wallace, president of the village of Britton, is going to be mayor of Detroit for the day.

No attempt was made to separate the participating municipalities by size. Detroit, population 1,849,568, will trade mayors with Britton, population 517. The mayors of Grand Rapids, population 176,515, and Elkton, population 854, will also trade places for the day.

Towns represented range in size from Suttons Bay in Leelanau county, population 485, to Detroit.

The exchange of mayors—with 489 municipalities taking part—a dramatic move to get Michigan communities better acquainted with each other—is the principle special event of Michigan Week May 2-8.

The drawing for pairing the towns took place at a luncheon meeting of all of the state committees working on Michigan Week at the Kellogg Center, Michigan State College, East Lansing, Wednesday, April 7. Names of towns were put in a bowl and drawn in pairs.

Governor G. Mennen Williams conducted the drawing as honorary chairman of Michigan Week, assisted by the honorary co-chairmen Lt. Governor Clarence Reid, president of the State Senate, and Speaker Wade Van Valkenberg, of the House of Representatives.

A committee of 30 mayors and village presidents is in charge of the Exchange of Mayors. The committee was appointed by Walker L. Cisler, Detroit Edison company president who as president of Greater Michigan Inc. appoints all Michigan Week committees on behalf of that association and the Economic Development Commission.

Where the mayor or village president may be ill or away on

(See Michigan Week, page 10)

Important

"We're small but we're important."

Clair Hill, president of the Village of Burlington, was talking.

A real estate man, he will become mayor of Tecumseh for the day May 5.

He said, "We want to plan a real fine program for your mayor when he comes up here."

Plans Are Made For Polio Vaccine

Mrs. Rolland Reister and Mrs. Ted Golat attended a meeting of the Lenawee Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis at the Lenawee Hotel in Adrian last Thursday.

Paul Ahleman, chairman, announced that there will be two centers located in Tecumseh for the trial vaccine to be given the children of the first, second and third grades in the near future.

Dates will be announced as soon as vaccine is available.

Schools in the surrounding area that will come to Tecumseh are as follows: Bird, Britton, Ridgeway, Benedict Memorial, West, Holloway, Scholten, Grubb, Pink, Culbertson, Colvin, Centennial, Kelly, Clark Prairie, Pentecost, Paragon, and Lanning.

Tecumseh children are eligible also and the centers will be located in the Central Building and the new Patterson School with hours from 9 a. m. until twelve and from 1 until 3:30 p. m. in the afternoon with two teams operating in each session.

Many volunteers are needed to assist doctors and nurses in this work.

Women who wish to help may register with Mrs. Rolland Reister, 66-R, any afternoon or evening and with Mrs. Ted Golat, 264-W, in the evenings.

Seven hundred eighty children are eligible for the trial to be given in the Tecumseh centers.

Dr. Claxton is in charge of the arangements for the medical profession in Tecumseh.

FIREMEN CALLED TWICE

Firemen were called out twice in the past week. Thursday morning they were called to the residence of the Rev. Edward Escolme to extinguish a fire in the garage.

Cause of the fire was undetermined. Damages were slight.

Monday at 12:30 p.m. they were called to the Protane Gas Co. where a truck load of supplies were ignited by a burning cigarette.

Damages to the materials were not estimated.

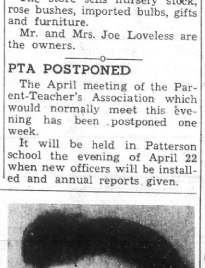
GARY MARSH



RUTH BOYCE

Gary Marsh And Ruth Boyce Are Selected For Boys', Girls' State

Representatives to Wolverine Boys' and Girls' states have been selected by the American Legion and the Auxiliary.

Gary Marsh, 16, son of Dr. and Mrs. R. G. B. Marsh, will go to Wolverine Boys' State.

And Ruth Boyce, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Boyce will go to Girls' State.

Gary, a sophomore at Tecumseh High School, and a member of the First Presbyterian church, likes athletics, particularly football and track. He also likes to hunt and to fish.

Ruth, a junior at Tecumseh High School, is secretary of her class and she is active in 4-H Club work.

She is a member of the First Presbyterian church choir.

Both Boys' State and Girls' State activities are held in June, the former at Lansing and the latter at Ann Arbor.

Selected young people from all over the state set up replica state governments, electing their own officers and carrying out the work of the state.

Shown above is the emblem recently chosen to represent Michigan Week. Posters, decals, and advertisements will carry the green and yellow emblem throughout the state during the May 2-8 observance. This year's official theme for Michigan Week is "This is Your Michigan."

These are some of the other activities planned for Michigan Week:

Sunday — Michigan Spiritual Foundations Day. A day devoted by the people of all faiths, in their churches, to the spiritual values of life in Michigan, to thanksgiving and to the encouragement of good understanding among the citizens of this state.

Monday — Our Heritage Day. Attention to the traditions and the history that have produced the community and the state of which each Michigan citizen is proud today.

Tuesday—Our Livelihood Day. In each community, examination of and reflection upon how the people of the community make their living.

Thursday — Michigan Hospitality Day. Accenting one of the state's greatest assets, the natural friendliness and courtesy of Michigan people, which has helped to make our state a tourist favorite and contributed to the prosperity of all Michigan people through our huge tourist industry.

Friday — Education Day. Open house and special Michigan appreciation activities for students, teachers and public in schools and colleges throughout the state.

Saturday — United Michigan Day. Accompanying the groundbreaking for the bridge across the Straits of Mackinac which will link Upper Peninsula and Lower Peninsula into one state indivisible.

Clean-Up Week Set

City officials have set aside next week as clean-up week.

City Manager Ed Nelson reports that all trash put at curbs will be picked up by city trucks.

Meanwhile the Jones Hauling Service has compiled with city regulations by acquiring a bond.

The city manager points out that the Jones company has a two-year contract calling for closed trucks to pick up garbage and rubbish in the city.

He said "We can't expect the company to compete with open trucks. We have told persons operating the open trucks to discontinue picking up garbage and rubbish."

Goodwill Pick-Up Set For Tuesday

Goodwill Industries trucks will be in Tecumseh and Britton on Tuesday, April 20, it was announced today by Mrs. Carl Burch, local Goodwill representative.

Mrs. Burch said that Goodwill has now opened a new electrical repair department which enables them to accept both televisions and radios. This department will be headed by a disabled war veteran trained in electronics. He will be assisted by another disabled war veteran who has been trained at Goodwill as an electrical repairman.

Dolls, toys, clothing, small appliances and furniture that you decide to discard at Spring cleaning time are other materials which keep the Goodwill plant in operation to aid the area's handicapped workers.

Call Mrs. Burch at 868 if you have any clothing, furniture, toys or small appliances for Goodwill Industries. Britton residents may call their local volunteer representative, Mr. William Kuster, at 2121, if they have discards to contribute.

FULL TIME JOB — The resignation of Charlie Mensing from the council and as mayor only points out what a tremendous job it is to be mayor of a city, particularly a new city with the interwoven problems that Tecumseh now has.

An attempt to solve these complex problems takes a whale of a lot of time and energy and sometimes a fellow wishes he were twins so he could be on his own job and at the same time take care of the many demands on his time as the city's first citizen.

Yes, we agree with Charlie that being mayor is a full time job but the HERALD disagrees with Tecumseh's first mayor on one point.

The HERALD thought Charlie Mensing was doing an excellent job in fulfilling the duties of the mayor's office.

It seems, however, that he was not satisfied. He wanted to do even a better job and when he discovered he could not do justice to both his own job and that of the city's leader, he chose the course he thought best.

The city will miss Charlie Mensing.

CLEAN-UP — Clean-up of communities is catching.

This is the 45th anniversary of the week which is now observed by more than 10,000 American communities.

In 1909, a young teacher in a poor district school in Cleveland had taken a special fancy to one ragged little girl in her class. One day, on impulse, she bought a little blue pinafore and gave it to the child. She washed the youngster's grimy face and combed the unkempt hair—and it was a clean, pretty little girl who skipped home that afternoon.

She was as out of place in the slum where her family lived as a firefly in a cobweb. That night, in amazement, she fingered the clean cloth that her mother had put on the table in honor of the occasion.

Her father was not to be outdone. Soon the sagging pickets in their fence stood straight again; flowers were planted in the drab yard.

By contrast, the neighbors' homes looked worse than ever—and since few can resist keeping up with the Joneses, wives prodded husbands into action. Before long, the entire slum had become an attractive, respectable part of town.

The idea spread like wild fire and today thousands of American communities have found that a yearly clean-up makes any community healthier, safer from fire and a more attractive place to live.

Clean-up, fix-up and paint-up might be a worth while project for Chambers of Commerce and the Jaycees to spearhead.

No doubt other organizations, too, would take part in the special week. Such an observance might give all of us the idea to keep the community neat and spruced up the year-around.

We would see a big difference when we drive around town. And we would impress the folks who pass through.

IT MIGHT HAVE BEEN — "For of all sad words of tongue or pen,

The saddest are these: 'It might have been.'"

This poignant quotation from Whittier's poetry has a tragic application to the nationwide battle against cancer.

In 1953, an estimated 73,000 American cancer victims were saved by modern treatment administered in the early stages of their illness. But the sad sequel is that another 73,000 died from cancer who might have been cured had they received prompt, effective treatment.

We believe that everyone should know the seven common danger signals of cancer which the Society is stressing in its educational program. They are:

1. Any sore that does not heal.
2. A lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere.
3. Unusual bleeding or discharge.
4. Any change in a wart or a mole.
5. Persistent indigestion or difficulty in swallowing.
6. Persistent hoarseness or cough.
7. Any change in normal bowel habits.

Of every seven deaths last year, one was caused by cancer. This slayer took 227,000 lives in 1953.

Just to be safe during the remainder of cancer control month, why not have that physical check-up you may have been postponing?

OVER-FIFTY CLUB HAS EASTER LUNCHEON

The Over-Fifty Club met in the social room of the Methodist church last Thursday for a pot-luck luncheon and program. They found the tables decorated in spring colors with an Easter favor at each plate, which was the gift of the Brownies in Troop 4 and made under the direction of Mrs. Kenneth McEnroe and Mrs. Frank Robinett.

During the program on "Easters of Other Years," interesting methods of dyeing the traditional Easter eggs were recalled such as using pieces of bright colored calico especially "turkey red"; walnut shells, coffee and onion skins. Many remembered the famous Eggletaires sponsored by the Baptists, the early church service in the Episcopal church and the cantatas given on Easter afternoon by the combined choirs. In discussing the millinery art, the names of Mrs. Freemna, Julia Huff, Lester Heesen and Tribou Labarron were familiar to all. Several remembered that the women preferred having the trimming on their Easter bonnets on the "congregational" side.

Mrs. Bert Kopke entertained the assembly with two of her humorous readings. Sally Rentschler gave a short history of the flute and piccolo and played several solos in illustration. The group adjourned to meet again in May.

Realty Views

"How much do you charge for accepting a listing and promoting the sale of a good home?" Mine, for instance?" Mrs. Carey inquired.

"There is no listing fee at all. And no charge of any kind if we don't sell your property for you during the time your listing is in force," I replied.

"What?" said Mrs. Carey. "You mean you risk your own time and money on promoting the sale of my home? There's no charge unless you sell it?"

"Exactly," I said, "but, of course, if a sale is made, a reasonable commission is charged. One that we've mutually agreed upon at the time the listing is accepted."

Mrs. Carey smiled, " 'Results guaranteed or no charge' should be your slogan. I think that is very fair. I see no reason why I should spend my own time and money hunting a buyer. Besides, I wouldn't know how to close the deal properly. I'd have all the worry that goes with inexperience in these matters."

"More home owners should realize those things," I replied.

"Please come out sometime today and look at our home," Mrs. Carey concluded.

Perhaps we should help you to SELL too? Remember as Mrs. Carey said, "Results guaranteed or no charge."

Sherry Fielder And Jerry Eggleston Wed

Palms, lighted candelabra and hampers of white snapdragons formed the setting for the marriage of Sherry Lee Fielder and Jerry Douglas Eggleston in the Presbyterian church last Wednesday evening. Only the family and a few close friends witnessed the double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. George Walworth.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of white nylon net over taffeta for her wedding. Lace was appliqued on the fitted bodice and on the net skirt and a shirred flared cap held her fingertip veil. She carried a lace covered Bible decorated with roses, hyacinth floweretts and a white orchid.

Miss Fielder's attendants were Miss Mary Glancy, maid of honor and Miss Shirley Teske, bridesmaid. Their gowns were identical with velvet bodices and net and taffeta skirts in coral pink. They carried crescent bouquets of pale pink carnations and hyacinth floweretts with clusters of gardenias. Polly Fielder, the bride's niece was flower girl. She wore white with coral dots, and carried a basket of pink and white sweet peas.

Mrs. Fielder's dress was raspberry crepe with which she wore blue accessories and the groom's mother, Mrs. Carl Heckinger wore navy and beige. Both had corsages of white roses and carnations.

Richard Eggleston, brother of the groom was best man and the ushers were Richard Whelan, Cecil and Richard Fielder and Silas Kring. Mrs. F. C. Dickinson was at the organ.

Seventy-five guests were entertained at a reception at the home of the bride's parents after the ceremony with the bride's sister Patty in charge of the guest book. The tiered wedding cake was cut by the groom's sister, Mrs. Silas Kring; Mrs. Faye Whelan and Mrs. Richard Eggleston poured and the gifts were received by Mrs. Richard Fielder.

Mr. Eggleston, the son of Halsey Eggleston of Tecumseh and Mrs. Heckinger of Adrian, also graduated from Tecumseh high and is now in service in the navy.

After a short trip, the groom will return to his station at Key West, Fla., while the bride will take up her work at Herrick Memorial hospital, residing at the home of her parents.

Power Failure!

By the Rev. George E. Walworth
Pastor of the Tecumseh Presbyterian Church

Through the severity of storms and general mechanical failure, his community has been without electrical power several times during the past few weeks. At least part of this meditation will be written by candle-light for the power is off right now. The wierd shadows which dance across these words suggest some remarkable thoughts.

For instance the lights went out on Good or rather Black Friday many years ago and they continue to wane and flicker to this day whenever man crucifies Godliness. Power failure in both instances is brought about by a severance of lines between the consumer and the power plant!

Because we live in 1954 A.D. we can liken Jesus Christ to the trained technicians who are called to repair damaged lines. This Christ came to repair the service between stubborn, hateful men and God—the greatest source of power. Jesus Christ was crucified because He had come to repair damaged lives and there were men who were and are suspicious of His intent.

Undoubtedly it is true that some people can live without electricity, and even without God, but what a tremendous difference there is between candle-light and the power illuminated by Jesus Christ! We frequently get to the point where electricity is taken for granted.

However, in the midst of this Holy Week, let's make sure that we do not make Friday Black again because the power of God is refused! History makes a thoroughly convincing argument that Power Failure will be evident in 1954 unless man shall understand the resurrection to eternal life.

Jesus Christ bears this power of everlasting nature. Therefore, take hold of the Easter message — the Power that never fails!! — GOD!!

LOCAL ARTIST SHOWS PAINTINGS IN TOLEDO

Paintings by Ralph E. Peotter, Jr., of Tecumseh, are in a special exhibition at the Toledo Museum of Art.

Examples of Mr. Peotter's work and sculpture by Lavern E. Moll, an instructor at the Toledo Museum, will be shown through April 30 in the Museum's Gallery 8, which is reserved for monthly exhibits of work by outstanding Toledo area artists.

Mr. Peotter's work has been shown in four of the last five Toledo Area Artists Exhibitions, in the Toledo Museum's student exhibitions and a 1950 drawing show in Canton, Ohio.

One of his pictures, "Stuttgart Concert," was purchased by the Toledo Federation of Art Societies in 1953 for its lending collection.

Mr. Peotter is a graduate of Tecumseh High School in 1947 and has studied at the University of Toledo, Jackson Junior College and Toledo Museum School of Design. He plans to enter the School of Architecture at the University of Michigan this fall.

Another exhibit of Mr. Peotter's paintings is planned for sometime in May to be held in Jackson.

Mrs. Kenneth Blumerick of Ridgeway was hostess to the Tecumseh Child Study Club Monday evening. She was assisted by Mrs. Wilbur Andrews and the president and vice president. The program topic, "Let's Look at Women's Health" was discussed by County Health Nurse, Mrs. Bowers.

Three new members were welcomed, Mrs. Ben Gillies, Mrs. R. B. King and Mrs. Fern Shank. Favors for the children were cup cakes with Easter chicken decorations.

Grade School News

Patterson School—Grade 6
Mr. Kaiser

It is our turn for the display case. We are using pre-historic animals as our topic. Some of us modeled animals of clay while others worked on the background picture. Another group worked on scenery, and the last group wrote short reports.

Mrs. Crawford was our teacher one day last week while Mr. Kaiser was in Lansing attending a meeting.

Mary Colgrove gave us a very interesting report on their trip to Florida. She brought a coconut back which we opened.

We are planning to visit Greenfield Village on May 27.

This week we started to study China. It is an old and interesting country, but many of the people are very poor and often hungry.

Central School—Grade 6
Miss Hopkins

The girls in room 308 are delighted with the new gym at the Patterson School. They have been going over there since last week. However, the boys are quite contented to stay in this building. They have been going downstairs to the real gymnasium here since the one at the high school is finished.

It seems good to have Ronnie Smith back with us again after spending a month in Georgia. At long last Shirlene Bozeman is back here with us again after her strenuous bout with a ruptured appendix. The things she said about the letters we wrote to her, we were most pleased to hear. She still has to be very careful. A few weeks ago Irene Bair came to us from Whitmore Lake; and Bobbie Deweese arriyed recently from Philadelphia, Mississippi. They are already very much at home with us. We had to bring in an extra desk and crowd over to get it in. But we are used to that. We are fortunate to have such lovely students added to our number.

Science has led us into a study of lenses. The merchants and the text book call them reading or magnifying glasses. But when they enter this room they become burning glasses. Watch out fire department! But we want you to know that we are trying to be careful.

This week we are having an orgy of book reports. Such tragic episodes provide the exciting incidents! However, biography ranks high in reading interest here in room 308. Our study of India is introducing us to Buddha, Nehru, and Gandhi. The death of the Mahatma is not selected as an interesting event. In fact, some of us refuse to read that part at all. Gandhi was too fine a man to meet such a fate. Our encyclopedias are much in use these days.

Now that we have enough money to get us to Greenfield Village we have settled down again to our academic pursuits.

There will be only one more report from us at Central. Then we hie us away to the high school in the land of grown-ups. We'll be seeing you there.

Special Room
Mrs. Buttolph

We each are making a bird book. We study one bird every day. Before school is out we hope to have studied all the different birds that are found around Tecumseh. We are, also, making bird houses.

Nearly everyone in our room is selling candy so that our sixth graders can go Greenfield Village before school is out. We have enough money so that the rest of us can take a trip, too.

Our room is decorated with many Easter pictures and spring flowers. We enjoyed dyeing Easter eggs and decorating them. We send Easter greetings to all.

Christian Science Services Listed

Man's spiritual unity with God, as taught and lived by Christ Jesus, will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday, in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Doctrine of Atonement."

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon is the Golden Text from I Timothy:

"There is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus; Who gave himself a ransom for all, to be testified in due time" (2:5, 6).

The following passage will be among those read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"We acknowledge Jesus' atonement as the evidence of divine, efficacious Love, unfolding man's unity with God through Christ Jesus the Way-shower, and we acknowledge that man is saved through Christ, through Truth, Life, and Love as demonstrated by the Galilian Prophet in healing the sick and overcoming sin and death" (497:13).

From the Bible the following verses will be among those read: "Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new. And all things are of God, who hath reconciled us to himself by Jesus Christ, and hath given to us the ministry of reconciliation; . . . Now then we are ambassadors for Christ, as though God did beseech you by us: we pray you in Christ's stead, be ye reconciled to God" (II Corinthians 5:17, 18, 20).

an extended trip, the city commission or village council will send the next ranking representative of the municipality, the committee points out.

The committee expects the municipal officials of every town to work enthusiastically with their chamber of commerce, school board, the local Michigan Week committee and others to honor the visiting mayor and the community he represents.

The committee assumes that in some exchanges the heads of local government will be accompanied by other community representatives — whatever the officials and civic leaders of the two towns may decide upon as they start working jointly to make Exchange of Mayors Day a success.

The day will be a success in proportion to the greater acquaintance and understanding the exchange develops among the people of communities and areas throughout the state, Walker Cisler said in appointing the committee to take charge of the exchange.

"Great things are taking place in Michigan and you and your community can participate in an event of unusual significance," the committee's letter today to all municipalities said. "We anticipate that all cities and villages will cooperate. It is expected that all city commissions and councils will support their mayor and village president enthusiastically with an adequate and appropriate budget for the occasion and also participate fully in entertaining the visiting mayor or village president. This event offers us a magnificant opportunity to get better acquainted. It can produce a new sense of unity in Michigan. The rewards from participation are just as great as Michigan is great."

LADIES TO HAVE LUNCHEON

Nursery School Is New Service

The Lenawee Child Development Center, a nursery school for children 3-5 years of age, is now open in Adrian at 565 S. Main St. The school has been inspected and approved by Miss Roberta Hemingway, State Nursery School Consultant, from Lansing. The directors are Mrs. Douglas Kraner and Mrs. Hubert Brower.

Several plans are available for mothers who wish to take advantage of the opportunities offered for pre-school children. Morning classes are conducted from 9-11:30 and afternoon classes will be held from 2-4:30. If neither of these classes appeals to the mother, an alternate plan is offered whereby the children may come at nine and stay until three having a mid-morning snack, a hot lunch and an afternoon nap at the school.

The nursery school classes offer group experience and pre-school training under the direction of Mrs. Kraner who has her State teachers' certificate in elementary education and has had work in child growth and development and child psychology. The children participate in make-believe games, group music and marching, story hours, cooperative free play, and directed activities at their tables including clay modeling, painting, coloring, and working with puzzles. In the summer months a large playground will be equipped for healthy out-door play.

The directors will be happy to receive visits from parents at any time. They will be glad to answer any questions and further explain their program. The telephone number of the center is Adrian 2740.

ALTAR SOCIETY

Mrs. Paul Lauer, president of the Altar Society of St. Elizabeth Catholic church had charge of the meeting held Wednesday evening in the parish hall. Plans were made for a bake sale Sunday, May 2 and the April committee was announced as Mrs. Dan Reed, Mrs. Robert Sage, Mrs. Karl Schneider and Mrs. Louis Schneider Jr.

Because of the small attendance, due to the bad weather, it was decided to postpone the pictures of life in Hawaii to be shown by Dr. R. J. Murray. Consequently they will be seen at the next meeting of the society.

GOLDEN RULE CIRCLE

Mrs. Ray Sluyter was hostess to the Golden Rule Circle of the Presbyterian church Tuesday evening with Mrs. Nyra Parrett, Mrs. Norris Morehouse and Mrs. Lewis Schultz assisting. Mrs. Robert Anderson and Mrs. Edwin Goller were guests of the evening.

The group was reminded that the spring Presbyterial will be held in the Fellowship Center April 22 with breakfast of coffee and doughnuts served in the morning and luncheon at noon. Luncheon reservations are to be made with Mrs. Charles O'Neill.

Announcement was also made that the Rev. George Walworth would open a church library on Monday, April 1. Contributions of either books or money will be welcome.

A letter was read from Little Twin Bridge, Montana, asking aid in establishing a resident minister service. A million nickels is the goal of the drive.

Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Sluyter and refreshments after the meeting were served by the committee. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Joseph Rohweder when a bake sale will be held.

Ruth May Goodacre And Harold Cole Exchange Vows Sunday

At four o'clock Sunday afternoon in the Tecumseh Methodist church, Ruth May Goodacre and Harold H. Cole were united in marriage. The Rev. Alvin Brazee performed the double ring ceremony with the Rev. Ronald Brunger offering prayer. The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Goodacre of Burt St., was given in marriage by her father before an altar decorated with baskets of white snapdragons.

Miss Diane Woodward sang "Because," "Ave Maria" and "I Love You Truly" before the ceremony and was accompanied by organist Mrs. Kenton Hunt, who also played the wedding march.

Matron of honor was Mrs. James Dick and the bridesmaids were the bride's sister, Mrs. Harold Miller, the groom's sister Miss Barbara Cole of Carleton and Mrs. Ronald Goodacre a sister-in-law of the bride. The groom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cole of Carleton, was assisted by his cousin, William Bale as best man, while the ushers were his brother, Donald Cole, his cousin, Harry Owens of Toledo and Ronald Goodacre the bride's brother.

Miss Goodacre's little cousin, Sara Kay Fox, dressed in pale green, was flower girl and the ring was carried by Paul Cole, the groom's brother.

Nylon tulle was chosen for the bridal gown, which was made in floor length and with a fitted bodice of Chantilly lace, fashioned with long sleeves and deep V-neck line, edged with tulle. Her finger length veil, of imported silk illusion, fell from a lace bonnet, edged with satin and trimmed with clusters of pearls, and she carried a white Bible trimmed with a white orchid.

The gowns of the attendants were identical, of tulle with jackets of chantilly lace. That of the matron of honor was aqua; Mrs. Miller's lilac; Miss Cole's yellow and Mrs. Goodacre's pink. They wore matching floral head bands and carried baskets of carnations and snapdragons in contrasting colors. Yellow daisies filled the flower girls basket and she scattered rose petals.

The mothers, Mrs. Goodacre and Mrs. Cole, both wore navy blue with white accessories and their corsages were pink carnations.

Two hundred guests attended the reception in the church parlors immediately after the ceremony where refreshments were served by the Martha Mary Circle of the church. The six-tiered wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and groom was cut by Mrs. James Fox, aunt of the bride, and she was assisted by Mrs. Walter Bale and Miss Sally Bale of Tipton. Mrs. Phyllis Van Aken presided at the punch bowl.

This new Mr. and Mrs. Cole left on a short trip to northern Michigan, the bride wearing gray and gold trimmed in navy blue with blue accessories. On their return they will live at 203½ S. Oneida St.

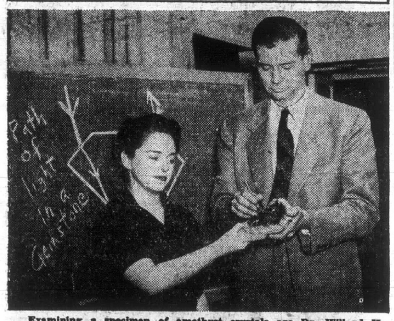
Mrs. Cole is a graduate of Tecumseh high school and is employed at Tresco. Mr. Cole, a graduate of Airport high school in Carleton, worked in Toledo before serving two years in the armed forces. He received his discharge March 17 and will now be employed at the United Savings Bank.

Guests came for the wedding from Hillsdale, Jackson, Toledo, Ypsilanti, Battle Creek, Carleton, Addison, Jasper, Adrian, Jonesville and Tipton.

PRESBYTERIAN LEAGUE

"Scouting Around the World" was the topic of the evening for the April meeting of the Presbyterian League at the Fellowship Center, Tuesday evening. A hostess committee headed by Miss Mary McWilliams entertained the Girl Scout troop that is sponsored by the group and Mrs. Robert Ries was program leader. During the business meeting it was voted to give $10 to the church library fund and announcement was made of a church wide Mother-Daughter banquet to be given May 7.

Precious Gem Minerals Are Rare In Michigan, Says Wayne Geologist



Examining a specimen of amethyst crystals are Dr. Willard H. Parsons, chairman of Wayne University's geology department, and Helen Kerites of Fort Huron, a senior in Wayne's College of Liberal Arts.

Precious gems were perhaps man's earliest cherished possessions. What is a gem? What makes a gem precious? Do gem quality minerals occur in Michigan?

Dr. Willard H. Parsons, chairman of the geology department at Wayne University, says that a gem must have the following characteristics: (1) Beauty—a gem must have a pleasing color and a certain amount of transparency. (2) Durability—a gem must hold up under hard wear. It must be hard enough to resist scratching and tough enough to resist breakage. (3) Rarity—to be highly prized, a gem must be rare.

In Michigan, gem variety minerals are a rarity, indeed. Although three or four diamonds have been found in glacial gravels in scattered localities, no large deposits of gem stones have been discovered in Michigan. However, there are a number of minerals which have unusual color markings but are not well-known or "fashionable" enough to be considered gem quality.

Michigan agate which has red and white banded coloring is found on the shores of the Keweenaw Peninsula in Upper Michigan. Thomsonite, greenstone, and datolite are minerals which occur only in Michigan, in the Lake Superior-Isle Royale district. Petoskey stone, found along the beach near Petoskey, is a fossil coral. It is solid and takes a high polish. Quite soft and easily scratched, however, it is used primarily for decorative objects.

Gems may be classified into three groups—natural, occurring gem materials, synthetic gem stones, and imitations. Synthetic gem stones, according to Dr. Parsons, are man-made but contain the same properties and composition as the natural material. Imitations are those "gems" which are made of glass, plastics, or ceramics. Some organic materials, such as pearl and coral, are considered gem quality.

It takes a trained eye and special equipment to distinguish most synthetics and many imitations from a genuine gem stone. Unless, Dr. Parsons says, a prospective buyer has special training, he should avoid "shady deals" and depend on a reliable jeweler.

Dr. Parsons is appearing on a current Wayne University television series over WJBK-TV in Detroit about the origin, industry, and care of gems called "Nature's Treasure Trove."

Easter's Date Was Set In 325 A. D.

Highlight of April, astronomically speaking, will be the arrival of Easter on April 18, states a University of Michigan astronomer, Associate Prof. Hazel M. Losh.

According to Professor Losh, the formula for finding the fluctuating date of Easter was decreed first by the Council of Nicaea in 325 A. D.

At that time, churchmen decided that Easter would fall on the first Sunday after the 14th day of the month following March 21. This should be a day of a nearly full moon, she explained, but if the moon should be completely full, Easter would be the next Sunday.

She points out that the churchmen decided on this formula for both historical and practical reasons, giving pilgrims the light of the full moon for their travels. But the widely fluctuating date, from March 22 to April 25, causes much upset in present day habits and observances, she adds.

Professor Losh claims that those advocating calendar reform propose April 8, or the second Sunday of April, as a definite holiday date. This year, she continues, the astronomical full moon occurs at 12:48 a. m., E.S.T., on April 18. Therefore it falls in some parts of the world on Easter and in others on the previous day.

Four bright planets will be visible in April's skies, Professor Losh asserts. "Jupiter will be high in the sky at sunset, dropping rapidly to the west and setting around midnight," she says. Venus will be seen in the west just after sunset, becoming brighter during the month until it is the bright "evening star" at April's close.

"Mars, rising about midnight in the southeast, will increase rapidly in brightness," she continues, due to its moving closer to the earth. "By the end of April," the professor points out, "Saturn will be rising around sunset, a little south of east, and it will reach the meridian about midnight, remaining above the horizon throughout the night."

Kroger Has Can-A-Pop

Kroger stores are the first in this area to have the revolutionary, new canned pop, Mr. Carl Fuller, Branch Manager, announced today.

Kroger is stocking the Can-A-Pop brand, a leader in this new field.

Flavors available are the perennial favorites, orange, root beer, black cherry, and grape.

Mr. Fuller stated that the new dispossable can will be welcomed by the soft-drink loving public because of the convenience in handling and stacking, ease in opening, the extra chill that can be given cans, and the fact that there is no return and refund problem.

The latter has been a problem to the consumer ever since the advent of large scale consumption of soft drinks and, with the timeliness in making Can-A-Pop available to Kroger patrons, the Kroger Co. expects a heavy demand to commence immediately and to grow in ever-increasing amounts during the Spring and Summer Seasons.

HONORED AT SHOWER

A miscellaneous shower was held Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Baker for Verna and Harold Gardner, who were married recently. About forty relatives and friends attended. Games were played and pictures were taken of the couple. Refreshments were served which included ice cream and a four-tiered wedding cake. They received many lovely gifts.

Styles Chosen To Flatter Thin Figures

The girl or woman who is tall and thin — even lanky — can gaily fool the public into believing that she has a fashion model's proportions this spring, says Evelyn Mansfield of Michigan State College's department of clothing, textiles and related arts.

Lucky girl! In choosing the right clothes, she can brush aside all the repressing "do's" and don'ts" that her stout sisters must observe for best effects.

If in harmony with her personality, the tall and thin individual can choose the striking, the bold and the dramatic. For she has one very important asset — height.

Since the long thin vertical line alone is no cause for admiration, she can choose her clothes and accessories to add bulk and the needed horizontal feeling to her figure. She mustn't be too timid in her choices — imagination is the thing she'll use, counsels Miss Mansfield.

The success of any costume for her begins with the right fabric. Wools are a natural choice for her because they have body. Loose, soft weaves in lightweight wools will be better than the sheers made of worsted yarn. A sheer (even in wool) tends to cling too closely. Flannels are better than worsted gabardines and Poiret twills which might look a bit too trim on her thin figure.

In summer fabrics, the waffle weave piques, very wide wale piques, puffy seersuckers, coarse fabrics — these are for her. Quilted fabrics are a boon to give a rounded effect.

Sheer, transparent fabrics are liabilities for her scheme of camouflage. They aren't flattering to thin arms and sharp shoulder blades. Shiny fabrics are taboo because they highlight sharp bones. Clinging fabrics — rayon jerseys, voiles, batistes — will only seem limp and sad on her thin figure.

Since she is tall and thin, she has great freedom in choosing fabric patterns. Plaids, checks and the bold prints are all good. Large design units, widly spaced, give a dramatic effect and at the same time break up length and add the desired illusion of width. Tiny, dainty patterns that may appeal to her feminine fancy must be put gently aside — they would only contrast too much with her angular figure.

In color, limitations are set only by personal coloring. And because she is slender, she can use color contrasts in her ensembles.

She'll want to select accessories that are large in scale. With that dark outfit she can use an enormous red purse to accent the red trimming on her hat. Big hats are her best.

Jewelry — not too much of it — can be scaled to height. Wide bracelets make long arms seem shorter. Large heavy pendants on enormous chains are good. But, better no jewelry at all than anything seeming too sweet or naive in contrast, advises Miss Mansfield.

Gloves that cover bony wrists also give width to slender arms. Simple styles in shoes are best.

In cut, the thin girl looks for an extended silhouette. The swinging three-quarter coat, enormous cape collars, kimono sleeves, large cuffs at the wrist, bouffant or all-around pleated skirts, wide belts, yokes and large pockets — all are flattering to her.

Is That So!

By Clara Waldron

"No one," intoned the radio voice firmly, "No one does spring cleaning any more."

"Oh yeah?" muttered her listener, disrespectfully.

"The modern house with its scientific appliances makes this yearly upheaval entirely unnecessary."

"Sez you" was her 'audience reaction', casting a jaundiced eye at limp grey curtains and smoky paint "unnecessary huh?"

Smoothly the voice went on about schedules, one major operation each week, which if followed would keep a house always in order. It sounded wonderful. A little like cutting off the dog's tail by inches perhaps—but still maybe it could be done—or could it? A little mental arithmetic involving twelve pairs of curtains and fifty-two weeks, resulted in a picture of curtain stretchers permanently propped against the piano. No, unfortunately, upheavals still seemed to be indicated for the audience. Not that it could not be done. The listener even knew—with respectful awe—people who lived in that sort of world, the world of the radio voice, one containing functional houses (less than 100 years old), vacuum sanitizers and other gadgets that made spring just another season and where April sun and wind did not mean a "good airing day."

The radio voice had too youthful a cadence to remember many springs. Certainly not those before the turn of the century when spring cleaning was a fine art. Now there WAS an upheaval!

It did not usually begin until spring was well established because, except in those few houses that were heated by furnaces, it involved moving out the "base burner." Then, room by room, every piece of furniture came out. Beds were dismembered and wiped to the last bed slat. Mattresses and feather beds were aired and sunned and here and there a few remaining "straw-ticks" would be emptied and freshly filled. And the carpets were taken up—Brussels, ingrain or rag, reaching from wall to wall, firmly tacked to the floor over a foundation of newspapers or, earlier, over a thick cushion of straw. Since the last house cleaning they had been swept with a broom and plenty of dust had sifted through. Out they went, to be hung on the clothes line or stretched on the spring grass and beaten—beaten until the dust, and the beater were exhausted.

Re-stretching the carpet was the peak of the operation. It would be tacked along one side, then the tacker would don a pair of rubbers and "scuff and hitch" until the other edge could be brought to the opposite base board, all this over fresh, resilient straw. A hired girl who was a good carpet layer was much in demand. Oh, OF COURSE, there were hired girls! They made the upheaval possible. Hired girls were the "household appliances" of the ninties. It was their passing that made the modern appliance necessary and so led to that smoothly routined world of the radio voice. That voice who will never know the exhausted triumph of a house, shining, starched, tingling with the ozone of spring sunshine from cellar to attic, clean all over at one time.

County Has High Potential For Timber

Lenawee County has a high potential as a timber producer, stated Woodrow Barclay of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service. Of the 425,000 acres in farms, in the Lenawee Soil Conservation District, 45,513 acres are woodland.

Protection from grazing damage is one of the first steps in a program of woodlot management on a sustained yield basis. In Lenawee 18,181 acres, or 40 percent of woodlands, are protected from grazing. The remaining 27,332 acres are pastured. Grazing results in tree root injury, packing of the soil and elimination of seedling reproduction.

Mr. Barclay stated that in addition to the present woodlands, it is estimated there are 9000 acres of land in Lenawee which should be planted to trees. White pine and Norway spruce is usually the most suitable for soils of a sandy loam texture. Hardwoods such as tulip trees, walnut, white ash, sugar maple and cottonwood are usually more suitable on heavier soils.

Planting stock is available from Michigan State College and Michigan Department of Conservation nurseries. Order blanks may be obtained from these sources by writing to East Lansing, or from the Soil Conservation Service and Extension Service offices in the Court House, Adrian.

Living With Peace Of Mind

By KIRBY PAGE

It is really startling to read with fresh mind the demands Jesus made upon his disciples: "And he called to him the multitude with his disciples, and said to them, 'If any man would come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me. For whoever would save his life will lose it; and whoever loses his life for my sake and the gospel's will save it.'"

Take up his cross! After the sentence of crucifixion had been passed upon a rebel against the empire, a Roman officer would say to the condemned man, "Take up your cross," for he must carry it to the place of his own execution. Why did Jesus use the ominous words?

Listen again: "And as he was setting out on his journey, a man ran up and knelt before him, and asked him, 'Good teacher, what must I do to inherit eternal life?' . . . And Jesus looking upon him loved him, and said to him, 'You lack one thing; go, sell all that you have, and give it to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come, follow me.'"

What did Jesus mean? The facility of human thought has found manifold ways of explaining away all depth of meaning.

And consider this teaching: "He who loves father or mother more than me is not worthy of me; and he who loves son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me; and he who does not take his cross and follow me is not worthy of me."

Did Jesus also mean: He who loves country or race or class more than he loves me, is not worthy of me?

And what did he mean by these words? "Enter by the narrow gate . . . For the gate is narrow and the way is hard, that leads to life, and those who find it are few."

Just how seriously are we supposed to take Jesus?

H. H. Hanna Named New Mayor

Voters Okay Two School Proposals By 100 To 1

School electors Monday voted to annex Waring School District to Tecumseh Public Schools and gave the school board permission to sell historical East Branch School.

The vote was 100 to 1 for both proposals.

Supt. James McDowell reported electors voting were double the usual number.

It is expected that the completion of the annexing of District No. 9 (Waring) will take place within the next 30 days.

Electors in this district previously had voted to annex to District No. 7 Tecumseh Public Schools.

The Waring district has an assessed valuation of $144,370. It has a school bus. These assets become the property of the Tecumseh Public Schools.

The Waring district has no school. For some time it has been sending its students to Tecumseh Public Schools. At present, there are 23 Waring District students attending local schools.

The result of the election will provide additional funds for the local school system to pay off its bonded debt and will shorten the period necessary to pay the present bond issue.

Meanwhile, the school board has placed a $25,000 price tag on East Branch School.

Cancer Dance Scheduled Friday

The second annual dance for the benefit of the Lenawee County cancer fund will be given Friday evening, April 23, at the Eagles Club in Adrian beginning at 9:30 p.m.

This event, the entire proceeds of which will be given to the fund for use in the county, is being sponsored by the Tall Cedars of Lenawee and all usual expenses are being donated.

This includes even the services of the orchestra, the Sky Larks, which is composed of four Adrian players and one from Tecumseh and features the music of Frank Kiersey and his vibro-harp. Other orchestra members are Leo Butler, Harold Broderick and Wayne Hale of Adrian and Harold Harper of Tecumseh.

Tickets may be purchased at the door.

Lenawee's quota for the year of 1954 towards the fund to fight cancer, is $10,000, which is part of the one-half million assigned to Michigan and the 20 millions which is the national goal.

This year the state organization will give two silver trophies to winning counties on the basis of the largest per cent of quota collected and also on the largest contribution per capita in population.

Profits from the April 23 dance will help swell Lenawee's quota.

Candy

When the trial vaccine for polio is given to local elementary students soon, the slight sting of the needle will be relieved with the thought of candy.

The Tecumseh Exchange Club will give candy bars to the 700 children included in the tests.

Band Festival Plans Started

Tecumseh's eighth annual band festival plans will be in the making Monday evening when Clair Camburn, dean of Lenawee county bandmasters, entertains band directors from thirteen schools at a 7 p.m. dinner.

Held each year since 1947, and drawing crowds of more than 5,000, the festival is planned for sometime in Sept. Bandmasters will meet to discuss detailed arrangements assisted by members of the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce, which sponsors the outdoor spectacle held at Tecumseh's Recreation Field.

Schools participating in the program will be Blissfield, Deerfield, Adrian, Britton, Clinton, Addison, Cement City, Onsted, Sand Creek, Hudson, Morenci, Adrian Catholic Central and Tecumseh.

JC Charter Night Set

Tecumseh Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold its Charter Banquet at the Tecumseh Products Union Hall Friday, May 7.

Dinner, prepared by the ladies of the Baptist church, will begin at 6:30 p.m. The Products Band will furnish music for dancing from 9 until 1 a.m.

Tickets to the banquet will be available later this week from any Jaycee.

Tickets for the dance alone will be available for those couples who will be unable to attend the dinner.

Know City

Michigan Week is scheduled throughout the state May 2 to 8. Slogan of this special week is "Know Your Michigan."

Before one knows his state, he first should know his own community.

With this thought in mind, the HERALD this week begins a series of articles on local industries. They are appearing in Miss Clara Waldron's column, "Is That So?"

Another way in which we can know our community is through its history. Tecumseh is rich in historical lore. Merchants are asked to display this lore in their windows during Michgan Week. The Rosacrans Store already has a display of this kind in its window.

Other displays might feature what Tecumseh is noted for. An example of this kind was the display in Palman's window several weeks ago. It featured products of Tecumseh's largest industry, The Tecumseh Products Company.

Promotional displays calling attention to Michigan Week were placed in local stores this week.

Carson House Leads VFW

Forty-five members of the Hall-Slater Post of V.F.W. enjoyed a chicken dinner Wednesday evening, April 14, served by the Auxiliary and preceding the regular meeting.

The meeting was called to order by Commander Boyes and was turned over to Wyman Campbell, Commander of the 6th district of Michigan, who then installed new officers for the coming year, as follows: commander, Carson House Jr.; senior-vice, Harold Warren; junior-vice, Warren Filter; quartermaster, Clifford Curran; adjutant, Harland Parker; chaplain, Gaza Kish; post advocate, Harlan Boyes; trustees one year, George Downard; two years, Kenneth Hinkleman; three years, Hunter Heesen; surgeon, Richard Johnson; officer of the day, Lloyd Stites; color bearers, Ted Sisson and Harold Meade; guard, John Slick; sergeant major, Carl Kemp; quartermaster sergeant, Frederick Ward; legislative officer, Grenval Spangler; public relations, Harlan Boyes; patriotic instructor, Hunter Heesen; historian, Richard Brighton; service officer, Frank Daehne; bugler, Lee Coffey.

Pins were presented to Past Post-Quartermaster, Warren Filter and Past Adjutant, Clifford Curran for their outstanding service for the past three years in the same offices.

A report was made on the carnival to be sponsored by the Post during the week before the Fourth of July. It will be under the same management as the one sponsored last year.

ALBERT COBO

Britton, Meet Mr. Cobo

Britton folks, meet Mr. Albert Cobo. He is going to be your mayor for the day May 5 and your village president Robert Wallace will be mayor of Detroit during the special exchange of mayors day, part of Michigan Week activities.

Born in Detroit and educated in the Motor City's schools, Mayor Cobo is now 60.

He started in business as a candy and ice cream maker, then he switched to a job as salesman of an office supply company.

He came to city government in 1933 from the Burroughs Adding Machine Company when the city's fiscal affairs were in a chaotic condition as a result of the depression. His immediate task was to handle the city's 40 millions in script.

"Borrowed" from Burroughs for six months, the then mayor and city council voluntarily raised his salary and persuaded him to remain as special advisor to the mayor and deputy city treasurer.

He became City Treasurer in 1935 to fill vacancy and was elected seven times, serving 15 years. In November, 1949, he was elected mayor by a majority of more than 100,000 votes.

He was re-elected in 1951 for a second two-year term and in November of 1953 was chosen again, this time for a four-year term, which runs through 1957.

Despite additional millions spent for needed public improvements during the first four years of Mayor Cobo's administration, the city's books have been balanced and the tax rate slightly lowered.

Detroit is now in the midst of an extensive expansion program which is being pushed under his leadership.

During 1952 Mayor Cobo served as President of the American Municipal Association. It was one of the most successful years in the history of the organization.

During the past several years his accomplishments have been given official recognition by several foreign governments.

Mayor Cobo married Ethel Logan Christie in 1914. They have two daughters, both married.

He is a member of the Mt. Hope Congregational church and he is a Mason.

As to his hobbies, his home and his three grandchildren and his daughters take about all his time that he doesn't spend on the job.

CLAIR HILL

Folks, Meet Mr. Hill

Tecumseh folks, meet Mr. Clair Hill, president of the Village of Burlington.

He is going to serve as your honorary mayor May 5 during the exchange of mayors day, part of Michigan Week activities.

Mayor Pro-tem R. H. Moore of Tecumseh will go to Burlington to serve as honorary president of the Calhoun County village.

A realtor, Mr. Hill reports that the population of Burlington was 329 in 1950.

Located on the banks of the St. Joseph River, it is on M-60, 20 miles south of Battle Creek.

Farming is the main occupation.

Mr. Hill, president of the village for eight years reports that the village is proud of its fire department and firemen's organization which makes it competitive with surrounding villages much larger in size.

He also said town people point with a great deal of pride to a new elementary school which was just completed.

Mr. Hill has two sons. His hobbies are fishing and bowling.

Councilmen Monday night discussed informally plans for entertaining Mr. Hill when he becomes honorary mayor of Tecumseh May 5.

Th idea of exchanging mayors is to get Michigan towns better acquainted with each other.

Replaces Charles Mensing; R. H. Moore Appointed To Mayor Pro-Tem Post

H. H. ("Oley") Hanna is the new mayor of Tecumseh. Succeeding Charles Mensing who resigned April 5, Mayor Hanna was unanimously elected by the council Monday night.

The council also elected Robert H. Moore, mayor pro-tem. The new mayor pro-tem succeeds Mayor Hanna who previously had held this office.

In accepting the position, Mayor Hanna said: "I will endeavor to carry out the duties of the chair to the best of my abilities. I know that you will give me the same cooperation you gave Charlie." (Mayor Mensing).

H. H. HANNA

Councilmen still have a vacancy to fill on the council. As per charter regulations they accepted the resignation of former Mayor Mensing from the council two weeks after it was submitted April 6.

They have 60 days in which to fill the vacancy.

The new mayor is no stranger to the local political scene. At present he represents the City of Tecumseh on the Lenawee County Board of Supervisors and he has been active in local and county politics for 40 years.

He cut his political teeth in 1914 when he first was elected clerk of Tecumseh Township. He held this post until 1922.

In 1922 has was elected supervisor of the township, a post which he held for 10 years.

Leaving township politics for a time, Mayor Hanna served as postmaster of the Tecumseh Post Office from 1932 to 1936.

He returned in 1936 once again to serve as clerk of the township, a post he held until the Village of Tecumseh became a city last Jan.

Before he was elected to the council of the new city, Mayor Hanna also served on the charter commission.

Pool Work Begins Again

City employees have started to haul black dirt to landscape around the swimming pool.

Dedication of the pool has been set for Saturday night, May 22.

Recreation

Tecumseh's Recreation Department, under the direction of Lester Runk, is making plans for the summer program. The director requests that anyone having usable tennis rackets, badminton equipment or horse shoes which they no longer want, donate them to the department.

Other equipment also can be used.

The program will open about June 25.

FHA Activities Are Summarized

Edwin Lewis, local reporter for Future Farmers, summarizes last week's activities of the agricultural students. The week before Easter the F.F.A. boys worked at the school test plots, plowing and fitting four acres of oat ground. John Cadmus used his father's grain drill and tractor to sow the oats.

Herbert Quigley used his father's tractor and manure loader to help clean out the fence row along Adrian St. The boys feel that this helps to improve the appearance of the plots, thus is part of their community service activities.

The ag boys also dressed off 160 of their broilers which Ken Mangus managed for the classes. The boys entered their birds in a F.F.A. contest and came out fourth. The Milan chapter was first.

The F.F.A. gilt, which Bruce Wright now has, is due to farrow in May. When the pigs are eight weeks old Bruce will return two of them to the chapter and these will be given to other class members.

The chapter, and Agriculture II class have formed a partnership of three feeder pigs. The classes are figuring the rations and John Cadums cares for the pigs. This gives the boys more practical experience in hog feeding.

The classes are also cooperating in a spraying program with Dr. Gripsby of M.S.C. and Mr. Churchill. A complete spraying program of our plots on Adrian street will be carried out this year for the purpose of weed control. The boys are much interested in this new phase of their farming activities. The rotation on the plots is: corn, soybeans, oats, wheat and alfalfa and alfalfa alone. Sprays will be used on all plots and records kept of the results by boys of all classes.

WHEN TO STAY OPEN — Once again Tecumseh merchants will decide if they want to remain open Friday or Saturday nights.

The question is not a new one but perhaps it should now be viewed in a new light.

Every issue of the "Michigan Tradesman" carries articles of more and more stores in the state changing from Saturday to Friday night openings.

Typical is this report on Holly in Oakland County.

Retail merchants agreed after long debate to keep their business places open on Friday nights, instead of Saturday nights.

Among reasons for this action were the fact that several Holly industries pay their employees on Fridays, and the First State and Savings Bank also agreed to remain open until 8 p.m. Fridays.

Holly also is typical in another way: it is within a short drive of not one but two larger cities, Pontiac and Flint.

Tecumseh, as we all know, is only a short hop to Adrian, a city of some 20,000.

Let's be blunt for a moment. Most employees are paid on Friday and as soon as they are paid they need groceries. They need that pay check cashed in a hurry. So they go where the stores are open on Friday night. Nine times out of ten this means they drive the short way to Adrian. And it is Adrian where they spend the larger part of that weekly pay check.

If there is any money left, they buy what things they still need in Tecumseh on Saturday and Saturday night.

Tecumseh merchants who favor the Saturday night opening claim that more farmers come to town Saturday night. This might have been true years ago but these merchants have lost sight of an important fact. Farmers are no more in a class by themselves. They act and react in the same manner as their co-workers in shops and stores. They can and do come to town any time they want.

Three things are certain about the Friday-Saturday debate:

1. It will not do a great lot of good to have only a few stores open Friday and a few open Saturday. It will have to be a cooperative venture to make it work the way it should work to do the business of Tecumseh the most good.

2. Remember, your first concern is to the buying public. If a poll were to be taken it is a safe assumption to believe that more shoppers would favor the Friday night openings. It is as simple as giving the public what it wants.

3. Think seriously about this and then let your wants be known to the retail association.

Think about it not only from the business standpoint but also from the convenience of the buying public. Your decision may have far-reaching effects on the economy of Tecumseh.

IT'S THE SPIRIT — Whether Michigan Week which will be observed May 2 to 8 is a success will depend to a large degree on the cooperation from various groups in Tecumseh.

These groups have cooperated in the past on projects of this nature and we are sure they will cooperate again.

There are hundreds of things that can be done to make Michigan Week-a success in the state. There are dozens of things that can make the week successful here. It can't be successful state-wide unless each community has a successful program in its own area.

The task of the next two weeks calls for joint planning and effort. It calls for us to put ourselves into this project with all our ingenuity and enthusiasm.

It is again the spirit that counts.

Show Boat Theme Of Scout Program

"Mississippi Show Boat" was the theme of the program for the April meeting of Cub Scout Pack 4 at the Youth House Tuesday evening. A large boat formed the background of the stage.

Den 2 led by Mrs. Rutherford, who was assisted by Mrs. Ned Rosacrans and Mrs. Sam Sisson did the Cake Walk. Den 3 led by Mrs. Donald Beevers, assisted by Mrs. Howard Truesdale presented a boat race which was done by Robert Fisher, Michael Hannah and Brian Packard. Acrobatics were presented by Billy Fisher and clown stunts by Robert Jedele. Kenneth Beevers gave two readings, "Popcorn Man" and "After My Bath". These events were announced by Billy Truesdale.

Den 7, whose leader and assistant are Mrs. Virginia Dixon and Mrs. M. R. Blanden, presented a minstral show. It included a trio composed of John Boyes, harmonica; and Ronald Dixon, and Lee Britton, saxaphones.

Den 9, led and assisted by Mrs. R. Radant and Mrs. F. Miller, had the closing ceremonies. During the program members of the den sold candy and Dennis Irelan was the patent medicine man selling "Cure-All".

Cubmaster R. Radant presented the following awards — David Brock, bob-cat pin; Tim Whitney, silver arrow under wolf; David Blanden, one year service star; Roger Mikesell, wolf badge; William Fisher, wolf badge; Kenneth Beevers, gold arrow under lion; Brian Packard, wolf badge.

Tin can Cubby was won by Den 3 with a 65 percent attendance.

Arthur Eaton is taking all cubs of Pack 4 on a hay ride Thursday evening. They are to meet at the Scout cabin at 7 p.m. A weiner roast will be enjoyed after the ride.

Whose Money Is Loaned?

Most of the funds loaned by a financial institution belong to its depositors or share-owners.

The sound Capital, Surplus and Undivided Profits accounts, including reserves for possible loan losses, of the United Savings Bank exceed $800,000.00. This does not include building and equipment carried at nominal amounts.

These are maintained for the benefit and protection of our depositors — yet they represent only a relatively small part of the bank's total assets. The remainder belongs to its depositors. We consider these deposits to be a sacred trust — this is the reason we are so careful in managing the funds intrusted to us.

A high degree of liquidity is maintained by this bank at all times. Our complete list of investment securities is open for inspection to any interested depositor. You are invited to examine it. Our loan policies are well known and need no comment.

EPISCOPAL GUILD TO BE ORGANIZED

The final meeting of the season of the Women's Auxiliary of St. Peter's Episcopal church was held at the Parish house Thursday, April 15. Mrs. L. W. Larsen presided over the business meeting during which tentative plans were made for a "kitchen tour" as a money raising project for the organization.

Tuesday morning Mrs. C. O. Butler with Mrs. Larsen assisting, gave a breakfast in her home for the benefit of the Auxiliary. Mrs. Edward C. Dickin poured.

Announcement was made of a new Guild that is being formed in the church membership with Mrs. M. W. Wilson as chairman. Their first meeting will be held at the Parish house this afternoon at 2 p.m. All women of the parish not already affiliated with a church organization are invited to attend.

The program which followed consisted of a most interesting talk by Mrs. Peter McGee regarding her experiences in Japan during the military service of her husband. This included work as a Red Cross Grey Lady in the military hospital. Mrs. McGee illustrated her talk with colored pictures.

The Auxiliary will resume meetings in September.

Early Bird's Morale Hurt By Late Frost

Every year, while some early bird is getting the worm by planting a garden early, some other early bird is getting cut down by a late spring frost.

Planting time is here for gardens in some parts of Michigan but it is best to wait in other parts, advises Jack Rose, gardening specialist at Michigan State College.

Rose points out that planting calendars designed for some parts further south will not work in the northern areas of Michigan.

The frost-free data in southern Michigan is May 1 to 15 and May 15 to 30 in central and northern Michigan.

Garden crops are divided into five groups. The first includes peas, radishes, lettuce, onions, spinach, cabbage, broccoli and kohlrabi. They can be planted outside three to four weeks before the last killing frost.

The second group, to be planted two weeks before frost-free dates, includes carrots, beets, early cauliflower, parsnips, salsify and swiss chard.

The third group should be planted the first week after the last average frost. It includes the first plantings of the warm season crops such as sweet corn, snap beans, and the second plantings of radishes, lettuce, carrots and spinach.

The fourth group should be planted two weeks after the last frost. It takes in all the warm season crops; corn, snap-beans, cucumbers, melons, squash and late celery. Tomatoes, egg plant and peppers should also be set out.

The fifth group includes repeat plantings for late gardens. The last two weeks in June is the right time for planting this group.

MRS. WARNER BATES, FORMER RESIDENT DIES

Mrs. Florence Babcock has received word of the death on Easter day of Mrs. Warner Bates, the former Eolah Brown. Mrs. Bates will be remembered by many in Tecumseh, as her girlhood was spent here and she graduated from Tecumseh high school with the class of 1905.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edson C. Brown and was born in Bannister, Mich. She was married August 24, 1910 to Warner J. Bates, who was a brother-in-law of the late Mrs. Frank Bates of Tecumseh.

Although most of her married life had been spent in Detroit, she died in Tampa, Fla., where the family had a winter home. Mrs. Bates was the mother of eleven children, all of whom survive.

They are four sons, Warner Edson Bates, Detroit; James Brown Bates, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Walter John Bates, St. Johns; William Bruce Bates, Detroit; and seven daughters, Miss Elizabeth Bates, Detroit; Jeane, Mrs. Herman Sutfan, Mt. Clemens; Marjorie, Mrs. Lloyd Smith, Lyndon, Mich.; Mary, Mrs. William Davis, Buffalo, N. Y.; Shirley, Mrs. George Young, Detroit; Phyllis, Mrs. William VanRiper, Detroit; and Nancy, Mrs. William Singer, Philadelphia, Pa.

She is also survived by her husband and one sister, Mrs. B. A. Bielenberg, the former Bonnie Brown.

Funeral services and burial took place in Tampa. Wednesday afternoon a memorial service for the family and close friends was held in St. Paul's Memorial church, Detroit, whose pastor is the Rev. James Widdifield, a former rector of St. Peter's Episcopal church in Tecumseh.

Cub Scouts Induct 12 New Members

The April meeting of Pack 73 of Cub scouts was held Tuesday evening in Fellowship Center.

Den Chiefs Jerry Robinpette and Tony Kasik presented the flags and led in the pledge of allegiance.

After a few warm-up games, induction ceremonies were performed. New boys taken into the pack were Tommy Wilson, Michael Wilson, Murray Richardson, James Osborn, Robert Bruce King, Tommie Matteson, Pat Holdridge, Clark Nichols, Johnny Oberlin, Jimmy Brown, Gene Manwaring and Jackie Dick.

Awards were presented to the following: Den 11, Gary Hicks, two silver arrows; Robert Bonnor, one gold arrow; Joe Anderson, two silver arrows; Bruce Parrett, Bear Badge with one gold and two silver arrows.

Den 10, Michael Rice, wolf badge and Gregg Smith, wolf badge.

Den 3: Kent Naugle, two silver arrows; Edsel Brooks, bear badge; Ross Stephenson, one silver arrow and Bruce King, one gold and one silver arrow.

Den Chief Tony Kasik of Den 8 received the den chief card and cubby went to den 10 for 80 percent attendance.

There will be a field day at Wamplers Lake State Park May 15. Permission blanks must be signed by parents of cubs. May 1 there will be a roller skating party. Further plans will be announced later. Mrs. Charles O'Neill spoke about a new program to be started in the fall.

Homemade Dusters Thrifty

This is the season when a homemaker turns to thoughts of spring housecleaning.

If your inventory of cleaning supplies shows that you need new dusters, you'll have a variety to choose from these days.

You may like the commercial cloth dusters to be found on the market. Or you may use the dusting paper that comes in handy rolls.

But for the sake of the budget, you might prefer to make your duster at home.

Esther Everett of Michigan State College's home management department gives these directions for preparing a duster at home at a minimum cost:

Choose lintless material for your cloth.

Place a teaspoon of paraffin oil or oily furniture polish in a can. Turn the can to allow the oil to coat the sides of the can. Place the cloth loosely inside. Cover the can tightly. Leave 24 hours.

For safety reasons, a tin can is desirable and the tight cover is ESSENTIAL.

When dusters are soiled, observe precautions by placing them in a tightly closed container or wash them out immediately, advises Miss Everett.

Soap is best to remove soil from cotton, linen and rayon garments. Syndets are recommended for removing soil from silk, wool and nylon pieces. For garments containing elastic, soap is far superior, reports Evelyn Zwemer of the home management department at Michigan State College.

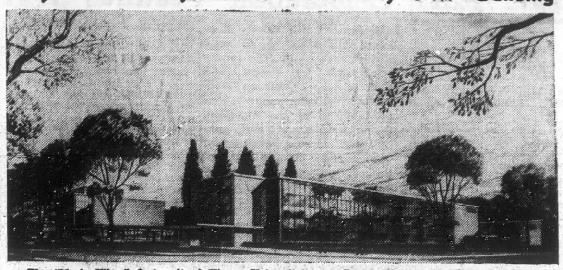
First Wing Nears Completion

Wayne University Erects Community Arts Building



The "Music Wing," first unit of Wayne University's new Community Arts Building, shown in the center of the above sketch, is now in construction at the north end of Wayne's campus.

Half of the cost for the entire project is being provided through the Capital Gifts Committee of Detroit's 250th Birthday Festival, and matching funds are being provided by the Detroit Board of Education. Construction will begin before spring on another wing (shown at left) which will house arts, crafts and art education. An auditorium, now in the designing stage, ultimately will occupy the area between the units.

Michigan Can't Afford More Forest Fires

Smokers and debris-burners are responsible for more than 70 per cent of the forest fires in Michigan. That's the word from L. A. Carter of Michigan State College's forestry department.

Emphasizing that "we can't afford the luxury of forest fires," Carter has this advice for Michiganders:

Use the car ash tray for cigaret butts and be sure your match is out before throwing it away. If you're walking through woods, scrape away leaf litter and stamp out your cigaret or pipe heel in mineral soil. Break a match before throwing it away—if it won't burn your finger, it's not likely to harm the woods.

Brush and trash should not be burned until you clear an area that's wide enough to stop the spread of a fire.

Mackinac Bridge Groundbreaking Celebration Features WW I Hero

St. Ignace's own "Bobby" Robinson, one of Michigan's most widely known wartime heroes, who holds the Congressional Medal of Honor as well as a "shoebox" full of other military honors bestowed by the American, British, Belgian, and French governments, has been named Grand Marshal of the big parade, a central feature of the two-day Mackinac Bridge celebration to be held at St. Ignace and in Mackinaw City May 7 and 8.

The celebration, aimed at commemmorating start of work on the Straits of Mackinac bridge, is sponsored jointly by governmental, civic, and business interests on both sides of the waterway. Attended by an estimated 35,000 to 50,000 persons—including many VIP's from many parts of the United States and Canada—it is expected to focus international attention on beginning of what has been termed "the greatest structure of its kind in history."

Robinson, shot down numerous times while in the Canadian Flying Corps and, later, in the First U. S. Marine Aviation group, was selected for the parade's Grand Marshal by A. G. Phillips, of St. Ignace and Charles LaHaie, of Cheboygan, co-chairmen of the inter-peninsula committee in charge of the commemmorating affair.

Born Robert Guy Robinson in Nankin Township, Wayne County, "Bobby" now 60 years old, has resided here for the past several years. While still "in harness," but during one of his three sojourns in military hospitals following wounds received in aerial action over Europe during World War I, Robinson was decorated with the Distinguished Service Cross by the past Gen. John J. Pershing.

Hospitalized again and excused from further service following a particularly heroic dog-fight over Belgium on October 14, 1918, Bobby later was awarded the Congressional Medal — highest honor this Nation can confer upon its heroes — which medal was to have been presented him by the late President Woodrow Wilson.

Robinson, however, had gone to Alaska and America's most coveted medal, sent to him by mail, lay unclaimed in the mail box of his farm home in Nankin Township for a week or more. It was only after his return to Michigan that Robinson, called on by an excited group of Marine Corps officers, was told he had become the first living Marine Corps pilot to receive the Congressional Medal. The first one, incidentally, had been awarded posthumously to Lt. Ralph Talbot, of South Weymouth, Mass., who was in a Marine Corps DH-4 with Bobby during that grim October 14 sky battle.

Talbot, not seriously hurt in the dog-fight, was killed a few days later. Robinson, shot 13 times in the abdomen, chest, and legs, and with his left arm virtually blown off at the elbow, helped bring the plane down in Belgian territory. His arm, hanging by a single tendon, was grafted back on by the surgeon-general of the Belgian army. It still is completely usable today.

Bobby, who carried a total of 21 wounds before he entered the October 1 set-to, says he doesn't know what the coveted medal was for, but "assumes that fracas over Pittam, Belgium, when we were outnumbered 13 to 1 could have something to do with it."

Robinson, who during his nearly two years of aerial warfare over the battlefields of Europe flew many types of craft—English, French, Italian and American — still retains fond memories of the American "Liberties," as he puts it.

"There's been a lot of talk lately about the Liberties not being used in World War I," he said. "Don't let anyone tell you that; I flew 'em."

As Grand Marshal of the Straits Bridge Celebration parade, however, Phillips and LaHaie will furnish Bobby with a four-legged "hayburner," — a snow-white one, no less.

TAKE THE WHEEL—just for the joy of it

(Another big reason for trying a '54 Buick)

UNLESS you've tried it yourself, you're going to find it hard to believe.

But when you press the pedal of a 1954 Buick with Twin-Turbine Dynaflow,* joy reigns—and so do you.

You feel the joyous thrill of commanding instant response, the solid "take hold," the firm authority of your acceleration.

You feel a joyous exhilaration at the utter smoothness of the forward carry — a completely infinite smoothness that is there every inch of the way.

And you feel a deep and abiding joy at the simplicity of it all, the ease with which you drive, the blessed restfulness of travel with a truly automatic transmission working its wonders.

As we said, you'll find this hard to believe—until you try it yourself.

Until you try TT Dynaflow with the stepped-up V8 horsepowers of the 1954 Buicks. Until you try it with the new buoyancy and the new handling sureness of the improved Million Dollar Ride. Until you try it with the new visibility, the new luxury, the new "look of tomorrow" styling that are part and parcel of every 1954 Buick.

So, we want you to be our guest at the wheel of a 1954 Buick with Twin-Turbine Dynaflow this week.

During April, 1,500,000 people will guest-drive the 1954 Buicks, and join the Thrill Of The Month Club by doing so. We cordially invite you to join them, for a real thrill. Call us today.

Strength for These Days

from the Bible

Call unto Me, and I will answer thee, and show thee great and mighty things which thou knowest not.—(Jeremiah 33,3.)

No matter how worldly successful a man may be, no matter what important tasks he performs or what high office he holds, it is as nothing compared with the 'great and mighty things' that the humblest human among us may know and do, if he calls upon God, and God is with him wholly.

Is That So!

By Clara Waldron

KNOW YOUR TECUMSEH

A visitor from Tecumseh's past, making a casual inspection of East Logan street, might be excused if he remarked, "I see someone is carrying on Art Kennedy's tin shop." If he looked a second time at the one-story, brick building across from the Post Office, he would probably ask, "What is the R. and S. Company?"

A surprisingly large number of Tecumseh citizens could not tell him. Probably no other enterprise of its scope and importance has ever been initiated and developed in our town with as little fanfare as this one. Yet behind its modest front it now covers 6,000 feet of working space, employs an average of 35 men and women and does a gross yearly business of nearly $125,000.

The secret of its quiet growth lies in the unassuming character of the two men who are the company. Frank Rice and Charles Stevenson — R. and S. — are self made men in the best sense of that over-worked phrase, who graduated into the manufacturing world by learning to make things with their own hands.

Charles Stevenson (spelled with a V and living on Pottawatamie, as contrasted with the "ph" Charles Stephensons on Van Buren) learned to be a tool and die maker under the exacting training of John Austin in the old H. Brewer factory. He was for several years engineer at Quaker Oats and later toolmaker at the Ford-Hayden mill.

Always he hoped for a shop of his own, an ambition that was realized in 1944, when he started the Stevenson repair shop in the building he rented from Mr. Kennedy. A year later he teamed up with another rugged individualist, Frank Rice who had just started an enterprise of his own, a radio shop. Together they bought the tinshop building and the R. and S. Co. began business.

That shop, the quaint house of matching brick on the corner and especially the secluded garden between with its latticed grape arbor and carefully tended fruit trees had lent old world atmosphere to the street for many years. There, anything that metal, expert workmanship and Yankee ingenuity could devise was made and mended—if the owner liked you. If you were one of those he happened to dislike, you could emphatically take your work elsewhere. So it was characteristic of the aging tinsmith that he would sell his shop only to this new company because he had liked Charles Stevenson from his paper-peddling days.

Unlike the Stevensons, who are native Tecumseh (Mrs. Stevenson was Gertrude Brooks) Rozella and Frank Rice have been part of the town only since 1938. Although Mr. Rice was born in Morenci, he graduated from Toledo high school and it was from Toledo that they came here to manage the A and P grocery, when it was located in the store now owned by Hodges Drugs.

Early in the war, they were to be recalled to Toledo but the Rices liked Tecumseh and Tecumseh liked the Rices so they made it their home. Mr. Rice did war work for some time in the radio division at Willow Run and then for two years in the same department at the Consolidated-Voltee airplane plant at Allentown, Pa. Tools had been his life interest, so he and Stevenson made a natural team—especially as they both liked to go fishing.

The ten years of R. and S. Company's growth have been steady. They have added to the building several times, buying the lot west of the shop and building additional working space in the area, while keeping the original shop as an office. They have made almost everything in the line of precision tools and parts. All the tooling for the Consolidated Button Factory was done by R. and S. Mufflers, air conditioners, chain saws and gasoline motors are just a few of the products they have helped to make.

They are especially proud of the 125 scale models of school busses, made for the use of salesmen of the Superior Coach Co. These are one-tenth scale models and every rib and strutt was engineered in their shop. One still stands in the office, less than a yard long but able to stand the weight of a 200 lb. man. They were shipped to every state in the union.

Efficiency experts and authorities in business administration would look in horror on R. and S. There is no office force, not even one stenographer. There is no definite division of authority. Both partners are "vice presidents in charge of work." Both do "whatever is to be done" and when it is done both still like to go fishing.

Living With Peace Of Mind

By KIRBY PAGE

Through memory man is able to live in the past, and through anticipation he can enter the future. The human mind is simply fascinated by the thought of everlasting life. The hope of immortality is rooted in the love and the integrity of God. While precise knowledge is not attainable, through the centuries the poets have endeavored to portray eternal life with the Father. The glories of this universe are usey by William Augustus Muhlenberg to envisage the radiance of the heavenly kingdom:

Since o'er thy footstool here below
Such radiant gems are stown,
Oh, what magnicicence must glow,
My God, about thy throne!
So brilliant here the drops of light,
There the full ocean rolls, how bright!
If night's blue curtain of the sky,
With thousand stars inwrought,
Hung like a royal canopy
With glittering diamonds fraught,
Be, Lord, thy temple's outer veil,
What splendor at the shrine must dwell!
The dazzling sun at noontide hour,
Forth from his flaming vase
Flinging o'er earth the golden shower
Till vale and mountain blaze,
But shows, O Lord, one beam of thine:
What, then the day where thou dost shine!
Ah, how shall these dim eyes endure
That noon of living rays!
Or how my spirit, so impure,
Upon thy brightness gaze!
Anoint, O Lord, anoint my sight,
And robe me for that world of life.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

So They Stopped Baiting Each Other

If you want to hear a real hassle, listen to Cob James and Whitey Baker on trout fishing sometime. You'd think it was more important than anything.

Cob favors dry flies. Whitey pooh-poohs anything but wet flies. Cob swears by a Fan-Wing Royal Coachman; Whitey won't hear of anything but Silver Doctor. And so it goes—they can't even get together on steel rods versus bamboo rods.

But on Saturday, each got back from Fox Creek with a catch that couldn't have differed by more than a couple of ounces! Then over a friendly glass of beer, they allowed as how maybe they were both right . . . which is how so many arguments should end.

From where I sit, life would be a whole lot pleasanter if we all respected one another's opinions —whether about trout flies, or having a glass of beer, or voting. After all, a person has a right to follow his own line of thinking.

Grade School News

Kindergarten—West Branch
Miss Bugbee

Seems good to be back in school again after our Easter vacation. We enjoyed it but we like school too. We hope all of you had a happy Easter.

Our room is gaily decorated for Easter with lots of bunnies and chickens. We have a large rabbit on our blackboard with colored eggs all around him. He says, "I can write my name." On each egg is a child's name written in manuscript. We made some pretty Easter cards for our mothers and fathers. Each one of us made a little basket. We were surprised to come back to school the next day, and find it filled with candy. Oh, yes, we made hats too.

Bonnie Staulter is the only one in our room who has an April birthday.

Joyce Randolph of the second grade has been in to sing several songs for us. Karen Creger brought a bunny from Japan to show us.

Our visitors this month have been Mrs. Gomez. Mrs. Ratliff, Mrs. Wheeler, Mrs. Murphy, Mrs. Meads, and Mrs. Brazee.

Linda Wheeler was only with us a short time. She has moved to Ohio.

Several of us are still entertaining the measles. We'll be glad when everyone gets back again.

We have made some new little cupboards to keep our books and dishes in.

We are very busy planning a little program for our mothers which will be May 21st. We hope all of our mothers will be able to come.

You'll hear more news from us next month.

Grade 1
Miss Warner

We miss all our schoolmates who have the measles or mumps. We hope they get well soon and can be back at school with us again.

We all want to say "Hello" to Jimmy Foreman who is at home with a broken leg. We hope you are feeling better Jimmy.

We have been building a farm. We brought boxes to school to make our buildings. We have a barn, a house, a shed, a corn crib and a hen house. We have all helped with the farm—doing painting or making fences or trees.

Grade 1
Mrs. McFerran

The last month has been a busy one. In reading groups 1 and 2 are now enjoying "Our New Friends." We have learned to count by 10's. We wrote fifteen diffferent Mother Goose rhymes and made pictures to go with them. The best papers are now on the board and will be put in a scrap book. In science we are learning about plants and flowers. We started our new health book "Good Times with Our Friends" a short time ago.

We also have been having fun decorating our room for Easter. On one side of the room we have an Easter Parade. The path is lined with Easter lilies and other small flowers. Bunnies, chickens and ducks dressed in their Easter bonnets are marching down the lane. Thursday we are going to decorate Easter eggs. Of course everyone is looking forward to our vacation and a Happy Easter.

Grade 1
Miss Steinhoff

Hello readers of First Grade News. Once more and then there will be summer vacation. Such a short time!

Most of us are working very hard on reading "Our New Friends." There are more new words to learn than there were in our last book.

We really have laerned how to spell many words. Now we are learning to spell the three primary colors, red, blue and yellow. We hope to have better looking language workbooks this semester.

Our room helpers for the last two weeks have been Roger Beal, Franklyn Boike, Ruth Brooks, Carolyn Purple, Donald Nichols, Bruce Osburn and Susanne Poley.

We are sorry that Kenneth Peters isn't with us anymore. He has moved to Adrian.

Mrs. Lawrence Poley and Mrs. Edward Beal visited us this month.

Grade 1
Mrs. Seiter

Easter is over and school is just about finished for one year. Some of us are sad and some are glad.

Some of us are getting ready to start our second reader "Our New Friends." All of us have been reading in "Guess Who" and "Happy Days."

For Easter we all made decorations for the school's showcase. We hope that the children in the building enjoyed it as much as we enjoyed making it.

Carolyn Carson and Gwendolyn both brought us a surprise for their birthdays. We enjoyed these very much.

We still have some children out with the measles. We hope that they are better and can come back to school soon.

Kindergarten
Mrs. Heimerdinger

We are recovering from an epidemic of measles and now are entertaining the mumps and chickenpox. We are hoping all our friends will be able to join us soon.

Our newest game is "Johnny-One-Stick." We like to play this game with our new construction sticks. It really is teaching us to count.

We have had fun preparing for Easter. We have made Peter Cottontail and learned the song and enjoy hopping like him, too.

Today, we made Easter hats. The girls made bonnets and decorated them with flowers and ribbons. The boys made head bands supporting a rabbit with floppy ears. Then we enjoyed our own little Easter parade.

Tomorrow we will dye eggs and place them in our Easter Baskets. Mrs. Heimerdinger is furnishing a surprise for our baskets.

Our store is completed and we are in business. We have fun playing storekeeper and customers.

Brownville School extends all their best wishes for a Happy Easter.

Kindergarten—Patterson School
Mrs. Updike

We like to be called "first grade children" and Mrs. Updike often does call us that because we are doing such good work. Our counting, writing and thinking is growing every day.

Our Easter plans have kept us busy. We colored eggs with our name on them. We made cunning little parts pulled by a Marshmallow duck for our eggs. Our Easter hats were a real success, each one being different and planned by us. The boys made fine Peter Pan's with their feathers in their hats. We have so many interesting things brought to school so we decided to make a chart of some of them. A snail shell, a cocoon, a chestnut, and quartz are a few of them.

We have made a large mural called "Spring Parade" — Green grass, trees in bud and flowers starting to grow form the background.

In the parade we have ducks, bunnies and baby chicks coming out of the eggs. Everyone helped and now that it is finished we enjoy looking at it.

We hope all of our mothers and friends will save the date of May 21st for us. We are planning something special for them and you will hear more about it a little later.

Grade 1
Mrs. Elsie Neitling

Monday was Larry Chase's birthday. He treated us to ice cream and cookies. We had a nice party.

Many children in our room have been absent because of the measles. We will be glad when everyone is back at school.

Two of our groups will soon finish the reading book "Our New Friends." Most of us are now able to read some of the books in our library.

We enjoyed two films along with Miss Warner's group last week.

A nice long Easter vacation and then back to school for the last period. We plan to work very hard at all the things we are weak in, so that we will be all ready for second grade next year.

Our room looks very much like Easter with all the baskets of eggs and little rabbits on the bulletin board. We have read many Easter stories, too.

Grade 1—Patterson School
Mrs. Faling

Hello there! We are very excited little people right now as it is time for Peter, the Easter buhny. We have been busy getting our room ready for his arrival. We made little chicks, ducks and, of course bunnies. Also, we made angels and crosses with Easter lilies on them. The most important thing however, was to make egg spiders from boiled eggs and pipe cleaners. When they were finished, they really looked alive! We decorated other eggs with paper hair, hats and clothes. Now we are patiently waiting for Easter Sunday and our four day vacation!

We changed our seats one afternoon last week and now we each are facing a different direction. We have a different person beside us, too, so we can become "pals" with everyone.

It has been so muddy lately that we decided to wear our boots every day.

We have a chart about boots and when we wear them, we put a gold star after our name. So far we all have stars each day.

In raeding the "Jets" are visiting the farm with Dick, Jane and Sally. Grandmother and Grandfather have many things to see and do on their farm. The "Pilots" have finished their "Guess Who" books and are ready to begin their primers. The "Indians" are nearly finished with "We Come and Go" and will soon begin their "Guess Who" books.

We have started our new writing books and have written "get well" cards for Jane, who is home from school with a cold. Someday we will be able to write some for our classmates when they are sick.

In science we have been talking about the weather. We know there are four seasons and we have learned the changes that take place during each season.

Arithmetic is becoming more fun! We have been practicing ways to make seven and nine. We can make many designs using seven and nine markers. We find our Number Workshop book much easier for us now.

Mrs. Schippers has taught us many new songs. We sing with a piano sometimes now, thanks to Mrs. Updike and her Kindergarten.

This is the 1954 Chevrolet Bel Air 2-Door Sedan. With 3 series, Chevrolet offers a model to meet every individual and family need.

These facts about the New Chevrolet can help you make an important decision

Don't you agree that buying a new car calls for careful consideration? Regardless of make, it involves a substantial amount of money and a lot of future satisfaction. This information can give you a better idea of comparative value and help you decide which make to buy.

A good customer of ours was telling us the other day how he sizes up a new car. Because he's bought a number of them over the years, we were interested in what he had to say. We think you will be, too.

Actually, what he does is to ask about seven basic questions. The answers give a pretty complete picture of the car and its comparative value. Here's what he wants to know.

How well do I like its looks?

That's one question, of course, that only you can answer. You're the one who buys the car and you, above anybody else, should be proud of its appearance.

All we can tell you is that we hear a lot of nice things about Chevrolet's new styling. People seem to like the new front-end and rear-end designs, and the way the bumpers curve even farther around the fenders. They like the new styling touches all around the car and the wide choice of bright new colors and two-tone combinations. A good many tell us that Chevrolet has a decided edge over the other cars in its field for smooth and graceful lines.

Who makes the body?

This question takes in much more territory than the appearance of the car. It involves the quality of the interior as well as the strength and safety of the body construction. That's why we think it worth your consideration that Chevrolet has the only Body by Fisher in the low-price field.

You can see the difference outside and inside. We'd especially like you to look over the new interiors. Just sit in the car, if you will. Feel the quality of the fabrics and notice the more generous use of vinyl trim.

In all these ways, you'll find evidence of superior quality and workmanship. And after all, isn't that what you would expect in Body by Fisher? As you know, Fisher is the largest and most famous manufacturer of automobile bodies in the world. Doesn't it stand to reason that Fisher can build extra quality into the Chevrolet body? It's there and you can see it.

What's under the hood?

You hear a great deal of talk these days about engine power. The truth is that the number of horsepower isn't nearly as important as what the horsepower does for you.

In this year's Chevrolet, you get increased power in two finer engines. There's the "Blue-Flame 125" engine teamed with Powerglide automatic transmission and optional on all models at extra cost. In gearshift models, you get the more powerful "Blue-Flame 115" engine.

But, actually, the increase in horsepower is only a sort of by-product of design changes made for other reasons. Chevrolet engineers were after greater engine efficiency, not just greater power. So, you get improved acceleration, with greater and safer passing ability. You get quieter, smoother operation. You climb the steep hills with new ease.

How hungry is it for gasoline?

A car's reputation for, and record of, economy of operation is certainly an important consideration to most people. We'd be glad to have you compare Chevrolet in this respect with any car at any price.

And, in the case of this new Chevrolet, you do not have to sacrifice economy for finer performance and more horsepower. That's because the Chevrolet engines are high-compression engines. Their compression ratio of 7.5 to 1 is the highest in any of the leading low-priced cars.

This means simply that the engine compresses, or squeezes, the fuel mixture to a greater degree in order to wring more work out of it. That's how Chevrolet is able to give you an important gain in performance along with money-saving gasoline mileage —and on regular gas, of course.

Is it up to date in features?

We can't think of a new feature or development you might want that you can't have on the new Chevrolet. Now you can have Chevrolet's zippy and thrifty Powerglide automatic transmission on any model. You can have Power Steering on all models and at a new, lower price. You can have Automatic Window and Seat Controls on any Bel Air or "Two-Ten" model, and you can have Power Brakes on any model equipped with Powerglide. All are, of course, optional features at extra cost.

How popular a car is it?

When you come right down to it, there's no better way to judge the satisfaction a car gives its owners than by its popularity. How many people buy it and keep on buying it?

Well, as you may know, Chevrolet is by far the most popular car in this country. That's true today and it's been true for a good many years now. But it couldn't be true—or wouldn't be true—unless Chevrolet gave its owners an extra measure of satisfaction and value.

How much does it cost?

There's a short, sweet answer to that one: Chevrolet is priced below all other lines of cars. This lower cost is made possible by the greater production facilities and purchasing power of the world's largest manufacturer of automobiles. That is why Chevrolet can offer you all the advantages we've told you about here—and many more, too.

We'd be more than glad to have you see all these things for yourself and to try out this new Chevrolet on the road. We'll be happy to see you at any time.

Christian Science Services Listed

That unwavering obedience to the eternal demands of Christ is the only way to individual salvation and progress will be brought out at Christian Science services this Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Probation after Death" includes the following passage from the Bible:

"Wherefore, my beloved, as ye have always obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and tremblings" (Philippines 2:12).

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following passage will be read:

"Vibrating like a pendulum between sin and the hope of forgiveness, — selfishness and sensuality causing constant retrogression, — our moral progress will be slow. Waking to Christ's demand, mortals experience suffering. This causes them, even as drowning men, to make vigorous efforts to save themselves; and through Christ's precious love these efforts are crowned with success" (22:3).

The Golden Text is from Psalms:

"Examine me, O Lord, and prove me; try my reins and my heart" (26:2).

IFYE Youths Are Assigned Their Countries

Four Michigan farm youths have received definite assignments as International Farm Youth Exchange (IFYE) delegates in 1954.

Mary Rogers of Palmyra, Lenawee county has been assigned as an IFYE delegate to Brazil. Miss Rogers, a senior at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor has been a member of 4-H Club for nine years.

Norman Laakso, of Chatham, Alger county, will be the IFYE delegate to Finland. Laakso, enrolled at Northern Michigan College of Education at Marquette, has been a 4-H Club member for eight years.

John First, R. 2 Ionia, Ionia county, has been assigned to Israel. He has been a 4-H Club member for 10 years. At present he is enrolled at Michigan State College and is majoring in dairy production.

Rhoda Kelly, Lansing, Ingham county, will be the IFYE delegate to Greece. A home economics major at M.S.C., she has been a 4-H Club member for 11 years.

All delegates are scheduled to embark on their IFYE missions in June.

In the IFYE program, young people from farms in the United States go to live and work on farms in other countries. Farm youth from other countries come here to observe rural life and further world understanding.

The two-way exchange, begun in 1948, is financed by contributions of 4-H Club members, civic clubs, farm organizations, business concerns, foundations and others interested in world understanding.

No government funds are used in the actual exchange.

FIRE DESTROYS DES ERMIA'S

Store Is A Total Loss

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the Des Ermia Furniture store Saturday. Estimated damages totalled $150,000. This included $110,000 damages to the building which was gutted and $40,000 damages to inventory. The loss was partially covered by insurance.

Firemen from three neighboring departments fought the fire for five hours with Tecumseh city and township firemen to keep it from spreading to other nearby store buildings.

Starting about 11:45 a. m., the fire roared through the two-story brick structure.

Later, Adrian city and rural and Clinton departments were called.

Co-partners Lyle and Hugh Des Ermia and Mrs. Cora Pfaus, bookkeeper, were in the store at the time.

Minutes before the fire was discovered, Lyle had checked on a shipment of tile for a customer. He walked back to the office to have Mrs. Pfaus call the customer. When he returned to the receiving room at the rear of the store, fire was coming out over the door.

He and Hugh had been all over the store earlier and neither had smelled smoke.

He yelled to Mrs. Pfaus to call firemen. Then he and Hugh tried to put out the fire with extinguishers. Hugh did succeed in putting out fire in one area, but when they saw they had no chance to put it all out, they ran from the store. Hugh going out the back and Lyle going out the front. Before they left, they managed to grab up important records and some money.

Other important papers, customer records and insurance policies were in the safe. The safe is still in the wreckage of the building.

The younger Des Ermias also lost about $1000 worth of personal furniture in the fire. They also lost family pictures and paintings. Hugh also lost his engineering text books and equipment from college days.

Wednesday morning Mrs. Des Ermia was still trying to dry out some books and to get the smoke aired out of some baby clothes.

They had the materials stored in the store while they settled their new home here.

A crowd estimated at 3500 turned out to watch the fire.

Clinton firemen joined forces here with Tecumseh firemen in fighting the fire and smoke.

Chief Cecil Alderdyce said he thought the flames started around the door to the receiving room but the cause could not be determined.

Fire ate through the elevator shaft, the ceiling and later the roof collapsed.

Clouds of smoke and the sound of the sirens brought a throng of onlookers. Police Chief Kilbourn estimated that 3500 persons watched the blaze.

State Police and Sheriff deputies aided local police in rerouting traffic and in roping off the area.

A freight train headed north was held up for hours while hose was laid across the tracks.

At one time firemen had 10 high-pressure hoses playing water on the fire and firemen climbed to roofs of near-by buildings to direct fire fighting.

There was one minor injury. Clifford Hassett of Adrian received a cut hand when a window pane broke. He was treated by a local doctor and returned to fire fighting.

Ellsworth Collins had his ambulance on the scene in preparation for possible accidents.

Only four walls remained after the roaring fire gutted the building. Firemen were on the scene until almost 6 p. m. and a standby was posted until midnight.

During the progress of the fire Tecumseh Tire Company trucked loads of tires from the tire shop.

An unidentified man was seen sprinkling a roof on a small shed behind Time Laboratory.

Mr. Des Ermia opened his business in 1946, combining two stores.

One of the oldest in the city, the building was 134 feet long.

Always associated in the mind of the town with the Slayton family, the building was put up by the firm of Slayton and Tindall, probably about 1850. J. P. Slayton and Enoch Tindall were Produce Merchants in 1848 and in 1858 established what they called the "Tecumseh Agricultural Depot."

The south half of the structure was built first and the rest added probably in 1858. The lower stories of two sections were divided by an arched alley.

Tindall retired from the firm later and in 1885 Mr. Slayton's son C. A. Slayton bought out his father and conducted the business until 1904 when he took his son W. E. Slayton (Elmer) into the company which became Slayton and Son.

In 1915 the building was purchased by the Farmer's Cooperative Assn. and later by the Robison Implement Co.

The upper story was used as a public hall for many years. Co. C, of Spanish-American War days, drilled there, it was a roller skating rink and a dance hall and the scene of many home talent plays and exhibits. While owned by the Coop. Assn. it was the home of the Tecumseh Grange before their own hall was erected.

The Des Ermia fire was the third serious business fire in a little more than three years. In Jan., 1951, Baldwin's burned with estimated damages of $250,000. And last Aug. Protane Gas Co. had a fire that caused about $18,000 damages.

Pictures of the fire taken by Dixon's Studio are on display in the D. and C. Store window.

Plans of the co-partners to return to business have not been determined.

The Des Ermias praised firemen. Hugh said: "They came over almost as soon as we saw the fire. And when they got here they did the almost impossible in keeping the fire from spreading."

304 Receive Polio Vaccine

In contrast to the relatively poor showing made in other communities Tecumseh's school children turned out 80 per cent of registration for their polio inoculation Tuesday. There were 117 shots given at Central school during their 9 to 11 morning hours, and 187 in the morning and afternoon at Patterson school. The latter included those who came in from rural districts.

Dr. C. L. Cook, at Central was assisted by nurses, Mrs. M. F. Blanden and Mrs. Richard Hammel, while Mrs. David Dick and Mrs. Schoencheck helped Dr. Claxton and Mrs. R. E. Dustin and Mrs. Archie Spohr assisted Dr. R. E. Dustin at Patterson. Miss Pearl Heist and Mrs. Bower were present from the County Health Center and thirty volunteer helpers from Tecumseh, led by Mrs. Rolland Reister and Mrs. Ted Golat kept the entire operation progressing smoothly.

CITY WAS DARKENED

Tecumseh and other county communities were in the dark Monday night about 7:30.

A bolt of lightning struck the Beecher sub station in Adrian, burning out an insulator.

Adrian and Morenci also were without lights. Power was off 18 minutes.

Final Plans Are Made For Michigan Week

Tecumseh and Britton this week are making final plans for the observance of Michigan Week May 2 to 8.

The special week will begin Sunday, May 2, with Michigan Spiritual Foundations Day, a day devoted by people of all faiths in their churches to the spiritual values of life in Michiagn, to thanksgiving and to the encouragement of good understanding among the citizens of this state. The various faiths will observe the day as best suits their own customs and traditions.

Monday, May 3, is Our Heritage Day. Local clubs meeting on this day could call attention to the traditions and history that have produced Tecumseh and Michigan.

Wednesday is Exchange of Mayors Day. On this day Mayor Pro-tem Robert H. Moore will go to Burlington in Calhoun County while Clair Hill, president of the Village of Burlington will come here.

Mr. Hill and his wife are expected in town about 9:30 a. m. where they will be welcomed by Councilmen Edith Smith and LeRoy Titley and by City Manager Ed Nelson, who also is general chairman of Michigan Week observance here.

He has been aided by members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

A tepee will be set up on the four corners at the stop light to represent Tecumseh.

A luncheon at the Country Club will be held at 12 noon. Mr. and Mrs. Hill will be honored guests.

City officials and their wives and husbands also will be guests with other community leaders.

Mr. Hill will discuss Burlington at the luncheon.

Later, he will be taken on a guided tour of the city, including industries and city departments and offices.

Wednesday night Manager Nelson will talk on Upper Michigan before the Tecumseh Exchange Club.

Mayor Albert Cobo of Detroit is due in Britton at 11 a. m. where a reception at the band stand will be held in his honor.

Village President Bob Wallace will go to Detroit as mayor for the day.

Les Edelbrock and Rudy Koczman are co-chairmen of the day in Britton.

The school band will be on hand to welcome Detroit's mayor and a parade will highlight the day. School will be dismissed.

A noon luncheon will be held at the Congregational church with Warren Lewis, president pro-tem of Britton, welcoming Mayor Cobo. Other community leaders also will speak briefly.

After the luncheon, Mayor Cobo will be taken on a tour of the surrounding farm areas, including the large Meadowridge Dairy.

Tuesday and Thursday observances will be combined here with industries holding open house Thursday. These two days —Our Livelihood Day and Michigan Hospitality Day—will combine two of the state's richest resources, its industrial might and the friendly courtesy of its people.

Friday is Education Day. Tecumseh Public Schools will have an open house this day with the public invited to attend. Special Michigan appreciation activities and displays will be featured.

Michigan Week will close locally with a city-wide sale by merchants who are planning hundreds of specials for Tecumseh folks.

Band Festival Theme Selected

Lenawee county bandmasters have selected the theme "America the Beautiful" for the eighth annual band festival to be held at Tecumseh's Recreation Field Sept. 28. Individual bands will show the beauty of America through the music of its 48 states.

The program, sponsored each year by the Chamber of Commerce, will include 13 high school bands. The feature of the outdoor concert is the massed band, which will conclude the program.

Assignments issued at Monday night's meeting to plan the evening demonstration, which last year attracted more than 5,000 persons, are as follows:

Addison, Michigan; Morenci, Oklahoma; Adrian, California; Clinton, New York; Blissfield, Virginia; Adrian Catholic Central, Indiana; Deerfield, Ohio; Tecumseh, Texas; Hudson, Wyoming; Sand Creek, Nevada; Britton, Louisiana; Onsted, Massachussetts and Cement City, Pennsylvania.

Clare Camburn, dean of Lenawee bandmasters, is general director of the event.

Stamps

The Herald's junior reporter in charge of philately, 13-year-old Gregg Mason, gives the following information: on May 7th the United States Postal Department will issue a three-cent stamp honoring the 100th anniversary of the Nebraska territory.

The central figure is a reproduction of the painting "The Sower" which also has been reproduced as a statute in Lincoln, Nebraska, the state capital.

For first day covers, self addressed envelopes may be sent to the Postmaster. Nebraska City, Nebraska. As many as 10 may be sent by one person.

Lightning Starts Gravel Pit Fire

A bolt of lightning struck a repair shop at the Porter Sand & Gravel Co. early Saturday morning and a resulting fire badly damaged the shop and destroyed some machinery and tools.

Damages were not estimated.

Firemen believe a bolt of lightning struck an electrical line leading into the building.

"We were very well pleased with the turn-out Monday."

This comment was made by John Surratt, manager of the Adrian Federal Savings and Loan Association's Tecumseh office, which held its grand opening Monday.

He said folks flocked in to see the new building and that savings and loan officials as far away as Niles and Bay City came to inspect the new facilities.

Flowers expressing best wishes lined the office.

No count was taken as to the actual number of persons who visited the new savings and home loan organization.

JACK OSBORN SELLS OLDSMOBILE SALES

Jack Osborn has sold his Oldsmobile Sales to Keith Bailey of Adrian.

The change of ownership is effective May 1. Name of the organization will be changed to Keith Bailey Motor Sales.

Jack will be associated with Schneider Brothers' new car sales; he will sell used cars on his own lot; and he will sell real estate for Bob McCoy.

Dogs

Police Chief Kilbourn reminds dog owners that their dogs must be under control at all times.

He said his department has had too many complaints about dogs ruining flower beds and gardens.

Dogs, he said, should either be penned or leashed, and, he added, they must have licenses.

Child Guidance Banquet Set

Judge Paul W. Alexander of the Court of Common Pleas Division of Domestic Relations, from Lucas County, Ohio, will be the speaker at the May 6 banquet of the Huron Valley Child Guidance Clinic.

This is an opportunity for local people to hear an authority on this vital subject.

Judge Lucas is a jurist of national note and a member of many organizations dealing with family affairs.

ABOUT THE FIRE — We were ready to write about the local fire department in this space when the alarm sounded Saturday for the Des Ermia fire.

After the fire, even a fuller comment was necessary.

This is part of the original idea. Many times we have seen firemen hastening to fires. In their haste they have at times jeopardized both pedestrians and drivers. Now before anybody gets too excited about this statement, let us add that this is not in any sense meant as a criticism of the fire department nor of the volunteers.

The record of our local fire fighters cannot be surpassed in any city of like size.

But we wonder if they could be a little more careful in their zealous efforts to get to a fire. Of course they have to get to a fire as soon as is humanly possible, but in doing so they should be careful that they are not involved in a serious accident on the way. If they were in an accident, they not only might maim or kill someone but they might be killed or maimed too and they might damage fire fighting equipment that would be needed at the fire.

The fire at Des Ermia's raises more questions concerning local fires.

First, the point made by some sidewalk experts that if firemen had been faster they might have been able to save the building. The task of fire fighting, like so many other things, looks easy to those watching. The "experts" also commented on the advisability of breaking so many windows and doors. They thought this process just aided the draft in fanning the fire. A new school of thought on fire fighting points out that this process helps to clear the smoke so firemen can see where the fire is.

"Experts" to the contrary, owners of the burned building and contents, had only praise for firemen.

Secondly, question that needs serious thought and planning is the age and construction of many Tecumseh buildings. It might behoove all of us to be even more watchful in fire protection given to our buildings and contents.

Thirdly, there always is a chance for an audience at a fire to be in the way. Of course a big fire is exciting but those watching should make sure they are out of the way, from a safety standpoint and also so they will not slow firemen in doing their job of putting out the fire.

As a working newspaperman, we found ourselves guilty of this infraction Saturday. We were in close trying to shoot some pictures, then we fell back a few feet to discuss the situation with some city officials. The Clinton truck roared around the corner and before the truck was stopped, firemen jumped off on the run to start to play a hose on the fire. Some of the hose whipped us about the legs.

The next time you watch a fire (let us hope this never happens) stand out of the way. You will be protecting property and maybe your life.

Fourthly, it is a horrible thought, but if the wind Saturday had shifted a certain way at a certain time, a whole block of stores might have been ignited. That other stores were not ignited was not just a freak of nature, however. The work of firemen fighting the fire prevented this from happening. This, in the final analysis, should point out to the sidewalk experts that our local fire department knows what it is doing.

And our firemen have contained other fires, too.

Remember the nasty one when Baldwin's burned late one winter night? Remember Protane's fire last summer?

The record speaks for itself and all of us should be thankful for this record and for the minutemen manning our fire department.

All of us should also be thankful for the mutual aid plan set up between our department and other fire departments. We are indeed thankful for the help given by other firemen Saturday.

SHOP AT HOME — Another reminder that shopping at home — in this case Tecumseh — pays can be cited in National Brands day that is being observed nationally today.

Regardless of what you need, whether it is clothes, groceries, appliances, hardware equipment or building supplies, you can get all the national brands "right in your back yard" — right here in Tecumseh.

Local stores have all the national brands that are sold elsewhere. And, most importantly, they have them right here. You don't have to drive 12 or more miles to get them.

Shopping at home pays. For example, suppose you drove 12 miles to buy these same brands. This is a round-trip of 24 miles. You can't drive your car today for less than 10 cents a mile. By shopping at home you save at least $2.40 — or hadn't you ever thought of this? You also save time.

Try it next time you need a brand name product. Try Tecumseh first. You will be glad you did.

"I've got a problem in buying a home," Mr. Barnes remarked. "My wife is still in Ohio. We sold our home there and will move here in a few weeks. In the meantime, she wants me to try and find us a nice place here in Tecumseh."

"We'll do it," I replied confidently. "I'll show you the best values we have."

Mr. Barnes hesitated. "It's not quite that easy. She rules the roost on anything involving our home or household. It'll have to please her too."

Mr. Barnes and I looked over several homes. He selected two vas being "just about right." The next day photographs of these homes, together with a full description of the properties and neighborhoods were on their way to Mrs. Barnes.

Within a few days, she arrived. The "worry" of house-hunting was about over. She confirmed her husband's judgment. They picked one of the two homes. Their "house problem" disappeared.

No matter what your "problem in buying a home, we will work with you to find a satisfactory solution.

Won't you give us a chance?

The Parent-Teacher Association of Tecumseh schools met for their last meeting of the year Thursday evening at Patterson school. Seventy-six were present.

Annual reports were given and new officers were elected and installed. Officers for the coming year are: president, Mrs. E. J. Crawford; vice president, Mrs. Wilbur Andrews; teacher vice president, Mrs. Wallace Whiting; secretary, Mrs. Harold Clark; treasurer, Mrs. Wallace Rutherford; historian, Mrs. Wendell Scutt and parliamentarian, Mrs. Laine Holden.

The money-making project planned for the summer was tabled until fall with the same committee in charge, Mrs. Richard Duffin being chairman.

It was decided that the new officers should appoint a parent chairman and a teacher vice-chairman for each school with the projected plan that individual meetings will be held under the overall direction of the general officers.

All-school meetings will probably also be held but because of the division of interest it is felt the new method will promote better attendance.

Announcement was made of a concert to be given in May by Robert Peck's instrumental group, the date and place for which will be announced later.

A song fest by the audience closed the meeting after which refreshments were served by Mrs. Frederick Dickinson and her committee of room mothers.

KNOW YOUR TECUMSEH

TIME LABORATORY

What with Arthur Godfrey wise-cracknig one of its perpetual calendars before all the television sets in the U.S.A., there can be few people in this vicinity who are not aware of the existence of Time Laboratory in Tecumseh.

There are, however, still those who are not just sure who, where and what Time Laboratory is. The answer is that while Time Laboratory is now a corporation, originally it was George Adamson. And George Adamson is a native of Tecumseh to whom time is something more than the vaguely abstract four-dimension of the average layman. Perhaps a consciousness of time was born with him, for his grandfather in Liverpool, England, was a maker of chronometers, those most precise of precision instruments that went around the globe in English ships.

His father, too, learned that exacting skill and when he came to America and to Tecumseh where he had a jewelry shop in 1870, he made watches and parts for their repair. He performed another and most unusual service for the town. In fact it might be said the Adamson family brought time to Tecumseh. Naturally there were no time signals broadcast in 1870, and clocks could go far astray and no one the wiser. By a home-made but accurate device for "shooting the sun," together with his expert computations, he was able to establish the correct, daily time for the village.

Mr. Adamson had married a Tecumseh girl, Petronella Heesen, and their young son, George spent many hours at his father's work bench. He also spent many hours with a friend and neighbor, Augusta Patterson Lee, whose influence he has never forgotten. She has a keen interest in science, nature and art and through stories and books she imparted that interest to the small boy.

After high school his formal education was completed at Bradley University at Peoria, Ill., and was followed by two years of practical work making watch parts. He then became connected with the Ball Watch company of Chicago, makers of railroad watches. During the years which followed he made three trips to South America, once to introduce the Ball and Waltham watches and twice on exploring trips in search of emeralds for the jewelry trade. His adventures on these explorations have made him eligible for membership in the world-wide Adventurers Club. Mrs. Adamson, the former Florence Rosacrans accompanied him on one S. American trip.

Then came the depression and a temporary end to the jewelry business. The Adamsons returned to Tecumseh and George devoted his time to a project, which after going through many phases, finally brought him recognition and success.

He had always been interested in navigation and now he perfected a mechanical system of celestial navigation. It was a machine which would do away with the long and involved mathematical processes hitherto necessary for navigation. Both navy and air force were interested, but the machines were too expensive for common use. Then he built a watch for use of the air force that would at least shorten the calculations. It was something never before made, a second setting watch. Then it, too, developed difficulties. It was disturbed by the magnetic field of the plane. Again he went to work to correct the trouble.

The result was a circular metal box, acting as a magnetic shield for the watch which is suspended within by four horizontal springs. The springs are so made that they are set to a frequency of vibration differing from that of the plane, thus protecting the watch.

On hundred thousand of these were made by the laboratory during World War II and 15,000 were made last year for use in the Korean zone. They are standard equipment on commercial as well as military planes and in tanks and submarines. They are so sleekly perfect these boxes, that they might be meant to hold jewels, in fact they have just one "gimmick". They must be so well made in order to do their work, that they practically never wear out. They are transferred from old planes to new ones and, while Time Laboratory could make another 15,000 at any time, they are not called upon to do so.

They do make "magnetic shields" for ships chronometers — a very delicate piece of work — and they also make parts for other especially sensitive precision instruments. Their Swiss, automatic lathes are capable of "holding tolerances to better than .0005 of an inch" and they have gauges that can be read to .0001 of an inch.

At present about ten people work in the laboratory at 122 N. Evans street. The perpetual calendar, that needs only to be plugged into an electric outlet to tell its owner the day, month and year as long as time exists, is just one more of the products of Time Laboratory where work is so good that it never wears out.

Tecumseh BOOK SHELVES Library

Michigan Week is almost here. What is a better way to become acquainted with your state than to read about Michigan as a place to live, to work, and to play? Start in your own community and come in and visit your Public Library. Let us show you the abundance of material we have on Michigan for young and old alike.

Perhaps you would like to look over a 1900 Tecumseh City Directory or would you care for the exciting story of lumbering as told in the book, "Between the Iron and Pine." Books of Henry Ford, Paul Bunyan, birds, flowers, resources, history, travel and geography of Michigan are all available to you through the library.

"Loonfeather," the story of Tecumseh's daughter; "Home Grown," life on a Michigan farm; "Citadel of the Lakes," a romance on Mackinac Island, all good books for reading pleasure. Teenagers would like "Peddler's Girl;" "North Wind Blows Free;" "Sabina;" or "Mystery of the Gulls," all having Michigan for their background.

The library also has a good collection of material of local interest. We have all the old Heralds from 1850, the very first records of the township of Tecumseh. Early school board records are a part of our collection as well as early records of some local clubs and churches.

You will never know until you try just what we offer you. Know your Michigan, but be sure to know your Public Library, too.

We wish to thank the Garden Club for the lovely Easter display they put in the library last week.

HARMONY HOMEMAKERS

Aebersold then told of her trip through the west illustrating it with pictures she had taken.

In May the club will meet with Mrs. Charles Allen, who will be assisted by Mrs. Aebersold and Mrs. Melott. There will be election of officers, with Miss Gamboe and Mrs. Aebersold as the nominating committee, and the member having the highest attendance record will be honored.

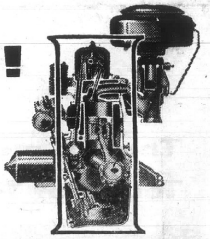
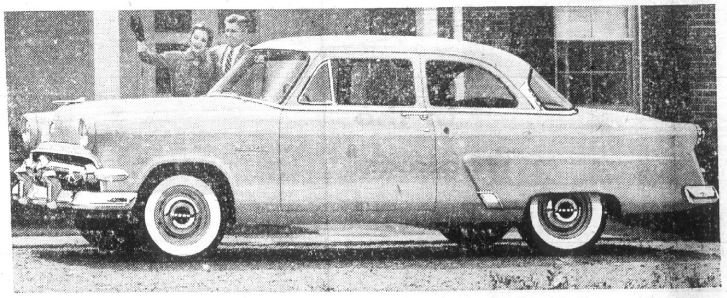
America's lowest priced low-friction SIX!



FORD'S NEW I-BLOCK SIX IS THE MOST MODERN SIX IN THE INDUSTRY . . . THE ONLY LOW-FRICTION SIX IN ITS FIELD!

More folks are swinging to Ford's 115-h.p. I-block Six because they're getting the most modern six in the industry. Ford's short-stroke, low-friction design means less gas waste, less wear and longer engine life.

The extra-deep, "I-shaped" block means a more rigid, quieter engine. And the new high-turbulence combustion chambers, and Ford's Automatic Power Pilot, bring you even more "GO" per gallon.



ONLY FORD OFFERS BOTH A V-8 AND SIX IN THE LOW-PRICE FIELD!

Ford is still the only low-priced car to bring you V-8 power. And this year, Ford's Y-block V-8, with its new deep-block, low-friction design, is the most modern "eight" in the industry. Both new Ford engines are available with Fordomatic,* Overdrive* or Conventional Drive—the finest choice of drives in the low-price field.

*at extra cost

HERE'S WHAT FORD'S LOW-FRICTION DESIGN MEANS TO YOU

LONGER ENGINE LIFE. Both new Ford engines are of short-stroke design. This means pistons travel less distance. Naturally, there is less friction and less wear. In both engines overhead valves have a free-turning feature which allows them to rotate to cut down wear.

MORE POWER. Because there is less friction to overcome in moving pistons up and down, there is more energy to move the car. And because combustion chambers are wedge-shaped, fuel burns more completely . . . for even more power.

MORE "GO" PER GALLON. Ford engines also bring you the additional savings of the Automatic Power Pilot which squeezes the last ounce of power out of every drop of gas. You won't find any of the modern advances on this page in any other low-priced car.

Worth more when you buy it . . . . worth more when you sell it!

Grade School News

Central School—Grade 2
Mrs. Puffer

One sunny afternoon we walked to the library. Mrs. Fosbender, the librarian, allowed us each to choose a book to bring back to school and read. It is a thrill to be able to read some books all the way through by ourselves.

When it was Ronald Jones' birthday his mother came to our room with a treat. We had cake, ice cream and strawberry pop.

We saved the paper cups from the party and the next day we filled them with dirt and planted tomato seeds in them. When school is over for summer vacation we will take our little plants home, set them out in our gardens, and wait for the tomatoes to grow.

Some of the children have been very ill with measles. Others have had mumps. Mary Ann Johnson has been absent from school because of an appendectomy. We hope everyone will be feeling better soon.

Glenn Green's mother came to visit one morning recently. We always are happy to welcome the parents.

Grade 2
Mrs. VanValkenburg

Spring is really here! For a long time we have been watching for the signs of spring — flowers, green grass, leaves on trees, return of birds, making of gardens, and now — summer vacation is in sight. After all of our hard work this year, we expect to join the ranks of "Third Graders."

In the Achievement Test that we have just taken, most of us rated above our grade level. One class has finished our last basic raeder, "The New More Friends and Neighbors." The other class, by the end of the year, to finish "The New Friends and Neighbors."

In numbers we are working on the combination of numbers up to eight. We are glad we have learned to do cursive writing. Spelling is a lot of fun too.

We are enjoying coloring pictures and writing stories for our bird books. Another thing we enjoy is our game, "Quizmo."

West Branch — Grade 2
Miss LaPointe

Alison Derby brought Caesar, the Derby family's parakeet to school. He spent the afternoon with us and seemed quite calm and contented during his stay in our room.

Members of the class who had April birthdays are Barbara Colgrove, Beatrice Derr and James Griffin.

Many of this group have been absent on account of measles. However, our atendance is now 100%.

Glenn Schmidt brought a lot of frog eggs to school that are about to become polliwogs. We will watch them until they develop into frogs.

Stephen Freckelton brought his record player and entertained us with three very interesting records. The one entitled "By Rocket to the Moon," was most instructive.

We have finished "More Friends and Neighbors" and have taken the basic reading test.

Grade 3
Mrs. Illeck

Today we did a whole book of tests. Actually, they were fun to do and so we thought of them as games. It took us most of the morning to complete the book.

We hope our mothers liked the Easter plants we gave them for a surprise.

Every two weeks we go to the Tecumseh Public Library. We have found many books there which we think are very interesting. We choose a book which we keep for a two week period in our room at school. When we finish reading the book, we make a report to the class.

Today we started a coal plant. We can hardly wait to see the colorful plant emerge from the lump of coal.

We had a spell down with Miss Baker's room. They won this time, but we hope to win next time. Miss Baker very kindly took time to take us on a tour of Patterson school. Thank you, Miss Baker. It was fun.

John Hartley celebrated his birthday Easter Sunday.

We have had many boys and girls out with measles. They have been very ill. Today there were only four children absent with measles. We hope everyone will be back very soon.

Grade 3
Mrs. Vallie

Our class has been enjoying trips to the library. We like the stories Mrs. Fosbender reads to us and we look forward to bringing a library book back to school each time.

Priscilla Glascock's father built a sandbox for us. All of the boys and girls helped to paint it. Keith Kruse brought a wagon full of sand for it. Right now groups of us are taking turns putting anything we want in the sand box. Next week we are going to show the streams and ponds in Tecumseh in it.

We had a lot of fun watching two garter snakes. Charles Wilson brought them in from his farm. He let them crawl on the tables. They showed their fangs to us.

April Smith told us about her trip to Upper Michigan over the Easter weekend. She brought a clam shell and some birch bark to show us.

In Science class we are studying about plants. We are planning to do several experiments to find out how plants grow and what they need to grow.

It is our turn to put something in the display case in the hall. We are working on an animal unit in reading. We will show some of the things we are reading about in the Display Case.

We miss Priscilla Glascock very much. She had an appendectomy last week. We hope she will be back soon.

Grade 2
Mrs. Van Winkle

This will probably be our last chance to send you news as Second Graders. We have enjoyed writing about things together, and then reading about them in the papers. We also enjoy reading about what the other Second Graders are doing.

We had fun dressing up in our Easter Bonnets and Robinhood Hats. We visited all the rooms in Central and sang to them, too.

Most of us are subscribing to the summer Weekly Reader. We feel it will be fun to get a paper addressed especially to us and we know that by reading it carefully each week, it will help us become better readers.

Most of us now have library cards and are regularly getting books that we can read all by ourselves.

Writing can be fun. We have started Cursive Writing and most of us are doing real well.

We are glad now that we waited so long to write this way, because we find it isn't a hard way to write at all. It's really lots of fun and we feel real grown up.

We are all planning on having a very nice summer vacation and we hope that all of you do, too.

Brownies And Scouts Given Awards At Annual Court

Nearly 200 parents, relatives and friends gathered at the Presbyterian church Friday evening in honor of the Brownie and Girl Scouts when they held their annual Court of Awards.

The opening ceremony was impressive when 150 Brownies, Girl Scouts, their leaders and co-leaders marched into the sanctuary to the organ music provided by Mrs. Fred Dickinson. Flag bearers and color guards presented the four flags and the assembly gave the pledge of allegiance to the flag. After recitation of the Brownie Promise and Girl Scout Promise and laws, the Girl Scouts sang "O Beautiful Banner" while the American flag waved in the air.

One by one each of the ten troops proceeded to the rostrum where they received their awards which were presented to them by laders and co-leaders. The awards were clusters to the Brownies, wings to the Brownies in Troops No. 1 and No. 2 who "flew up" to the Girl Scout work with Troops No. 16 and No. 17 making the presentation, membership stars and badges to the Girl Scouts, and the curved bar which was earned by Lois Kay Kiser.

The badges covered many fields of endeavor and will be worn on the uniforms of the girls. Thanks were extended to the sponsors and all who had helped with the scout program this year.

Mrs. M. R. Blanden paid tribute to the loyalty of the leaders and co-leaders who had met with the girls on a weekly basis throughout the school year besides helping in many other ways. Mrs. Trumah Rentschler, president of the Tecumseh Girl Scouts Association, presented five year pins to Mrs. John Cameron, Mrs. Duncan Oliphant, Mrs. Joseph Rohweder and Mrs. Howard Truesdale.

Flags were then retired after which the girls formed their good-night circle around the sanctuary and sang the international good-night song and "Taps" which was echoed by Kathy Tomorsky on the clarinet. Everyone adjourned to the Fellowship Center to visit the Girl Scout exhibits and have refreshments which were served by Mrs. Wellington Wotring, Mrs. Ronald Harris and Mrs. Herbert Dillon, whose daughters are in Troop No. 7.

Mrs. Howard Truesdale was chairman of the Court of Awards and was assisted by leaders, co-leaders committee-women and officers. Flag bearers were Marilyn Helzerman, JoAnn Wing, Jamie Sue Gabler and Carol Green and the color guards were Judy Truesdale, Alice Titley, Maxine Fouts and Linda Dicks. The unique programs were a special project in connection with the clerkship badge which was earned by Mary Seager, Judy Truesdale, Alice Titley, Janice George, Jane Crawford, Jean Ann Wagner, Linda Baldwin and Ann Cameron under the direction of Mrs. John Cameron.

The troops will continue to meet each week until school is out.

Sunday afternoon beginning at 2 o'clock the Tecumseh Grange and the Harmony Homemakers will welcome all his many friends at an open house at the Grange hall.
Mr. Sanford has been a resident of that neighborhood most of his adult life, coming there from the Britton vicinity. Of late, Mr. Sanford has made his home with his daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kempf on Billmyer road.
His many hosts hope everyone will join his neighbors and friends to make this a memorable occasion.

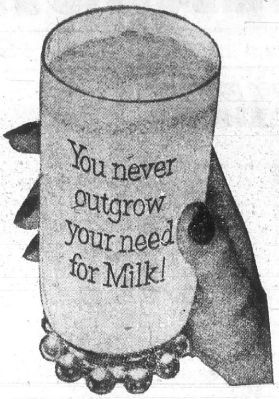
YOUR BEST FOOD BUY



For the Best in Nutrition

Price-wise, Americans paid less for milk and dairy products last year than they did for the all-foods average.

The all foods index stood at 226. The index for home delivered fresh milk stood at 191, 35% lower than the average increase for all foods.

Along with low cost, dairy foods contributed generously to the nourishment of the nation.

Milk, the complete food, is your best food buy and it is unequalled from the nutritional standpoint.

"OUR REPUTATION RIDES ON EVERY SALE"

THE TECUMSEH HERALD

ONE HUNDRED THIRD YEAR — NUMBER 31 | TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, MAY 6, 1954 | FIVE CENTS A COPY

It Was A Tough Fight ---But We Made It

Shades of the Yellow Kid.

No doubt a lot of folks will think the HERALD has reverted to a type of yellow journalism as practiced by two of the staunchest supporters of sensationalism in the late 1890's — William Randolph Hearst and Joseph Pulitzer.

While others might think we printed in yellow just to antagonize the supporters of the green and white down East Lansing way.

But neither reason is correct.

The first eight pages of the paper this week are printed on yellow (or canary as it is known in the trade) newsprint as part of Michigan Week promotion.

It all started this way:

It was what you might call an inspiration. While attending the first meeting of the Michigan Week committee way back when, we were wool-gathering when we should have been listening. And, bango, old inspiration struck.

But what did Thomas Edison say? Wasn't it invention is 10 per cent inspiration and 90 per cent perspiration?

The work hadn't even started.

We didn't even know if paper companies made such stuff in the size we needed. As it turned out, they don't.

Our salesman, bless his heart, knocked himself out trying to get the yellow stuff and girls in his office called all over everybody's half acre trying to get a line on it.

Last Thursday they finally found some lying dormant way up Appleton, Wis., way. But they said it couldn't be here until late Wednesday. This fact would have made it impossible for the HERALD to use it, since the last runs of the paper are printed early Wednesday afternoon.

After what seemed like a dozen more calls and the loss of a couple of quarts of blood sweating it out, we were told that the stuff would be here Wednesday morning.

As it turned out it was two days early, arriving without a police escort and without fanfare Monday morning.

So far, wonderful. But our troubles weren't over yet. Our pressman had to make adjustments on the press because the yellow, or canary, paper was a half inch shorter in length than our white newsprint.

It was the first time we ever heard anybody cursing a canary. But this bird couldn't talk back.

Then adjustments also had to be made in the folder and by this time some of the staff was wishing that nobody ever is hit with inspiration again. It probably is the only paper in the state printed on yellow.

Truthfully, we think it looks mighty sharp; even though the underwear is showing.

This is our Michigan Week present to our readers and in honor of a great state. You and Michigan are well worth our efforts.

A happy Michigan Week to all of you.

Shot Gun Blast Injures Boy

Glenn Schmidt, 9, was wounded in the left shoulder and chest when a shotgun accidentally discharged in his home at 208 W. Cummins street Monday.

Tecumseh police said George was tying his shoes when he asked his older brother Donald, 11, to get a lace out of a pair of shoes in the closet.

The older boy knocked the shotgun to the floor as he rummaged in the closet.

The gun went off with part of the charge hitting Glenn. The rest of the shot went through a kitchen door, tearing a hole in the door.

Family members told police that none of them knew the gun was loaded. Mr. Schmidt said he had not used the gun since hunting last fall.

Glenn was rushed to Herrick Memorial hospital for treatment.

Bill Benham Sets New Track Record

Bill Benham, Tecumseh High School's all-around athlete, set a new class B state track record at Central Michigan College relays last Friday at Mt. Pleasant.

He made the record in the broad jump with a leap of 21 feet, six and one-quarter inches. He set the new record on his last jump.

The former record was made in 1950 by Junior Stielstra of Ludington.

Tecumseh picked up seven points in the state meet with Benham accounting for five. The Indians picked up two more points when its middle distance relay team finished fourth in its heat, good for fifth place in the event. Running on the team were Ken Miller, Leroy Betzoldt, Jim Bowser and Tom Baldwin.

SMITH APPOINTED

Gerald Smith has been appointed by Mayor Pro-tem Robert H. Moore as marshall of the day for the Memorial Day parade.

Indian

An Indian chief complete with war paint, head dress, peace pipe and fire water was strolling city streets Wednesday.

He even had his tepee pitched on the four corners.

Strange thing about the chief. War paint and all, he still resembled Leon Williamson.

296 Children Get Polio Shots

The second polio vaccination clinic at Patterson and Central Schools was as successful as the first, with 296 children, only 10 less than a week ago, receiving their shots Tuesday.

Dr. M. R. Blanden was the doctor in charge at Central this week while Dr. Richard Hammel and Dr. W. T. Claxton worked morning and afternoon at Patterson School.

They were assisted in each location by the same nurses that served last week.

Mrs. Ted Golat is president of the polio committee for Tecumseh and for Tecumseh and Raisin townships and has had charge of all arrangements for the clinics.

Assisting her from Tecumseh are Mesdames Gaza Kish, Gilbert Nighswander, Mahlon Lord, Loren Forrester, Frederick Dickinson, Laine Holden, Wellington Wotring, James Jones, Donald Cook, Harlan Boyes, Ernest Hammack, Stanley Kruse, Waldo Mohr, George Kopka, Warren Filter, Richard Butler, Richard Johnson, Donald Morley, Harold Easton, Richard Walker, Ethel Peterson, Daniel Reed and John Hartley.

Her Raisin township committee includes Mrs. Earl Bennington, Mrs. Roy Brosamer, Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. Van Est.

Members of the Tecumseh Exchange Club who are on hand to help are John Saling, Harry Curry, Owen Partridge, Chester Beach, Leon Williamson, Clarence Beach and Reginald Dixon.

MICHIGAN WEEK SALE

A special city-wide Michigan week sale will be held in Tecumseh Friday and Saturday as part of the Michigan Week observance.

Copies of this week's HERALD are going to every city and rural home served by the Tecumseh Post Office.

Theme of the sale is "We're Lucky — We Live in Michigan." Just about every merchant in town has some real specials lined up for shoppers. All told, there are 49 merchants offering these specials.

And some merchants are listing more than one real buy.

See them on pages 12, 13 and 14 and shop every one.

Council Adopts New Budget

Councilmen Monday night adopted the city budget totalling $265,793.

At their last meeting they passed a 15-mill tax rate.

Submitted by City Manager Ed Nelson, the new budget lists anticipated expenditures of $265,793.25 for the new fiscal year beginning July 1. Anticipated income totals $268,484.

Insurance Co. Praises Firemen

W. R. Kliber, claims manager of the Hardware Mutuals Fire Insurance Company, has written the following letter to the Tecumseh Volunteer Fire Department:

"We wish to express our appreciation for a job well done by you and your men.

"A major disaster was undoubtedly averted by the quick action of your collective departments.

"The fine display of fire fighting techniques which all of you showed Saturday, April 24, should not pass without being commented on.

"Our insured, Mr. Lyle Des-Ermia, owner of the Des Ermia Furniture Company, certainly joins us in this expression of appreciation."

There's A Tecumseh, Kan.

There's a Tecumseh, Kansas, too.

A letter from officials of the town to local councilmen was read at the council meeting Monday night.

Tecumseh, Kan., invited local officials to its centennial celebration Saturday.

No city official here will be able to go but the city will send official greetings and Mayor H. H. Hanna sent a copy of the article in "Inside Michigan" which described Tecumseh, Mich.

City Clerk Mrs. Naomi Sallows also sent a copy of the local 125th anniversary and souvenirs of the occasion.

Pool Dedication May 22 Features UM Swimmers

Members of the Universtiy of Michigan swimming team will take part in the dedication of the Joyce Andrews Memorial Swimming Pool which is scheduled for Saturday, May 22, at 2 p. m.

Hal Kelso, chairman of arrangements, announced these plans at Monday night's council meeting.

Councilmen approved the buying of lockers, basket racks and baskets to ready the pool for public use.

The pool will be open for use May 29, 30 and 31; then it will be closed until school is out.

It will re-open June 5 and it will be open afternoons and evenings only until the completion of Bible school on June 28.

Carl Hale will manage the swimming pool. Lester Runk again will head the recreation program.

Swimming instruction will be given without charge every morning Monday through Friday beginning June 28. Instruction by a qualified Red Cross instructor will be given in all divisions.

The pool, of course, will be adequately staffed with life guards and health inspectors.

The dedication of the new high school gym probably will be held May 22 also. Further details will be announced.

Serving with Councilman Kelso on the committee in charge of the swimming pool dedication arrangements are members of a committee of the Tecumseh Rotary Club.

Dinner

A testimonial dinner for the fire department has been suggested by W. G. Waldron, Tecumseh Township supervisor.

He says he has a half dozen Rhode Island reds he would contribute for such a dinner.

And he wants to know what others might think. If you have any ideas on this, call or see the supervisor.

FIREMEN CALLED

Firemen were called Tuesday night about 10:30 when a gas heater in an apartment above Brandt's dime store overheated.

Dr. C. N. Brodersen, occupant of the apartment, told firemen he shut the fan off on the heater without turning back the thermostat.

He said he thought there might have been a fire in the attic.

There was a lot of heat but no fire.

Special Observance Will End Saturday

Know Your Michigan.

This is the slogan of Michigan Week which has been observed throughout the state during the past week.

Observance of the special week which is geared to acquaint citizens with the state and with each other and to make Michigan a better place in which to live, to work and to play continues with open house at the Tecumseh Products Co. today from 9 to 11 a. m.

Hayden's Mill also will be open today for public inspection. A special running of flour will be featured.

Friday local schools will hold open house.

Topics on Michigan will be featured in displays.

Local streets have been decorated with flags and buntings and stores have displayed prominently Michigan Week promotional materials and other displays.

Even the weather was special for Michigan Week.

Whoever heard of mowing a lawn in May with snowshoes on?

Of course most of us Michiganders have heard of this and several of us were doing just this Monday. Well, almost.

Wednesday Mayor Pro-tem Robert H. Moore became village president of Burlington and Clair Hill, president of that Calhoun County village, became mayor of Tecumseh for the day.

Michigan Week here will be climaxed by the charter night banquet and dance of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

City Manager Ed Nelson has been chairman of Michigan Week details here. He has been assisted by a committee of the Jaycees.

Other features on Michigan Week are on pages 2, 4, 14 and 16.

This is the first time a week was ever devoted to the Wolverine State and to what makes it great.

These facts point out this greatness:

Michigan, of course, is known throughout the world as the leader in the production of transportation vehicles, but actually it is a state of wide manufacturing diversity. You'll find 81 per cent of all types of industry in Michigan.

Our fourth largest industry may come as a surprise to some —it's the tourist industry. In two-thirds of our states it's the largest. Nature was good to Michigan. The state has 11,037 inland

53 Years

W. F. Smith renewed his subscription to the HERALD Monday.

This in itself is not unusual. But Mr. Smith began his 54th year of continuous reading of the HERALD.

Residing on a farm on Bowen Rd., Mr. Smith first started reading the HERALD in May, 1901.

14-Year-Old Boy Steals Gas, Car

A 14-year-old Palmyra Township boy was caught by Tecumseh police Saturday after he had a two-day ride in a stolen car.

The boy had been working on the farm of Harvey Warner of Tipton. He stole 15 gallons of gas and Warner's car because he "just wanted to go for a ride."

He told police he drove on side roads to avoid being caught.

Patrolmen Purkey and Vallie caught the boy leaving the Logan street parking lot.

He was turned over to the probate court.

Poll

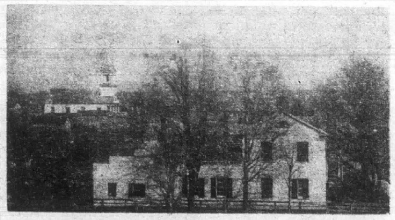
A poll taken by members of the Tecumseh Retail Association shows that most merchants favor keeping their stores open on Friday nights instead of Saturday nights.

The count was 27 to six favoring Friday nights.

Included in the Friday night group were both A & P and Kroger.

FIREMEN THANKED

The council Monday night voted to send letters of thanks to Clinton and Adrian city and rural Fire Departments for their assistance in fighting the fire at Des Ermia's April 24.



KNOW YOUR TECUMSEH — This picture shows Tecumseh's oldest house in its original setting.

Built by Lenawee's first settler, Musgrove Evans, in the spring of 1826, on the northeast corner of Ottawa and Chicago, it replaced the temporary log cabin that had been home for his family since their arrival in 1824.

It was both a home and an inn for many years, sheltering hundreds of westward-bound settlers.

Until 1886 it stood where it was built, owned in succession by Stillman Blanchard, builder of the Globe Mill, and then by the family of Peter R. Adams whose granddaughters, Mrs. F. S. Anderson and Miss Edythe Shull still live on part of its original grounds.

In 1886 it was moved to its present location at 409 East Logan street where it has been in constant use since.

The house is what is architecturally known as the "New England Salt Box" and much of the timber in its construction is solid walnut.

According to Michigan historical authorities, one house still stands in Detroit which was also built in 1826 and there is an older, although abandoned, one on Mackinac Island.

Except for these, Tecumseh's Musgrove Evans house, which has been in continuous use for 128 years, is the dean of Michigan architecture.

This Is Your Michigan

There are many things residents of Michigan may boast about, probably more than Texans have. Some of the main facts about the state were outlined in a resolution recently adopted by the Michigan legislature.

Michigan Week is being observed this week with participation by many business, social and governmental groups.

The resolution, which follows, states a few of the many Michigan facts which will sharpen the pride of Michigan people.

Michigan is the fifth greatest industrial state in the nation measured by employment and value added by manufacturing, although being only seventh in population, and has a great diversity of manufacturing, 364 out of a total of 451 industry groups recognized by the Bureau of the Census operating in the state, and ranks first in the nation in percentage of income derived from manufacturing, and is generally acknowledged to be the automobile center of the world; and

Michigan has in its Upper Peninsula one of the world's greatest iron ore producing regions and leads the nation in the production of calcium-magnesium chlorides, gypsum and salt, ranks high in the production of numerous other important minerals and has the world's largest supply of fresh water for industry; and

Michigan's farmers have made our state the most self-sufficient food producer in the nation, placing Michigan in the top 15 states in production of 46 of the country's 50 major crops, giving Michigan an amazing diversification of quality agricultural products and an annual farm income of three quarters of a billion dollars; and

Michigan produces the greatest amount of lumber of any major industrial state and consequently boasts such great wood-dependent industries as the paper and furniture industries; and

Michigan had the greatest percentage increase in buying power in 1953 of all 48 states, 13.4%; and

Michigan, bordered by four of the five Great Lakes, has the country's longest shoreline, contains more than 11,000 inland lakes and more than 36,000 miles of streams, enjoys forests of unspoiled beauty, an unparalled number of state parks and excellent resort facilities, offers visitors from other states and countries an ideal place for recreation and vacations; and

Michigan residents are blessed with unusual opportunities to enjoy a vigorous cultural, intellectual and religious life, with thousands of fine churches, schools, colleges and libraries located within the state; and

Michigan possesses a long and illustrious history which began only 14 years after the landing of the Pilgrims; a history during which in both war and peace Michigan's agricultural and industrial might and the industriousness and ingenuity of its people have stood in the ready service of our country; a history marked by a strong tradition of courage, freedom of spirit and firm endeavor displayed by Michigan people throughout the ages.

MICHIGAN — The following items, designed to help promote Michigan Week, May 2 to 8, were prepared by Dr. F. Clever Bald, assistant director of the Michigan Historical Collections at the University of Michigan.

After 1820 and until 1860 states were always admitted to the Union in pairs — one from the North, and the other from the South. Arkansas is Michigan's twin state.

* * * * *

From 1890 to 1900, Michigan was the leading state in the production of iron ore. Mining was carried on in the Marquette, the Menominee, and the Gogebic ranges.

* * * * *

When Michigan first came under the jurisdiction of the United States in 1796, it was in the Territory Northwest of the River Ohio, usually called the Old Northwest. States made from the Old Northwest are Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin.

At Sault Ste. Marie on June 14, 1671, Simon Francois Daumont, Sieur de Saint Lusson, took possession of all the interior of North America for Louis XIV of France. Indians from fourteen tribes attended the ceremony which is called the Pageant of the Sault.

Christian Science Services Listed

Man's real spiritual status as the perfect image and likeness of God, not subject to sin or other weakness, will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Adam and Fallen Man" includes the following passages from the Bible: "And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness . . . So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him: male and female created he them" (Genesis 1:26 to 27).

The following selection will be among those read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"Spiritually to understand that there is but one creator, God, unfolds all creation, confirms the Scriptures, brings the sweet assurance of no parting, no pain, and of man deathless and perfect and eternal" (69:13).

Realty Views

The search was on. Mr. Andrews, from Detroit, wanted a residence. From talking with one of our satisfied customers he looked us up. His requirements were exacting—hard to match. After a couple days he left for home.

Our search continued. Within a short time we located a residence that seemed to fill the bill.

Right away we sent sketches, photographs, and complete information to Mr. Andrews. And, of course, an Agreement To Purchase.

Because of the investigation Mr. Andrews made into our reputation and standing, he bought the property sight unseen! An earnest money check and the signed Agreement arrived by return mail.

Today, the search has ended. Mr. Andrews is a member of our community, and a SATISFIED CUSTOMER of our firm.

The moral in this little story is simply: The most important thing in buying real estate is CONFIDENCE in the firm you are dealing with!

120 Enroll For Kindergarten

Kindergarten enrollment was held at Central School last week. At that time 120 children were enrolled for next year's kindergarten. This is a decrease of 15 from last year.

If there are children who are eligible for kindergarten (five years old on or before Dec. 1) who were not registered, the parents are urged to register them as soon as possible. This will greatly aid in planning groups for next year.

INDIANS WIN AND TIE

Tecumseh Indians won and tied baseball games during the past week.

Last Thursday they beat Airport Community, 8-4.

Monday they tied Hillsdale 3-3 in 10 innings. This game was called at the end of the 10th because of darkness.

SPECIAL SERVICE

Mother's Day Sunday services at the Methodist church will include baptism of infants and reception of new members into the church. The Rev. Ronald Brunger will take as his sermon topic, "Needed — Christian Homes." There will be no senior Fellowship this week but the Intermediate group will gather at 6 p. m.

PLAN BAND CONCERT

Tecumseh High school senior band will present its annual spring concert Wednesday evening, May 19 at 8 p. m. in the new gymnasium. The concert will be under the direction of Robert Peck.

It has been decided to charge a small admission fee for this concert to provide funds for new instruments for the band and for new equipment as well as for additional uniforms for the organization's increasing membership.

State Noted For Its Cultural, Spiritual Life

Detractors of the United States have often used the argument that where material progress has been rapid, spiritual and cultural progress has lagged.

The same argument has occasionally been used against Michigan, whose material progress can be rivaled by few other regions in the world. But has it lagged in religion, art, music, literature, and the other manifestatons of man's spiritual needs?

The answer is that the state can stand up with the best of other states in those matters. Michigan's first white settlement was founded by a man of the church—Father Marquette—and missionaries, both Protestant and Catholic, were among the first to explore the wilderness that was then Michigan.

Today Michigan can take pride in its churches and the devotion with which men of good will work in their behalf. An estimated 54% of Michigan residents belong to a church, and church membership and attendance has grown impressively in Michigan during the past 10 years.

Of the many famous landmarks in Michigan, one of the most famous is a church — St. Peters' Episcopal Church of Tecumseh. It is the oldest Episcopal church west of the Allegheny Mountains, its cornerstone having been laid in 1833. Andrew Jackson, Henry Clay and Daniel Webster were among those who contributed to its building costs.

Just as Michigan's religious life had a notable early champion in Father Marquette, so did the state's literature in Paul Bunyan, that fabulous northwoods giant who inhabited the imagination and campfire tales of the early Michigan woodsmen.

Many famous writers have used Michigan backgrounds and people in their works. Longfellow's "Hiawatha" was laid in the Upper Peninsula, and James Fenimore Cooper described Indian life in southern Michigan in his book "Oak Openings." De Tocqueville, the celebrated French observer of American life, visited Michigan in 1831 and devoted part of his "Quinze Jours au Desert" to a description of the scenery.

In contemporary literature, several famous references are to be found in Ernest Hemingway's collection of sketches and short stories "In Our Time." The locale for his great stories "Up in Michigan" and "Big Two-Hearted River" are northern Michigan. The distinguished writer's biography notes that he spent some time as a boy with his doctor father near Traverse City, and the stories apparently are autobiographical.

Other writers who either made prolonged visits or took up residence in Michigan are Carl Sandburg, Lloyd C. Douglas, Edgar Guest and William Lyon Phelps. Among those who were born in Michigan are Rex Beach, James Oliver Curwood, Edna Ferber, Clarence Buddington Kelland, and Ring Lardner.

In the field of art, we have such men as Carl Millis, the sculptor, and Alex Dow, the architect. An increasing interest in art is demonstrated by the fact that today Michigan communities have 38 amateur art groups, five art schools, and eight art museums. Twenty-five years ago Michigan had only four art museums.

Included in those eight museums are Detroit's Institute of Arts, containing one of America's richest collections of sculpture, and Saugatuck, the largest outdoor art center west of New York.

Today Michigan has 22 civic orchestras, an increase of 50% over the number 15 years ago. Michigan is one of the few states to hold a mass orchestral festival each year, an event sponsored by the Michigan Civic Orchestra Association.

The National Music Camp at Interlochen attracts the best juvenile musical talent from all over the country each summer. Of recent years adult musicians from Michigan have also been gathering at the camp for music and fun.

No, Michigan has no reason to be apologetic about the state of its religious and cultural life. Through the years the state's spiritual life has managed to keep up with its extraordinary rapid material advances.

Dates Changed For Auxiliary One-Act Plays

Because of circumstances beyond the control of the committee, dates of the one-act plays to be presented by the Auxiliary of Herrick Memorial hospital have had to be changed.

Wednesday and Thursday evenings, May 19 and 20, are the new dates and all tickets will be honored then.

The place will be the auditorium of the Central school building and curtain time is 8:15 p. m.

The drama committee is headed by Mrs. Dale Bowen, who is assisted by Mrs. William Macbeth, Mrs. Joe Horvath and Mrs. Neville Hart.

Three one-act plays will be given, one of which, a comedy, will be presented by the Clinton Players under the direction of Mrs. Henry Vaughn, assisted by Mrs. Edward Wight. It is entitled "If Men Played Cards As Women Do" and the cast—all men—is Hugh Hoyt, George Lancaster, Dr. Edward Wight and Jack Harrison.

Of the two plays to be given by Tecumseh talent, one is also a comedy, entitled "Why I am a Bachelor" and will be presented by Dr. Robert Murray, Robert Hanna, Mrs. Robert Bowers, Mrs. Sam Sisson, Mrs. James Barton and Miss Dulcie Bowen.

It is directed by Miss Jacqueline Eagan.

The second "The Hitch Hiker," is described as a thriller and those taking part in its presentation are Bill Benham, Mrs. Dale Bowen, Virgil Tucker, Herbert Dillon, Mrs. R. S. Moore, Mrs. John Graham, Janice Boltz, Grace Moore, Patsy Purcell and Sylvia Golat.

Mrs. Vaughn Whited and Mrs. William Macbeth direct this one.

Tickets for this event are in charge of a committee made up of Mrs. Al Merz, Mrs. Joseph Rohweder, Mrs. Charles Bunt, Mrs. Don Smith and Mrs. Ronald Harris and are also on sale at Wright's Drug store, Marv's Market, French's Market and Don's Grill.

Committees who are helping actors to make this a successful affair are: make up, Mrs. Victor Lawson, Mrs. Frank Purcell, Mrs. R. S. Moore, Mrs. Edward Boss and Mrs. Karl Schneider; sound, Hugh Andrews, Ogden Ley, and Ted Pihl; stage, Mrs. Donald Cobb, Donald LaBounty and Dale Bowen; programs, the Future Nurses Club; properties, Mrs. Philip Colgrove, Mrs. Charles Stevenson, Mrs. Donald LaBounty and Mrs. Ted Pihl; publicity, Mrs. Paul Eddy, Mrs. Robert Fuller, Miss Marjorie Wickwire and Mrs. Joe Horvath.

Education Is Valuable Resource

Michigan's most valuable natural resource is found neither in the mines nor in the forests.

With few exceptions, most people agree that our greatest resource is found in the little red school houses and in the ivy-covered towers of our universities. This resource is education, probably the most vital resource of the preservation of democracy.

Just as it has pioneered in automobile production, Michigan has pioneered in education. Its educational system has been used as a model in nearly all of the western states. Also far advanced in Michigan is apprenticeship training, students are now being trained for all major industries.

That Michigan's young people have a vital interest in learning is shown by the fact that Michigan stands third in the number of students enrolled in institutions of higher learning.

The largest of Michigan's many institutions of higher learning is, of course, the University of Michigan. U. of M. was founded at Detroit in 1817 and moved to Ann Arbor in 1837. Generally it is regarded as the "Mother of State Universities," because of its leadership in the development of state-supported higher education.

Unfortunately there is not space enough to list all of the University of Michigan's many "firsts." A few:

U. of M. ranks first among state universities in the number of alumni listed in "Who's Who." It was the first to be governed by a board of regents selected by the people, and was the first major university to admit women. The University of Michigan was the first university west of the Alleghenies to pioneer in professional education.

Its College of Pharmacy is the oldest college of pharmacy established in a state university. Michigan was the first visiting football team to play in the Rose Bowl, and the first western conference team to play in it the second time.

And the first of firsts, as far as many sports fans are concerned, is the fact that Michigan holds more Western conference sports titles than any other university.

Competition is generally considered a healthy sign in economy, and the same may hold true with education. U. of M.'s competition is Michigan State College, which with 14,000 students, ranks as the ninth largest institution of higher learning in the United States.

Like its older neighbor, Michigan State also has a list of notable "firsts." M.S.C.'s outstanding first probably is the fact that it was the first agricultural college in America. Some others:

Michigan State was the first land grant college to admit women. The first hybridization of corn began at Michigan State. The first horticultural laboratory in America was set up in Michigan State in 1888.

M. S. C. started the first short course in dairying and was among the first in the nation to employ radio for communication with its off-campus students. Its first broadcast took place in 1924.

In 1952 its football team was voted the No. 1 collegiate eleven in the country and in 1953—the Rose Bowl championship.

If two great state universities weren't enough to be proud of, Michigan also has Wayne University, one of the nation's largest urban universities; the University of Detroit, a great American Catholic university; and a large number of smaller, more specialized schools, many of which have gained fame in their own individual fields of learning.

One of America's leading technical schools, for example, is the Michigan College of Mining and Technology in Houghton, which was founded in 1885.

Michigan State Normal College at Ypsilanti, established in 1849, was the first teacher training institution west of the Alleghenies.

Hancock is the home of a unique educational institution, Suomi College, the only Finnish-American institution of higher learning.

This week we are celebrating Michigan Week, a period created as a means of reminding ourselves of Michigan's many resources, opportunities, and blessings. Michigan's public and parochocial schools, its vocational schools, and its excellent colleges and universities are, without a doubt, among Michigan's foremost blessings.

From them come the resources — the human resources — which, in the past, have built Michigan into the rich and mighty state it is today.

The Conflict Continues

By NEVILLE HART
Tecumseh High School Principal

The current barrage of attacks upon the public schools of our country should not be ignored.

While our schools have periodically been under attack in the past, they have survived these waves of criticism and have still managed to progress toward desirable goals.

However, we must face the alarming fact that the present criticisms have reached an epidemic stage and are not confined to a few "little read" professional educational magazines. An increasing number of popular books and articles in widely-read magazines have appeared recently. An examination of these writings will reveal that many of them are attempts to convince the public that the schools have fallen into evil or incompetent hands. The danger in such an epidemic lies not in the truths they tell but in the knowledge that if you tell people anything often enough they may start to believe it. Therefore, despite the "half-truths" and unfounded claims, these attacks cannot be ignored or taken lightly.

All who criticize the schools do not do so for the purpose of weakening them. There are many persons who sincerely hope to improve the schools by pointing out weaknesses, real or imagined. But there are others who are not engaged in honest criticism; they are trying to make the public schools ineffective.

The difference between constructive criticism and destructive attack can often be distinguished only by the guiding motive for each, although those who attack the schools are likely to proclaim loudly their desire to "help" the schools.

Virulent attacks upon the public schools arise primarily from persons who have ulterior motives for destroying the schools. An editorial appearing in the Asbury Park (New Jersey) Press for Sunday, December 13, 1953, was headed, "Those Who Attack Public Schools Are Usually Assailing American Democracy". Significantly, this editorial says in part,

"To be sure, the schools are often overcrowded and teaching staffs are frequently inadequate. These are situations that arise not through any shortcoming on the part of educators, but because the public has been lax in its responsibility to support an adequate educational system. Yet even under this handicap it is hard to find an open-minded parent who is not convinced that his child is receiving an excellent education in the public schools, nor have we yet found a thoughtful student of government or of sociology who does not feel that the public schools are doing a superb job in weaving the fabric of democracy."

The persons who would destroy the schools dare not reveal their true purpose. The opponents of free public education are so few in number that they resort to subversive methods. They organize or join groups in which there are likely to be honest critics who are sincerely working for the betterment of the schools, when they are entrenched in these groups, they arouse emotionalism and suppress reason. They hope in the midst of bitter discord and confusion, to divide the friends of the schools. Thus, the enemies of free public education strive to gain their ends.

Fortunately, the opportunities for free public education are so firmly fused into the concept of the American way of life that, while minor skirmishes may take place, the schools continue to receive the support of the people. Even those citizens who prefer to send their children to private or religious schools, when they give thought to American Democracy, recognize that the way of life which supports free public education is essential if the kind of education they prefer for their children is to continue to exist. When freedom to learn is restricted, freedom to act soon becomes limited.

With our rapidly increasing knowledge of how pupils grow and learn, great changes have taken place in our schools since the adults of the community last sat in classrooms. Adults today are often puzzled about how the schools operate. If the people who are responsible for the preservation and improvement of free public education are to act intelligently about the schools, they must be informed about the improvements which have been made.

Channels for the free flow of information between the homes and the school are essential for a tension-free approach to the development and maintenance of good schools.

In summary, a strong system of free, public education is basic to the American way of life. The people will support the schools when they know the facts.

It is our purpose to disseminate information about the school through as many channels as possible. The information has been and will continue to be honest, using as much objective and factual material as possible.

Mrs. Williamson Writes Of Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Finch, who are occupying the home of Mrs. Charles Williamson during her absence, recently received a letter from her, written aboard the freighter, S. S. Mormacgulf off the east coast of South America.

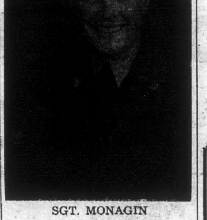
The ship was then five weeks out of Los Angeles and Mrs. Williamson writes of the trip through the Panama Canal, of stops at Cartagena and Trinidad and of the eight day voyage from Trinidad to Rio de Janeiro.

She was pleasantly surprised to find Cartagena a large, modern city with beautiful homes and public buildings and was especially interested in its 400 year old historic remains. These include the old city wall, 40 feet high and 60 feet thick along the top of which she drove in an automobile.

Of the tropical island of Trinidad she says its capital, Port of Spain, has a very mixed population and she saw "dark-skinned barbers shaving their customers while they sat on boxes on the sidewalks, and Negroes taking naps stretched out flat on the sidewalk right in the business section."

In Santos, from whose port she was writing, machinery was being unloaded in exchange for green coffee, which even there, was 93 cents a pound.

The Mormacgulf is a ship of more than 17,000 tons and calls at all the important ports. Mrs. Williamson was looking forward to the five day trip through the Straits of Magellan which would be a highlight of the voyage.



SGT. MONAGIN

Sgt. Doug Monagin, son of Mrs. Katherine Monagin of Britton, has written a poem about Korea where he is now stationed.

A 1950 graduate of Tecumseh High School, Doug, 22, has been in service since Oct., 1952. March 11, 1953, he went to Korea. Before joining the service, he worked for Bug's Service and for Jack Osburn as a mechanic.

This is his poem:

KOREA

Lost in the middle of nowhere,
Korea is the spot.
We're doomed to serve our time out,
In the land that God forgot.

Down in the rice paddies and mountains,
Down where a man gets blue,
In the middle of nowhere,
A million miles from you.

You sweat, you shiver, you freeze,
It's more than a man can stand,
We're not a bunch of convicts,
Just defenders of our land.

We are men in the Army,
Earning our measly pay,
Guarding the people with millions,
For two and a half a day.

Living here with our memories,
Waiting to see our Gals,
Hoping that while we are far away,
They haven't married our Pals.

Few people know we are living,
None of them give a damn,
Although we are forgotten,
We belong to Uncle Sam.

But when we get to heaven,
St. Peter will surely yell,
"Let those boys through, they Have spent their time in "H E L L"!

MRS. W. L. BERKHOF TO SPEAK AT BANQUET

It was announced at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Presbyterian League that Mrs. W. L. Berkof of Mt. Clemens would be the guest speaker at the Mother-Daughter banquet to be held in Fellowship Center Friday, May 7 at 6:30 p. m.

Tickets for the banquet may be purchased from any League member or at Brandts Store. The church nursery will be available that evening for any small children.

Mrs. Robert Reis presided at the business meeting when nickles were collected for the Mission church at Twin Valley Falls, Mont. The program, entitled "The World Council of Churches" was in charge of Mrs. Harold Wilson and Mrs. Ernest Brandt conducted the devotional period.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and her assisting committee, Mrs. Albert Jahn, Mrs. E. J. Aebersold and Mrs. B. Mellott.

lakes, 36,350 miles of streams, 3,121 miles of Great Lake shoreline, and in general four times as much water-covered area as any other state.

Consequently hundreds of thousands of out-of-state visitors travel to Michigan each year to try their luck with the rod and reel. The state usually stands first in the union in the sale of fishing and hunting licenses.

To make the tourist's stay in Michigan as comfortable as possible, the state has built more state parks and prepared campsites than any other state.

The innovator of the roadside picnic table, Michigan now has more than 3,000 scattered about the state.

In Porcupine Mountain State Park in the Upper Peninsula, it also has the largest state park in the United States.

In the field of trade, Michigan holds a host of first places. It is, for one, America's largest inland world-trade center. Its Detroit River is the busiest waterway in the world and carries more tonnage yearly than the Rhine, Thames, Seine and Volga combined.

Detroit is the No. 1 port for trade with Canada, the U. S.'s best customer, and the Soo Locks at Sault Ste. Marie, handle more tonnage annually than the Panama and Suez Canals combined.

That's Michigan as it stands today. Or, to repeat the theme of the 1954 Michigan Week, "This is YOUR Michigan."

The Walk-in-the-Water was the first steamboat on the Upper Lakes. Under the command of Captain Job Fish it docked at Detroit on August 27, 1818.

Michigan, My Michigan

Home of my heart, I sing of thee,
Michigan, my Michigan.
Thy lake-bound shores I long to see,
Michigan, my Michigan.
From Saginaw's tall whispering pines,
To Lake Superior's farthest mines,
Fair in the light of memory shines,
Michigan, my Michigan.
When worn with watching traitor foes,
Michigan, my Michigan.
The welcome night brought sweet repose,
Michigan, my Michigan.
The soldier, weary from the fight,
Sleeps sound, nor fears the rebels might,
For "Michigan's on guard tonight!"
Michigan, my Michigan.

Is That So!

KNOW YOUR TECUMSEH OTTAWA MACHINE

Like nearly all the activities of a small community there is a close inter-relationship between Tecumseh's industries. Thus the thriving Ottawa Machine Company, which now owes much of its prosperity to its ability to produce parts needed by Tecumseh Products was in the beginning linked directly with Time Laboratory.

Joseph Rohweder, who is the present of Ottawa company, had a much earlier connection with Tecumseh than is commonly remembered. He came here in 1929, as local mansger of Consumers Power Company and held that position until 1936. Then after being transferred by Consumers to other cities for five years, he was induced to return here by George Adamson, who needed a manager to produce the watch shield he was manufacturing for the air force.

Until 1944, they were very busy in the shop they had established in the Ford building. When the saturation point was reached in that line, Rohweder and the late Si Kring combined forces, formed a corporation and went out after business on their own. They found it in gradually increasing amounts from Clinton Machine Co., Ford Motor Co., Gerity Corp, Kewaunee, American Chain and Cable, but most of all from Tecumseh Products. This was especially true after they made the successful bid on a new valve plate which is still their most important line.

In 1946, Kring sold out to Rohweder and E. L. Wight took over the shop management. In the "T.P. Broadcast" of July 13, 1953, Mr. Rohweder says of those early days —

"We next made the acquaintance of Bill Sage's used machinery department. Thinks to Bill's help we began to put a shop together and to build up customers. Soon we had to acquire more space so we rented the old Clancy building at the rear of Frank Verriers. After about a year and a half of renting we finally bought that building and then built two additions to completely fill the lot.

"In this period we gradually increased our employees from the original six to about 25 . . . and as we filled our building up to capacity with machinery, we started looking around for more space. In October of 1951, we moved to the present location in the building formerly occupied by Schneider's garage on the corner of South Ottawa and Cummins streets. Since we are located just a block from the Products plant we have become more like another department than a separate business."

"Our present shop has many advantages, such as good natural light, plenty of ventilation and it can be kept clean. We do all the rough machining on 12 different types of valve plates used at the Products and our work is all done by girls."

The number of employees varies, according to Mr. Rohweder, the present number being about 60. Some work is still done for Gerity and Kewaunee companies in Adrian but the Products Co. is the main employer of Ottawa machines. That name, by the way, was selected for no special reason, except that no one else was using it and it seemed to belong with Tecumseh.

Joseph Rohweder, the man behind this successful enterprise, spent his boyhood in Toledo and graduated, with a B. S. degree in mechanical engineering from Case College of Applied Science in Cleveland. For most of the past 25 years he has been part of a new and growing Tecumseh.

MUSICAL TEA IS SATURDAY

This is Music as well as Michigan Week and the occasion is being marked in Tecumseh by a musical tea under the auspices of the Music Club. Beginning at 2 p.m. Saturday afternoon at the Methodist church parlors, the members will welcome those interested in music.

Musicians who will appear will include Miss Elinor Ruesink, cellist of Adrian whose accompanist will be Miss Nancy Hornsby and the "Harmonettes" a quartette of Clinton ladies. There will also be numbers by local musicians, among them a two piano duet.

P.E.O. CHAPTER

Folk music of America was the topic discussed at the April meeting of Chapter AJ P.E.O. held at the home of Mrs. George Adamson.

Mrs. John Keeney was program leader and told of the history and development of the music of the people in America. A general discussion followed which included the personal preferences of members and their pleasant experiences in family and group singing.

The usual dessert luncheon preceded the program and it was followed by a social hour. The May meeting of the chapter will be May 11 at the home of Mrs. Charles Allen.

Troop 11 of the Tecumseh Girl Scouts were the last group to sell the special scout cookies at the United Savings Bank, Saturday. 175 boxes were sold last week which made a total of 3,194 for the season.

Ten troops have taken part in the project and the girls and their leaders feel the effort has been very successful. They are most appreciative of the support given them by the patrons of the bank and hope that everyone who wished cookies has been reached.

Grade School News

Grade 4
Mrs. Colson

We had hoped to tell you about our trip to the Hayden Mill in this week's news, but we are not going until next week so will tell you about that next time.

Some of us have had some interesting things to report to the class this past week. Kent Naugle told us about smelt fishing and we all thought it sounded like a lot of fun.

Mary Jean Cleveland spent a week in Washington, D. C. She gave us a very interesting and complete report on the places she visited. She also brought us some booklets and pictures that she collected.

We have some of our hobbies in the display case this week. These include a stamp collection; some embroidery; dolls we have dressed; oil and water color paintings; planes; a collection of plates; and some metal tapping.

Grade 3
Miss Baker

Hello folks!

We have settled down after Easter vacation to finish our last six weeks in third grade. The Peter Rabbit was very good to all of us. Some of us made paper mache bunnies and the others made cotton bunnies with paper plates. We dressed up hollow eggs and displayed them in the case in the hall. We thought they were very cute.

Penny Head surprised us with a party on her birthday. We had ice cream and cake and she gave each of us balloons.

Our beans did not grow. Linda and Jane forgot to water them. Nancy Nixon planted some in a jar and brought them to school. They are real tall and still growing. We are anxious to see if she gets any beans.

Ann Metcalf brought us a "Jack and the Beanstalk." It is a real bean plant with Jack on top. All of the characters in the story are set around it below.

Roy Caldwell came back to our class from Alabama. He was with us but left and went to school in Alabama for the last six weeks. Welcome back Roy!

We had a number of visitors, Connie Schneider and Michael Osburn brought their baby chicks to visit. Linda Selders brought her baby ducks. Mary Ann Mead brought a salamander. Jane Van-Valkenburg and Patty Lawson brought their turtles and we had a polywog from Mrs. Updike's room.

Our first and second reading groups have finished their basic readers and are in supplementary readers.

We went over to Central for a spelldown with Mrs. Illeck. Mary Ann Mead won. We were very happy.

We will see you once more before summer vacation.

Grade 5
Mrs. Uckele

We are happy to have Judy Ward back in our room after her long absence with whooping cough.

Susan Day won the Poppy Poster Contest. Her poster will be entered in the county contest.

Joseph Bartenslager is a new student in our room. He came from Macon.

We have received our historical pictures for which we sent one hundred fifty Double Bubble gum wrappers. There are forty-eight pictures of Joseph Boggs Beal's paintings.

Since the high school gym is finished our physical education classes are using the gym in our building. We are enjoying it very much especially taking showers which are lots of fun.

Grade 4
Mrs. Whiting

We have had a very busy and enjoyable month. We were entertained one morning by the Davie's Musical Group and another morning with a puppet show.

Just before Easter the boys and girls, under the direction of Jean Osworth, put on an Easter play for us. Mrs. Osworth kindly typed out all the parts which were played by Mary Stutesman, Diane Roe, Winfield Walker, Donald Schmidt, Betty Henson, Jean Packard, Dolores Solarski, Sandra Miller, Eugene Verrier, Sharon Myers and Michael Rohrer.

We were also entertained with a play, "The Queen and the Jam-Jam." played by Diane Roe, Mary Stutesman, Sandra Miller and Dolores Solarski. We had several musical numbers sung by Michael Rohrer and Allen Hizer. Robert Bonner showed us how to make finger puppets, and several of the boys made up skits. The rest of the boys and girls sang several songs. This impromtu talent show lasted for over an hour.

Last week the boys put on a play, "The Simpleton" directed by Michael Rohrer, whose mother typed all the parts. Those taking part in this play were Michael Rohrer, Clyde Locker, Winfield Walker, David Crosby, Robert Bonner, Gary Keehl, Noel Kohl, Donald Schmidt, Robert Jedele, Allen Hizer, with Eugene Verrier as the narrator.

Mrs. Starkey and the twins visited us. Mrs. VanWinkle's second grade paraded through our room so we could see the Easter bonnets they had made. We thought they were lovely enough to wear on Easter Sunday.

Joyce Durham, David Crosby, Jean Packard and Donald Schmidt had birthdays this month.

We have had our Achievement Tests. Robert Bonner, Donald Roe, David Crosby and John Britton are making a mural from our reading book "Singing Wheels."

In Are we are working on a circus called the B.B.&W. Circus because it is being made by the Baily, Buttolph and Whiting grades.

In Arithmetic we are learning to multiply by two numbers and find it lots of fun.

Grade 5
Mrs. Runk

For the first time this year we are short of news for our parents and friends. We are finishing up our lessons and trying to make each paper we write show that we are ready for sixth grade.

In social studies we learned about Hawaii and Ann brought a grass skirt to show us.

Springtime brings many science specimens into our room. Cynthia Poley brought a crayfish and Gale Kimerer brought a turtle.

In Language class we are telling original stories, and are learning how to speak without notes, to build up suspense, and to hold the interest of an audience.

Sandra Staulter sent for oil specimens, and a nice display was sent by the Standard Oil Company for the use of our school. It contains samples of 19 petroleum products from petroleum jelly to asphalt.

We will elect new officers next week for our last month of school.

Grade 4
Central School
Mrs. Baily

We are getting near the end of some of our subjects. In others we are going to have to work hard these last five weeks of school.

Diana Glisson, Brenda Hannah, and Sharon Buku had birthdays in April. Sharon was not with us for her birthday because she had to have her tonsils removed. We hope she will be back with us soon.

We have eight new books in our room library. Mrs. Baily is reading one of them to us. The title is Laurie and it is about a little girl who wanted a horse of her own.

We have been making poster maps of United States. We have a good time cutting out things and pasting them on the maps.

Gary Hicks is moving to Hudson. We do not like to have him leave us, but hope he will like it on the farm where he is going to live.

200 Honor George Sanford's 90th Birthday

Gray skies and rain did not keep nearly 200 of the friends and neighbors of George Sanford from gathering at the Tecumseh Grange hall Sunday afternoon to wish him well on the occasion of his ninetieth birthday anniversary.

Hosts of the day were members of the Grange and the ladies of the Harmony Homemakers Club who had planned the event and who entertained the guests.

Mrs. Charles Patterson cut the decorated birthday cake, while Mrs. Roscoe Hewlett, Mrs. Ralph Atchison, Mrs. Clarence Hunt and Mrs. Raymond Mills presided over the tea and coffee services.

They were assisted in serving by Mrs. E. J. Aebersold, Mrs. Charles Allen, Miss Mary McWilliams, Mrs. Percy Cadmus, Mrs. Burt Bruder, Mrs. Lawrence Van Geisen, Mrs. Victor Voorhees, Mrs. William Grigg and Mrs. John Snow.

The guest book was in charge of William Grigg.

Mr. Sanford's sister, Mrs. William Wilson and son George of Gaylord were present, as were Mr. and Mrs. Claude Mead, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Denton and Irma Akerson, all of Milan.

Others from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Baker, Clayton; Mr. and Mrs. Leon Temple, Toledo; Mr. and Mrs. C. Sanford, Jackson; Elizabeth Sanford, Albion; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hendershot and Harvey Hindes, Brooklyn; Miss Marjorie Boyce and Larry Lee Lambin, St. Clair Shores and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Brazee, Manchester.

You Still Can Give To Cancer Fund

Although April is the official month of the drive for funds for the Cancer organization, there will be no solicitation in Tecumseh, the local chairman announces, because Tecumseh's quota was part of the budget of the Community Fund.

The amount contributed was $500 and this sum has been augmented by additional gifts during the year.

Local cancer patients are being cared for through the county fund and should anyone wish to make a personal contribution it should be sent directly to Mrs. Friedrich at 30 Westwood Drive, Adrian.

JOHN C. CAMERON HONORED BY REXALL

John C. Cameron, proprietor of Cameron Drug Co., has been honored by Rexall Drug Co. for his outstanding record during the Company's 50th Anniversary year of 1953.

Mr. Cameron has been awarded a specially inscribed gold watch as a personal memento of the occasion. In addition, he has been enrolled in the Rexall Golden Anniversary Club, whose members will have their names inscribed on a bronze plaque at the Company's world headquarters in Los Angeles.

Commenting on the honor, Mr. Cameron attributed it to the increased patronage he had received from local shoppers during 1953 special value sales.

God Has Been Good To State

God has been generous to Michigan.

A study of the state's natural resources shows that Michigan has ample reason to be thankful for its forests, its minerals, and its metals, and all other resources which have helped make Michigan one of the richest states in the union.

Michigan began its climb to wealth through lumbering, and the lumber industry still contributes heavily to our welfare. Although since the turn of the century it has ceased to rank first in the nation in lumber production, it still is lumber leader among the Great Lake states.

Michigan also has the largest number of active saw mills and saws the greatest amount of lumber of any major industrial state.

A result of Michigan's eminence in lumbering is Michigan's paper and paperboard industry (which ranks second in the nation) and Grand Rapids' historic position as the nation's furniture capital.

Michigan's forests are being preserved as well for better than in any other state. Its 937,687 reforested acres lead all other states. At Higgins Lake is located the second largest tree nursery in the nation.

Under protection from fire in Michigan are 21½ million acres of woodland—second in acreage only to Minnesota. Michigan also has one of the best low-loss records of any state, and in 1951 a new low record was set when 670 fires burned only 4,491 acres.

In mineral wealth Michigan occupies a fortunate position, as well. Standing in the nation's top fourth of states — as it does in manufacturing and agriculture—Michigan possesses huge stores of iron ore, copper, salt brines, gypsum, limestone and even some supplies of oil and gas.

Michigan is the nation's leading producer of salt, gypsum and magnesium compounds, and ranks second in the production of bromine, sand and gravel, and iron ore.

In the latter metal, Michigan is particularly fortunate. A part of the greatest iron-ore producing region in the world, the Lake Superior District, is located in Michigan's Upper Peninsula. Approximately 13 percent of the national total of iron ore is mined there, and it is estimated that high-grade ores in the region will last for at least 40 more years.

Michigan can also be proud of its copper production, which ranks sixth in the nation. Mines are found in two Upper Peninsula counties and moderate amounts are recovered by reclamation plants reworking crushed rock wastes or tailings of earlier mill operations.

Thanks to the presence of large quantities of brine in Michigan, the state can manufacture a vast number of industrial, commercial and agricultural products. Among those products are pharmaceuticals, insecticides, fungicides, bleaches and cleansing agents, plastic bases, and scores of similar items.

In all, more than a hundred chemical products and medicines are produced in Michigan.

The easy availability of sand and gravel are responsible largely for Michigan's fine highways. Michigan also supplies most of the limestone shipped on the Great Lakes, and stands third in its production. Most of this limestone goes into flux for making steel, for the manufacture of alkali products such as soda ash and baking soda, and for use in road-making. High-calcium limestone, marl, clay and shale have placed Michigan fifth among the states in cement production.

Gypsum, of which Michigan produces the most in the country, is used in various building materials and as a Portland cement retarder.

Michigan's second most important mineral resource is petroleum which is produced in 36 of the state's 83 counties.

All told, Michigan has a great deal for which to be thankful.

PRESBYTERIAN WOMEN ENTERTAIN PRESBYTERIAL

The Women's Association of the Presbyterian church was the hostess group to 250 members of the Lansing Presbyterial last Thursday. Coffee and doughnuts were served before the president, Mrs. George Kieppe of Holt called the ladies to order at 9:30 and they were welcomed by Mrs. Ray Sluyter, president of the association.

Mrs. John Thompson conducted a ten minute period of devotions with background music supplied by Mrs. F. C. Dickinson at the organ. "The Lord is My Shepherd" was sung by Mrs. Al Merz, also accompanied by Mrs. Dickinson.

Main speaker of the day was Mrs. Elleroy Smith, a missionary returned after 34 years in China. Her station had been at Ning Po where she had been head of a girl's school, and her story of the years of religious progress and then the blight of Communism was most graphic.

During an impressive ceremony in which honors were given to members of many visiting organizations, life memberships in "On Doing Church Work" were awarded to Mrs. Lynn Harris and Mrs. Fred Rector, a contribution to missionary work being made in their name by the Women's Association.

Mrs. John Saling was elected as educational secretary of the Lansing Presbyterial for the coming year.

Retarded Children Interest Shows A Rapid Gain

The Lenawee County Association for Retarded Children, whose president is Charlie Allen of Jasper, has made rapid growth during its first year. It now has 24 parent and many contributing members.

A part of the Michigan Association, the Lenawee group is affiliated with the national organization which has a membership of 25,000.

The aim of the organization is the establishment in every community, where there are mentally retarded children, groups of parents through which they may receive advice and aid in the adjustment of their problems.

It also hopes to interest and acquaint the general public with the situation and encourage legislation to provide adequate care and training as a community responsibility.

The local group, through bake sales, rummage sales and other fund raising projects is endeavoring to obtain money for the establishment of a school for the retarded children of the county.

One of the presently urgent projects is the collection of Heinz labels. Mr. Allen requests that these be mailed before May 15 to any one of the following — Charlie Allen, Jasper, Mich.; Clement Gira, R.R. 1 Adrian; Mrs. Donald Neuman, 210 Jefferson, Blissfield or Mrs. H. W. King, 7050 Green Road, Tecumseh.

Mr. Allen wishes to make it clear that this organization is distinct from the School for Cerebral Palsy which has been established at Palmyra.

They are parallel groups, working, one for the physically handicapped, the other for the mentally retarded children of the community. They are in no way competing movements and Mr. Allen urges support of both groups.

The association holds monthly meetings the first Tuesday of each month at Rock Inn, on U.S. 223 near Adrian and the public is invited.

Food Basket Of The Middle West

While most out-of-staters generally regard Michigan as an industrial state, most Michigan farmers could tell them that cars, gray iron and cereals aren't the only thing their state produces in quantity.

If the state suddenly were cut off from the rest of the world, Michigan residents would continue to eat and eat fairly well, according to facts supplied by the Michigan and U. S. Departments of Agriculture.

For while Michigan ranks only about 10th in the nation as an agricultural state, it can boast of being one of the most diversified of the farming states. This agricultural diversification and wealth in the midst of industrial power is only another aspect of Michigan's greatness which is being emphasized during the current observance of Michigan Week.

An ideal climate and soil for fruit trees along Michigan's west shore has earned the state the title "Fruit Basket of the Middle West."

In the growth of red tart cherries, Michigan ranks first in the nation, and Grand Traverse County holds the honor of harvesting more cherries of any kind than any other county in the United States. In 1950, Grand Traverse harvested a bountiful crop of 31,395,000 pounds of cherries.

In the growth of peaches and apples, Michigan has lost and gained ground. Formerly in second place in the growth of peaches, Michigan fell to fourth when last year's peach crop fell 18 percent below average.

But apple production has increased to such an extent in Michigan that the state now is one of the top three apple-growing states in the union. Previously it had only ranked fifth, averaging 7,070,000 bushels from 1942-51. The indicated 1953 figures show that Michigan increased its apple production to 8,094,000 bushels.

Although still in third place, Michigan has also shown an impressive gain in the growth of grapes over the past few years. Its 1942-51 average was 31,580,000 tons, and its 1953 crop, 43,000,000 tons.

In plums Michigan ranks second among states, and in pears, fourth. Growth of the latter fruit has also increased considerably in Michigan — in 1953, 60 percent over its 1942-51 average.

Truck crops also play an important part in Michigan agriculture. More cantaloups and pickle cucumbers are grown in Michigan than in any other state, and the state ranks second in the growth of fall and summer celery, onions, and spearmint.

Michigan ranks third in the growth of carrots, cauliflower, sweet corn, cucumbers, strawberries, and tomatoes, and fourth in snap beans and peppermint. In field beans Michigan also stands among the leaders — in acreage it ranks first; in production, second.

For most Michigan farmers, however, hay, corn, oats and wheat are still the staple crops of importance. Even in those widely raised grains, Michigan doesn't fare badly, ranking eleventh in hay production, tenth in corn, sixth in oats, and ninth in winter wheat.

Located in the largest hay and dairy region of the United States, Michigan farmers receive about 30% of their income through the sale of milk and dairy products. Michigan ranks seventh in milk production, and currently is experiencing sizable growth in the number of chicks hatched, and turkeys and cattle raised.

One can't cite all the impressive aspects of Michigan agriculture, but a few of the individual facts of interest might be mentioned:

Bay City has the largest sugar beet factory east of the Mississippi. Kalamazoo is the celery center of the world. The Upper Peninsula's Delta County has set state and national yield records for the growth of potatoes. The world's largest bean elevator is located in Saginaw. Benton Harbor's municipal fruit market is the largest open air fruit market in the world.

Add them up and you have one of the top agricultural states in the country. Consider that Michigan is also high ranking in such industries as mining, lumbering and manufacturing, and you can only conclude that Michigan is a pretty remarkable state.

The Silver Lining

CONDUCTED BY BOB WARREN

LET THE DAILIES have stories of war, of murder and of strife. We'll take the news that never gains the headlines—the tidbits that are the life blood of a community.

But what to call these morsels under one heading?

Years ago when I was a runny-nosed slip of a lad my mother and her mother before her used to croon a song that had these words:

"Look for the silver lining — wait 'til the sun shines through." Through the haze of a quarter of a century comes just a strand of this song with its beautiful melody.

It is more than a song; it is actually a way of life. And no thought better could express what I am trying to convey here than the words "The Silver Lining".

Down in the neighboring town of Hillsdale hard by St. Joe Creek is a brick house where lives one of the proudest mothers in the business.

Still practicing the silver lining, she lives almost alone with her memories.

Tuesday she had another birthday — which one, I'll never tell.

This initial "Silver Lining" is sort of a birthday present for her. This one and the following are dedicated to her as a small payment for all that she has done for me.

THERE'S A TECUMSEH, Oklahoma, too.

Mrs. Carl Burch, local Goodwill Industries representative, sent the following poem describing the town:

In towns like Tecumseh people know
Friendship and hospitality.
In little towns, the streets are wide,
And green and lovely are the lawns.
Morning arrives more satisfied,
For there is room for rosy dawns.
There is more time to note the red
Of sunset. In a little town
Eyes look to Heaven comforted
And smile to see the sun go down.
Are the Friends different? Not here,
Where all the neighbors have first names
And use them. There is little fear
Of change when the horizon frames
A square of Paradise where white
Frame houses stand in friendly rows.
Here in Old Chief Tecumseh the light
Of peace and wisdom brightly glows.

— Mrs. Quida M. Parsons

Thank you very much, Mrs. Burch, for sharing this fine poem with our readers.

FOR MORE THAN 60 years The HERALD has been a companion to Mrs. Will E. Allen of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Moving from Detroit for an indefinite stay, Mrs. Allen reminded us "please without fail send my Tecumseh Herald to my address."

Her letter continued: "I am lost without it as I have taken your paper for over 60 years and it is company for me at my 87 years."

Her HERALD is speeded on its way and it is carefully wrapped as she suggested so it will not get "tore."

LEON ROSACRANS WANTS to know what ever happened to the fine art of saucering and blowing one's coffee.

Come to think of it, what ever happened to the art of eating peas with a knife? My grandmother was adept at both and our kids used to sit pop-eyed watching her manipulate the green bullets with her knife and she never lost a one.

Britton Gets City Keys In Detroit

"They really threw out the rug."

Bob Wallace, president of Britton, was talking.

He was mayor of Detroit last week while Mayor Albert Cobo took over the reigns at Britton during the exchange of mayors day.

President Wallace this week wrote the HERALD as follows: "Thanks kindly for your help and cooperation in helping to put across to the people 'This Is Your Michigan' week.

"Your releases have been of great interest to all in our community. We must also mention the junior chamber of commerce in Tecumseh for all the help they gave us."

President Wallace said he and his party of councilmen really had a fine time in the motor city. Accompanying him to Detroit were Councilmen Doug Fairbanks, Edmund Millyard, Ned Brown and Wilmer Lorenz.

Met at the city limits, they were given a police escort to the city hall where Councilwoman Mary Beck gave President Wallace a gold key to the city.

The Britton group then met the Detroit council and President Wallace spoke briefly to the council.

Sitting at Mayor Cobo's desk, President Wallace held a press conference with Detroit newsmen.

Again police gave them an es-

High School Limited To Present Rural Students

Members of the board of education of the Waring District met with local school board members Tuesday night to complete the annexation of Waring District with Tecumseh District No. 7. Both districts' electors had passed on the annexation previously.

The effective date of annexation will be May 19.

After a request from several residents living on Newburg road to annex to Tecumseh, the board discussed the matter and decided to continue its present policy.

Tecumseh high school will continue to serve all rural students from the following districts: Culbertson, Franklin Center, Pink, Paragon, Lamkin, Macon Village, Bird, Ridgeway Village, Kelly, Colvin, Centennial and Lanning.

The local board decided that no new areas will be considered for annexation at this time until the possibility of overcrowding is better known.

Aden Mead and Dwight Hodges whose terms on the board expire in July announced Tuesday night that they will be candidates to succeed themselves.

Nominating petitions for these vacancies must be given to the secretary by June 12.

VFW Buddy Poppy Days May 21 - 22

Once more the public will be given the opportunity to "honor the dead by helping the living." May 21 and 22 will be Poppy Days in Tecumseh when the V.F.W. and its Auxiliary will be on the street selling poppies for whatever amount the passer-by cares to give.

All proceeds of this sale go to aid needy and disabled veterans and to help support the V.F.W. National Home for widows and orphans of veterans. This institution is situated at Battle Creek.

Local officers of the V.F.W. remind the public that this is the one time of the year when citizens can pay their respects to the memory of the men who gave their lives in defense of their country.

Five Are Injured In Two-Car Crash

Twin Babies Seriously Hurt

A two-car crash at the north city limits Tuesday afternoon sent five persons, including twin baby sisters to the hospital with injuries.

Police Chief George Kilbourn said Richard Slade, 23, of Route 1, Clinton, driving south at a high rate of speed lost control of his car, crossed over into the north bound lane and smashed into a car driven by Mrs. Georgia Hurst, 45, of 113½ N. Evans street, Tecumseh.

Witnesses told police that Slade was driving too fast to make the curve and he lost control of his car.

Pending the outcome of the other injured, he will be charged with reckless driving.

Slade had lacerations of the face and a foot injury. He was treated at Herrick Memorial hospital and released.

Mrs. Georgia Hurst has a possible broken neck, an injured leg and possible internal injuries.

Mrs. Nadine Hurst, 21, has a fractured jaw, an injured leg and cuts and bruises.

Her twin daughters Lucretia and Patricia, 2, also were injured. Lucretia was injured internally. Police had to use the inhalator on her all the way to Ann Arbor. Patricia has a lacerated face.

They are in the University of Michigan hospital.

Both cars were a total loss.

Go Slowly And Build Solidly, Editor Auer Tells Jaycees

Go slowly, build solidly, gain the confidence of your community.

This was the closing statement made by Herb Auer, city editor of the Muskegon Chronicle and state president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce who was the keynote speaker at the Tecumseh Junior Chamber of Commerce charter night banquet held in the Tecumseh Products Union Hall last Friday night.

A junior chamber of commerce, Auer told the 300 present, is a tool for improving self and community. Use it as a sky hook for building a solid future.

A junior chamber of commerce represents a cross section noted for its enthusiasm and hope, the editor said. Members have much to give and much to gain.

He said young men join the junior chamber of commerce for civic service, fellowship and for leadership training.

Frank Smith of Tresco, Inc., who gave the welcoming address, said Tecumseh really needs the junior chamber of commerce. It needs some real push.

Let's not be satisfied, he continued, with the way our dads and our grand dads did the job and we will correct a lot of things that need to be corrected. We have a long way to go.

He said young people should gamble on the future.

Speaking for industry in general, he said we welcome the junior chamber of commerce and we'll back you all the way.

The Rev. George Walworth, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, who served as toastmaster, commented some changes ought to take place and these faces may affect these changes.

With 84 charter members, the local chapter is the largest junior chamber of commerce chartered in Michigan so far this year.

This fact was brought out by Milton Knabusch of Monroe who is a national director of the US Jaycees.

He said there are 100 clubs in Michigan, 2500 in the US and 54 in foreign countries.

He presented the charter to Jack Osburn, club president.

Frank G. Stanton, state vice-president of the Jaycees, pinned the president's pin on Osburn; Paul Balden, Jr., a national director, presented the scroll which was accepted by Jack Colson, secretary of the Tecumseh chapter; and Patrick J. Finn, president of the Monroe Jaycees who sponsored the Tecumseh chapter, gave the local chapter a gavel.

In his closing remarks, President Osburn had wives of Jaycees stand.

He told them: most great men are made by women. The success of this club is on your shoulders.

Guests were present from Howell, Saline, Monroe, Milan and Manchester Jaycee chapters.

After the banquet and program, the 300 present danced to the music of the Tecumseh Products Orchestra.

Open House For New Gym Planned For May 22

An open house for the public inspection of the new high school gym will be held Saturday, May 22, to coincide with the dedication of the new swimming pool.

Student council guides will conduct visitors around the gym and explain its features.

Supt. James McDowell reports that this is the largest and most modern gym in southeastern Michigan.

It measures 110 x 100 and it has a seating capacity of 1680.

An electrically powered door separates the gym into two basketball courts. The boys' court measures 84 x 50 and the girls' court measures 46 x 84.

There are four shuffleboard courts.

There's a varsity locker room with showers and lockers and toilet facilities and a reserve locker room with showers and toilet facilities.

In the boys' gym locker room there are 250 baskets and 50 lockers.

There also is a girls' locker room with 50 lockers and 250 baskets.

A public address system is piped into both parts of the gym.

A concession stand provides for serving refreshments into the hall or into the gym.

Meanwhile, Jaycees Tuesday night began the sodding of the athletic field in front of the pool.

Tuesday night the chamber of commerce board authorized the payment of $2500 for the swimming pool.

The Rev. Blair Bashore, president of the Rotary Club, Tuesday night appointed a committee from the Rotary Club to assist Hal Kelso, general chairman of the pool dedication program. Those appointed were Leo Lohrman, Hoyt Whelan, James McDowell and Virgil Tucker.

KELLERS WILL OBSERVE 35TH ANNIVERSARY

Next Sunday the Clarence Kellers will observe their 35th wedding anniversary with an open house at their home on the Tecumseh-Clinton Rd. from 7 to 9 p. m.

They were married in Buffalo, N. Y., May 15, 1919.

Their two daughters Mrs. Raymond Griffin of Lockport, N. Y., and Mrs. Robert Hunt of Onsted will be hostesses.

Mrs. Keller was the former Alice Peters of Clinton.

NEW DINER OPENS

Stanley Mack will open his diner on the west edge of the city limits next Monday.

Mr. Mack who has named his place Red's M-50 Diner, will hold his grand opening Saturday, May 22.

Dinner

Plans for a testimonial dinner for volunteer firemen are getting underway.

The dinner will be held Friday, May 21. The place has not been determined, but it might be held in the VFW hall.

The Rev. Blair Bashore will be master of ceremonies.

Those interested in helping on this project may call Mrs. John Kopka or Mrs. Lee Purkey.

Dr. C. N. Brodersen, meanwhile, joins others in thanking firemen. After a call by firemen last week, he said "It could have been disastrous if it had not been for the quick, efficient manner in which our local fire department handled the situation."

Moores Welcomed By Burlington

Burlington made up in hospitality what it lacked in size when Mayor Pro-tem Robert H. Moore and Mrs. Moore visited there on mayor exchange day last week.

The Moores met Clair Hill, president of Burlington, and his wife at Jonesville and had coffee. Mr. Hill was Tecumseh mayor for the day.

In Burlington the Moores were met by the council and school board.

They were conducted on a tour of the town, including the fire station and new elementary school and they visited with merchants.

Banners and signs of "welcome" were all over.

Mayor Pro-tem Moore passed out packages of Quaker Oats products and the brochure describing "Twenty Years of Progress" of the Tecumseh Products Company.

Dinner was held in the new school and mutual problems of government were discussed.

Mr. Moore said he left with the satisfaction that the project of changing mayors was a big success.

Jim Bishop Hurt In Plane Crash

James Bishop, 32, who crashed in a small plane near Deerfield Wednesday, May 5, is recovering in the University of Michigan hospital.

Bishop, a former RCAF pilot in the war, was flying over Applewood Orchards trying to stir up a mass of warm air that would cover apple trees to keep them from frosting.

He smashed into a cottonwood tree.

Rushed to the hospital, he was operated on at once for a broken back and pelvis.

His wife is the former Ivaletta Murphy.

The Bishops live on Macon Rd.

ATTITUDE — There's an old saying among service organizations that goes like this "The Kiwanis Club has all the fun; the Rotary Club has all the money; and the Jaycees do all the work."

Here in Tecumseh you would have to change Kiwanis to Exchange. Those in the organizations have a lot of fun kidding each other and the saying is taken for what it is worth — just some good-natured ribbing.

There is a friendly rivalry between the service clubs here and elsewhere. This friendliness stems from the attitude taken by individual members of the clubs and from the philosophy in the clubs' by-laws.

It doesn't matter who you are or what you are doing (whether you are an individual or whether you are part of a group) it's your attitude that really counts.

It can become almost a spiritual thing.

We mention this because we feel that some of the up and coming members of the Jaycees could have a better attitude toward others and the town in general.

There's no denying their enthusiasm. It's wonderful the way they are taking hold of community projects. But some comments made by individual members leave out the important aspect of attitude. Too many Jaycees have the attitude "Let's show these old fogies how to run this town." No, this isn't nice to report, but it is something that needs to be pointed out.

Of course there are things that need to be changed. And they will be changed. But maybe it will be by evolution and not by revolution.

Too many Jaycees lose sight of the fact that these "old fogies" have had years of business and community experience that could be used for the good of all of us. They have been through the mill and they have learned a lot about human and group relations, about business and about town progress.

There is just enough of the idealist in us to ask the Jaycees to take these older men, and women, into their planning. Such an act not only would result in a happier community climate but it would be utilizing combined years of experience that otherwise might be wasted.

This point and the following were prompted from seeing some older men at the Jaycee charter night banquet. They have been through a lot since the early days of the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce. They were actually pioneers — through depression days and through palmier days.

There is no reason in the world why the present Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce and the new Junior Chamber of Commerce cannot work hand in hand. After all, they have the same goal in mind — the good of the community.

When groups have this common objective, little does it matter which one gets the credit for a project.

It's the attitude that counts.

How about it, Jaycees, don't you think all of us would accomplish more by changing our attitude? Don't you think there would be a finer sense of belonging if we asked some of the older folks to comment and work on some of the more complex problems facing Tecumseh?

Think on these questions and we are sure you will see that attitude — particularly community attitude — is all important in pulling together.

BUY A BUDDY POPPY — On May 21 and 22 the local VFW Post and Auxiliary will hold their annual Buddy Poppy sale.

We realize that all of us today are literally swamped with requests to contribute to many fund-raising drives, but the Buddy Poppy campaign cannot be ignored.

When you give 25 cents for a poppy about 19 cents stays right here in the Tecumseh area where the local post uses the money to help needy veterans and their families. And one and one-half cents goes to the state VFW welfare program while one cent goes to the national rehabilitation service and one cent to the VFW national home for widows and orphaned children. The remainder goes for the cost of materials and to pay hospitalized veterans who assemble the Buddy Poppies.

This helping hand the VFW gives to needy veterans and their families has become an integral part of community giving. All of us in Tecumseh should join with the VFW in making such projects successful by purchasing Buddy Poppies May 21 and 22.

New Laws Affect Local Government

Improved employe retirement plans, authority for counties to band together for flood control projects and a basic state grant of $5,000 to county health departments headed the list of new laws passed by the Legislature affecting local governments in Michigan.

Under the new retirement law, municipal and county employes can draw $2,200 pensions yearly compared with the present $1,800.

Three or more counties may join together to build flood control projects as steps to prevent flood damage.

Other important new laws in the field of local government are:

Counties may levy a one-tenth of a mill tax for construction of medical care facilities, with State cooperation, for care of aged persons in their home communities. This is part of a new social program to care for the aged near their families and friends instead of committing them to mental hospitals.

Municipal utilities in 47 communities were allowed to issue revenue bonds, without a referendum, for plant expansion.

Mayors may appoint civil defense directors.

Townships can hire attorneys for civil and zoning cases.

Sheriff's fees for service of process were increased in line with costs.

Counties may destroy old tax records.

Sheriffs may purchase one bond to cover all deputies.

Boards of supervisors may set salaries of court stenographers.

Cities and townships may pay drain bonds if drain tax collections fail.

Police and firemen may make their widows eligible for pension rights.

Mental patients are a county charge for one year, whether committed as a public patient or not.

MRS. SUMNER COLLINS BURIED SATURDAY

Graveside services were conducted Saturday afternoon in the Macon Cemetery for Catherine Garner Collins, widow of Sumner Collins. Her death occurred April 27 in Garrett Park, Maryland, and after cremation her ashes were sent to the Collins Funeral Home in Tecumseh.

Mrs. Collins is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Rachel Ward; four granddaughters and five great-grandchildren all of Garrett Park, Md.; a brother-in-law John C. Howell, Adrian, and a sister-in-law, Mrs. Joseph W. Howell, Macon.

She was preceded in death by her husband, James Sumner Collins, who died in 1926.

The Rev. Edward C. Dickin of St. Peter's Episcopal church in Tecumseh officiated at the services.

Stamps

By Greg Mason

In 1938 the U.S. issued the presidential stamp for regular postage. This was from the ½c stamp to the $5 stamp.

April 9, 1954, the U. S. Postal System started to change the regular postage stamps and put on sale the Liberty issue as a regular postage stamp. This was the new 8c stamp printed in three colors, red, white and blue.

On June 25, the 3c stamp will be changed and a new liberty stamp will be produced. The same motto "In God We Trust" will be used.

For first day covers send as many as 10 self-addressed envelopes and money for each stamp to Postmaster, Washington, D. C.

About a day or two after they come out, you will get your first day covers back with the new stamp on them. They will be cancelled "first day of issue." Erase your name and you have a clean cover.

BOOK REVIEW HEARD BY MOTHERS-DAUGHTERS AT ANNUAL BANQUET

More than 160 mothers and daughters gathered at the Fellowship Center of the Presbyterian church Friday evening for their annual banquet which was arranged by the Presbyterian League. The tables were gay with arrangements of spring flowers and May baskets marked each place.

The program which was announced by Mrs. LeRoy Titley as toastmistress, included group singing led by Mrs. Al Merz, a vocal duet by the Leighton sisters accompanied by their grandmother, Mrs. Ford Exelby; a piano selection by Jane Hodges and a flute duet given by Judy Truesdale and Alice Titley, with Mrs. Truesdale as accompanist.

The toast to the mothers was given by Mrs. Clarence Damon and her daughter Barbara responded with a tribute to "Mothers." Mrs. Arthur Schwartz conducted a chorus of girl singers.

The highlight of the program was a review given by Mrs. William Berkhof of Mt. Clemens of the book, "Coffee Train." A former Tecumseh resident, Mrs. Berkhof was well known to her audience and the book was vividly portrayed in her remembered manner.

Special recognition was given to Mrs. S. W. Boyce as the oldest mother present and Mrs. Laine Halden, Mrs. Robert Ries and Mrs. Merton Thielan tied for honors of the mother with the most daughters, with three each. Mrs. William Hayden was the youngest mother.

Michigan Citizens Rate Their Schools

By NEVILLE HART
Tecumseh High School Principal

Nearly a quarter of a million Michigan citizens, who furnish both the children and the cash for the public schools of the state have had their say about education in their home towns. They have responded to a "bill of complaint" filed by a select group of business leaders, professional men, laborers, editors, farm leaders, house-wives and industrialists; they have replied with no uncertainty that the schools are doing a good job for these times. These citizens indicated their willingness to go even beyond the financial support for schools requested by way of taxation today. The response was from a state-wide sampling representing all types of communities.

Most important findings of this large-scale poll of citizens can be summarized in four brief statements:

1. The public, given an opportunity to evaluate its schools in privacy, is invariably fair in its judgments and generous in its praise.

2. Parents and other citizens who are negatively critical represent a small, though oftentimes vocal minority.

3. The people of the state are much more liberal in their willingness to finance a good school program, including adequate salaries for teachers, than boards of education and school administrators have believed.

4. When confronted with a list of subjects spanning the curriculum, including some designed to meet changing conditions of life and economy, the men and women of the state have spoken freely and in a realistic manner. They have placed highest value on subjects that will tend to train the individual to earn a living.

More than nine out of every ten respondents feel that:

1. Today's teachers are well trained and up to date.

2. The teaching of good manners, the ability to get along with others, public speaking, and the like are not "fads and frills."

Three of every four who participated believe that:

1. The quality of education in today's elementary and secondary school is at least as good as that of previous generations.

2. The schools of Michigan are not trying out too many new ideas and experiments or making too many changes.

3. Salaries offered teachers are low.

Michigan's citizens were asked what in addition to education in the three "R's", health and science, they would insist on and be willing to pay for even if it should add to the school tax bill.

Responses by percentage were: 75.1 instruction in a vocation (job skill) of the pupil's choice; 60.9 home and family living (budgets, buying, family relationships, child care, food, clothing); 56.4 an understanding of the history and geography of our country and perhaps the world; 50.9 public speaking; 49.1 appreciation of and possible participation in music and art; 40.3 competitive athletics; 36.5 learning to drive a car; 33.4 opportunity for activity in school clubs; 26.9 ability to speak a foreign language.

Interestingly enough, Tecumseh's citizens reacted exactly as citizens in other sections of the state by indicating the same choices in the same order as those listed above.

Michigan's citizens were asked how they decided whether a person is well educated.

Responses by percentages were: 71.2 his grammar, pronunciation, etc; 66.6 ability to meet people-poise, manner, ease of conversation; 64.9 ability to say what he means; 52.3 the things he talks about; 38.4 appreciation of literature and good music; 34.7 the way he talks; 32.0 personality; 31.0 accuracy in figuring a problem; 26.9 the way he acts; 21.5 his "at homeness" with new friends; 15.4 the friends he keeps; 5.4 the amount of money he makes.

Again Tecumseh citizens agreed with the state majority by selecting the same choices in the same order as those listed above.

Results of the survey clearly establish that:

1. Negative criticisms of Michigan's schools come from a small minority. The great majority of the state's citizens regard the educational program as sensible, substantial and sound. At least three of every four citizens responding are firm supporters of their schools and their program.

2. A healthy readiness for school-community cooperation exists, in fact, Citizens recognize the problems of professional educators and are willing to participate actively in attempting to resolve them.

3. Community size and complex have little influence on the opinions of citizens on school matters. The response pattern for a rural hamlet does not vary appreciably either in nature or degree from that of suburban villages or large industrial cities.

The next article will attempt to describe the objective and the philosophy of Tecumseh High School, and how they are being carried out.

CRADLE SHOWER

Mrs. Edward Shank and Mrs. Delmar Crisp entertained a group of twelve at the Crisp home recently honoring Mrs. Arthur Schwartz. The party was a blue and pink cradle shower and the gifts were presented from a decorated table on which a stork presided over a blue and pink cradle overflowing with dainty parcels.

Games were the entertainment of the evening and included unscrambling lists of baby supplies, guessing the number of safety pins in a baby food bottle and in a contest involving the first to form the word "babies" from lettered cubes of sugar.

Refreshments were pink iced cakes with a trimming of blue cocoanut centered with a tiny doll which were supplemented by strawberry sundaes. The tables were decorated with spring flowers in baby shoes and nut cups in the form of pink and blue cradles.

Mrs. Schwartz's sister, Mrs. Evelyn Martindale of Grand Rapids was an out-of-town guest.

Music Club Tea Held Saturday

The parlors of the Methodist church were the setting of a very pleasant entertainment last Saturday afternoon when the Tecumseh Music Club sponsored a Musical Tea in observation of Music Week. The affair was arranged by a committee whose general chairman was Mrs. Duaine Service and proceeds were used to further the work of the summer music camp at Interlocken.

The guests were seated at small tables centered by May poles in a grouping of miniature bouquet and delicious refreshments were served.

An outstanding musical program was presented which included two numbers by the Harmonettes, a quartette from Clinton, Beverly Adrian, Ann Ingrahams, Ann Steffens and Fay Widemeyer, who sang "Anniversary Waltz" and "Drifting Back to Dreamland."

Mrs. W. G. Waldron and Mrs. John McColl played 'Morning" from the Peer Gynt Suite by Greig as a piano duet and later with Diane Woodward and Brenda Porter played a two piano number by Wagner.

Vocal solos were given by Mrs. Thomas Gallant, singing "Alice Blue Gown," "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life" and "Thru the Years"; Diane Woodward, singing "The Rose" and "Summertime"; Mrs. Harley McConnell, "May Day Carol" and "Mother Dearest" and Mrs. Al Merz, "One Alone" and "Without a Song". All were accompanied by Mrs. Herbert Dillon.

Mrs. Murray Day in her always charming manner gave two readings, a parody on Poe's "The Raven" and "The Movies" and Miss Elinor Ruesink, accompanied by Miss Betty Nimrichter played three cello solos, Bach's "Adagio", the "Album Leaf" by Wagner and "Scherzo" by Swert. Both these ladies were from Adrian.

Miss Betty Day and Mrs. William Hayden each played piano selections, Miss Day, McDowell's "To the Moon" and "To the Skylark" by Tschaikowsky and Mrs. Hayden, "Prelude in G Minor" by Rachmaninoff and "Tom Thumb March" by Pinto.

CHILDREN BAPTIZED AT FRIENDS CHURCH SUNDAY SERVICES

Mother's Day services at the Friends church Sunday were participated in by a congregation of 230. During morning worship Ruth Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Glauser, who was born August 21, 1952, and Dale Dalton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Van Valkenburg, whose birth date was September 6, 1953, were dedicated by the pastor, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Van Valkenberg were welcomed into church membership.

Special recognition was given to couples in the congregation who had been married by the Rev. Edward Escoline.

At 3:30 in the afternoon Dale Lynn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Place and Deborah May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Reive received the rite of baptism.

The evening service was in charge of Charles and Norma Comfort Anderson, students at Cleveland Bible College, who have been accepted for the mission field in South America. The evening offering was taken for their benefit.

SMITH-BABCOCK

Mrs. Florence Babcock of 112 W. Pottawatamee St., and Gordon L. Smith of Battle Creek were married Saturday afternoon in the Chapel in the Garden, Angola, Ind., by the Rev. Kenneth Hornbuckle. After a short trip, Mr. and Mrs. Smith will be at home in Battle Creek where he is associated with the Standard Oil Co. Mr. Smith spent his boyhood in Tecumseh and attended the local schools.

Child Study Club Is Interested In Retarded Children

The Child Study Club of Tecumseh has become interested in the work of the Lenawee County Association for Retarded Children.

Members of the group point out that retarded children are normal children, born of normal parents whose minds have suddenly stopped growing somewhere along the way. Contributing causes may be polio, meningitis, damage to brain tissue at birth, or childhood accidents.

It is possible for your child to become afflicted in this way.

The group further points out:

Every retarded child has the right to the opportunity to learn to the limit of his capacity, just as every normal child.

However, the public schools are not equipped to care for this special type of pupil. This is why the L.C.A.R.C. has been conducting a drive for funds to build a school equipped for the special needs of retarded children.

This school is to be centrally located in order to benefit all of the 400 to 500 in Lenawee County who are unable to keep up with their playmates intellectually.

Civic groups in surrounding towns and cities have been conducting rummage sales, bake sales, and similar money-making activities for this cause.

Tecumseh women's clubs have been asked to collect Heinz baby food labels, which are redeemed at one cent each, and coat hangers have been collected and sold.

This money is being contributed toward the school.

The Child Study Club is conducting a mile of pennies drive. Your pennies for one day will take a significant place in the mile, which is expected to total $633.60.

For a few cents, the group points out, Tecumseh residents can show their interest in bringing the mentally retarded children of Lenawee County out of their world of perpetual shadow.

Canmisters are being placed in most Tecumseh business places, lodges and organizations.

KNOW YOUR TECUMSEH

UNIVERSAL BUTTON CO.

By what seems an odd coincidence the newest industry to be established in Tecumseh is being carried on on the site of the town's oldest one. The Universal Button company, in April 1951 bought the building on east Chicago street erected by late Henry Ford on the foundations of the original Globe mill. Since that time they have carried on a branch of their business here.

The Universal Co. is an old one, organized in 1896, with its headquarters in Detroit at 2250 W. Fort St. There it employs 250 people and at its other branch in Walkerville, Ontario, Canada, 150 are employed. The president is Monro Tibbets, with Walter Meek and William Sugden as vice president and secretary.

Edward Jabobson is the business manager of the Tecumseh plant while Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Rocheleau manage the actual production here. Because of the housing shortage Mr. Jacobson lives in Adrian but the Rocheleaus make their home at 114 W. Pottawatamie in Tecumseh.

For the business as a whole the name Button Company is correct for that is what they make — buttons, metal buttons for work clothes. But for the plant in Tecumseh, Button factory is not exact for here the company makes slide fasteners—zippers to you and me—which, from the outside looking in, seems a lot more interesting and complicated. Buttons are easily understood but the magic of a zipper when it works, and the utter frustration when it won't, leaves the average layman with a feeling of awe.

Howver there are at least thirty-five people in this community for whom zippers hold no secret. That many (two-thirds of them women, too) work in the Tecumseh plant. They come from the town and nearby vicinities.

The factory has carried on its operations with such quiet efficiency that there are many who have wondered if there was any activity at all in the trim, white building beside the mill pond. Materials are brought in by the company's own trucks and the finished products are sent out in the same way. Some supplies however are purchased locally and when the machines were being first set up the R. and S. Manufacturing Co. of Tecumseh supplied many of their parts.

To the casual passerby it looks like a very pleasant place to make even zippers. And the building should be perfect for its kind. It has been estimated that Mr. Ford spent more than a quarter of a million dollars to raze the old mill (for which he paid one dollar) and to rebuild it from carefully redressed stone and timber from the older structure. In architecture the building is modeled after the first and orginal mill although it lacks one of the three stories of that building. That mill was completed about 1838 and burned in 1898.

Mr. Ford also lavished much time and money on the race-way and water wheel which were to utilize the water power that had operated the mill for nearly a century. For a time the new building was used to clean the grain raised on the Ford farms and get it ready for milling, and later, during the war, electrical equipment was assembled there. Then it became just a storage space until purchased by the Universal Company.

A vivid imagination might picture a gathering in that building on a moonlight night. A meeting of the shades of the men who first harnessed the river at that spot. There would be Musgrove Evans, the surveyor-engineer who first envisioned the possibilities of power in the confluence of the creek and river; Stillman Blanchard, who brought that dream to a reality; and William Hayden who used it so successfully to produce the flour that was part of that dream.

Perhaps they shake their heads sadly over the wasted water power, but they were forward looking men—those three, and if they find out how to work a zipper, we are willing to wager they think it's pretty wonderful.

Postmaster Urges Better Mail Boxes

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield has announced the week beginning May 17 as "Mail Box Improvement Week." This will be the 16th consecutive campaign to tidy up the official mail receptacles.

Postmaster Jack Metcalf is requesting rural patrons in this area to repair and beautify their mail box equipment and approaches to help lend brightness to the scenic beauty of the highways, roads and drives.

The rural delivery is a post office on wheels and many times these services are taken for granted and not fully appreciated. The carriers are trying to serve patrons promptly with as few mistakes possible. Errors are sometimes caused by a patron's name being omitted on the mail box, especially when a substitute serves the route while the regular carrier is on vacation or sick leave. The substitute is not always acquainted with the route as well as the regular carrier.

Many boxes which are the highway billboards of the postal service, have become unsightly with rust, unserviceable due to a leaky condition, broken doors or no lids, missing signals, no name, supports being bent or rotted. In many places the ground is rough and full of chuck holes.

Postmaster Metcalf asks the patrons to cooperate in improving their mail box equipment May 17 to 24. He desires that the routes become a source of pride for the patrons, the department and the carriers. For those persons desiring additional information on proper size and height for their rural box, they may get it from the postmaster or the rural carrier.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

The "Write" Prescription

Noticed three half-finished letters lying on the counter down at Jones' Drug Store last week. "Writing three at once, Doc?" I asked.

"No," Doc said, "you are—you and the rest of the town. Those are for the boys from our town who are at the National Guard encampment.

"Everyone who comes in adds a line or two, and when a couple of pages are filled, I mail them. That way the boys hear from folks who might not write otherwise. They sure do enjoy it."

From where I sit, little things can add up pretty big. A few short notes make a letter. Boys from our little town help build up a strong National Guard to protect our freedom. Even freedom is made up of a lot of things—living where we like, voting the way we think is right, choosing between coffee, tea, or beer at dinner. And anything that adds up to freedom gets my stamp of approval.

IT'S AMERICA'S "BEST SELLER"

Because it's America's Best Buy

Ford has pioneered in bringing the most worth-while things to the most people . . . and more and more people are now buying Fords

FOR A LONG TIME, people have recognized that Ford is the "Worth More" car. And they have been expressing their preference in a great and growing volume of purchases.

The reason is simple. More and more people have found in Ford everything they want and need. They have found that Ford offers exterior beauty that has set the trend for the industry . . . interiors that are so colorful and in such good taste that just sitting in a Ford is fun.

If you're in the market for any new car, you'll be missing something if you don't come in and value-check a Ford point by point. And when you Test Drive a Ford and find out what a brilliant performer it is, you'll really understand why Ford is America's Best Seller and America's Best Buy.

In the first place: Ford offers the two most modern engines in the entire industry: the completely new 130-h.p. Y-block V-8 and the outstanding new 115-h.p. I-block Six.

As for comfort—Ford is the only car in its field with Ball-Joint Front Suspension. This amazing new principle provides a degree of handling and riding ease that cannot be equalled in any car without this new suspension system.

Choice, too, is a department where Ford excells. You'll find just exactly the car for you among the 14 body styles and more than 100 body color and upholstery combinations in Ford's three great lines.

And consider these facts, too. Ford is a completely modern car. The advanced fine-car features that make it "Worth More" when you buy it, will also make it "Worth More" to someone else when you sell it.

Why not accept our invitation to Test Drive a '54 Ford. We believe that you've never driven a car in Ford's field that is in any way comparable.

part-by-part proof...
Plymouth
is your "best buy" in the lowest-price field!

Recently a 1954 Plymouth and current models of the other two best-known low-price cars were taken apart by Plymouth engineers and compared, part by part. Standard "stock" models were used. We've listed some typical findings below.
Plymouth is "best buy" in many ways. Here are just a few!
Front Wheel Brakes
Plymouth engineers provide two hydraulic brake cylinders in each front wheel to ensure smooth stops without "grabbing." The other two low-price cars have only one.
Seat Springs
Plymouth uses coil seat springs, for longer lasting support. The "other two" have a zigzag platform type. Also, Plymouth's "springs-on-springs" design adds more comfort.
Piston Rings
Plymouth has four rings on each piston; the "other two" have three. Result: decreased carbon deposit, more consistent power output. Increased oil economy, too!
Micronic Oil Filter
Standard on most Plymouth models. Keeps abrasive dirt out of the engine, reducing wear and achieving greater oil economy. Extra cost on the other two low-price cars.
And dozens of other part-by-part comparisons prove Plymouth is your "best buy"! See us today . . . and get the facts!
Ask us for the big illustrated booklet that shows how Plymouth leads in frame construction . . . engine design . . . performance . . . economy . . . comfort . . . safety.

During the business session, invitations were read fram various chapters. Morenci chapter has invited Marie Morehouse, conductress, and Lillian Westgate, associate conductress to serve as guest officers on May 14; Adrian chapter has invited Ann Rozelle, associate Matron, and Clair Rozelle, associate Patron, to serve as guest officers on May 17.

Clayton chapter has asked Tecumseh chapter to furnish a number for a talent program they are putting on for their friendship night on May 19; Plymouth chapter has invited Louise Partridge, worthy Matron, Owen Partridge, worthy Patron, Emma Partridge, chaplain to be guests at their 60th birthday celebration of their chapter on May 19.

The chapter was draped in memory of Mary Bachman, who died Monday evening.

Preceding the meeting, there will be a photographer from Detroit to take pictures of all members, from the hours of 4 to 8 p. m. in the chapter room. These pictures will be placed in a memory album, and there is no charge.

This being the week of "Mother's Day", all mothers present received a pin with candy attached, and each one was numbered. Two mothers, who held the lucky numbers and received potted flowers were Nina Smith and Jessie Russell.

The chaplain, Emma Partridge, was escorted to the east, and received special recognition as the mother of the worthy Patron. She was presented with flowers by her daughter-in-law, Louise Partridge. A song, "My Mom," was sung by Florence Galiant in honor of all the mothers, and dedicated to the chaplain.

At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served in the dining room at tables decorated with May poles, in keeping with the May season, by Edith Leighton and Martha Artman, co-chairmen and their committee.

CHILD STUDY CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

The annual spring dinner meeting of the Child Study Club was held Monday evening at the Pythian Hall with Mrs. Miles Runk and Mrs. Douglas Murdoch as hostesses.

During the business meeting it was voted to sponsor a penny drive for the support of the Lenawee County Association for the aid of retarded children. Canisters will be placed in convenient places about town and left with interested organizations.

Mrs. LeRoy Titley, retiring president, had charge of the meeting and then turned the affairs of the club over to the new president, Mrs. Robert Ries. The other new officers are: Mrs. Donald Cobb, vice president; Mrs. Richard Fielder, secretary and Mrs. George Green, Jr., treasurer.

The program period in charge of Mrs. Delmar Crisp and Mrs. David Faling was devoted to playing "whist" with first prize going to Mrs. Richard Fielder, second to Mrs. H. W. King and the consolation to Mrs. Donald Cobb.

This was the last meeting of the year and the club will recess until September.

Auxiliary Votes Children's Ward For Hospital

A new project, the furnishing of a children's ward for Herrick Memorial hospital, was discussed and favorably voted by the Hospital Auxiliary at its May meeting Tuesday evening in Fellowship Center.

Mrs. Charles Mensing, auxiliary president, appointed Mrs. Joseph Rohweder, Mrs. Laine Holden and Mrs. Robert Hanna as a committee to investigate and report on the purchase of furnishings for the ward.

It was decided to have a potluck supper instead of the regular type of meeting next month and at that time the Junior Nurses will be awarded pins for meritorious service.

Miss Spaulding spoke briefly on the activities and displays at the Tri-State Hospital Convention, which she attended recently in Chicago.

Refreshments were served after the meeting by Mrs. Ralph Helzerman and her committee, Mrs. John Keeney and Mrs. Raymond Platt of Tipton, Mrs. Leland Hubbard, Onsted and Mrs. Karl Schneider, Tecumseh.

ALL OF US HERE, particularly the press man, appreciated the wonderful comment on last week's paper. All of us were dog-tired and the comments made us feel that our extra efforts were worth the toil.

Roy Titley thought we printed on yellow paper because it was some old paper we wanted to get rid of and Ellsworth Collins thought The HERALD had caught the jaundice.

One chap commented: "Say, I bet that cost you some money." And of the three he was more right.

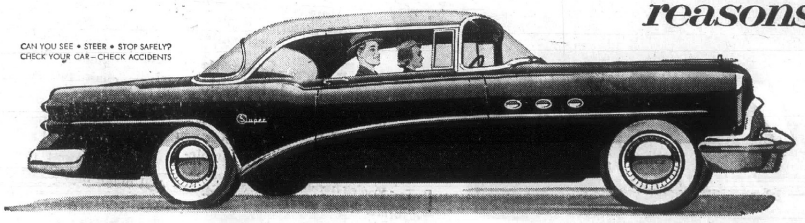
"Best Seller" for 3 good reasons



Buick now outsells all other cars in its price class and above
YOU'VE probably noticed it right in your own neighborhood.
Bright new Buicks appearing here, there, everywhere. And more and more of them in recent weeks.
Know what's happening?
Folks in growing numbers—(and maybe you'll be joining them soon!)—are finding Buick styling, performance and value far too wonderful to pass up.
So Buick is selling at a record pace—outselling all other cars in its price class and above.
Matter of fact, latest figures for the first quarter of 1954 show that, in total national volume, Buick is outselling every other car in America except two of the so-called "low-price three."
A look and a ride and a peek at the price tag will be all you'll need to know what's back of this best-selling success.
There's styling in Buick that's the greatest beauty advance in years—the very look of tomorrow—and with the spectacular panoramic windshield that's part and parcel of this dream-car look.
There's performance in Buick as never before—with record-high V8 power, with the sensationally smooth whip of Twin-Turbine Dynaflow,* with the buoyant ride of all-coil-springing, with a new precision of control and handling.
And there's value in Buick that's hard to match—with prices starting near the "low-price three"—prices that buy more Buick beauty and power and thrill and sheer automobile than smart money ever bought before.
BUICK
Sales are Soaring!
How about you?
Are you ready, willing and waiting to be shown that this best seller called Buick is the buy of the year for you, too? Drop in this week, or give us a call, and we'll arrange a demonstration.

Grade School News

Grade 5
Mrs. Osburn

Anna K. McCann has brought to school some dolls from South America. Also a handmade copper plate from there.

At our Comic Book Sale last week we made over $10.

Last Friday Paul Underwood had a birthday. He treated us with a beautiful cake and Squeezum cups.

On our Weekly Reader test Camilla Grigg and Dianne Fuller tied for high with only one mistake each.

We have elected the following officers for our class: President, Dean Eddy; vice presidents, Bradley Bruce and Bill Ross; secretary, Marjorie Van Valkenburg; treasurer, Jane Hodges.

Our tomato plants are getting big quick, and some have been transplanted and taken home.

Eleven of our group are going to take part in the Band Concert on May 27th.

Last Friday we made Waterlily May baskets. They were very pretty.

Grade 6
Mr. Kaiser

Very soon now we will be in the seventh grade, but it won't be entirely new to us. Mr. Hart let each of us visit a half a day last week so that we would have an idea of what seventh grade work is like. We were very glad to have the chance to visit and we wish to thank Mr. Hart.

Paul Surratt planted flower seeds in the flower bed near the front door. The seeds are starting to come up. It is too bad that the flowers will not blossom before school is out.

We hope to try out the new basebell field this week. The field has been leveled off and Mr. Warren is making the bases.

Our friend Mr. Hank Young was a visitor in our room last week. He gave us a very fine talk on Japan and Korea. We enjoyed seeing his many pictures. He also modeled the kimona that was mode for him in Japan.

We are learning a lot about fish and the way they act, now that we have our own aquarium. It was purchased with our picture money. Shirley Head and Karen Hall brought some of the fish.

Grade 6
Miss Hopkins

This is our last message to you from Central school. Last week we went in groups of nine to visit the classes in junior high. It was a much coveted experience, as revealed by the oral reports given by each in turn. We all had more to tell than we could find time for. One of the most frequent repetitions was to the effect that "everybody was so nice to us," and, "I'm so glad that they thought of asking us over there." Occasionally we were permitted to answer a question on the seventh grade level! So now we have one foot in the doorway already. We thank you so very much, you high school people! The experience must have had the right effect upon us because Miss Hopkins complimented us on getting our written work handed in promptly as well.

We have been making progress in our workbooks on China and the importance of her rivers on the lives of the people.

On Tuesday, May 4 was our turn to pick up papers on the school grounds. The date was most opportune, in that we couldn't use the gym on that day. However, Mr. Runk very kindly took the boys down to the atheltic field for their physical ed. class. That gave the girls an opportunity to use the nail-pointed sticks that the boys had brought for the clean-up job.

Shirlene Bozeman was with us again for a few half-days. We are all hoping that she will bring back a good progress-report from her doctor in Ann Arbor. We have ready another batch of letters to tell her so, and to express our sincere wishes for her speedy recovery.

We like the here-and-now realism of our language letter-writing assignments. However, in our science class Monday, we didn't get nearer home than forty light-years. Ask us what that means! Our final take-off from Central in June promises to be pioneering into our own emotional stratosphere. And now the sixth graders from room 308 take leave of these columns with our "Hail and Farewell."

Special Room
Mrs. Buttolph

For several weeks we worked on decorations for the stage in the auditorium for the Nancy Randall Dance Recital. Although we all had to work very hard to make the garden scene we were very proud of it when it was finished.

The fourth and fifth graders in our room are planning to go to the Toledo Zoo the same day that our sixth graders go to Greenfield Village. We have been selling candy to get money to go.

Tecumseh BOOK SHELVES Library

By Mrs. Conrad Fosbender

Weeds and stiff backs, that is what Spring brings. But the results of everyone's hard labor are so nice that we really do not mind the work after all.

The Garden Club has been sharing with us some of their lovely flowers, and we would like to share with you some of our books on gardening.

For books on gardening as a whole, may we suggest "Learning to Garden" by Olive Gunnison and "Garden Facts and Fancies," by Alfred Hottes. "Bulbs For Beauty," by Charles Mueller tells about the many different bulbs, how and when to plant and a month by month calendar on how to take care of them.

Herbert Zim's 'Flowers" is a very handy guide to familiar American wildflowers, with all the pictures in color. From a different standpoint is the book, "Complete Book of Flower Arrangements" by F. F. Rockwell which gives some good ideas for flower arrangements.

"Shrubs of Michigan" by Carl Billington and "Michigan Trees" give descriptions of the shrubs and trees that are so familiar in this part of the country.

R. C. Allen's book "Roses for Every Garden" tells all on the growing, caring for and exhibiting of roses. Also available are might be of interest to you. So many different pamphlets which why not visit your public library soon?

A & P Introduces New Dessert

A new gelatin dessert, Ann Page Sparkle black cherry, an eighth flavor, is being introduced by A & P Food Stores.

The new dessert is the result of months of research in A & P's laboratories to obtain the proper flavoring and color. It will be marketed in the regular three-ounce size in a new package under the Ann Page label and will be manufactured in the company's Quaker Maid plants in both Brooklyn, N. Y. and Terre Haute, Ind.

Gelatin desserts have been in widespread demand for many years, but most have been limited to six popular flavors—lemon, lime, orange, cherry, strawberry and red raspberry. Some time ago, A & P added black raspberry to its flavors and the black cherry makes the eighth with its own distinctive flavor. This will give housewives a wide choice of easily prepared gelatin desserts from which to choose.

While the ready-mixed gelatin contains sugar, natural and artificial flavor, fruit acids and coloring, each average serving is low in calories. It is also free from carbohydrates.

Gelatin deserts are recommended by physicians and are widely used in hospitals. They serve as complements to other proteins, according to nutrition experts, and they have the property of making other foods more palatable and more easily digestible. They also act as neutralizers of excess acid.

Largest medical bill payment ever made for Michigan people!

Blue Cross - Blue Shield pay out more dollars for hospital and doctor care, provide worry-free protection for more people in Michigan than all other kinds of medical bill protection combined.

Your Michigan Blue Cross - Blue Shield paid out $91,299,797 for subscribers in 1953. As of today the total paid out for hospital and doctor bills during the last 15 years is more than $400 million.

The most successful protection against hospital bills

Blue Cross is the most successful idea ever devised for protection against hospital bills. Non-profit, it is the only organization for hospital care officially approved by the American Hospital Association. Over 3,000,000 Michigan people have Blue Cross. Chances are, your neighbor has it. Talk it over with him—and see if he doesn't agree that there is no finer protection at any price!

Hospital Service Protection . . . the Blue Cross way

Blue Cross differs from other kinds of hospital protection, because it supplies service protection. This is important since you rarely know in advance how much a hospital bill will cost you. So you can't feel really safe with protection that limits you to $10, $15 or some other set amount per day.

When you become a member of a Blue Cross Group it is like becoming the "owner" of a wide range of hospital services in advance of need. Then, when you need hospital services . . . such as bed and board, expensive extras like oxygen, drugs and medicines, operating room, and others . . . these services are automatically yours. And this same protection holds for every enrolled member in your family. Blue Cross hospital service benefits are available in more than 200 Blue Cross participating hospitals in Michigan alone.

Doctor Bill Protection . . . the Blue Shield way

Paying doctor bills is different from paying hospital bills, because in almost every case, your doctor can tell you beforehand what his charge will be. The thing he can't tell you, however, is when you are going to need his services. So, against that need, Blue Shield offers a smart way to safeguard your savings . . . to take doctor bills in your stride.

Blue Shield offers two basic plans—one, a straight surgical plan, the other, a medical-surgical plan. Under either plan, Blue Shield pays generous, specific amounts directly to your doctor for thousands of surgical procedures, including maternity care. And in non-surgical cases, under the medical-surgical plan, Blue Shield also pays liberal amounts for your doctor's visits to you in the hospital. Often the doctor's full bill is covered.

The cost is low

For only pennies per day, Blue Cross - Blue Shield provide you with the most complete protection against hospital and medical bills it is possible to obtain. To help keep cost low, Blue Cross - Blue Shield do not pay for purely diagnostic treatment—or for procedures which can properly be done in a doctor's office . . . except emergency treatment as covered in the contracts. You, too, can help keep cost low by using Blue Cross - Blue Shield only when necessary.

There's no red tape!

When you have to use Blue Cross - Blue Shield, there are no claims to make . . . no long waits for payment. All you do is present your Identification Card to your hospital or doctor . . . and Blue Cross - Blue Shield pay them directly.

How to get Blue Cross - Blue Shield

Ask your employer or your union representative how you can get low-cost Group Enrollment. A company with as few as 5 employees may qualify as a group. Check your Farm Bureau or Grange. Write or phone your nearest Blue Cross - Blue Shield office.

Blue Cross - Blue Shield have more Michigan members than all other plans combined!

HUMANE SOCIETY APPRECIATES HELP

Representatives of the Lenawee County Humane Society who visited Tecumseh recently in the interests of that organization, have written the HERALD to express their appreciatoion of the generous response on the part of business people here.

They were especially impressed with the courteous treatment they received. "Even the ones who did not give were very polite."

Many animals have been taken in from Tecumseh and several strays have found homes here. It has been suggested that aid for the Society be part of the Community Fund membership next year, thus making solicitation unnecessary. Meanwhile, those in charge are grateful for all assistance given.

St. Peter's Episcopal Will Build Addition

This photograph shows the proposed new addition to the parish house of St. Peter's Episcopal Church.

At a special meeting of the Parish May 3, it was decided to build the addition shown to the south wing of the present parish house. The vestry has authorized the preparation of plans for the new construction.

James Smith has been employed as the architect and bids will be requested from local contractors as soon as plans and specifications have been approved by the vestry.

The new construction will add about 1500 square feet of floor space on the first floor, doubling the size of the present one-story parish house.

A basement under the new addition will provide four class rooms needed for Church School work. New facilities will include an enlarged, modernized kitchen and double the present space for parish dinners and other social functions.

The $25,000 to 30,000 estimated cost of the addition will be raised in part from the present building fund of the Church and in part by voluntary subscriptions of parish members.

Serving on the building committee are Larry Larsen, Phillip Colgrove, Charles O. Butler, Russell Cooper and Leo Lohrman.

Within the next few weeks, a canvas of the parish will be made to secure pledges for the new construction.

The new addition is scheduled for completion in time for the fall and winter activities of the parish. Part of the Church School and the youth center presently are housed in the old New York Central Station behind the church.

The anticipated sale of this building by the railroad necessitated these positive steps for the continuation of the Church School and youth work of the church. Since the new addition will house all the church functions, it will allow a more flexible arrangement in all respects.

Police Raid VFW, Seize Slot Machines

Members of the Michigan State Police rackets squad with state police of the Clinton post and Tecumseh patrolmen raided Hall Slater Post No. 4187, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Friday night and arrested three persons for maintaining and operating a gaming establishment.

Those arrested were Lamont C. Harrington, 58; Robert L. Baker, 2; and Earl E. Kruger, 32. Harrington and Baker are bartenders and Kruger is club manager. All are from Tecumseh.

The trio waived examination in Justice John K. Lowe's court Saturday and they were bound over to circuit court. Bond of $150 each was set.

Police confiscated three slot machines, 20 bottles of whisky and wine and 10 bottles of beer. They also seized $239 from the slot machines and $500 in cash from the cash register and safe. They spent more than an hour counting the money.

Led by Sgt. Carl Robinson, the squad consisted of two other detectives in plain clothes. They entered the hall about 9 p. m. Sgt. Robinson and his detectives were served drinks and they played the machines.

Later, Sgt. Robinson sent one of his men out to contact uniformed State Police of the Clinton Post and Tecumseh patrolmen.

Clinton Post sent Troopers Dale Arnold and Russell Lake and Tecumseh Police sent Patrolman Robert Purkey and Phillip Roff.

The three men were arrested about 10:30.

Sgt. Robinson said three slot machines were in operation when the raid started.

He also said the club had no state license to sell whisky and beer, although this charge was not brought.

About 80 bowlers of the Tecumseh Products bowling team were having their annual bowling banquet at the time of the raid. They were allowed to go home.

Sgt. Robinson's squad was alerted by Capt. Jack Warner of the Jackson State Police Post. He heads the fourth district. Capt. Warner had heard complaints about the club and ordered the rackets squad to investigate. The raid Friday night resulted.

PLAN BENEFIT DANCE

Joyce J. Damon will present the Dance Parade of 1954 at Central School next Tuesday and Wednesday nights at 8 p. m.

Part of the proceeds will be given to the Joyce Andrews Memorial Swimming Pool fund.

Tecumseh Stores Will Be Open Friday Nights

Beginning Friday night, June 4, Tecumseh retail stores will be open Friday nights and closed Saturday nights.

For the most part the stores will be open until 9 p.m. Friday nights and closed at 5:30 p.m. Saturdays.

Members of the Tecumseh Retail Merchants' Association polled individual merchants to determine if they favored Friday or Saturday nights. Of those polled, 26 favored Friday nights and six favored Saturday nights.

Others said they had no preference but would go along with the majority.

John Thompson, vice-president and cashier of the United Savings Bank, and John Surratt, manager of the Adrian Federal Savings and Loan Association's Tecumseh office, have expressed a willingness to cooperate with the plan.

Both men, however, must first outline the plan to their board of directors before then can begin opening Friday nights.

A complete list of the stores that will be open Friday nights may be found on page 12.

U of M Swimming Team Will Give Exhibition

Dedication of the Joyce Andrews Memorial Swimming Pool will be held Saturday at 2 p. m.

The program will open with the invocation by the Rev. Blair O. Bashore, pastor of the First Baptist Church; the dedication of the swimming pool for the citizens of Tecumseh will be read by the Rev. George E. Walworth, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church; and Mayor H. H. Hanna will accept the pool for the city.

Following the short dedication program, a team of swimmers from the University of Michigan will give an exhibition of swimming. They will be headed by Burrell O. "Bumpy" Jones.

The $67,000 pool is 80 feet long and 40 feet wide.

These other features were described by City Manager Ed Nelson:

The pool is nine feet deep at the north end where the diving board is installed and it tapers to 28 inches at the south end near the bath house.

JOYCE ANDREWS

It takes 155,000 gallons of water to fill the pool. This water goes through a circulator where it is filtered four times every 24 hours. The frequency of changing the water completely will depend on conditions and the amount of use. Screens for the filters can be changed and cleaned.

A vacuum sweeper will keep the bottom of the pool clean. This machine will pick up lint and hair and other material.

The water will be chlorinated and heated to desired temperatures.

The bath house is equipped with a 20 x 15 section for men and an 18 x 15 section for women.

Both sections are equipped with "wet" and "dry" dressing rooms and shower stalls.

Public toilets for men and for women are adjacent to the bath house.

A wading pool and sand pit for tots are south of the bath house.

Under the direction of Carl Hale, manager, the pool will be open for use May 29, 30 and 31; then it will be closed until school is out. It will re-open June 5 during afternoons and evenings only until the completion of Bible School June 28.

Instructions by a qualified Red Cross instructor will be given every morning Monday through Friday beginning June 28 from 9 a. m. to 12 noon.

There will be no charge for instruction but nominal rates will be charged for the use of the pool.

Dinner

A testimonial dinner for firemen will be held Friday night in the American Legion Hall at 6:30 p.m.

The Rev. Blair O. Bashore, pastor of the First Baptist Church, and councilman, will be toastmaster. And heads of city departments and others present will make brief remarks.

Tecumseh Township Supervisor W. G. Waldron will furnish chickens for the dinner. He first suggested the dinner and he and Mrs. John Kopka are co-chairmen or arrangements.

Boy Scouts will serve.

River Acres Is Part Of City

Tecumseh High School's Objectives And Philosophy Are Listed By Principal

By Neville Hart
Tecumseh High School Principal

The administration and faculty of Tecumseh High School feel that a high school education is of even greater importance today than yesterday. The condition throughout the world and within our own nation compel a student to become as well prepared as possible, in order to cope with the ever increasing social and economic problems that arise. It is our hope that students will want to make the most of their educational opportunities while attending high school.

Tecumseh High School offers a large program of subjects from which students may make an increasing number of choices as they continue through school. It is well to explore many of these fields of work early to help find the field of the student's greatest interest and ability.

Our six fold curriculum including: 1. College Preparatory; 2. General; 3. Commercial; 4. Home Economics; 5. Industrial Arts; and 6. Agriculture seeks to provide adequate training and experience for each student along the lines of his chosen field of interest.

Each student is required satisfactorily to complete three years of English, one year of citizenship, one year of American history, one year of American government and economics, one year of mathematics, one year of general science and at least three years of physical education, along with those subjects which pertain to the student's chosen field of endeavor, before he is considered for graduation. A total of eighteen credits must be earned.

A close examination of our curriculum will show that it is not loaded with courses of the type generally labeled "fads and frills." Only those courses that have a definite bearing upon the philosophy and objectives of Tecumseh High School are offered.

The educational philosophy and the specific educational objectives of the Tecumseh High School follow:

Education, in the Tecumseh Public Schools, is looked upon as a continuous process designed to meet the individual needs of school children and adults.

These basic needs include an understanding of self, and adjustment to the social environment, an understanding of the world in which we live, and the achievement of the basic skills which are necessary for efficiency.

We are trying at least to do the following:

1. Administer to the needs of each student as an individual, according to his abilities.
2. Make an attempt to provide for each student some degree of success in each day of life here.
3. Teach a respect and interest in continuing democratic ideals and form of government.
4. Promote opportunity for self-awareness and individual responsibility through class and out-of-class activities — a meeting place for young people to grow up in under the stimuli of others of similar age.
5. Present specific training in Home and Family Living.
6. Seek to obtain a reasonable mastery of the fundamental tools as an aid to everyday life and a foundation for greater growth.
7. Promote an interest in and support for personal health and community health.
8. Develop an awareness of good leisure time activities.
9. Provide the stimulation of developing ideals.
10. Promote the ability to live successfully in a changing environment.

Goodwill Aids The Handicapped

"There are few people who know the Goodwill Industries program of aiding the handicapped who are not 100 per cent behind it," according to Mrs. Carl Burch, 201 W. Shawnee, local Goodwill representative.

The problem is in bringing the Goodwill story to more people, and with this in mind Mrs. Burch has arranged to have programs presented at church, club and other social and civic groups in the area.

A speaker and interesting Kodachromes slides have been made available.

They afford an illustration of how handicapped workers have adapted themselves to industry—how they renovate your discards and at the same time rehabilitate themselves.

If your group would like to see this program, send a card to the Public Relations Dept. of Goodwill Industries, 6522 Brush, Detoit 2, Mich.

Mrs. Burch urges that in the meantime you get your discards together for the Goodwill trucks which will be in Tecumseh Tuesday, May 25. Call Mrs. Burch at 868 and she will arrange for the Goodwill truck to stop at your home.

The Silver Lining

Look for the silver lining
Whenever a cloud appears

CONDUCTED BY BOB WARREN

WHAT DOES THE ELUSIVE and expendable element of time mean to you?

It must mean a lot to a little old man who looks in our door window here to check the clock. He does this a dozen times a day.

One day we will work up our courage and ask him what this checking on time is all about.

THESE BRIGHT MAY DAYS are perfect for a number of activities: from picnics to golf to gardening.

But why spoil them by being so busy? They are too nice to waste. Let's just sit down and watch them.

ANY NEWSPAPERMAN worth his salt would know better than to identify persons in a picture from the engraving since they are reversed like mirror writing when they appear in the paper. I wasn't worth my salt last week because I used this process and I really goofed on the identification of those in the Mayors' Day picture. My apologies to all concerned.

LAST WEEK THE LINING mentioned the lost art of eating peas with a knife.

Duane De Loach, publisher of the Blissfield Advance, read the piece and sent along this little ditty that he used to say and smile at when he was a kid:

I eat my peas with honey,
I've done it all my life.
It makes the peas taste funny,
But it keeps them on my knife.

GOLLY THAT WAS an excellent concert of the high school band last night. It really takes a lot to beat this band!

MARK TWAIN IS KNOWN to millions for his humor, but he also was a philosopher.

He once said when he was a boy of 14 he couldn't stand to have his father around because he was so ignorant.

But when Twain got to be 21 he was astonished at how much his father had learned in seven years.

THOUGHT FOR THIS WEEK — There always is room at the top because so many who get there go to sleep and roll off.

PUBLIC RELATIONS — Only recently a person high in a state service men's organization was discussing how difficult it is to show the general public the type of constructive work that is done by veteran organizations.

Too often, he said, the public only think of individual members of the group who get a little frisky at conventions and the generalization is made that the whole group is made up of just a bunch of bums.

To a degree, this old problem of veterans' groups is true here, too. The public long remembers a transgression but is too quick to forget the worthwhile projects that a group dedicated to servicemen and their families does in a community.

No, we are not condoning the action of any organization that needs police action to correct. We do not agree with the chap who came in and said "Say, wasn't that a shame that those boys were caught?"

There is far too much of this attitude prevalent today. Stay within the law or beyond the law, but just be careful you don't get caught. The "shame" was not in their getting caught; the "shame" was in starting the program in the first place. There should be no place for such activity in an organization of this type or in any other, even though it makes money for the organization.

One thing more may be said. The VFW will have a difficult time "living this down." It long will be remembered while some of the projects engaged in by its members for veterans and their families and the good of the community will be quickly forgotten. This should not be, but it is a human element that groups have to work against.

It is heartening, however, to see that the VFW is continuing its fine projects and aid to veterans' families in need.

It will take time, but it will live this one transgression down.

RESPECT — Even Congressmen are beginning to realize they are losing respect of the people during the McCarthy-Army investigation.

They have given up the idea of voting themselves a $12,500 pay increase this year. Two reasons were cited: some of them think the McCarthy-Army feud hearings have lowered the public's opinion of Congress. Second, congressmen have cold feet about such an issue in an election year.

"I don't think the . . . hearings have increased respect for Congress," Rep. Keating (R-N.Y.) told his colleagues.

He could have been completely positive in his statement since the side-show called an investigation has lowered the people's respect for their congressional leaders.

Th administration's battle for control over the executive branch of the government — this is what all the steam and gnashing of teeth really is all about — also has lost prestige abroad.

The nauseating circus is still going on and nobody apparently is winning. But all of us are losing.

During part of the show, the fortress in Indo-China fell and Communism now has a further toe-hold in this beleagured country.

The McCarthy-Army feud may see a page of history or legend repeating itself. It is like Nero fiddling while Rome burns. Now it might be too late to put out the fire.

VISIBILITY GOOD! — The evidence mounts that our nation's economy is accomplishing a smooth transition from production for destruction—war—to production for plenty—peace.

There is every indication, say those who study the economic trends and the facts and figures, that this will be on the whole a good year for everybody—exceeded only by 1953, which was a record year.

Despite the outlandish schemes of the socialistic and political spenders for throwing the economy off course, despite the depression howlers, the signals are set for full speed ahead!

METHODISTS PLAN CHILDREN'S DAY

Plans have been perfected for the observance of Children's Day at the Methodist church, Sunday, May 23. All classes will meet in their regular rooms at 10:15, repairing to the sanctuary at 10:30 where Sunday school and church services will be combined.

After a song by the congregation, the Rev. Ronald Brunger will lead in prayer and speak on the subject 'Why We Have Children's Day." Finger plays and songs will be presented by the children of the nursery under the direction of Mrs. T. Rentschler and her helpers and there will be baptism of babies.

An anthem by the junior choir precedes the program by the kindergarten pupils, who led by Mrs. McClure and Mrs. Poley, will sing and recite. Don Martin will then have a Bible reading after which the primary department with Miss Bertha LaPointe and Mrs. Peterson in charge entertain with more songs and recitations. The next part of the program will be an anthem by the senior choir, to be followed by a playlette, "Knowing Jesus Makes a Difference," given by Mrs. J. T. Callihan's juniors.

There will then be recognition of the seniors and the closing hymn by the congregation.

TO TOUR CAMP

The Sunday School of the Methodist church will tour Judson Collins Camp at Wamplers Lake Saturday afternoon. This camp, which covers 127 acres beside the lake is a Methodist project and any member of the church or other friends are cordially invited to join the tour.

The Junior and Intermediate groups are to meet at the church at 4 p.m., each to bring a sack lunch. Those desiring transportation or those having extra car space are requested to report at the church.

Teen Club Party Attended By 150

The dance given for the Teen Club Saturday evening was a definite success and most gratifying to the sponsoring organization, the Jaycees.

Held in the Central school gymnasium from 9 p.m. to 12:30 it was attended by some 150 teen agers. The Dur Whipple Dance Band of five pieces furnished the music for the evening and met with an enthusiastic response.

Chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. James Hartsell, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. James Freckelton and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kampmueller. They were invited by club members, who also provided refreshments of sandwiches, potato chips and pop. Dancing and eats were free.

During the evening, officers of the Teen Club were elected for next year. They are: President, Nicky Touborg; vice president, John Naser; secretary, Linda Beck and treasurer, Bob Benham.

There will be no more dances this spring and summer but the Jaycees who feel that this one was a great success, hope to sponsor others next season.

Realty Views

The well-known lecturer made a statement which interested the group at a commercial club meeting. "More businessmen who retire do so on the income from erating their own businesses, and money put into real estate investments than from any other source."

The audience leaned forward to catch his next remarks, "They earned the money from successfully operated their surplus funds into real estate.

"Many started small. They made a down payment on a commercial building, apartment or farm. Then they found good tenants who paid all charges on the property and retired the mortgage."

"There's the secret. Start with 'self - liquidating' investments. Often a mortgage company will take 60 per cent of the risk. But you get all the benefits of owning the property from your 40 per cent equity.

"It's a logical investment program for anyone to consider," he concluded.

We would be pleased to show you some choice investment properties. You'll be surprised how easily you can get started.

FRIENDS SOCIETY STARTS AGRICULTURAL PROJECT

Members of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Friends church have embarked on an agricultural project for the summer. Saturday they planted 100 pounds of potatoes, approximately three-fourths of an acre, on the farm of Walter Wiemer on Stone Hwy.

Proceeds of the venture are to be given to Cleveland Bible College at the Harvest Festival of the church this fall.

At three o'clock Sunday afternoon, services of dedication were held at the field, with the Rev. Edward Escolme giving the invocation.

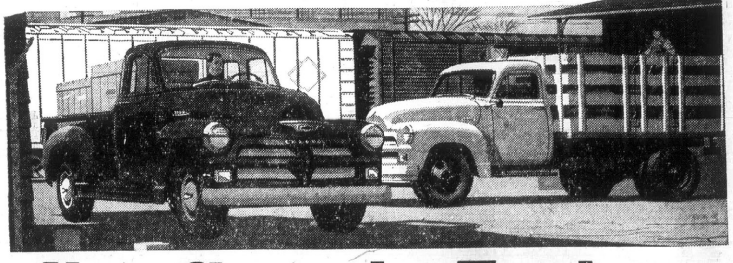
New driver comfort! New driving ease!



New Chevrolet Trucks...

do more work per day . . . more work per dollar!

You save time in traffic. New truck Hydra-Matic transmission gets you off to smooth, time-saving starts without shifting or clutching. Imagine how easy this makes driving in traffic and on delivery routes! It's optional at extra cost on ½-, ¾- and 1-ton models.

You save time on the highway. New high-compression power gets you up to highway speeds from a standing start in less time, and saves you time on hills, too. You make trips faster—and the new Comfortmaster cab makes them seem shorter. It's got everything!

You save extra trips, too. That's because of the extra load space you get in the new Advance-Design bodies. New pickup bodies are deeper . . . new stake and platform bodies are wider and longer. Also, they're set lower to the ground for easier loading.

You save on operating costs. High-compression power saves you money! The "Thriftmaster 235" engine, the "Loadmaster 235," and the "Jobmaster 261" (optional on 2-ton models at extra cost), deliver greater horsepower plus increased operating economy.

You save with lower upkeep. New Chevrolet trucks are built stronger to last longer and save you money on maintenance. There are heavier axle shafts in two-ton models . . . bigger clutches in light- and heavy-duty models . . . stronger frames in all models.

And your savings start the day you buy. In fact, they start with the low price you pay—and they never stop. Chevrolet, you know, is America's lowest-priced line of trucks. And it's also the truck that has a traditionally high trade-in value.

Come in and see how much you're ahead with America's number one truck. You'll like the way we're talking business!

OLD TIMES TALKED AT OVER FIFTY CLUB

Table favors for the May dinner of the Over Fifty Club last Thursday were provided by a troop of Girl Scouts under the leadership of Mrs. E. J. Crawford and Mrs. Cecil Fielder.

Sassafras tea was a special on the menu and "Recreation of Other Days" was the discussion topic after the dinner. The good times mentioned included dances held in homes and barn dances with such "callers" as Dave Macham and Mr. Doty. Spelling bees, singing schools, sleigh-rides and dozens of other home made forms of recreation were recalled as well as civic affairs such as bicycle races, and Tecumseh's successful baseball league.

Excursions and Lyceum courses, farmers' clubs and picnics came in for their share of discussion and it was agreed that the family had more fun as a group than under present conditions. Mrs. Martha Kopka, Miss Elizabeth Beamish and Mrs. Del Finch assisted Mrs. Rentschler. The group decided to have a potluck supper the second Thursday evening in June.

MISSIONARY SERVICE

Another Missionary Baptist service will be held Sunday afternoon, May 23 on the third floor of the Odd Fellow Hall. The Monroe quartette will sing and the Rev. Edgar Owens of Jackson will preach.

The Round-up will be held in the kindergarten room and will include demonstrations of readiness on the part of the children in such branches as arithmetic, language, reading and writing. There will be opening exercises of songs and the Pledge of Allegiance, a musical dramatization and music by the Rythm Band.

A social hour will follow the program and all parents and interested friends are cordially invited to be present. Mrs. Updike will be assisted by Mrs. Gibbs Barber and Mrs. Howard Morris and children taking part will include Kenneth Bagley, Edward Brazee, Steven Butler, Sharon Dicks, Randall Dotson.

FORMER RESIDENT DIRECTS CHOIRS AT YOUTH FESTIVAL

Glen Gould, former choir director of the Tecumseh Methodist church, directed the combined choirs of 725 voices at the Annual Youth Festival in the Central Methodist church, Detroit last Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Edna Taylor O'Conner, formerly of Tecumseh, directed the choirs in the senior high group in their numbers and then presented two choirs which she directs regularly as guest singers in a combined number.

The Youth Festival is sponsored by the Guild of Church Musicians, a department of the Detroit Council of Churches.

He is also director of a student nurses Glee Club of 60 voices at Grace Hospital. He is also teaching class piano at Wayne University. MS Sufferers Say "Thanks"

More than 5,000 persons are saying "thanks" to all the citizens of Tecumseh and Michigan who contributed through their Red Feather community fund to the campaign against the disease of multiple sclerosis.

They are the Michigan victims of this mysterious, crippling malady which until recently completely baffled medical science.

Now thanks to the help received through such agencies as our local Community Chest, research is finding out how to lessen the disabilities of those who are so unfortunate as to be affected.

Michigan is conducting a campaign from April 20 to June 15 but it is a campaign of information not a drive for funds.

People of the state contributed more than $57,000 for this cause through their Red Feather gifts and, while part of this money went to the national society for research, the rest is being used to finance a diagnostic and treatment center in Detroit.

This being the silver anniversary of the Festival, Miss Rogers was given special recognition and for the first time consented to ride in the parade. She wore a special hand-made Dutch costume and the float on which she rode was decorated with 1,000 living tulips.

Mrs. Keyser and Mrs. Tressler were accompanied by Mrs. C. A. Wright, who was a college friend of Miss Rogers and all had seats in the stand from which Gov. Williams reviewed the parade.

There's No Change In Transporting Ridgeway HS Students To Tecumseh

At the last meeting of the Tecumseh Board of Education members discussed transporting high school students from Ridgeway to Tecumseh and decided that since the Waring District had been transporting these pupils in the past at the expense of the Ridgeway Board of Education that the local district would continue under the same plan for next year.

This arrangement is feasible since the bus must pass within a mile or so of Ridgeway to pick up Tecumseh District children and will not be overcrowded on that route even with the addition of the Ridgeway pupils.

The bus will also be used to alleviate overcrowding on the other two Tecumseh public school buses.

Notices were sent to all rural districts now sending high school students to Tecumseh high school.

About 30 students enrolled May 7 and they were given prognostic tests in Algebra, if they desired to enroll in that subject.

A tentative four-year schedule was discussed and completed for these pupils wherever possible.

This is a part of the "annual rural education day" events and there was no marked increase in rural enrollments for next year.

It is, therefore, predicted that the high school will not need to run any noon hour classes next year unless there is a marked growth within the city this summer.

Tecumseh elementary schools are already overcrowded and even with the opening of the new Catholic school this condition will not be alleviated to any extent since so few Catholic children are involved in each section of public grade school.

Local Nurses Host District Meeting

The Tecumseh Nurses were hostesses to the Lenawee District Nurses Association at Pythian Hall May 13, at a dinner meeting. Tables were gaily decorated with miniature spring hats and the center pieces were flower-filled hats.

Brief reports were given by Mrs. Lillian Nelson, Adrian; Mrs. Florence Coman, Hudson; and Mrs. Hilda Will, Tecumseh, of their visit to the American Nurses Convention last month in Chicago.

Installation of new officers followed and those who will be in charge for the coming year are: President, Mrs. Ann Pfister, Adrian; vice president, Mrs. Florence Coman, Hudson; secretary and assistant, Mrs. Ann Spalding and Miss Helen Jacobson, both of Adrian; treasurer and assistant, Miss Mary Alice O'Reilly, and Mrs. Alice Williams, Tecumseh and director for 1954-55, Mrs. Mildred Schmidt, Manitou Beach.

Noted Americans Support IGHUGS

Tecumseh workers on the recent IGHUGS (I'm Gonna Howl 'bout Unnecessary Government Spending) Campaign will get radio support from three noted Americans on Tuesday evening, May 25, Donald T. Nixon, Manager of the Tecumseh plant of The Quaker Oats Company, announced today.

Former President Herbert Hoover, Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey, and U. S. Senator Harry F. Byrd will speak, he said, at a Government Economy Rally in Town Hall, New York City. Their pleas that citizens everywhere demand greater economy in our Government will be carried to the nation coast-to-coast over the NBC Network from 8:35 to 9:00 P.M., EST.

The Government Economy Rally, Donald T. Nixon explained, is being sponsored by the Farm-City Conference, of which John Stuart, Quaker Oats board chairman, is honorary chairman.

And very definitely, it comes from the eye-catching beauty in which you travel—the look-of-tomorrow styling that graces ROADMASTER today—and with the spectacular new panoramic windshield that is fast becoming the mark of true automobile modernity.

We'll be delighted to seat you at the wheel of a new ROADMASTER—so that you can drive it, try it, feel it.

1490 K C

SPECIAL NOTICE

After a short period of operating on 1500 kilocycles WABJ has returned to the 1490 spot on your radio dial. We expect to remain at 1490 indefinitely, and eventually, 1490 will be permanently assigned to us. That will be when WJBK, Detroit completes necessary construction, technical adjustments and tests. And that is when WABJ will be authorized to operate unlimited time, allowing us to expand our program services for Lenawee County, southeastern Michigan and our friends to the south in northern Ohio.

In the meantime, there may be, from time to time, occasions when, for certain periods we will have to shift from 1500 to 1490, or vice versa. However, such a change is so slight that, should you encounter some fuzziness in your radio reception, you can readily clear it up by simply turning the dial just a bit.

We ask your indulgence during this test operation.

COMFORT TILE CO.

A stranger traveling south on Rogers Highway of an evening might well wonder if a bit of Pittsburgh had been transplanted to southern Michigan. But the smoke and fire that for nearly a century has been glowing at the foot of Comfort's hill processes clay instead of metal.

The Tecumseh directory of 1869, lists the "Patterson and Comfort Brick Yard" and locates it very exactly as "1¾ miles S.E. of the village." Even then the enterprise was ten years old.

Elwood C. Comfort, grandfather of the present owner, made brick there in 1859 to build the white-painted house, set far back on the other side of the highway, which is still the family home. He was the son of Aaron Comfort, the Pennsylvania Quaker who built the four-square house on the corner of Green and Russell roads now owned by Paul Wolfe, and it was typical of the anti-slavery activities of the Society of Friends of that period that a colored man "who knew about brick making" was available to carry on the work. Probably he had learned the trade from a southern master for he and his negro helpers made brick not only for the house but additional ones "to defray expenses." The clay was "worked" by horse power, the bricks shaped by hand, dried in the sun and fired in loosely built stacks over wood fires.

This was the beginning of a business that has lasted until today but, of course, these were not the first bricks that had been made in the town. In fact nearly every suitable clay deposit seems to have been a source of brick for the necessary chimneys and fireplaces of the new community.

A letter written in 1828 by a member of the Ketcham family whose home is now that of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Branigin says, "Stephen is making brick this summer, in partnership with another man. They have made about 50,000 and calculate to make about 20,000 more. They are worth $5.00 per thousand."

Early village records refer to a brickyard east of the Brownville bridge and there are many evidences that brick were made on the sites of the houses as they were being built.

It was in 1869 that Dr. C. M. Patterson became a partner in the Comfort project and the company installed "up to date" machinery to the recorded value of $10,000. Advertisements of that period show that the H. Brewer and Co. Foundry (predecessors of Tecumseh Products) was then making both steam engines and brick and tile machines, so it is more than probable that both power and equipment were secured locally. Dr. Patterson remained with the company less than ten years and, in 1881, Elwood sold out to his son William who carried on the family business until his death in 1895, when his brother Albert, father of the present owner, took over.

The brick business seems to have found a steady market in the expanding village and surrounding country. The first brick house in the town is supposed to have been built probably about 1830 by a lawyer named Backus, and is now part of the Pottawatamie St. home of Mrs. Martha Murphy. Practically all the business blocks were made of Comfort brick as was the "Opera House," the Methodist, Presbyterian and Baptist churches and the more pretentious homes of the period.

The prosperity of the town following the Civil War resulted in the erection of many large and substantial, if not always practical, houses. In the surrounding country it was, in many cases, an almost direct translation of Lenawee wheat into brick. With the commercial building that was taking place it meant good business for the brick yard.

Some time during this period the company began the manufacture of tile as well as brick. A price list for 1887, indicates that this line was well established by that date. For many years both brick and tile were made but changing agricultural and building practices gradually shifted the emphasis to the latter and the "Comfort Brick" became the "Comfort Tile Yard."

2 Band Concerts Are Presented

The first of two concerts in a busy week was presented at the new Patterson gymnasium Monday. The fifth and sixth grade bands and the junior band participated in a program of band music.

Also included on the program were six outstanding instrumental soloists. Camilla Grigg and Jean Hoag, fifth grade, Roger Mead and Judy Truesdale, sixth grade, and Jerry Woodward and Gerald Kruse, seventh grade, provided the additional entertainment.

Band training begins in the fifth grade and the fifth grade beginners showed the audience just what they have gone through in their first year of playing.

In the sixth grade, the players have their first experiences with full band playing about once each week. Junior band players continue this experience on the junior high level.

These three bands are the first three steps to membership in the high school concert and marching band, which presented its annual concert Wednesday in the new high school gym.

MISS JUDITH H. CRANE SERVICES TUESDAY

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon for Judith H. Crane, daughter of the late Theodore and Bricena Chadwick Crane. Born in Tecumseh, August 24, 1893, she had made her home here until a few years ago. Death occurred Saturday morning in the hospital in Ypsilanti, where she had been a patient since leaving Tecumseh. She was a member of the local Presbyterian church.

Miss Crane is survived by two brothers, Ronald S. of Chicago and Vernor W. of Ann Arbor; one niece, Mrs. William Gibson of Upper Mt. Clair, N. Y.; and two nephews, Ronald Crane of Chicago and Theodore R. Crane of Cambridge, Mass.

The Rev. George Walworth conducted the services in the Collins Funeral Home and burial was in the family lot in Brookside, with her two nephews and Perry Satterthwaite and George Adamson as bearers.

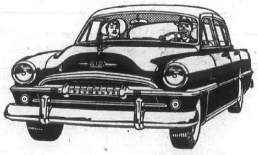
Plymouth

dares compare!

now... part-by-part proof that Plymouth is America's "best-buy" low-price car!

No other low-price car would dare make a comparison like this: Plymouth engineers actually dismantled the three best-known low-price cars and compared them, part by part! Their findings, a few of which we've listed below, prove conclusively that Plymouth is far-and-away your "best buy" in the lowest-price field.



Here's Just some of the overwhelming proof that Plymouth is "best buy"!

Comfort Level Seating
Both front and rear Plymouth seats are highest. Plymouth research found this more natural seating position gives greater posture protection and comfort.

Front Wheel Brakes
Plymouth engineers provide two hydraulic brake cylinders in each front wheel to ensure smooth, straight-line stops without "grabbing." The "other two" have only one brake cylinder in each front wheel.

Spark Plugs
Because they last up to five times longer before resetting is necessary, Plymouth uses resistor-type spark plugs. This type plug also produces smoother idling, better gas economy at low speeds.

Oil Bath Air Cleaner
An oil bath air cleaner can reduce engine wear as much as 90%. This unit is standard equipment on all Plymouth models; it is available only at extra cost on the other two low-price cars.

And dozens of other part-by-part comparisons prove Plymouth is your "best buy"! See us today... and get the facts!

Ask us for the big illustrated booklet that shows how Plymouth leads in frame construction... engine design... performance... economy... comfort... safety.

Tecumseh — Phone 289

The best of men can be undone by looking backward and trying to make up for lost time.

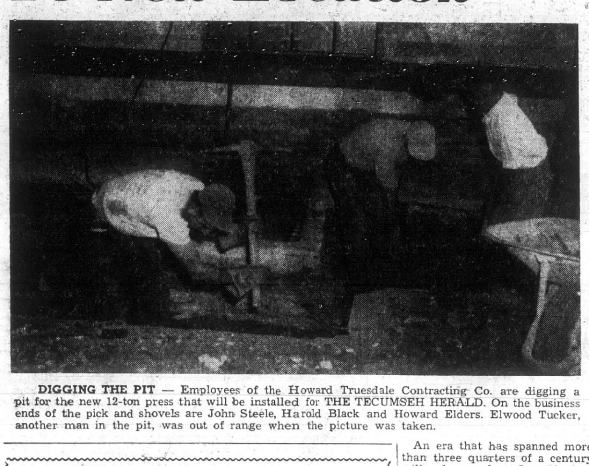
THE TECUMSEH HERALD

A public record of news and advertising printed in Tecumseh since 1850.

ONE HUNDRED THIRD YEAR — NUMBER 34 | TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, MAY 27, 1954 | FIVE CENTS A COPY

After 76 Years

HERALD Will Move To New Location



DIGGING THE PIT — Employees of the Howard Truesdale Contracting Co. are digging a pit for the new 12-ton press that will be installed for THE TECUMSEH HERALD. On the business ends of the pick and shovels are John Steele, Harold Black and Howard Elders. Elwood Tucker, another man in the pit, was out of range when the picture was taken.

An era that has spanned more than three quarters of a century will end on or about June 10 when The Tecumseh HERALD moves from its present building to the Weatherman building on Evans street.

Not many business places have been in the same building for 76 years as the HERALD has been. In fact, the building where it is now being published was built for the HERALD in the summer of 1878. Benjamin Swan constructed the building of Comfort brick for Scovel Stacy, HERALD publisher.

Almost 76 years later, the building soon no more will hear the revolutions of a printing press or the busy hum of activity necessary to putting out a paper.

Instead of a newspaper, the building will house an expansion of Gambles.

Another feature of the longevity of the HERALD in the present location was the fact that it was housed in the oldest building in the continuous use of one business.

One of Mr. Stacy's heirs, Mrs. Frank Turner, still owns the building.

The HERALD is moving because it needs more space. The Weatherman building provides this necessary additional space.

Moving to a new location is not the only factor in the HERALD'S future expansion plans.

When the paper is housed in the new location it will have a new press. Twelve tons of this printing machinery arrived from Tulsa, Oklahoma, Monday morning.

The new press, called a Duplex, will mean one more column per page and it will double the present press run from four to eight pages. This means there will be less time needed to print the entire paper and it also will mean that more time can be given to making up inside pages.

The move and the new press are only two of the objectives sought by the HERALD. Other aspects of expansion and in printing a community newspaper worthy of a city of this size and its people are in the planning stages.

None of the plans will be realized over night but when they do materialize the HERALD will be the first to announce them. The present staff hopes another long era will begin when the move is made.

The Silver Lining

Look for the silver lining
Whenever a cloud appears

CONDUCTED BY BOB WARREN

HAVE YOU EVER ENJOYED BEING ROBBED? We did. We happen to live in a wild and wooly section of town known as Indian Acres and last week one of the wildest and wooliest acts yet was performed when our place was robbed.

A lady raccoon lives in the sycamore tree across the creek from our house and she paid us a visit. On a previous night she had knocked over the garbage cans and when we turned on the porch light, she scooted.

This night, however, it was 2 a. m. as she crashed over the cans awakening us. She's a smart robber, but noisy. She pushed against the cans, then jumped back to avoid being hit. For a full quarter of an hour we watched her forage for food. She stayed long enough for us to awaken our eight-year-old girl so she could see the show, too. Next morning our four-year-old cried when she heard that the old coon had come and she had not been awakened so she could see the act too.

So now the whole family will watch for mama coon and the girls call tid bits left from meals coon bread and coon hot cakes. We wrap them in paper and the coon comes up to get them. Her name, they say, is Queenie and the girls are sure that the father's name is Kingy and the little coons, if there are any, are named princes, which is really quite logical.

A LOT OF FOLKS ARE wondering if a tradition will end when the HERALD begins to print on its new press. These folks long have been used to having a thin piece of paper trail from the unfolded paper and they are worried less this condition no longer prevail on the new press. Take heart, we might be able to continue this condition of such long standing, but we hope not.

Pool Dedicated, Gym Inspected

Hundreds of persons turned out Saturday to attend the dedication ceremonies of the Joyce Andrews Memorial Swimming Pool and to view the new high school gym at a public open house.

Taking part in the dedication ceremony were the Rev. Blair Bashore, the Rev. George Walworth, Mayor H. H. Hanna, Carl Hale and Hal Kelso.

Councilman Kelso was chairman of a committee that was in charge of the dedication.

After the short dedication services, members of the University of Michigan swimming team put on an exhibition of speed and comedy swimming and of diving.

Mefbers of the high school student council conducted visitors through the new high school gym and explained its features.

Firemen Are Honored At Testimonial Dinner

Tecumseh volunteer firemen were honored at a testimonial dinner in the Legion hall last Friday night and members of the city police department were guests.

The dinner, originally planned by W. G. Waldron, Tecumseh Township supervisor, was given in partial appreciation for the work done by volunteer firemen.

The Rev. B. O. Bashore, pastor of the First Baptist Church, and city councilman who was toastmaster called on the following persons who made brief remarks:

Mayor H. H. Hanna said "I've always had admiration for the volunteers and their fraternal feeling. Speaking for the entire community, we do appreciate your efforts very much."

Wrights' Home Damaged By $20,000 Fire

A fire last Thursday caused damages of about $20,000 to the house and contents of the William Wrights, 303 W. Pottawatamie.

The loss is covered by insurance.

Mr. and Mrs. Wright were taking naps when the fire began and the cracking fire awakened them.

He called the fire department and firemen had the fire out in 25 minutes.

Before it was out the fire burned off the roof and into the attic which collapsed onto the second floor. Water and smoke did the most damages to the interior and contents of the second floor.

Some of the furniture was carried out into the street by firemen and volunteer help.

The Wright family temporarily is living in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Green, Sr.

Legion Auxiliary To Have Poppy Sale Saturday

In observance of national Buddy Poppy Week members of the local auxiliary of American Legion will sell poppies Saturday, May 29.

Mrs. Leland Cheever, Auxiliary Poppy chairman, says that disabled veterans of three wars, working in veteran's hospitals and convalescent work rooms have made approximately 25 million crepe paper memorial poppies to be worn in honor of their fallen comrades on that day.

The disabled men have been at work throughout the winter with material supplied and earnings paid by the American Legion Auxiliary. Poppy making gives them something interesting to do and for many who have spent long periods in the hospitals it gives the encouraging experience of being able to earn money once more.

The poppies are distributed by volunteer workers from among the auxiliary's one million members and all contributions from those who wear the little red flower of memory will go into the auxiliary's rehabilitation and child welfare funds.

Assisting the local auxiliary members will be the Morning Glory troop of Girl Scouts, who are sponsored by the organization. The prize winning posters, advertising Poppy Day and made by local boys and girls, will be on display in store windows this week.

In the window of Green's clothing store, the auxiliary committee, Mrs. Cheever and Mrs. Vern Manwaring, have arranged an interesting display which graphically illustrates the meaning of Poppy Day.

Two Teachers Are Released From Contracts

At the last regular meeting of the board of education of District No. 7, the board voted to release Mrs. Norma McFerran and Mr. Robert Peck from their 1954-1955 contracts which were signed last February.

Mrs. McFerran who has been teaching first grade at Central School will teach in Adrian Public Schools next year, as her husband's church is situated there.

Mr. Peck has as yet announced no plans for the future.

Miss Shirley Teske, a graduate of Tecumseh High School in 1952, who has completed her work with honors at Michigan State Normal College at Ypsilanti, will take Mrs. McFerran's first grade.

Mr. Don Johnson, who has been band director of the 60 piece Hartford band for the last seven years, will take over for Mr. Peck.

Mr. Johnson is married and has four children.

"We are pleased to secure such outstanding teachers for our 1954-1955 staff," Supt. James McDowell said.

GOLF PRO PATTY BERG WILL APPEAR AT CLUB

Members of the auxiliary of Herrick hospital are making plans for the annual exhibition day which will be held at the country club next month.

Miss Patty Berg, golf professional, will put on an exhibition of golfing.

The date of the event will be announced.

BASIC VALUES — When we first came to Tecumseh we heard that it is a town that is over organized with clubs and organizations and that its citizens only are concerned in keeping up with the Joneses in an economic and social way.

The basic values—which for years have been known as the good, the true and the beautiful—vital to good community living, these detractors said, are missing entirely in little old Tecumseh.

Persons voicing these complaints should have been to the testimonial dinner for firemen Friday night; and they should have been present prior to the dinner so they could have seen the fine spirit of cooperation that made this community activity the success that it turned out to be.

Had they seen the dinner and had they known of the cooperative planning that preceded the dinner they would have had to admit that Tecumseh's folks know the value of helping the other fellow after all.

The dinner reminded me some how of an earlier Tecumseh when it, like other communities, had the building bee for the farmer who lost his barn by fire; the husking and thrashing bees for the farmer who was injured during the harvest season; or the quilting bee for the young married couple in the community.

First, a fellow named W. G. Waldron had an idea that a testimonial dinner for firemen would be fine gesture; and he kicked the idea around with others. The more he talked about it the more he influenced others as to the merits of such a dinner. The Rev. Blair Bashore consented to be toastmaster; the Legion donated its dining room space; merchants gave food for the dinner; a group of ladies volunteered to cook the meal and a group of Scouts said they would serve.

The result was an affair that was the most inspiring community activity we have seen yet. An idea was brought to its final result in a cooperative dinner that cut across many fields of endeavor.

The dinner, finally, proved an old point. No matter where you are or what you are doing, you can see the good, the true and the beautiful, if you will but look. These basic values are here, even though some folks don't realize it.

We looked and we were inspired almost beyond the point of being able to describe it.

SHOP AT HOME — You hear a lot about shopping in your home communitly and you always will see the HERALD supporting this idea.

A little paper in Iowa explained this shopping at home in the following manner:

If every car, new suit of men's clothes, new hats, dresses, etc. for milady, shoes, radio sets, television sets, drugs, gasoline and tires, hardware, heating plants, produce and feed, groceries, printing and other items used or needed in everyday living and business were to be bought from local suppliers, you would notice some of these things begin to happen:

Your local printer would have to add a man or two to handle the printing; your clothing dealer would need an extra clerk, maybe more; your filling stations would put on more men; your radio and TV dealers would need more help, and could offer even better service; your hardware and other hard lines dealers could and would expand their services; your auto dealers would sell more cars, more cars would require more servicing, and more mechanics—and so on down the list.

All these workers would come from the age bracket which is in the family-raising era. The average family, the census people say, is 4.2 people. So multiply each extra job by 4.2 and you have a sizeable increase in our population.

More population means more students in our schools and the opportunity to add more courses and instructors, thus making the schools more attractive than ever. More population adds to the opportunities of our doctors and other professional people and merchants.

All by trading at home!

Think about this, you people who save a few dimes, or even a few dollars—or think you save them—when you buy or order away from home. A little of the Golden Rule applied right now, right here at home, would be the greatest shot in the arm the town could have.

So easy to do.

The dollar spent away from home does the community no good. Let the home fellow make a dollar. Eventually it benefits everyone.

Forget the grouses and gripes about "the other guy" for six months to a year. Spend your dollars at home. And within a year, you'd never know the old home town—in community understanding, improvement and general all-around gains.

The better the town gets and looks, the more others will want to come here. It's a golden circle that helps EVERYONE.

Baptist Mother-Daughter Banquet Attended By 200

Lilacs and sun-bonnet baby programs made the tables attractive for the annual Mother-Daughter banquet of the Baptist church last Tuesday evening.

Held in the Youth House at 6:30 it was attended by 200 mothers and daughters. Mrs. Hal Kelso was in charge of the decorations and Mrs. Floyd Barrett and her committee prepared the baked ham supper which was served by a committee of men headed by George Green Jr.

After the invocation had been pronounced by Mrs. B. O. Bashore, Mrs. Eddie Kirkland, as toastmistress, announced the program, which began with songs by the kindergarten and primary daughters, led by Mrs. Lyle Grigg to the accompaniment of Marcia Bashore. The toast to the daughters was given by Mrs. Gilbert Nighswander and the response to the mothers by her daughter, Nancy.

Presentations were made honoring the oldest mother, Mrs. Ira Lamkin whose home is now in Blissfield, the youngest, of whom there were two, Mrs. George Van Camp Jr. and Mrs. Russell Handy, both of Clinton, and the youngest daughter, Gayle Handy. Five mothers with three daughters each were present, Mrs. George Green, Mrs. Dow Bilby, Mrs. Roscoe Hewlett, Mrs. Sam Clough, Mrs. C. O. Bailey and Mrs. Leonard Daykin. Mrs. Warren Naugle was distinguished as the mother with the most daughters-in-law.

One four-generation group was honored, Mrs. C. W. Follis, Mrs. Delbert Tallman, Mrs. Russell Handy and daughter, Gayle all of whom live in Clinton.

In remembrance of those mothers and daughters who had died during the past year, Mrs. Dow Bilby sang "Memories" accompanied by Mrs. Lyle Grigg. Boxes of homemade candy were sent to those who were unable to attend and a collection of $13 was taken for the fund for retarded children.

The speaker of the evening, Mrs. Lawrence Ward of Milan, entertained and inspired the company with her presentation of dolls of many nations. Dressed in authentic costumes the toys were used by Mrs. Ward as symbols of universal motherhood throughout the world, women whose joys, sorrows and problems were identical.

The telephone rang and Mrs. Martin asked, "I hear there has been a change in the income tax laws. We don't have to pay any tax if we sell our home for more than we paid for it, 11 years ago. Is that right?"

"It is if you reinvest the full proceeds in another home within a year. Then there is no tax to pay," I answered.

"Does it make any difference," she continued, "if we buy first? Or do we have to sell and then start looking for another place?"

"Either way is permitted," I replied. "You may make plans as you see fit."

"Fine," Mrs. Martin exclaimed. "Why don't you come out and look our house over. We would sell it. Or we might buy another one first if you have the kind we're looking for. Our main idea is to get a smaller home, a little farther out. But this house would be nice for a growing family. Can you come right away?"

"Yes," I said, "and we will be glad to answer any other questions you may have about selling and buying again."

GARDEN CLUB NAMES CONVENTION DELEGATES

There were 28 members and four guests at the home of Miss Mary McWilliams Friday afternoon for the May meeting of the Garden Club.

Mrs. R. J. McCoy and Miss McWilliams were named as delegates to the State Conference of Garden Clubs in Kalamazoo in June and the club voted in cooperation with the Abi Evans Chapter D.A.R. and the Tecumseh Monday Club, to sponsor a Tecumseh teacher at the Higgins Lake conservation meeting.

The program of the afternoon was an impromptu one due to a last minute change but proved very interesting. Mrs. J. R. Thompson reported on the excellent progress made to date in the landscaping project at Herrick Memorial hospital and Mrs. Thomas O'Hara told of the work of the Cub Scouts in planting the shrubs that were their gift.

A group of original garden poems written by Mrs. Fred Dickinson were then read by their author to the delight of the audience.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Earl Wickwire, Mrs. Donald Heesen and Mrs. Charles Branigin Jr. served delicious refreshments from a table decorated by a lovely bowl of tulips from Miss McWilliam's garden.

The June meeting of the club will be a noon picnic at the country home of Mrs. F. C. Furry.

ROBERT PECK HONORED BY SIXTH GRADE BAND

Judy Truesdale acted as hostess Monday evening for the Patterson School Sixth grade band at the Truesdale home on W. Kilbuck.

The occasion was a farewell appreciation party on part of the ten boys and girls of the band, honoring Robert Peck, who is not returning to the school next year.

Gifts were presented to Mr. Peck by the group with speeches of deep appreciation and refreshments were provided and served by the band members themselves.

Members include Roger Mead, Robert Dick, Judy Palmer, Ricky Holdridge, Richard Stephenson, Sally Vincz, Doris Ollipsant, Alice Titley, Kendra Ringman and Judy Truesdale.

HONORED AT SHOWER

Thirty members of the Young Peoples Class of the Adrian Brotherhood Tabernacle held a covered dish supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Selders Saturday evening honoring Mrs. Vernon Selders, whose marriage to Mr. Selders was announced early this spring.

A linen shower followed the 7:30 supper and Mrs. Selders received many lovely gifts. Pvt. Vernon Selders is now stationed at Sampson Air Base, Geneva, N. Y.

INTERNATIONAL AIR MAIL POSTAGE RATE IS ESTABLISHED

Beginning June 1, an international air mail postage rate of ten cents each will be established for single post cards destined for delivery in other countries, according to Postmaster Jack Metcalf.

The new rate will not affect the existing air mail rate of four cents for cards addressed for delivery in Canada and Mexico, or eight cents for cards addressed for delivery in Cuba and Saint Pierre and Miquelon.

The four cent domestic air mail or international surface postal card may be used by affixing six cents postage, or a commercial picture post card may be used with ten cents postage, the postmaster said.

Is That So!

By Clara Waldron

(With apoligies to Comfort Brick and Tile Co. whose story will be continued next week. Bricks will last but spring is fleeting).

That often mentioned "stationary cold front" of the weather bureau, the one that seems to have been stationary all spring with one foot in Michigan and the other on the north pole, had a silver lining after all. The tulips loved it.

Maybe they are a bit later than in other years but never have they had richer color or longer, straighter, stiffer stems. Every door yard seems in passing to have at least a few and the Darwins in Mrs. R. S. Moore's Chicago street garden march in serried rows of such unusual pastel beauty, that they invite the passerby to stop and wonder.

For sheer number probably Ann Carson's display down at the end of Logan street leads the town, but she says, rather ruefully, that many of them are not supposed to be where they are. They nod from every corner of the garden, a graphic illustration of the tenacity of tulips to "stay put" no matter hom many bulbs have been lifted from that spot. But while some, have reverted to nature she has a group of special white ones that inspire awe in the beholder.

A lovely line of scarlet runs through the shrubbery on the D. D. Walper grounds, the foundations of dozens of homes in the area around the hospital are hidden by masses of blooms and tantalizing glimpses of color can be seen in the garden of John Hamilton on West Pottawatamie.

An almost professional display is enclosed by the white picket fence about the home of Mrs. Neil Pearson. There, against a background of phlox, dwarf tulips and "basket of gold" rise clumps of Darwins, parrots and double tulips so unusual as to seem almost unreal.

But speaking as a passerby, there is a special "thank you" due to those, who like Mary McWilliams, share their blooms with the public and somehow we think Mrs. Mae Dickinson has the best idea of all with her "curb-stone" garden which even the most hurried motorist must enjoy.

Not quite on our doorstep but only a few driving minutes away are tulips to satisfy the most demanding gardner. This is one of the high points of the year in Hidden Lake Gardens. Holland may have more but not in such a perfect setting.

Mr. Fee's gift to the people of Michigan, through the agency of Michigan State College, scarcely receives the acclaim it deserves, from those of us who can reach it so easily. They are called experimental gardens, those acres of wooded hills and stretches of quiet water. Doubtless they serve that purpose.

But to the privileged public who may walk and drive over the winding roads and trails they are nature at its best. It is not a recreation park in the commonly accepted term and not a picnic ground, and unless you like bumper to bumper driving, Sunday is not the best day to visit there. A quiet morning and a pair of hiking shoes are the most satisfying introduction.

HAPPY HOME BUILDERS HAVE FINAL MEETING OF THE SEASON

The Happy Home Builders of the Baptist church held their last regular meeting of the season Monday evening at the Youth House with 39 present. A potluck dinner was served at 6:30 with Mr. and Mrs. Dow Bilby, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Tallman and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith as hosts.

Mrs. Bilby was in charge of the devotional period and of the games which followed the business meeting, presided over by Mr. Smith. Plans were made for the public barbeque suppers to be given by the group every two weeks during the summer, the first of which will be June 12 with Mr. and Mrs. Orville Bishop and Mr. and Mrs. Dow Bilby in charge.

A contribution to the retarded children's fund was made by the group, who will not meet again until September 13.

May Time Is Theme Of Kindergarten Program

A colorful and entertaining program featuring "May Time" was presented by the kindergarten pupils at West Branch, Friday for mothers and friends of both the morning and afternoon groups.

Little kindergarten hostesses greeted the guests at the door, and presented each one with a program which featured the entrance of the pupils with their gaily decorated bonnets and hats which they had made themselves.

Activities for the program centered not only on the songs and dramatizations of the May season, but also on the preparation and readiness for entering first grade. This phase of work was brought out in number, reading, and language readiness; courtesy; rhythms; rhymes and finger plays.

Each pupil participated and had work displayed about the room.

Dainty refreshments were served from a table attractively decorated with a May pole and miniature dolls in pastel colors. The room mothers who assisted were Mrs. Keith Barron, Mrs. George Green, Mrs. Daniel Bush, and Mrs. Harry Crosby.

Children taking part were Jana Barron, Glenn Barton, Sharon Beemer, Linda Brazee, Ricky Brighton, Marsha Curth, Timmy Dickinson, Diane Dull.

Safety Movie May Be Booked

"Look Who's Driving," the Aetna Casualty and Surety Company's new public service film, has won recognition as the best traffic safety movie of 1953 at the Golden Reel Film Festival in Chicago.

Elmer Eberhardt, local insurance man, has this film for free booking for clubs and organizations.

The Golden Reel Film Festival, sponsored by the Film Council of America, was the largest industry-wide contest ever held in the 16mm. field, and is similar to the Academy Award competition in the 35mm. category.

"Look Who's Driving", an eight minute cartoon animation film that pictures drivers who act like children at the wheel of a car as the major cause of highway accidents, was produced in technicolor in Hollywood by United Productions of America.

More than 425 films had been pre-selected for the final Golden Reel competition in which the voting for the awards in the twelve categories was done by judges professionally engaged in the production and use of motion pictures. The Golden Reel award in the general safety class went to a farm fire safety movie sponsored by the American Petroleum Association.

"Look Who's Driving" had its premiere showing at the Johnny Victor Theater at Rockefeller Center in New York last winter and has since won wide-spread plaudits of motion picture critics.

In a completely new approach to the underlying cause of highway accidents, "Look Who's Driving" declares psychological war on motorists who don't act their age when driving.

The Etna film is available for showings on a free loan basis as a part of the company's public service safety program, and may also be obtained in 35mm. for showings in theaters.

"Killer" Speed Exacts Biggest Toll In Summer

"Slow down and live longer. Drive too fast and die that much sooner."

That's the message of Sergeant Claude Bartell, commanding officer of the Clinton Post of the Michigan State Police, in pointing out that June, July and August are the months when speed, the No. 1 public enemy on the highway, takes its greatest toll.

Michigan law enforcement agencies are now cooperating in a state-wide campaign to make motorists more speed conscious.

"Last year 45 per cent of the traffic violations reported in fatal accidents were for speeding or driving too fast for conditions," Sergeant Bartell said. "Safety appeals are meant for all. If drivers will gear their speed to existing conditions, such as traffic and weather, it will definitely cut down the number of fatalities."

In 1953 there were more than 1,900 persons killed and nearly 58,000 injured in 184,000 accidents in Michigan. This was an increase over 1952 of nine per cent in deaths, 18 per cent in injuries and 15 per cent in accidents.

Run-off-road way accidents, the type most commonly attributed to driving too fast for conditions, accounted for 435 of the deaths.

Motor vehicle travel in Michigan during the summer months will jump from the daily average of 71,000,000 miles to 80 million.

"This means greater exposure to accidents," Sergeant Bartell said. "The state law does not set a specific speed limit, but it does require that speeds be no greater than conditions justify. In other words, be sensible and use good judgment at the wheel. Avoid that accident. It's possible."

The training exercise involving more than 80 ships and some 60,000 Naval and Marine personnel, was climaxed by an assault landing on "aggressor-held" Onslow Beach.

The maneuvers were aimed to maintain the combat readiness and increase the battle efficiency of the participating naval elements and troops taking part.

Business Women Install Officers

Installation of new officers was the important item of business at the May meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club, Monday evening. Hostesses were Mrs. Harry Stanifer, Mrs. Anabel Finnigan and Mrs. J. M. Mulvaney, who had made the tables very attractive with flowered napkins and beautifully arranged bouquets of pastel colored flowers.

Forty-three members and four guests were present. During the business meeting conducted by the retiring president, Mrs. George Hay, the club referred the question of a meeting place for next year to a committee.

Annual reports of retiring officers were then given including a very complete summary of the years' activities by the secretary, Mrs. Cecile Smith.

Mrs. Naomi Sallows, as program leader and installing chairman, introduced Lee Vescelius, who had been sponsored by the club as their candidate for summer music camp. Lee, accompanied by Mary Louise Kotts, played a trombone solo, "Song At Twilight" and responded with an encore.

As a background for installation, Mrs. Sallows then called on Mrs. Duane Service, first president of the club, for the story of its beginning. Mrs. Service responded with a brief but comprehensive history of its early days and Miss Clara Waldron, also a charter member and past president, read a jingle written for the club's first birthday adding a postscript to bring it down to date.

Introduced by Mrs. Sallows, the outgoing officers then presented their successors and all were honored with gifts. The new officers include Mrs. Homer Colson, president; Mrs. Ray Sluyter, vice president; Mrs. Lewis Schultz, second vice president; Mrs. George Hay, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Mervyn Boltz, recording secretary and Mrs. Gordon Garlick, treasurer.

A farewell gift was made to each of four teacher members who will not be with the club next season, Mrs. Louise Faling, Miss Joyce Warner, Miss Esther Shell and Miss Velera Huffman.

The new president, Mrs. Colson, announced her committees for the coming year as: program, Mrs. George French, Mrs. Ralph Sager and Mrs. Cecile Smith; membership, Miss Maxine Runk, Mrs. Naomi Sallows and Miss Geraldine French; finance, Mrs. Purnell Osburn, Miss Marie Koerning and Mrs. Fay Whelan; publicity, Mrs. Edna Staulter and Mrs. Barton Meyer; parliamentarian, Miss Ruth Harding.

The summer picnic of the club will be held June 26, the details of time and place to be announced later by a committee headed by Mrs. R. Dixon.

BAPTIST MEETINGS

The Junior Youth Fellowship of the Baptist church spent the hour from 2 to 3 p.m. Sunday afternoon at the Parrett nursing home where they conducted services. The devotional program was led by Nancy Nighswander and the group sang religious selections.

The monthly class party of Mrs. Gillespie's Sunday School Class was held Wednesday evening at the Youth House, beginning at 7:30.

Tecumseh Lads Win Tractor Plowing Contest

When Lenawee county held its annual Skilled Operators and Tractor plowing contest, events included backing and pulling a two and a four wheeled trailer around obstructions and belting up to another tractor. Points were given each time a contestant ran into any markers, grated geers or killed engine, changed direction to avoid a marker or violated any safety precautions. The winner was then judged to be the boy with the least number of points.

First place in this contest went to John H. Wilt of Tecumseh with 1240 points. Mr. Norman Moore, a representative for the Standard Oil Company who donated the award, presented a cup to John on which his name will be engraved.

The other placings in the operators contests were: 2nd; Phillip Lee Fenn, Tipton 1615; 3rd Larry Robison, Tecumseh 1625; 4th Robert Long, Tecumseh, 1665; 5th Floyd Avery, Tecumseh 1685; and 6th Ronald Johnson, Tecumseh 2255 points.

The boys each plowed a strip 50 feet wide to be judged. A "points penalty" system was also used. The scoring was based on evenness of crowns; coverage; proper and uniform depth and straightness of furrows; pulverization; trash coverage; and neatness of head lands.

The first place honors went to Floyd Avery of Tecumseh with 347 points. He was presented with a cup on which his name will be engraved and then kept by him until next years contest.

The highest winners in both contest 15 years or older will represent Lenawee County in the State Plowing Contest later this year.

The other placings in the plowing contest were: 2nd, Robert Long 346; 3rd, Herbert Quigley, Tecumseh 345; 4th, Larry Robison 342; 5th, Charles Hendershot, Tecumseh 336; 6th, Ronald Johnson, 329; 7th, Phillip Lee Fenn, 329; and 8th, John Wilt 317.

The contest was held at the Dale Dean farm near Ridgeway and about 50 people attended the event.

The Standard Oil Company provided free gas for the boys tractors driving the contest and Faye Whelan, Tecumseh, supplied the barrels that were used as markers in the contest.

Sandwiches and coffee were available provided by the Methodist Youth Fellowship of Tecumseh.

All of the boys participating in the contests were from the Tecumseh Cylinder Heads 4-H Club of which Fred Long is the leader.

Judges for the event were Mr. N. H. Kelley, Hudson Township Supervisor; Mr. James Mitchell, Raisin Township Supervisor and Mr. W. G. Waldron, Tecumseh Township Supervisor.

City Cooperates In Reducing Car Accidents

Chief George Kilbourn today announced that the city of Tecumseh is cooperating with the State Safety Commission on the state-wide program aimed at reducing traffic accidents due to dangerous passing.

According to Chief Kilbourn passing is one of the most difficult and dangerous maneuvers a motorist can make in traffic. This is because in most instances it requires crossing the center line and facing oncoming traffic head on, prior to getting by the car ahead and pulling back into the right hand lane.

In an all-out effort to help motorists to do their passing more safely an intensive public education program is planned over the two months of June and July. The Michigan Trucking Association, one of the co-sponsors of the program, has made possible the distribution of 200,000 leaflets containing twenty safety tips on passing and 10,000 posters carrying the message "SHARE THE ROAD-KEEP IN LANE".

The Chief pointed out that motorists should be particularly careful in trying to pass a car on city streets where parking on both sides leaves only one lane open in each direction for moving traffic. "Trying to pass a car between one intersection and the next with short block lengths of 300 feet is hazardous — especially if the end of the passing maneuver takes place almost at the intersection", he said.

Chief Kilbourn called upon all motorists to cooperate on this safety campaign and improve their passing habits so that we may reduce traffic accidents without his department having to arrest more motorists for illegal passing.

Tecumseh BOOK SHELVES Library

By Mrs. Conrad Fosbender

Something new has been added. New books for all the members of the family. For the small children there is "Peter Churchmouse," by Austin. "Day by Day," "I Know a Secret," "To and Fro," "Before Winky," all pre-primers for that beginning reader.

For the teenage boy there are two new baseball stories "Rookie Fights Back" by Burgess Leonard and Duane Decker's, "Mister Shortstop." For a good exciting adventure why not try "Superjet" by Zarem.

"Boarding School Mystery" by McGee, and "Whistling Mountain Mystery" by Snow will appeal to any young person who likes a good mystery. Girls will be interested in "Sally's Real Estate Venture," "Orchids for Anita," "Library Lady," and "Super's Daughter." All offer Careers, ro-mance and excitement.

Several very interesting books have arrived for adults. One is Kathleen Mann's "Peasant Costume in Europe," illustrating and telling the story of clothes worn in Europe. Second is "Weapons," by Edwin Tunis, which shows the many types of weapons used from pre-historic man to atomic weapons.

Other books available for your reading pleasure are, "The Doctor" by Soubiran, a love story in a doctor's training school in France; "Minister's Daughter," a light love story by Hamil; a historic novel, "Queen's Gift" by Fletcher; "Soldier's Story," the life of Omar Bradley; and "Hold Back the Night" by Frank, a story of the Korean War.

The public library is open to serve you from 2 to 9, Monday through Saturday.

EXTENSION CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

Another organization has suspended activities until fall. The Comfort Extension Club held the last meeting of the season Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Clifford Adams. Election of officers for the next season resulted in the choice of Mrs. Lawrence Cote as president; Mrs. Elray Finneigan, secretary and treasurer; chairman of flowers and publicity, Mrs. George Finnigan and Mrs. Adams, recreation leader. Project leaders will be Mrs. Melvin Wagner and Mrs. T. J. Wagner.

A white elephant sale was the entertainment of the evening and the project lesson was on the best use of a sewing machine. The next meeting will be in September.

"Hi-'n-Priced" Mistake

Maybe you noticed the big "ad" Red Smith's Furniture Store ran in The Clarion last week.

One item caused some embarrassment around here. It read: "4-piece Bedroom Suite, regular price $119.50, bargain price $149.50." Guess I didn't "proof-read" too well, and when our pressman asked for the go-ahead, I yelled, "Let 'er go."

All kinds of jokes about the mistake. One fellow asked if Smith's was holding the price line so tight it just snapped. Turned out fine in the end—Red sold that suite for the real sale price, of course.

From where I sit, it's lucky my carelessness didn't cost Red any business. I'm the one who's always "experting" on being careful—careful of our responsibilities, careful of our neighbors' rights. Even careful to respect the other fellow's preference for a glass of beer. Let's all make a bargain to be more careful in the future.

No. 1 DON'T PASS ON A HILL
Passing on a hill is like driving on a dark night without headlights. You can't see what's ahead. You can't tell when a car will pop over the hill. If it does you're in for a head-on collision — the death of somebody else may be on your hands.
"Blind" hills on all state highways and on some county highways have a yellow line telling you where you cannot pass. Less important hills may not have this protection. Don't take a chance. When in doubt, don't do it.
Remember the higher the speed of both cars the longer it takes to pass — so at high speed do your passing a long ways before you reach that hill you can see ahead.

FIREMEN

Councilman Roy Titley, former Tecumseh Township supervisor, gave a brief summary of the fire department, stating that prior to 1942 residents in the township pooled finances to pay for needed equipment then in 1942 the township board decided to serve everybody by using township funds and a tax for equipment was voted.

Now, he added, all equipment is part of the city equipment. The department now serves Tecumseh, Tecumseh Township and parts of Clinton, Raisin, Macon, Franklin and Ridgeway Townships.

Councilman Titley said "You are doing a good job and we all are proud of you."

Harold Easton, a volunteer fireman, speaking for firemen, thanked Supervisor Waldron and others who made the dinner possible and he thanked police for their help at fires and Ellsworth Collins for having his ambulance ready for emergency use.

Chief George Kilbourn of the police department said "It is a pleasure to work with such efficient volunteers."

City Manager Ed Nelson said: "You are a splended bunch of boys and you rate with the best."

"Every day", he continued, "we receive more permits for homes which means more protection will be needed. This means that as we can we will have to add more equipment."

Ellsworth Collins told how fast firemen get to fires and how fast they put them out. He said "It took only 25 minutes to put out Wright's fire yesterday."

Local merchants were thanked by firemen for contributing food for the dinner and Harold Easton was instructed by the Rev. Bashore to thank the Legion board for the use of the hall.

Ladies who prepared the dinner and Scouts who served it also were thanked. The ladies were Mrs. John Kopka, Mrs. George Milosh, Mrs. Mildred Robinson and Mrs. Delbert Weaver.

Scouts of Troop 73, Richard Smith Scoutmaster, who served were Roger Mead, Jim Hoot, Jim Milosh, Jerry Ireland, Ronnie Smith and Carl Habric.

IN LAPEER COUNTY OLDTIMERS call Attica Attica and Elba Township Elbee Township. They have nothing on folks in Lenawee County. On a county signpost on Rogers Highway is this wording: "Palmyree, 2 miles". The chap who painted that sign must have been a real old timer.

SMILING AND WAVING, president of Britton Bob Wallace was in the Pictorial section of the Detroit News Sunday. His picture was in connection with the quiz on Detroit.

LAST WEEK WE TALKED with Mrs. Arthur Schwartz to get some information about her husband who is the new councilman. We asked if they had any children and she said "No, but we will have in about two weeks." And she added "We think it's wonderful". And, we add, so do we.

THAT WAS A REAL CROWD-PLEASING act the University of Michigan swimmers put on for the crowd attending the dedication of the new swimming pool Saturday. Those watching could have stayed all day to see the fun.

SUPERVISOR W. G. WALDRON commented on the tractor plowing contest last week: "It was a real inspiration to see these young folks plow. They really know how to handle those tractors."

SAY, THOSE FIREMEN CAN EAT as well as put out fires. They did what was expected of them — a wonderful job of mowing away platters of chicken and trimmings at their testimonial dinner.

WE'VE JUST BEEN TOLD of an African witch doctor with an interesting side-line. He hoof-prints gnus for the native owners — at least those of the animals whose hooves are in good enough shape to register.

His business slogan is "All The Gnus That's Fit to Print." O.K. We'll go quietly.

THOUGHT FOR THIS WEEK —

When I quit this mortal shore.
And mosey 'round the earth no more
Don't weep, don't sigh, don't sob—
I may have struck a better job.
Don't go buy a large bouquet,
For which you'll find it hard to pay,
Don't mope around and feel all blue—
I may be better off than you.
Don't tell the folks I was a saint,
Or any old thing that I ain't.
If you have jam like that to spread,
Please hand it out before I'm dead.
If you have roses, bless your soul,
Just pin one on my buttonhole,
While I'M alive and well today.
Don't wait until I've gone away.

EMMET M. MORELAND

The three regular firemen are Lawrence Price, Charles Manley and John Saling. Price and Manley are regular drivers and Saling is relief man.

Volunteers are Cecil Alderdyce, chief; Burnell Moon, assistant chief; Lee Purkey, second assistant chief; and firemen Leo Alderdyce, Max Brandt, Harold Easton, Frank Gray, John Hamilton, Gale Hooten, George Kempf, Roger Linger, Jack Curtiss, Don Purkey, Dick Purkey, Robert Randall, George Seitz and Robert Seitz.

Volunteers are paid by the hour when they are called to a fire.

DOUBLE ANNIVERSARY

A family dinner party last Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dow Bilby on N. Adrian Road marked a double anniversary for Mrs. Bilby's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Coller. It was the 57th anniversary of their marriage and also Mr. Coller's 82nd birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Coller now make their home near their daughter, although most of their married life was spent in Macon. In spite of recent illness, both Mr. and Mrs. Coller are in fairly good health.

Grade School News

Grade 1
Mrs. Elsie Neitling

It seems only a little while ago that we were saying "hello" to you and telling you about all the things we hoped to accomplish during the year. Now it is time for us to say "good-bye" to you for this school year. We are very happy to tell you that we have had a very successful year. Most of us have covered all the material for first grade and are confident that we will be able to do the same in second grade.

We finally finished the A, B, C books which we started so long ago. We had some lovely and original cover designs for them.

We are working out the units in our new social studies book, Peter's Family. Last week we drew pictures of our own family and wrote our own stories about out family. All of the stories were interesting and we enjoyed reading them to the other members of our class.

Recent visitors in our room were Mrs. Richardson, Mrs. Day, Mr. Choske, and Timmy Frelic. We are always very happy to have our friends visit us.

We made cards for Mother's Day and wrote little notes telling Mother something we would do for her on her very own day.

We are going to have a spell-down this week. It will be fun to find out which of our teams can spell the most words. Since we have learned to play the game where we substitute different consonants at the beginning of words, we can spell many new words.

Thank you for reading our news this winter, and have a very happy vacation. We'll be seeing you next September.

West Branch—Grade 1
Miss Steinhoff

We are busy trying to finish our work for this year in order to be ready for the second grade.

We recognize our alphabet and we have learned to do manuscript quite well. We are still working on our phonetics.

We have learned to count and write by tens to one hundred. We are reading "Peter's Family" for our social studies group.

There is another new face in our room—Max Peters who has been in Lenawee County a short time but came from Wisconsin.

Grade 1
Mrs. Sclater

We have all been working hard to finish all of our books before school is out. Some of us are reading "Peter's Family." We all like this book, and we are making pictures of our own families.

In science we have been studying about flowers. We have decorated our room with the different kinds of spring flowers that we made. Many of the children have brought in flowers that we have studied.

We have started to learn about birds. We are making a book of the different birds that we see in Tecumseh and writing a story about each one.

We want to thank the mothers that came to visit us the day of open house. We enjoyed having them come.

This is all for this year, but you will be reading about us again next fall.

West Branch—Kindergarten
Miss Bugbee

The next time you hear from us we will be first graders. We can hardly wait. We have been getting ready for first grade for quite awhile now. We're even taking our rugs home soon.

For Mother's Day we surprised our mothers with carnation corsages which we made ourselves. We also made them some pretty cards.

We have been able to count for quite awhile, but now we are learning to write our numbers. Each one of us has made a number booklet.

"The Farm" has been oue of our main interests lately. We each brought farm pictures cut out of magazines for our farm. We also drew our own pictures of the farm. We have learned many things. We talked about the animals, the work of the farmer, and things that are grown on the farm. Jeffrey Robinson brought his big barn for us. Several others brought the machinery and toy animals. Rae Lynne Crosby brought her kitten, "Marty." Cathy Haskins brought her little yellow chicken, "Mr. Peepers." Allison Derby of the second grade brought her parakeet to show us. We have heard many farm stories and have also made up our own.

The measles are just about over in our group, but now an eye infection has struck some of our friends.

Linda Belote has moved to Saline. We miss her very much.

Those who have birthdays this month are Ofelia Zuniga, Richard Smith, Richard Sparks, Ronald Nichols, and Rae Lynne Crosby. Richard Smith's mother surprised us by bringing ice cream and cake on his birthday.

Our visitors this month have been Mrs. Robinett, Mrs. Brighton, Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. June Green, Mrs. Meyer, and Mrs. Smith.

We hope our mothers are all planning to come to see us Friday May 21st. We are having lots of fun making our own costumes and planning our party.

So long until next year!

Patterson Kindergarten
Mrs. Updike

We have been very busy planning our program which will be held Friday, May 21st in our room. So many ideas and plans have been suggested by all of us that we have changed our ideas many times.

We have entertained all of the other children in our school and we enjoyed having them in our beautiful room so much.

Our work books are keeping us busy too and now that we are ready to be first graders we are proud of the papers that we take home.

Karen Hall has been a big help to us with our acquarium. It had a leak in it, so Karen brought us a smaller one for our fish while our big one is being repaired. We now have two angels, two blue tetrus, two zebras, one red wag, one fan tail, and several guppies. When we have time we like to watch them. Old Joe-Jo—our big snail always make us laugh. Many of our mothers have visited us during our first year in school. We always like to have them and as our teacher says, it helps them understand better how important kindergarten is. The following parents have been with us: Mesdames Brazee, Butler, Forrester, Howard, Lord, Marsh, Merx, Miller, Runk, Smith, Snyder, Starkey, Mr. and Mrs. Rodgers, Morris, Bailey, Barber, Dick, Hollar, Hunt, Kennel, Manwaring, Millheim, Parrett, Pihl, Rosecrans, Tater, Thompson, Titley, Wolf, Richardson and Smock.

We hope we will see them all on Friday the 21st. Our morning program will be at ten o'clock. The afternoon will be at two-thirty.

Grade 1
Mrs. McFerran

The last few days we have been writing stories and making pictures about the circus. We are making a large circus ground on one side of the room. We have tents, clowns, elephants, seals, monkeys, bears, and many other things.

We have started our new book "Peter's Family." Reading group three started the book "Many Surprises." We are working hard to get all our work finished in the next few weeks.

Patterson—First Grade
Mrs. Faling

Hello there! We are back with you again and for the last time as First Graders. We are so excited. We have worked so hard this year! We have enjoyed being First Graders with you and we want you to be with us next year, too.

Right now we are busy planning for our display case. We have been making many things. Ours is the last one this year so we are using a vacation at the beach for our theme.

The "Jets" have started two new books. They are reading "Our New Friends" and "Peter's Family." The "Pilots" are finishing "Fun With Dick and Jane" and the Indians are reading their new books, "Guess Who."

In arithmetic we are learning to count by tens. We use little sticks and put them in bundles of ten; then we count each pile. We can count to one hundred. We are almost finished with our Number Workshop books, too. We have really been working hard!

We are trying to complete our second writing books, too. These are much more difficult but we just work that much harder. Some of us have quite a spelling list in our book. We have been spelling with a jumping rope instead of a ball. Mr. Kaiser came in to see our spelling lesson one day.

Our science books are finished, too. We have a bird nest and a broken robin's egg, a cocoon and some pretty stones in our science corner. We hope our cocoon will open before school is out.

For Mother's Day we each made our mother some plaques for her kitchen. Some of us couldn't wait so we gave them to her before Sunday. She really liked them, too. We made May baskets on May Day and decorated them originally. We then visited all the rooms to show our art work. My! but we were proud of them.

Those of us who have May birthdays are: Douglas Beasley, Marvin Grigg, Sharon Green, Terry Lauer and Gregg Schultz. Happy birthday to all of you.

I guess that's all the First Grade news. We were glad we could get together one more time. Bye for now; have a nice summer. See you next year.

This 200-horsepower Buick CENTURY is the Riviera—the hardtop model that's taking America by storm.

Live wire that really looks it

(One reason why Buick is such a big success this year!)

IT'S sports-car lines tell you there's lift and spirit here enough for any man.

Even standing still this glamor car looks alive.

And that look-of-tomorrow styling that's part and parcel of every new Buick—that sweeping panoramic windshield with the dream-car slant—all that says there's action here, and plenty of it.

But just note the name "CENTURY" emblazoned on its rear fender, and you can take it as gospel that this is a performance car of the very first water.

It's the livest of the live wires—the highest-voltage Buick in the line.

It is instant on getaway, a joy in cruising, a breeze on hills—and a honey of a friend in the added safety of its plenty reserve power always on hand for sudden needs.

It is, in fact, a 200-horsepower performance car, and priced far below it—the highest-powered car at its price in the land.

With this great-powered good-looker setting the pace—and with equally impressive SPECIALS, SUPERS and ROADMASTERS adding to the excitement—is it any wonder Buick today is outselling every other car in America except two of the so-called "low-price three"?

Come in and try one of these gorgeous new Buicks. With the prices we're quoting, you can make the buy of the year this very week.

Iris Growers To Have Open House

The South-Central Iris Club is sponsoring "bloom time" visiting of iris gardens through the blossoming season this spring. In former years a spring meeting has been held but the new plan enables members to enjoy a wider garden display.

Locally, the growers who are holding open house for all interested visitors are the Pearson iris gardens on west Pottawatamie where 250 named and labeled varieties may be seen; the garden of Mrs. Gervaise Brown on Iroquois where 200 are labeled; Mrs. Al Helzerman's garden on S. Oneida and Miss Ann Carson's on E. Logan St.

Others who have smaller but equally beautiful displays are Mrs. John Hamilton, W. Pottawatamie and Mrs. Henry VanDuser on the Clinton road.

Interest in iris growing is increasing every year as new and more beautiful varieties are being developed, and while the layman may not appreciate the finer points of variation the rankest amateur must enjoy their beauty.

CONDUCTED BY BOB WARREN

FOR 32 YEARS CY CURTIS has been decorating graves of veterans with flags. Now graves registration chairman for the American Legion, Cy began this thoughtful work in 1922. Later Perry Satterthwaite and Percy Bowen helped. Monday Cy was aided by Charlie Howe of the Legion and by Waldo Mohr and Warren Filter of the VFW. Clayton Young, sexton of Brookside Cemetery, also helped as did Ed Leighton in outlying cemeteries. These men remembered fallen soldier comrades of the Civil, the Spanish-American and the two World Wars by distributing 240 flags on veterans' graves in Brookside, Hall, Little Hope, Grubb and Tipton Cemeteries. For distinguished service, their work is unmatched.

EVER WONDER HOW MAYOR H. H. HANNA got his nickname? This is the story. Years ago when the mayor was a kid a comedian dressed in a baggy coat played the local opera house. The comedian was named Oley Olson. H. H. some how, some where, got an outsized coat to wear and from that day to this our dignified, immaculate mayor has been known as Oley Hanna.

MONDAY'S PARADE MARKED the first time in 19 years that Louie Schmeider had not been marshall for the Memorial Day parade. I never had the privilege of seeing Louie on that prancing horse during a parade but I understand he always did a tremendous job. As is always the case, it is difficult to follow in the footsteps of a good man; but I think Gerald Smith should come in for a big hand as the parade marshall this year. He filled this role very capably.

WE HAD HEARD A LOT ABOUT the local hospital but you never really know until you need one. Monday our four-year-old daughter had a tonsilectomy there. She fared far better than did her parents. And we want publicly to thank the doctors and nurses for the excellent care they gave and for the kind manner in which they treated us anxious parents. Their actions were very much appreciated.

WHILE HE WORKED on the home of John Saling, electrician Ralph Sager found bits of The Detroit Commercial Journal dated May 4, 1877. According to the address, the paper had been mailed to a Joseph E. Hall. The only ad readable was for ladies woolen pantaloons for $1.50. In the paper's humor column were these gems: Celery is good for the nerves but salary is better. A good wife is a good thing but a bad husband beats her. It is a plain tiff that often makes the plaintiff in a law suit. Why is dancing like milk?—Because it strengthens the calves. The favorite hymn of the grasshopper — "This wheat by and by." Why is a letter like a flock of sheep? — Because it is penned and folded.

Boy Given Sauk Shots Here Goes To Hospital With Polio

A seven-year-old boy who received Sauk shots here May 4 and 11 has received nation-wide publicity since contacting polio.

Robert Wattles, second grade student at Pentecost School, is in a chest respirator at the University of Michigan hospital. He had been in an iron lung.

Son of Merritt Wattles who lives near Tipton, he has paralysis in the arms and legs.

It may be months before health officials will be able to determine whether he received the vaccine or the useless substance used in the control.

He was one of seven children in the nation who have developed an illness diagnosed as polio. But these have not been proved by confirming tests.

Dr. Hart E. Van Riper, medical director of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, mentioned the case in a New York speech Thursday night.

Dr. Van Riper reported that some other children in the trial developed milk allergic reactions, possibly due to penicillian contained in the vaccine itself. The vaccine is made of dead polio virus.

Dr. Van Riper reiterated his confidence in the safety of the vaccine and Michigan has started giving the third and final round of shots to some of the 50,000 participating in its tests. The local tests started Thursday.

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, said he is "encouraged" because only a single case of paralytic polio has developed among first, second and third graders who received the shots.

"The effort is to find whether the vaccine has been discovered that will prevent polio—not to prevent polio at the moment," Dr. Heustis said.

"One case among all these children is not significant. If there were no experiment, we would expect in the usual year 30 to 50 cases in the group being tested."

The seasonal rise usually begins early in June.

Nine of the 10 participating Michigan counties will finish the test Friday and Oakland, with the biggest program, June 11.

Dr. Thomas Francis, University of Michigan medical school, will evaluate the nationwide experiment but said he expects no final conclusion until next year.

Dr. F. S. Leeder, State Health Department director of disease control, said the ratio of children continuing in the program is "remarkably high."

Products Will Build New $1,500,000 Illinois Plant

A new $1,500,000 plant will be built in Danville, Illinois, by the Tecumseh Products Co. Construction of the high precision machine plant will begin July 1, reports Joseph E. Layton, company president, and Frank K. Smith, director of sales.

President Layton said the new plant will have no effect on the parent plant here but it will augment manufacturing in the Tecumseh plant and other company plants.

About 500 persons will be employed at the beginning of operations. The plant will be built on 33 acres. It will have 60,000 square feet of floor space.

Company officials hope to have the new plant ready for manufacturing by the first of the year. When completed, the plant will produce 1500 compressor and condensing units for the refrigeration industry per day with the possibility of increasing this production in the future.

Mr. Layton and Mr. Smith said the Illinois site was selected after months of searching throughout the United States. They said Danville was selected because it provided a desirable geographic location, ample water supply, transportation facilities and an abundance of electricity and gas. A rail spur will be built into the plant.

Danville is a city of 37,864.

Mr. Smith said: "The Danville plant will give our customers another source for our product and assures them of overnight delivery."

Company officials cited the cooperation of the Danville Chamber of Commerce. "Their help in securing the site and facilities for water, sewage and power was a major factor in selecting Danville."

Details of the transaction for the Danville plant were completed in the past three weeks, with Mr. Layton and Mr. Ray W. Herrick, chairman of the board, directing negotiations.

The Danville plant will be the third production plant opened by the company. It also has a service plant. Besides the Tecumseh plant it has plants in Toledo and Marion, Ohio, and a service division at Emeryville, California.

When the new plant gets under operation company will have 5,970 on its payroll with 4,100 employees at the parent Tecumseh plant.

Memorial Parade Viewed By Hundreds

Hundreds of folks from babies to grandparents braved threatening skies to watch a long and colorful Memorial Day parade Monday.

Some watched from sidewalks lining the route of the parade; others sat in their cars to see the units; still others sat on their porches to watch as the parade marched by.

Led by a Sheriff's car driven by local police, the parade formed at Ottawa and Chicago, marched west to Union and then proceeded to Brookside Cemetery for services.

Units of the parade included the color guard, city officials, the Tecumseh High School band, the National Guard mobile units, Legionaires and the Auxiliary, the VFW and Auxiliary; Junior members of the Legion Auxiliary, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Cub Scouts, Brownies, a large truck load of geraniums driven by Faye Whelan, horses and decorated bicycles.

Gerald Smith, parade marshall, was assisted by Herbert Bagby.

Honored guests at the services were Lyman Ousterhout and R. R. VanWinkle, veterans of the Spanish-American War.

Invocation at the cemetery was presented by the Rev. Ronald Brunger, pastor of the Methodist church.

Selections were played by the band under the direction of Robert Peck.

Mayor H. H. Hanna introduced the Rev. Father Thomas Collins who gave the address.

A firing squad of members of the VFW fired a volley and taps were played by a member of the band as wreaths were placed in the cemetery and on Evans Creek in memory of the soldier and sailor dead.

Just as the last peal from the trumpet sounded, the rain came and hundreds of persons sought shelter.

Girl Bike Rider Hurt

Ruby Lambes, 14, of 703 S. Pearl, is in Herrick Memorial hospital with a right hip injury after riding her bicycle into a car Tuesday afternoon.

Riding on the sidewalk on Chicago Blvd., she rode into a car driven by Robert Hanna. Hanna was coming out of the parking lot behind Schneider's garage when the accident happened.

Late Wednesday morning hospital officials said the extent of her injuries have not been determined. Results of X-rays are not known.

Chief George Kilbourn advises children to be very careful in riding their bikes on sidewalks. He asks that they be especially watchful of cars coming out from cross streets.

Judge Rathbun Has His Day

It was Judge George A. Rathbun's day at the Tecumseh Country Club Monday. It also was the "encouraged" because only a single case of paralytic polio has developed among first, second and third graders who received the shots.

Object of the tournament was to shoot the judge's age, after, of course, allowing for the handicap.

Shooting low scores in men's play were Kirk Smith with a 72; Willis Porter with 83; Frank Smith with 83; and Charles Newell with 83.

Low scores in women's play were won by Mrs. Frank Rice with 50; Mrs. Willis Porter with 50; and Mrs. Robert H. Moore with 50.

Prizes won by the golfers were given to Judge Rathbun at suggestion of the committee in charge of arrangements. Chairman of the committee was C. O. Butler.

The 150 guests present were entertained by a Hammond organ played by Clayton Thomas of Toledo.

Address By Father Collins

Today we of the living find ourselves in the City of the Dead.

Here we, whose present seems so deep-rooted and so permanent, are reminded of the hopes and dreams of those who have gone before us. One day their present seemed indestructible, but they have long since been gathered, as the Scripture puts it, into the "bosom of Abraham" which is only a roundabout way of saying that all those who have believed in God, have hoped in Him, have loved Him, have striven after the true and good have gone to Him from whom all life comes forth, high destiny to which all mankind is called by its Maker.

Today the thought of all the dead must touch all of us gathered in the dwelling place of their mortal remains. Surely the shortness of the longest life must be apparent and the relative unimportance of all things save those which are lasting.

Today too a line from the Book of Wisdom fits most aptly especially for parents whose young were taken in the prime of life: "The souls of the just are in the hands of God, and the torment of death shall not touch them; in the sight of the unwise they seemed to die, but they are at peace."

Today there comes to mind the memory of those valiant warriors whose death is so glowingly related in the Book of Maccabees, whose memory is held in benediction.

Then in seemingly endless succession the vision of warriors marching to battle and to death bearing witness to the undying hope that is deep in all races of mankind, to make justice prevail over might and evil. There is no room for cynicism in that heroes are to be found even on opposing battle fronts for one's Fatherland and all it stands for must always draw men even to die for what it holds up to them as true and noble.

Three Fined for Gambling

Three men who were arrested May 14 for maintaining and operating a gaming establishment in Hall-Slater Post No. 4187, Veterans of Foreign Wars, were tried in circuit court in Adrian Saturday.

The men, Lamont C. Harrington, 58; Carl E. Kruger, 32; and Robert I. Baker, 25, were ordered to pay fines of $300 and costs of $25 each.

All three men are from Tecumseh. Harrington and Baker are bar tenders and Kruger is manager of the VFW club.

The three men were arrested by the Michigan State Police rackets squad and charged with permitting gambling to take place in the club.

State police confiscated three slot machines during the raid.

Moore and Mrs. Joseph Rohwedder. Mrs. C. M. Brown will have charge of refreshments, Mrs. Robert Hanna of tickets and Mrs. Vincent Haight, publicity. Wise Woodrow Wilson

TO THE SENIORS — About 100 years ago — at times it seems like it has been this long — when we graduated from high school one of the local merchants in congratulating seniors wrote "The world is your oyster, seniors, go out and crack it."

As an 18-year-old full of vim and vigor, we believed this little homely advice; but we later discovered that this old world is a pretty tough oyster to crack. Instead of cracking the oyster we sometimes cracked our head.

This may be a heck of a way to write for graduating seniors since at commencement time seniors expect the "good luck," "best wishes" and "nice going" type of messages that long have been the forte of commencement speakers.

And, not to disappoint them, we also say congratulations and the best of everything you attempt to do. But we would like to add this point.

During the days of the American Revolution Thomas Paine wrote "These are days that try men's souls." You see there really ain't much new under the sun. (We know better than to use ain't for graduating seniors who have had good grammar practically pounded into them).

Today and in every generation since Tom Paine there have been days that try men's souls. No matter where you turn, these also are days of uncertainty.

But these are good days. And if you heed just this little bit of advice, they will be better days. No matter what you do — whether you enter the army, get married, go on to college, go to work or go into business — remember always to be men and women of fine character and integrity.

Too often today — and in previous days, too, — there is the attitude of degrees of honesty and character. But there are no degrees. Either you are honest or you are not; either you are a person of character or you are not. There is no no middle ground; there can be no half way point.

Your integrity and character are your most important attributes. They are the most important things you have to sell. And they show the most. So does the lack of them.

Use them wisely but humbly. You may not be able to crack the old oyster called a world but you will be able to dent it.

May God speed you on your way.

Letters To The Editor

Likes The Herald

Editor, The Herald
Dear Sir:

I would like to take a few minutes to let you know how much I enjoy reading the Tecumseh Herald. My mother gave me a subscription in December 1953 and I have been receiving the paper for about six months. Ever since I received my first copy I have looked forward to the next one. The parts I like best are the front page and "Local Topics." I like to be able to read about the people back home even if the news is a few days old.

I am stationed at Marine Corps Air Station, Kaneohe Bay, Oahu, T.H. I have been over here since December 1952 but expect to be able to get home on leave this December or January. That is what every Marine is waiting for, to be able to go home for a while.

I think the duty here is the best in the Marine Corps. We never have to worry about snow or ice, and it never gets cold here. A person can go swimming anytime of the year that he wants to. There are quite a few nice beaches here on the island. The Marines aboard the Station can fly over to the big island of Hawaii to spend a weekend. All it costs them is a small fee for chow.

We have some very good officers here. They are very understanding and as far as I know they have always been very fair in their decisions regarding the troops.

Issues like "Michigan Week" make me feel as if I were home and I know you will keep up the good work as you have in the past.

Sincerely yours,
Melvin D. Hoskin
Sgt. USMC

Tecumseh Surprises

Editor Tecumseh Herald:
Dear Sir:

Thank you very much for the paper clippings and photograph. As I never had visited your city before I was completely surprised by the size, city activities and etc. I believe Tecumseh has a great future and I was honored to have the opportunity to visit your city during Michigan Week.

Sincerely,
Clair Hill

POPPY SALE RECEIPTS AMOUNT TO $642

Poppy sales by members of the American Legion Auxiliary last week amounted to a total of $642.77, which the officers consider very satisfactory.

They wish to express their appreciation of all contributions and their thanks to all who assisted in any manner. The fund raised in this way is used in the work of rehabilitation for veterans and their families, much of it right here in Tecumseh. The Auxiliary lends assistance to that work in five veterans' hospitals and to children's welfare.

Even before the volunteer workers appear on the street with their poppies, veterans have already received pay from the Auxiliary for their manufacture, thus the little red flowers play a double role of assistance.

A blonde lady walked in the office and asked what houses we had available for rent. We told her none—in the style she wanted—but offered to show her a few for sale.

"I'm against it," she said, but she agreed to go.

She liked one at $9,500 but hesitated. She said they could afford to buy yet she wondered if the owner wouldn't rent it to them.

"He might," I said, "but for only one reason. He has an $8,000 loan on the property. A $70 rent check from you will make his mortgage payment each month. In other words, you'll buy his house for him. If you stay 15 or 20 years, you'll pay it off in full. But instead of belonging to you — you'll have given it to him."

"My goodness," the lady said, "the only difference in it being ours at the end of the time instead of his is a small down payment. I never realized it so clearly before. Otherwise, we'd pay for it plus interest and taxes, but he'd own it. I'm sure we don't want that."

The next day, they bought it for $1500 down. Now, they'll pay the RENT to the mortgage company, but in 20 years it'll be theirs in full!

Do you want to pay for a house for someone else?

If not, phone 36. We'll show you some good homes you can easily own.

There has been a change in the plans for the Kitchen Tour of the Auxiliary of St. Peter's church which is meeting with so much enthusiasm on the part of members and their friends.

Christian Science Services Listed

The importance of understanding God and man from the standpoint of spiritual causation will be stressed at Christian Science services Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon "God The Only Cause and Creator" will include the following passage from the King James Version of the Bible:

"For thus saith the Lord that created the heavens; God himself that formed the earth and made it; he hath established it, he created it not in vain, he formed it to be inhabited: I am the Lord; and there is none else" (Isaiah 45:18).

Among the citations from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following will be read: "Jesus of Nazareth was the most scientific man that ever trod the globe. He plunged beneath the material surface of things, and found the spiritual cause" (313:23-26).

The Golden Text is from Revelation: "Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory and honour and power: for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created" (4-11).

Common Sense Care For Ourselves . . .

. . . is the most necessary factor toward good health. The main contribution of medicine and surgery is to help nature overcome results of our own neglect.

By our own acts we can lessen the need for hospitalization, and our Doctor's services. So be fair with yourself, — regular physical examination by your Doctor is only common sense precaution.

Kroger Offers College Grants

Michigan is among three states in which the Kroger Co. is offering college scholarships to distributive education students during 1954, it has been announced by Carl S. Fuller, manager of the Toledo, Ohio, Kroger branch which operates stores in this area.

The $500 one-year awards, one in each of the three states, will be available next fall at Michigan State College for study toward a degree in food distribution. Michigan State is the only college in the country offering this degree.

Male students from distributive education classes in Michigan high schools are eligible for the scholarship. Awards will be based on scholastic achievement, character, and personality.

Applications may be made through high school distributive education coordinators. The winning student in Michigan will be selected by a committee appointed by Lawrence T. Thomas, chief of the state's business education division.

Other states in which the scholarships are offered are Indiana and Ohio. The retail food firm also offers 95 college scholarships annually at land-grant colleges in 19 states to young men and women studying agriculture and home economics.

ADDRESS

Today in our own great Fatherland, the United States of America, home of the brave and the free, great citadel of freedom in a world where tyranny is rampant, men and women of all faiths and of all political persuasions are one in revering the memories of those who died that we might live, and grow, and prosper, and drink in all those freedoms that characterize our way of life.

It is not the dead of one war that we recall today, but of all the horrible wars that have scarred the tremendous growth of our land: the long rows of head stones stretched across the green carpet of Arlington Cemetery with the dead of a World War called First, the fields long since covered with flowers in France, the burial lands set on Pacific Isles, the cemeteries of all wars, they are all of them before our mind's eye this day.

Here too in this beautiful City of the Dead these same warriors' graves are to be found and from many wars; and all of us trod this ground with reverence.

As the President of the United States directs us, as the Governor of this sovereign State directs us, we are gathered here to decorate the graves and symbolically to dedicate ourselves to live out in our own lives the pattern of that great American way of life, grounded on reverence for Almighty God and his law, on respect for life, for pursuit of happiness, for liberty and equality for men in which they gloried.

Indians Beat Dales, 6-4 To Take Baseball Title

Tecumseh reigns as champion of the Southeastern League after coming from behind in the last inning to defeat 1953 co-defending champion Hillsdale, 6 - 4.

Losing pitcher Wendell Moyer held a 4-2 lead going into the top of the seventh inning and literally threw the game away on three wild pitches and three consecutive walks.

Bill Benham was on the hill for the Indians and gave up 12 hits while striking out two. He did not issue a base on balls. Moyer with fair control throughout, until the seventh, allowed only five hits but walked eight. He fanned ten.

Bob Haviland singled and moved to second on a sacrifice in the first inning for the Hornets. Moyer doubled, scoring Havilandt Duane Ash singled and Moyer scored on an error. Ash scored, sending Hillsdale into a 3-0 lead, on an error.

Tecumseh closed the margin with two runs in the fifth frame. Marvin Yoakum walked. Russ Hyatt doubled. Yoakum scored on a wild pitch and Hyatt took third, scoring minutes later on another wild pitch.

Haviland and Bob Gaberdiel hit back-to-back doubles and got back one run in the bottom half of the fifth inning. The Hornets led, 4-2.

In the big seventh for Tecumseh, Yoakum walked and went to second on a wild pitch. Hyatt and Benham walked filling the bases. A wild pitch allowed Yoakum to score, Hyatt moving to third. In trying to pick Hyatt off third the ball got away from the catcher on a return throw and Hyatt scored. While the ball was being retrieved Benham also tallied. Joe Gregory then singled and scored on a wild pitch after Dennis Farley had doubled him to third base.

Three times Hillsdale runners were out at the plate, after long balls had been hit to the outfield, trying to stretch extra base blows.

Haviland had three for four and Gaberdiel and Ash each two for three for Hillsdale. Hyatt collected two safe blows in three trips to the plate for Tecumseh.

Line scores:

Tecumseh	000 020 4—6 5 1
Hillsdale	300 010 0—4 12 4

SPACEMAN? — He looks like a man from Mars, but the Michigan Tuberculosis Association says he's just a TB patient of a half-century ago. Back then, the association explains, sleeping outdoors often was prescribed for TB patients. This one was all ready for a night's worth of treatment — a sharp contrast to skilled tax-paid care given the sick today in Michigan tuberculosis hospitals. The photo was released to show progress against TB since the founding of the national voluntary tuberculosis crusade 50 years ago.

Wayne University's new Medical Science Building, officially dedicated in May ceremonies, will supply long-needed lecture halls and laboratory facilities for the College of Medicine.

Built in Wayne's Medical Center campus with a $3,559,000 state grant and $900,000 from the Detroit Board of Education, the new structure provides physical facilities permitting an enrollment increase from 260 to 400 students. The eight-story, gray brick building was partially occupied and in use earlier this year.

An outstanding beauty among the completely new line of cars which Buick offers for 1954 is the two-door Super Riviera pictured above. With a rakish sports car styling modelled after Buick's famed Skylark, the Riviera features a new panoramic windshield, a cut-down door belt line, full rear-wheel cut-out and a refined sweepspear molding. It has a completely new front end, all new styling, new instrument panel, new rear fender and deck lid treatment, and new interiors. It is mounted on a 127-inch wheelbase and is powered by a 182-horsepower V-8 engine when equipped with Twin-Turbine Dynaflow. Wire wheels are offered as optional equipment.

FLINT, MICH. — Buick today announced a completely new line of automobiles for 1954, studded with the most revolutionary styling changes since the introduction of streamlining.

The new Buicks come in four series with all new, roomier bodies, beautiful new exterior and interior styling, longer wheelbases, panoramic windshields, and more powerful and efficient V-8 engines.

The Special Series makes its debut in the V-8 class in 1954 with a brand new 150 horsepower engine modelled after the valve in-head V-8 introduced in the Roadmaster and Super Series last year. Horsepower in the Roadmaster has been boosted from 188 to 200, and in the Super from 170 to 182.

New also to the Buick line for 1954 is the Century Series, designed to sell in the price range between the Special and Super. The Century, which features a 200 horsepower Roadmaster engine mounted on a 122-inch wheelbase, has a very high power-to-weight ratio and is the outstanding performer in the Buick line.

All-steel estate wagons are available for the first time this year in the Century and Special series.

Among outstanding styling features in addition to the new panoramic windshield are full rear wheel fender openings and sloping door line on all two-door Rivieras and convertibles, built-in sun visor and rain cove on four-door sedans in the Roadmaster and Super Series, new high crown front fenders which permit the driver to see the right fender at all times, and new instrument panel.

The new V-8 engine in the Special Series, new combustion chamber design which increases power and economy, new power brakes, new front end suspension which improves steering and provides better cornering ability, and cowl ventilation are among the top engineering advancements. The sweepspear molding, so closely identified with Buick, has been restyled along the lines of last year's Skylark sports convertible. The grille styling also has been refined, with 49 thin bars of chrome enclosed in a chrome frame. The traditional Buick emblem on the front of the hood has been replaced with the word B-U-I-C-K in narrow, delicate letters.

Interior styling has been enhanced by a new, double roll instrument panel, similar to the one on Buick's experimental Wildcat. A new speedometer, unique in the entire industry, is featured on the Roadmaster and Super Series. Speed is indicated by a red line that moves horizontally across a scale graduated from 0 to 120 miles per hour.

New styling also is featured throughout the interior with many new combinations of colors in nylon, broadcloth, cordaveen and leather.

The new V-8 engine in the Special has the same overall dimensions as the V-8 in the Roadmaster and Super. The Special V-8 has a 264 cubic inch displacement and an 8.1-to-1 compression ratio in Dynaflow-equipped cars. In cars equipped with standard transmision, the compression ratio is 7.5-to-1.

Both Dynaflow and safety power steering continue as standard equipment on the Roadmaster Series and optional on all others. Swing-out door hinges provide up to one and one-half inches more entrance room to the front compartment of all 1954 Buicks.

The new line comes in 15 models with six horsepower ratings and two wheelbases. All Roadmaster and Super models are mounted on a 127-inch wheelbase. Special and Century models are mounted on a 122-inch wheelbase, an increase of one-half an inch.

The Skylark, which has been completely restyled for 1954, is powered by the 200 horsepower Roadmaster engine.

Shown publicly for the first time at the Chrysler Delaware Tank Plant, here is the long-secret T-43, newest, heaviest, and most powerfully armed of Uncle Sam's land battleships. The armored giant was designed by engineers of Army Ordnance and Chrysler Corporation and has been in production at the Delaware plant for the past three years, although many of its details are still classified. For its Sunday punch, the T-43 mounts a 120mm cannon, plus .50 caliber and .30 caliber machine guns. Hull and turret are each cast from a single piece, with contours sloped to deflect enemy fire. The biggest tank ever put into production by the United States, the T-43 is claimed to be more than a match for any tank that could be put in the field against it.

Junior Class Is Host To THS Senior Class

The juniors and seniors entered into the "Big Top" for their last supper together. They sat at tables which were under a circus tent and were surrounded by pictures of characters who participated in circuses, thanks to Buzz and Jane with their trusty paint brushes.

Following the dinner of monageria, taffy, popcorn balls, jugglers act and clown's delight, Dale Daniels who was toastmaster, introduced the following speakers: Barbara Ousterhout, Tom Baldwin, Mr. Hart, Mr. McDowell, Mr. Don Brazee and Mr. Alvin Brazee.

After the speakers were finished, there was a half-hour intermission before the Tecumseh Products Orchestra came, which gave time to clear the tables.

The junior-senior banquet included a dance after the dinner and all were expected to stay.

The resulting turn-out was barely one-third of the people who attended the dinner.

Eventually the crowd shrank to the extent that the orchestra found themselves playing to a few students and teachers.

If this continues to exist in the future, it is possible that the dance after the junior-senior reception will be cut out entirely.

Student Council Represents And Helps To Solve Many Problems

Beginning in the fall the Student Council hopes to assume more responsibilities depending upon the cooperation, participation and interest of the students.

The students and faculty feel that a wise selection was made in the election for the Student Council President and representatives.

The feeling of the majority of the students is that the Student Council can be a responsible governing body representing them and helping them to solve their problems. We urge everybody to have faith in the Student Council and not to criticize them behind their backs but rather to present their difficulties in a direct and proper manner.

Students taking over study-halls shows that they have begun to accept responsibilities.

Hall monitors originated in the Student Council and even though there was some resentment at first the representatives now feel that it is for the good of the school as a whole.

To start the ball rolling the Student Council has planned five assembly programs of professional entertainment for next year.

1. Tuesday, September 21, 1954. 8 p.m. Bobo Magician.
2. Friday, November 12, 1954. 2 p.m. Ford Circus.
3. Monday, December 6, 1954. 9 a.m. Dr. Sibley — Lecture on Space.
4. Friday, February 18, 1955. 9 a.m. Downies — Musical Group.
5. Tuesday, March 8, 1955. 9 a.m. Bob Donihi—Lecture.

The S.C. has many possibilities of organizing certain activities such as the formation of a jazz band, a poker club, a checker club, pingpong tournaments, a P.T.S.A., a camera club, an intramural program, girls' sports, and water carnivals in the pool.

Right Methods For Pressing Are Important

When you press clothing remember that the fabrics make a difference, emphasizes Marjorie Eastman, Michigan State College extension clothing specialist.

And remember also that pressing is different from ironing. Most pressing should be done by lowering and lifting the iron — rather than by moving it over the cloth as in ironing.

Miss Eastman offers you these pressing pointers:

Use the light touch for silk. Avoid high heat in excess moisture. Press on the wrong side. Use dry cheesecloth or tissue paper between the silk and the moist pressing cloth to protect silk from heat and to prevent water spotting.

Cottons can generally stand a fairly hot iron. But cottons treated with special finishes may be more easily harmed by high heat.

Press cottons on the right side for a smooth or shiny finish; on the wrong side for a dull finish, or to bring out the texture of the fabric. You can use a steam iron directly on the fabric or you can supply moisture with a medium or lightweight pressing cloth. Press until completely dry.

Linen requires a hot iron and considerable moisture. Press on the right side for a smooth surface. Or, if you want to bring out the linen texture, press on the wrong side.

Be cautious with acetates. They are melted or permanently glazed by a hot iron. Use the lowest temperature setting on your iron. Supply moisture with a slightly dampened cheese cloth or non-woven rayon pressing cloth.

If any right-side finishing is needed, protect surface from shine with a dry pressing cloth. Use a light touch and do not press completely dry. Hang in an open space and let the air and the steam left in the fabric finish the pressing.

Rayons are not softened by heat but they will scorch with too hot an iron. Try a low temperature first, for acetate is used in some of the crease-resistant finishes applied to rayon.

Press rayons from the wrong side, using a medium or lightweight pressing cloth. Press crepey textures over a turkish towel, using little moisture. Or you can pass the steam iron lightly over the surface — without resting the iron on the fabric.

If you press rayons on the right side, protect the fabric with a piece of self fabric or a soft wool pressing cloth. For mixtures of rayon and acetate, reduce the heat of the iron and test on seam edge.

Nylons need less pressing than many other fabrics, but wrinkles are difficult to smooth out. A low rayon setting of the iron is advised. Or a steam iron may be used. Use damp or dry pressing, depending on the texture of the fabric.

Dynel fabrics (100 percent dynel) are easily damaged by heat. Do NOT use a steam iron on dynel, for moisture lowers the melting point. If pressing is necessary, use lowest setting of iron and protect fabric with dry pressing cloth or heavy cotton. Do not brush nap unless fabric is entirely dry.

Blands may require a little experimenting. It is usually safest to start with the rayon setting of your iron. Always look for a label or tag giving directions for pressing.

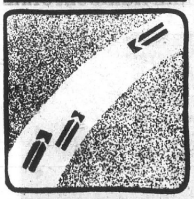
No 2 DON'T PASS ON A CURVE



Passing on a curve is like walking into a dark theater on a bright day — you can't see what's ahead of you. And you can't see what's about to come around that curve. "Blind" curves on state highways and on some county highways have life saving yellow lines. Less important ones may not. More gradual curves make passing dangerous with both cars at high speed.

Once you get on the wrong side of the pavement you're in trouble if a car comes around the curve toward you. Both dodging and braking are harder because centrifugal force is pulling your car either left or right. The possibilities of collisions, head-on, sideswipe, rear-end, or losing control are very great.

VFW PLEASED WITH POPPY SALE RESPONSE

Officers of the Hall-Slater Post of the V.F.W. wish to thank the general public for their generous response to the annual Buddy Poppy sale. Funds raised were the largest in the history of the post, and will be used in the rehabilitation and veteran's benefit program of the organization, a large percentage remaining in Tecumseh.

A past commander of the local post, Richard Butler, was recently elected commander of the Sixth district of the state at the district meeting held in Ann Arbor. About 30 members of the post and auxiliary attended this meeting.

Following the Memorial Day service those members who participated in the parade and their families enjoyed a potluck dinner at the post rooms. Some 30 families attended.

CHRISTIAN BUILDERS MAKE PLANS FOR SUMMER PROJECTS

Committees were appointed for the summer sale project of the Christian Builders at their meeting Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. Donald Purkey.

The membership is divided as follows with Mrs. Bart Aiuto chairman of the first group, Mesdames Earl Baldwin, Charles Cottel, Harlan Dicks, David Faling, Carelton Cook, Richard Fielder, Gerald Foote and Lowell Wise; second group, Mrs. Junior Fouts, chairman; Mesdames Robert Hamilton, Harold Hammel, Jack Hollenbeck, Donald Purkey, William Sisson, Roger Williams, David Murphy and Miss Anne Thompson.

They will sell non-drip spoons, paring knives and dust cloths. A doll is to be purchased and dressed to be auctioned off at the fall festival of the Presbyterian church; and Mrs. Earl Baldwin was appointed to make plans for booths for this event.

Mrs. Carleton Cook was appointed chairman of a committee to plan programs for the coming year. It is the wish of the group to have meetings of a more deeply religious nature. Mrs. Charles Cottel was appointed sergeant-at-arms and to head a committee to draw up a constitution.

Mrs. Carleton Cook assisted the hostess, Mrs. Jack Hollenbeck conducted devotions and two new members, Mrs. David Murphy and Mrs. Lowell Wise were welcomed.

The June meeting of the group will be a potluck picnic on the 27th at the R. S. Moore cottage at Sand Lake, with supper at 5 p.m. for members and their families.

Fire Coverage Is Important To Families

Fire insurance on the home is one of the most important kinds of protection for a family to carry. The usual standardized policy covers, primarily, the direct loss from fire and lightning, explains Lucile Ketchum. Miss Ketchum is a home management specialist with the Michigan State College Cooperative Extension Service.

Ordinarily, if we are to obtain protection from damage caused by storms, tornadoes, cyclones, explosions, riots or civil war, an additional premium must be paid. The cost of this "extended coverage" is about one-third of the basic premium. It is added to the policy as a written "endorsement."

"Endorsements" which are added to the basic policy may take many forms, Miss Ketchum points out.

One such endorsement provides protection against smoke damage which may occur in the absence of fire — for example, in homes where oil is used for heating or cooking. Recently a number of companies have started writing "additional extended coverage" for as many as nine or 10 different perils, some of which formerly were specifically excluded.

An endorsement of this kind should be considered if there are special hazards, such as the possibility of steam boiler explosion. The additional premium is small.

Insurance on "contents" — household goods — may be added as an endorsement, if you carry it with the same company that insures your house. Such items as money, deeds and securities are not covered, emphasizes the specialist.

For such property as antique furniture and paintings, it is well to have an agreement with the company as to value, at the time the policy is drawn up. An inventory of household goods should be made and kept in a safe place outside the insured buildings.

Fire insurance policies are written for one, three and five-year terms. The rates for the three- and five-year terms are enough lower to make it worthwhile to buy fire insurance on this basis. It is important to make adjustments in your policy as improvements are made, or new furnishings added. Coverage should be re-checked periodically so that it is kept in line with up-to-date property valuations, advises Miss Ketchum.

Seniors Have Grand Time In New York

After the longest half day we ever have spent in school we started for Detroit and the train trip for New York. We boarded the New York Central around 5 p.m. and were eating our first meal by 5:30 p.m.

As the groups from the various schools became acquainted the ice was broken and the evening was started. The boys and girls partied until 11 p.m. and then they were split up into various coaches.

We don't know when the girls settled down but we boys tried to sleep around 4 a.m. Sleep was useless that night because the train was swaying and creaking excessively.

We arrived in New York at 5:30 a.m. and immediately proceeded to the Hotel New Yorker.

After breakfast, the remainder of the morning was spent on a tour of the Empire State Building.

After considerable delay and unnecessary confusion on the part of the hotel management, our rooms were assigned.

We then proceeded on a yacht tour of Manhattan Island. During this tour we saw such famous sights as the Statue of Liberty, Ellis Island, Wall Street, Governor's Island (home of the 1st Army), Brooklyn Bridge, U. N. Buildings, and the George Washington Bridge.

The remainder of the evening was free. Tickets were available for a show at Radio City Music Hall which included "The Rockettes" and a symphony orchestra.

The following morning was also free and most of the kids went shopping. In the afternoon we visited the NBC studios at Rockefeller Center.

That evening was spent at Coney Island by some, while others visited various theatres.

Saturday morning we toured Hayden Planetarium but missed a tour of the American Museum of Natural History because we were pressed for time. After lunch we had a bus tour of Upper and Lower Manhattan.

On this tour we visited China Town, U.N. Building, Columbia University and the Bowery.

We left New York at 6:45 p.m. and the remainder of the trip was probably the most enjoyed part of all.

There's not much doubt but a good time was had by all when you consider the good meals, excellent tours and the wonderful experiences and friendships gained by everyone.

Dinner Honors Ray Herrick

The Detroit Chapter of Howe Military School Alumni Association, held its annual spring dinner and dance of Howe men and wives at the Detroit Yacht Club recently.

The dinner itself was a testimonial in honor of Ray W. Herrick, chairman of the board of Tecumseh Products and a trustee of Howe Military School, who was made an "honorary alumnus" and presented with a scroll.

Chairman was George Mason, president and chairman of the board of the newly-organized American Motor Corp.

Coming from Howe were the national alumni secretary, the Reverend Earl T. Jennings; Colonel Burrett B. Bouton, Superintendent of Howe Military School and Neil W. Talling, Howe's director of public relations.

A portion of the program was devoted to the first showing of the motion picture, "The New Howe" through the courtesy of Charles T. Grissom.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Davison of Jackson, former Tecumseh residents, attended the dinner-dance.

the act at the Memorial Day parade. What would a parade be like without one?

THERE'S A SAYING . . . "A lot of folks are like wheelbarrows —not good unless pushed. Some are like canoes — they need to be paddled . . . Some are like kites — if you don't keep a string on them, they fly away . . . Some are like footballs — you can't tell which way they will bounce next . . . Some are like balloons — full of wind and ready to blow up . . . Some are like trailers — they have to be pulled . . . Some are like neon lights — they keep going on and off . . . Some are like a good watch — open face, pure gold, quietly busy and full of good works."

THIS CONCERNS A NAMELESS JAYCEE. Last week when the Jaycees were discussing their coming bake sale, this chap got up and suggested that some of the wives and mothers come down to help price the stuff that will be sold. After a little prodding, he admitted publicly that his mother is a better cook than his wife. It should be obvious why his name is not used.

THOUGHT FOR THIS WEEK — Display is like shallow water, where you can see the muddy bottom.

Share The Road Keep In Lane

Chief George Kilbourn made a second appeal to motorists to cooperate on the June-July program aimed at cutting down traffic accidents due to dangerous passing.

He warned motorists to be particularly careful not to exceed the speed limit when passing. "Many an accident happens," he said, "because one driver got up to too high a speed in trying to pass another. The result was that when an emergency developed he was going too fast to stop in time to avoid the accident."

Chief Kilbourn also cautioned motorists about passing at intersections. "A common dangerous situation arises," he said, "when the car you are passing stops suddenly to let a car or a pedestrian on its right pass in front of it. You may not be able to see this coming because the car you are passing blocks your vision. Thus, you may have a car or pedestrian dropped right in your lap—when it's too late to stop."

In conclusion Chief Kilbourn pointed out that this concerted drive against dangerous passing is not just a local affair. It is sponsored by Chiefs of Police throughout Michigan through the Association of Chiefs of Police. It has the cooperation of the Michigan Trucking Association and the Michigan State Safety Commission.

Grade School News

Pattison — Grade 2
Mrs. Garlick

Birthdays, since we last had news of our room, have been Nancy Kennell, Karen Heberlein, Mary Ellen Smith, Karen Goller, and Bob Morey. Some of these people treated us to birthday surprises and we enjoyed them very much.

David Dustin brought a baby catbird to school one day. We dug some worms and brought some bread to school to feed it. We enjoyed watching it eat.

Nancy Kennell brought us an abandoned bird nest. We have decided that birds work very hard to make a good nest.

We went for a walk to the park next to the cemetery. We saw a rabbit, some squirrels, poison ivy and violets. We also saw a robin's nest with three eggs. A lizard ran away from us. We saw where a large tree had fallen over the creek and dammed up part of the creek. We noticed especially that the trees, grass, and all the growing things look much more like summer.

Most of us are reading "What Next" as a supplementary reading book.

We have had several cocoons in our room this winter. We have had only one moth emerge a very lovely Polyphemus. We thought at first that the eye spots on its wings were real eyes.

Paul Snyder is back in school after being absent for several days with an infected ear.

We visited the kindergarten to see their rehearsal and enjoyed it very much.

The lawns are being planted at our school and we can just imagine how nice the outside of our building will look next year.

We made three choices as to who we would like to sit beside for the rest of the year. Now we all have someone beside us whom we chose or who chose us.

We have been learning about halves and fourths in our Number work. We have also learned to count in the thousands and read these numbers.

This is the last time you will hear from us this year but we'll have things to tell you next year from the third grade.

Good-bye 'till then.

Grade 3
Mrs. Illeck

This is our last time to greet you this school year. We are working very hard to try to finish all the things we have started this year. We are finishing our "rhyme" books. Most of them are very attractive.

We have started to multiply by 2's and 3's. It is fun for most of us.

Louise Stautesman, Sherry Murdock, and Grant Baughey are our birthday children this month. Happy birthday children.

We have had turtles, bird's eggs, and bird's nests in school recently.

Roger Mikesell brought a puppet play to school. We enjoyed it very much.

We have grown quite a lot this year and we are looking forward to going into fourth grade in September. We have all grown, but there are some of us who should grow a little more before we attempt fourth grade work.

We hope you have enjoyed our monthly chats. We have enjoyed talking with you. We hope to be able to talk with you again in September.

Grade 2
Mrs. Puffer

On the Friday before Mother's Day we entertained our mothers and little brothers and sisters at a party. We sang some songs, recited a poem and played a word game for our guests. Then we served punch and cookies. We gave May baskets as favors. We surely do want to thank the mothers for making the delicious cookies for their own party!

Last week we had a guinea pig and her two babies as visitors. We voted on names for them, and took turns feeding and caring for them. We learned many things about pets, so on Friday we wrote stories about aminal friends.

We have decorated our bulletin boards with elephants and are learning a poem about elephants in circus rings. We all hope we can visit a real circus this summer.

This has been a happy year; we have worked hard and now are looking forward to our long vacation; then to third grade in September.

Grade 2
Miss LaPointe

We hope to improve our reading by the use of the Weekly Reader. Twenty-five members of the class have subscribed for the summer months.

We are enjoying bird study and are now able to identify many birds. We went to a home in the neighborhood and watched some purple martins flying to and from their martin house.

With the exception of three children all of the class are now able to tell time. All can read the thermometer accurately.

Now that we can spell, and write sentences we are writing very short stories. Our first story was about Prince.

During the year Lana and Linda Callihan were our librarians. They not only obtained the books from the library but they kept a complete record of them. Each child is making a list of all books he reads. This seems to be an incentive for doing much reading.

Shirley Creger and Joyce Randolph had May birthdays. Mrs. Randolph gave a party at school in honor of Joyce's birthday.

We were all glad to learn that Glenn Schmidt is gradually improving. Had it not been for a chest cold he could have left the hospital sooner. He will not be in school any more this year.

Grade 3
Miss Baker

This is the last time we shall be visiting with you before vacation. We are looking forward to a happy and busy summer.

Last week we had our final spell down with Mrs. Vallie's room. Patty Lawson won for our room. We are very proud of her.

Kathy Tressler and Richard Brunger visited Holland, Michigan during the tulip festival. They saw many beautiful tulips.

Mary Ann Mead and Linda Selders had a party for us on their birthdays this month. We had ice cream and cake. Nancy Nixon, Dianne Duffin and Roy Caldwell also had birthdays.

Nancy Nixon brought her bean plant back to school to show us the beans on it. We are glad her beans grew because ours didn't. We decided we did not water them enough.

Our room looks very nice with all of the flowers that are being brought to school. We have a wild flower display on our bulletin board.

We have enjoyed our visits with you this year. We will see you next fall as fourth graders. Have a nice vacation everyone.

Kindergarten—Brownville
Mrs. Heimerdinger

We are very busy in our class preparing a tea for our mothers. We have a program planned which we hope they will enjoy.

Our latest project has been a garden. We planted seeds in dixie cups and watched them grow. We learned that all seeds need food, water and sun.

We have made posters showing the tools and equipment needed for gardening.

Along with our garden project we have learned many songs and rhythms about seeds and gardens. We really have enjoyed it very much.

Next week we are planning a trip to the Tecumseh Dairy. We are looking forward to this trip.

We are anxious for our vacation to start. However, we have had lots of good times together. Mrs. Heimerdinger has enjoyed working with the fine group of boys and girls.

Goodbye until next year.

Is That So!

By Clara Waldron

Until about 20 years ago the Comfort Brick and Tile Yard had been only a summer business. That was because all the brick and tile had been air dried before firing, which meant a long, slow process of waiting for the clay to reach the proper hardness during which the stacks had to be protected under open sheds away from the rain. This, of course, was not possible during cold weather so the whole plant was idle during the winter.

There are still those who remember those open sheds filled with drying brick, carefully spaced to allow circulation of air. They also remember when the brick were fired, and the roaring fires that were built of wood or coal in the arched spaces beneath the stacks and the sultry glow that shown through the chinks between.

Those who know, say it was not an efficient method. The nearest bricks were over fired and those farthest away were soft. But, efficient or not, it was a picturesque and awesome sight to a youthful passerby of a summer evening.

Now the business is carried on all the year round. Clay is stored under cover until needed, then carried by a system of bucket carrier belts from one processing and mixing machine to another until it is the proper consistency to be fed into the tile making machine. There under heavy pressure it is forced out through a mold, looking like a huge, brown tube of macaroni. Revolving wires cut it into proper lengths and it is loaded onto the cars of a narrow railway. At this stage the clay, although slightly soft to the touch, will maintain its shape.

The filled cars are then wheeled into one of twelve, long brick tunnels where low heat circulates from the furnace flues under the tracks and the tile are soon dry enough for firing. This is done in one of the five round kilns, those buildings like old-fashioned bee hives which are what the motorist sees in passing.

There, 18,000 to a kiln, they are sealed in with clay and from the coal furnaces below are subjected to temperatures up to 1850 degrees for 70 hours. The heat, smoke and glow of these fires are responsible for the Pittsburgh-like atmosphere. The tile then cools slowly for 48 hours more and is ready for use.

The equivalent of four million feet of four inch tile is produced in a year. Most of it goes under the surface of farm land to form the drainage system necessary for good production. A steadily increasing amount is used for basement drainage in the many new houses being built and some goes into septic tank systems. There are not as many tile yards throughout the country as in former years. Improved truck transportation makes it unnecessary to have them so close together. Tile from the Comfort yard goes long distances.

There were only two of the round kilns in the yard in 1934, when Ralph Comfort assisted by his brother, Russell, took over the management, and they were used for only six months of each year. Now there are five and they are filled most of the time. But while volume has increased and methods have improved, the fundamentals of the process have remained the same. Clay is still being used from the same bank that supplied that first colored brick maker nearly a century ago and it is still mixed, molded, dried and fired.

The present business has another link with the past. The clay is still being "worked" and the tile molded by machines made by Tecumseh's "H. Brewer and Company." It is a tribute to the work turned out by that firm that their product should have survived the company itself by more than 20 years of use. That machine is a tie between two of the town's pioneer enterprises.

How To Grow Top Quality Tomatoes

Want to grow tomatoes that look like a color ad in a slick magazine?

The job can be done, but it takes a lot more than just setting out plants . . . If you want to grow tomatoes the correct way, a new publication from Michigan State College horticulturists will show you how.

The publication, Extension Folder F-142, "Tomato Growing in Michigan," tells you about recommended varieties, how you should treat your soil, how to prepare the soil, how to start seedlings and how to set out plants so they'll produce top quality fruit. The folder also discusses cultivation, irrigation and mulching, how to improve early set by spraying, staking and pruning, how to get the best insect and disease control, and how to harvest and market the crop for the best profit. Your county agricultural agent will give you a copy.

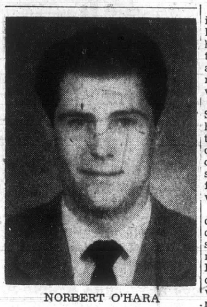
California Jaycees Ask Fluoridation Questions

In a letter to the council a group of Palo Alto, Calif., Junior Chamber of Commerce members asked about fluoride and why the chemical in city water did not "go over" here.

The letter, written by Fred W. Timby, member of the Jaycees' public health committee, pointed out "since we are strongly advocating its adoption, please answer some questions (on fluoride)".



NORBERT O'HARA

Norbert O'Hara, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O'Hara, 207 West Pottawatamie street, will graduate from Michigan State College Sunday with a M.S. degree in geology.

These local persons will graduate from the University of Michigan Saturday:

Robert W. Mohr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Mohr of 214 East Logan street will graduate from dental school.

Dr. Mohr graduated from Tecumseh high school in 1942. He entered Albion College and during his first year there was taken into the armed services where he spent three years. After his discharge he returned to Albion, graduating from that institution with a A.B. degree.

Mrs. John Lynch, the former Barbara Schoeck, who made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Harris, 302 West Kilbuck street, graduated from Tecumseh high school in 1949. She will complete a five-year nursing course with a B.S. degree. She also will receive her R.N. degree.

Gordon Keyser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Keyser, 206 North Maiden Lane, will receive a B.S. degree in math. After service in the armed forces, he plans a teaching career in math and science.

He wanted to know how long it was in the city water, the problem of cost, whether Tecumseh had natural fluorides in its water, the primary objection to it here and whether the city plans to resume fluoride treatments in the water supply.

The council advised Mrs. Naomi Sallows to answer the letter. In her letter she pointed out that the equipment was given to the city by Mr. R. W. Herrick, now chairman of the board of Tecumseh Products Company, and that fluoride first was used in city water May 1, 1953.

She also wrote that officials accepted the gift in good faith because fluoridation of city water supplies had been accepted and recommended by the Michigan Department of Public Health and officials thought fluoridated water would be good for the community.

But folks were confused, she continued, because it was never voted on. The continuance of fluoride was voted on March 8, 1954, and was defeated 678-622 and the equipment was dismantled and stored.

In her letter she also pointed out that the city had no natural fluorides in its water supply and the primary objection came from people who thought it first should have been voted on.

Some people, her letter concluded, are working hard on having fluoridation of the city water supply brought to a vote again, hoping it will be continued.

Boys Miss Death Locked In Tool Box

Two little boys who narrowly escaped death late last Wednesday afternoon by trapping themselves in a tool box are back at play.

Richard, 5, and Tom, 3, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Horton, 747 North Union street, were trapped in the large box in the family's garage.

The boys were playing outside and about an hour later their mother noticed that they were missing. She found them unconscious in the tool box. The box, owned by Mr. Horton, has a snap lock that closed on the boys when they climbed inside to play.

Mrs. Horton carried her sons to the home of Dr. Carlton Cook, a neighbor. He was not at home but Mrs. Ralph Helzerman, wife of Dr. Helzerman, took the boys to Herrick Memorial Hospital where they were revived with oxygen. They spent the night in the hospital, returning home Thursday.

Doctors there said had the boys not been found when they were and rushed to the hospital they would not have survived.

Thieves Break Into Two Schools Here

Thieves broke into the new high school and Patterson School last Thursday morning, taking 40 cents in milk money from the elementary school.

At Patterson they damaged a door and windows, gaining entrance by breaking a window. In addition to the missing money, one of them also drank a bottle of chocolate milk.

At the high school they forced a window in the cafeteria, then they went to the shop where they broke a window in the door.

They took a welding torch from the shop to the superintendent's office and they attempted to cut the safe door open, but gave this up as a bad job.

Desks in the office also were ransacked.

Tecumseh and State Police believe the work was by non-professional thieves.

Some fingerprints were found at the scenes.

PROTANE CORP. PUBLIC HEARING SCHEDULED

The council has scheduled a public hearing for Monday, June 21, at 7:30 p.m. to discuss the proposed plan for the Protane Gas Corp. to rebuild on its present location on Adrian road.

The corporation had a fire last summer and plans to build on the same spot.

Some residents in the neighborhood have expressed disapproval so the public hearing was scheduled.

High School Has Biggest Reunion In Its History

"The biggest and best reunion in the history of the Tecumseh High School Alumni Association" was the expressed aim of the 1954 officers of the organization.

At least the first of these objectives was achieved Friday evening when 410 alumni marched by classes into the new high school gymnasium and were seated at tables gay with garden flowers and candles there, dinner was served by the ladies of the Tecumseh Baptist church.

The invocation was asked by the Rev. Alvin Brazee and there was group singing led by Mrs. Lillian Kennedy Service and a short business meeting conducted by the president, James Beardsley.

Business included election of 1955 officers and the appointment of William Hayden to head a committee who will attempt to compile a new and complete mem-

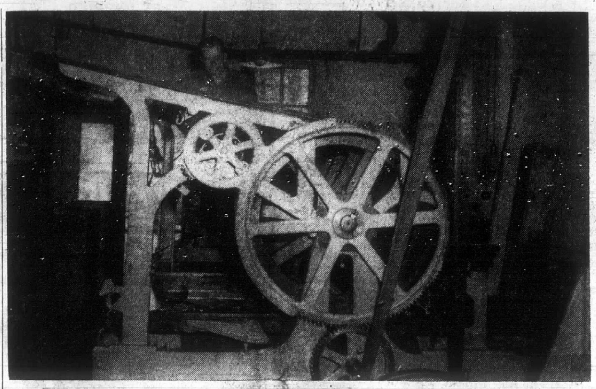
COMPLETE COURSE

Mrs. Helen Miller and Miss Myrtle Kempf, members of Herrick Memorial Hospital nursing staff recently completed a course in supervisory training sponsored by the Detroit Area Hospital Council and conducted by the School of Business Administration of Wayne University.



THE OLD GIRL HERSELF — This is the last HERALD that will be printed on this old reliable but some times cranky press. Next week the paper will be printed on the new Duplex press and the HERALD will be in its new location on Evans St. across from the city hall.

Known as a Babcock cylinder press, the old girl has turned out hundreds, yes, perhaps thousands, of weekly newspapers and probably none was ever better printed than this one, her last efforts here.

Cursed and teased by several generations of press men, the last one to kick the old gal in the sides when she started to act up was Gene Simmons. That's Gene astride her now. He's looking calm and collected since this a "dry run."

Nobody knows exactly how old she is because she never showed her teeth even when she was bucking "the baddest." But they say her bearings were worn to the point of being egg-shaped.

When the crew became frustrated at what appeared to be her balking tantrums, they would say that she must have come over here when Columbus discovered America. When she wasn't too balky, they would say she came to America with the Pilgrims.

Regardless of her "vintage," she held her age well. And even though she was taped and wired up and never felt quite up to par she groaned and creaked until the paper was out. She must have hurt in a dozen places but she never really complained, except to show her aches and pains by too often wadding the paper up or biting huge chunks out of it so it couldn't be used.

Too often is the case, nice things are said after one passes on. This is also true about presses.

Sure she had her shortcomings, just like people. But she was faithful to the end and she has earned her just reward. She should be pastured out in some nice museum where students of printing could view her remains and on her should be placed a medal for meritorius service.

But old presses never end up in museums. No, they are too proud for this. They just keep on printing until they collapse in a junk yard. Before this happens to our old girl, we hope she is shot through her head humanly to put her out of her misery.

She has earned her rest but she will be happier if she keeps in the harness and continues to grind out weekly newspapers for some other press man who knows how to curse. She won't be disappointed since most press men know the finer points of this art.

CONDUCTED BY BOB WARREN

A little note from Melvina Mansfield at Hopkins, Mich., is very much appreciated. She wrote: "Dear Herald. I hear you are going into a new home. Good luck to you for you are a grand paper. Yours for luck." Many thanks for your kind words.

JUNE 21 LITTLE BROWN & COMPANY will publish a new book by a chap born in Tecumseh. The book is "Benjamin Franklin and a Rising People." The author is Dr. Verner W. Crane who is now a professor of history at the University of Michigan. He is acknowledged as the leading contemporary authority on the life and time of Ben Franklin.

DON'T KNOW WHY BUT ONE Wednesday morning our social editor laid this on my desk:.

How do I know that my youth is spent?
Cause my "get up and go"
Has got up and went!
But I sit and grin
When I think where it's been.

SOME CHURCHES ALSO BELIEVE in advertising. This novel classified ad appeared in a recent issue of the Hudson Post-Gazette: "WANTED—People to sit in slightly used pews in the Methodist church each Sunday between 11 a.m. and 12 noon. No previous experience required."

Roy French of Hillsdale sent a buck in a letter for a classified. The letter was addressed to the "largest newspaper in Tecumseh, Mich.," Many thanks for the classified business, Mr. French. We not only are the largest newspaper in Tecumseh but we are proud of the fact that we are the only one.

NO MATTER HOW FEARFUL a person may be of the future, he hopes he will live to see a lot more of it.

DRIVING TO HILLSDALE SUNDAY we went down the back roads to see a number of tiny towns and to recapture a bit of lost youth. We drove through Prattville, Waldron, Ransom and Frontier, expecting to be thrilled again as we were long ago when as a small boy we used to go to free shows in these hamlets and watch baseball games between teams from these towns and a Hillsdale team. But something was lacking. True, the towns were still sleeping in the noon day sun as they have for years but some how they have

Honors Assembly Cites Seven Achievement Fields

Eight hundred Tecumseh High School students turned out Friday afternoon for the annual honors assembly held in the new gym. Neville L. Hart, principal, presided. Seven fields of special achievement—baseball, band, chorus, debating cheer leading, shorthand and FHA work—were recognized.

Coach Lester Runk presented baseball letters to Russell Hyatt calling him "the best shortstop in the league" and to Bill Benham, Albert Hart, Joe Gregory, Dennis Farley, Lowell Kelly, Marvin Yoakum, Harry Withrow, Ray Larned, Skip O'Neil and Don Oswald.

In track this year the Tecumseh Indians took second place. They won the baseball title of the Southeastern Michigan Conference.

Tecumseh placed second to Hillsdale in competing for the All-sports trophy. The Dales had 13½ points and the Indians had 9½.

Band instructor Robert Peck presented band letters based on service, loyalty, outstanding musi-

ATTENDED STATE ARCHERY MEET

The State Archery target meet at Jackson Sunday was attended by several enthusiasts from Tecumseh. Susie Hite received first place in Junior Girls; Harold Hall first in A Division instinctive; Bob Williamson, second in A Division free style; Fred Cooly, first in A Division free style. Others attending were Mike Hite, C. R. Dustin, Gary Hall, Dick Tingley and Harold Brian.

Beat The Heat

New Swimming Pool Popularity Increases

Tecumseh's new swimming pool daily is proving to be a more popular spot to beat the heat.

Carl Hale, manager of the pool reports that 1011 persons have used the pool during the first three and one-half days it has been open. Attendance has climbed steadily with 366 persons using the pool Tuesday.

Monday night Ed Nelson, city manager, reported to the council that the State Health department has approved the pool. Some things, he reported, had to be corrected but the pool is now approved.

The pool is open daily from 2 to 5 p.m. and from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m.

After Bible School closes, the pool also will be open from 9 a.m. to 12 noon daily and instructions in swimming will be given at this time.

Next Monday night, Mr. Hale reports, will be a special night for adults. Only persons above 16 or older will be allowed in the pool on this night.

"For the most part folks have been very nice," he said, "but we have had a few who expected too much. They failed to realize that we are in the organizational stage and that we have a few problems that still need to be worked out."

He said one of these problems is that some young swimmers stay in the pool too long. He believes that a maximum time of one and one-half hours in the pool for children under 10 years of age will have to be worked out.

And in the interest of safety, children under five years of age should be accompanied by their parents. For the most part parents have cooperated. The wading pool is designed for these children but Mr. Hale reports that a few of them get into the big pool and these children have not been accompanied by their parents.

Friday morning a swimming test will be held from 10:30 to 11:30 for all swimmers interested in swimming in the deepest end of the pool. Mr. Hale said all swimmers interested in swimming in the deep end of the pool must take this test.

In addition to Mr. Hale, other members of the staff include Victor Lawson, chief life guard and instructor; Doug Murdoch, temporary life guard; John Sisson and Dave VanWinkle, life guards (after college is out); Earl Drummonds, handyman; Janis Boltz, cashier; and Beverly McClain and Sue Aluk, in charge of the girls' shower room. Connie Clark is a substitute for any one of the three girls.

2 Motorists Are Fined For Racing

Two men who raced through town at 60 miles per hour Monday night in their cars were sentenced in justice court Tuesday morning.

Curtis L. Rendel, 20, of Blissfield, and Leroy D. Betzoldt, 17, who lives on the Macon-Clinton Rd., were apprehended by Tecumseh officers Vallie and Roff about 10 p. m. They were speeding east on Chicago Blvd. The officers clocked them at 60 miles per hour.

Arraigned by Justice Robert French Tuesday morning, they pleaded guilty to reckless driving charges and were ordered to pay fines of $25, costs of $8.60 each and to spend three days in the Lenawee County jail or to spend 30 days in jail.

The fines and costs had not been paid by Tuesday afternoon.

"KITCHEN TOUR" CALLED SUCCESS BY COMMITTEE

A gratifying addition to the building fund of St. Peter's church was realized from the successful "Kitchen Tour" staged between showers, Tuesday, by the women of the church Auxiliary.

Supplies of baked goods and caserole dishes were exhausted long before the 250 women reached the last home on the list, that of Mrs. M. W. Wilson where tea and a social hour were held.

The tour included visits to the home of Mrs. L. W. Larsen, Mrs. Paul Ammer, Mrs. Jens Touborg (where Mrs. Phillip Colgrove was hostess), Mrs. Karl Schneider, Mrs. Glenn Driscoll, Mrs. C. W. Gilman and Mrs. Wilson.

The planning committee, Mrs. Larsen, Mrs. C. O. Butler, Mrs. Harry Schuch and Mrs. Russell Havens, expressed complete satisfaction with the tour's success and promise a repeat performance with a double supply of good things to eat.

CHARLES EVERY

Charles H. Every, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold H. Every, Route 1 Tecumseh, is a 2nd lieutenant stationed at Keesler Air Force Base at Biloxi, Miss.

He received an engineering degree from Michigan State College last Dec. and he graduated from Tecumseh high school in 1948.

1,500 See 81 Seniors Get Diplomas

The largest number of persons ever to attend high school commencement here turned out last Thursday night to watch 81 seniors of Tecumseh High School graduate. The class was the first to graduate from the new high school and about 1,500 persons were on hand to watch.

After the processional "Pomp and Circumstance" was played by Mrs. Bertram Updike and the invocation had been presented by the Rev. Edward Escolme, Marie Boyce gave the first part of the salutatory address. The girls' chorus sang two numbers and Grace Moore gave the second part of the salutatory.

The Varsity Club singers also sang some numbers and Patsy Purcell gave the valedictory. William Benham, student speaker, chose for his address "No More Assignments".

Carson House, commander of the VFW, presented the three top students with merit pins.

Supt. James McDowell presented an Adrian College scholarship to James Nichols; Marie Boyce an Alma College scholarship; and Janet Carswell a scholarship to Michigan State College.

He also presented regents' alumni honor awards from the University of Michigan to Mary Nixon, Nancy Randall and Janis Boltz.

Herrick Foundation scholarships were presented by the Rev. Escolme to William Benham, Marie Boyce and Janet Carswell. This year these scholarships were increased from $500 to $600 yearly for four years. This is the fifth year they have been given.

The William C. Gaston award of a gold watch was given to William Benham. This marked the third year that Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Heilman and Mrs. Sally Pope have given this award. Principal Neville L. Hart presented the award.

This year the class gave money for a basketball scoreboard for the new gym as the gift. Tom Baldwin, president of the class, presented $300 to Supt. McDowell for the new scoreboard.

Mr. Hart introduced the class and diplomas were presented by Mr. McDowell.

The benediction was given by the Rev. Escolme and Mrs. Updike played the recessional.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATED

Mrs. Harold Harper entertained 11 little guests Tuesday afternoon in observance of the fifth birthday of her daughter, Sheryl. A pink and blue color scheme was carried out in the table and refreshments and favors were given to all the guests. Sheryl received many lovely gifts.

Editorials

READ IT ALL — When you buy a book or take one out of the public library do you just read the cover then lay the book down or return it to the library?

Of course you don't. Then why do so many of you give the impression that you do this with your weekly HERALD? This question is prompted from recent chats with some persons who insist that their news be published on page one of this newspaper.

First, it is, or at least it should be, obvious that all the news in the paper can not possibly be published on page one. Persons asking for page one for their bits of news are implying that the HERALD is a one-page paper with nothing in it but page one.

Yet, some of the finest features the paper has can be found on inside pages.

In 1861, Horace Greely wrote in his New York Tribune: "Make your paper the perfect mirror of your community." His advice is still appropriate today. We try to heed it although we admit that we sometimes fall short of our own goals. But we are trying to make the HERALD a complete newspaper and we will keep trying until we satisfy our own ideas of what a newspaper should contain. After all, the HERALD has no more severe critics than the folks who are running it.

Next time you get your paper, read it all. Don't just scan page one and then call up to complain that your news isn't in the paper. Look inside, too. When you do you will see editorials, local topics, letters to the editor (sometimes), church news, school news, news of clubs and organizations, the community calendar, correspondents, news from out of the past and Is That So!, one of the finest columns in any weekly ever published.

Even the ads, legals and classifieds are newsy, too, as has been proved many times by independent surveys made by some of the nation's leading survey research concerns.

Read it all; you will be missing something if you don't.

Meanwhile, we are trying constantly to improve the content of the paper to make it a more complete mirror of the community. If you have ideas for improvement, please let us know. This is, after all, your paper.

FLY IT PROUDLY — Next Monday is Flag Day. Fly Old Glory proudly but check to see if you are flying it right.

And while it is flying, think on the pledge to the flag: I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands; one nation indivisible with liberty and justice for all. When you say these words, don't just mouth them; but practice them in your daily living.

HEALTHY SIGN — The April issue of Nation's Business carried a brief article on present-day economic thinking in the field of distribution—retail, service and wholesale businesses. Key executives expect 1954 trade to equal 1953. The magazine said, "This optimism seemed to be based upon preparedness on the part of these distributors to meet competition. This is a healthy sign—for it means better planning and more efficient operations."

The article also pointed out that this will be a big year so far as expansion and modernization of physical facilities is concerned. In one merchandising field alone, 1954 expenditures for these purposes are estimated at $880,000,000.

This means that the retailers and the people in allied fields have strong faith in our future—and aren't influenced by the recession talk that has been heard. And from the point of view of the consumer, it means that he will get better service, still more attractive shopping surroundings—and the best possible selection of goods at the lowest possible prices.

Competition always produces such beneficial results—and competition in retailing has rarely been at a higher pitch than now.

You And Your Money

CAN YOU MAKE YOUR PAYCHECK GO AROUND?

BY DR. LAWRENCE S. RITTER
ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF ECONOMICS
MICHIGAN STATE COLLEGE

The problem of economizing — of making one's paycheck go around — is one that constantly bothers almost all of us. After we get through paying food, housing, medical, dental, and clothing expenses, then we come up against telephone bills, automobile expenses, insurance payments, overdue bills of various sorts, and the thousand and one other things that offer themselves in exchange for our limited income. All this is quite aside from our need to save for possible future emergencies, for sending the children through college, and for our own old age.

There are several possible solutions to this problem none of which can be said to be entirely satisfactory.

One possibility is to ignore the problem by borrowing any extra cash you may need. Banks and small loan companies are doing a flourishing lending business today as testimony to the many millions who are using this device to solve the difficulty. You can borrow without collateral, without co-signers, without endorsers. And without seeing the consequences that inevitably ensue when you have to start repaying the loan, you then find that the problem is worse than it ever was, with more and more of your paycheck going to repay past debts and less and less left for the current expenses which are as great as ever.

A second possibility is sharply to curtail one or more of your major expenses, such as those associated with clothing, your car, or your food bill. But this solution would involve such a severe change in most peoples' habit patterns that it can hardly be considered as more than a laughable suggestion.

The last solution is to try to live within your paycheck by the traditional method of budgeting — listing all of your various expenses, comparing them with your paycheck, cutting down on luxuries and things you need less than other things, keeping a record of how each penny is spent, and seeing how and where you can economize more next month than you did in the one just ended.

This method has definite possibilities, but if you start it you might as well resign yourself really to doing without some things you now enjoy. You will find out how much you really can afford to spend on various items and find out surprisingly how much you actually are spending on them. Unless you are prepared to do some cutting down where you find it really counts, you might as well not waste time doing all the bothersome paper work. Just keeping the records, in itself, won't solve the problem.

Jim Jones liked the new home. So did Mrs. Jones. But as Jim said, "What are we going to do with the house we have now if we buy this one. We can't afford to own two at once."

"That's a problem all right," I replied, "but I think we can find an answer."

I continued, "First of all, we can increase the mortgage on your present home. This extra money will take care of the down payment on the new one. Then, you can rent your present home for enough to meet the payments on it."

"Sure, that would work," Jim replied. "And, later, you can sell our present house, or maybe we'll want to keep it as an investment."

Mrs. Jones smiled. "Either way I'll win," she said, "because I'll have a brand-new home — just what I've always wanted."

Jim grinned too. "We knew everything would work out. All we needed was the right new home and the right idea. I guess you've supplied both."

If you want to buy a nice home, call on us. We would be pleased to assist you in finding one you want, and in making the necessary arrangements to buy it.

Is That So!

By Clara Waldron

How's your garden? Or isn't it? If you are an intrepid agriculturalist like Ed Harper, you probably have a head start. At least a picture in one of last summer's "TP Broadcasts" showed him digging potatoes June 29, which he had planted the 20th of March in a snow storm. Probably this year he started during that warm spell in February.

There are two schools of thought about gardening in Michigan. There are those who adhere to the calendar and, regardless of weather, barge in where angels in galoshes fear to tread. Then there are the thermometer "green thumbers" who hold that, no matter how late the season, it is better to wait until the ground is thoroughly "warmed up" for good results. This spring could prove both of them wrong. The early birds probably have the best of it. The timid souls are still waiting.

Bragging about your garden is becoming a lost art. The days are past when in the spring, the creak of harness leather and the "Gid-ap, Nell," "Whoa there" of the plowman sounded across the town, and plot after plot took on the rich luster of freshly turned earth. Then the family who did not have new potatoes and peas for the Fourth of July was in mild disgrace, a hoe was an accepted part of a small boy's summer recreational program and items appeared in the HERALD about prodigous squash and out-size potatoes.

It seems a bit ironical that now, when there are pressure cookers and deep freezers to preserve them, so few veegtables are grown to be preserved. "It does not pay," is the invariable argument.

Ever offer one of those adding machine addicts some fresh tomatoes or sweet corn? Still there are a few incurable optimists, who in spite of years of trial and tribulation, believe they can make a seed catalog come true. They do not need to keep books. They know the balance of satisfaction will always be in their favor.

'Long in April every spring,
Sure's the frogs begin to sing
Down the crick;
I get garden fever so,
Want to make things start to grow,
Right off quick.

Like to work the dirt up, fine,
Like to make rows with a line
For the peas.
Somehow then my back don't break,
And there ain't that pesky ache
In my knees.

But I get one when the weeds
Come up faster than my seeds,
Mighty soon.
When the cut-worms and the slugs,
Aphids, blight and tater-bugs
Come in June.

When the neighbor's cocker pup
Helps the lima beans come up—
Oh, I say—
Never did have any luck
Trying to raise garden truck,
Anyway.

Next year it can grow to grass,
And I'll buy my garden sass—
Everything.
Every year that's what I say,
But I'm waiting for that day,
Every spring.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Wise Stepmother

Have you heard about young Skeeter Roberts' unusual pet, the tame owl "Blinky"? He's had her about three years.

I say "her" because up to a couple of weeks ago nobody was quite sure. But now "Blinky's" a mother—of two chicks!

Seems "Blinky" had been acting kind of strange—so on a hunch, Skeeter put a couple of hen's eggs in her nest. Darn if "Blinky" didn't set on them for 5 days! Last Friday they hatched, and now "Blinky's" as proud as a mother hen! (So's Skeeter.)

From where I sit, there's a lesson for all of us. Guess you'd call it "tolerance." Birds and animals often seem to do better in that respect than humans. If I like a glass of temperate beer with supper and you'd rather have cider—it should be okay with both of us. Neither of us should give a "hoot" what the other fellow likes, says, or does, as long as he follows the law of the land. Right?

SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION

Comparatively, Michigan is a young state. From the standpoint of the discovery of America, we are less than 500 years old and only slightly over 300 years since the landing of the Pilgrims.

We have just recently celebrated the first Michigan Week, when all schools had special programs reviewing the recorded facts of our development.

During the early economic development stages, the Michigan territory became a part of the great Northwest Territory and was governed by the Ordinance of 1787, which provided, "Religion, morality, and knowledge being necessary to good government and the happiness of mankind, schools and the means of education shall forever be encouraged." In 1837, Michigan became one of the states of the United States with its own constitution. This constitution provided for schools and the means of education. The Legislature of the state has wisely given authority to communities for the carrying out of an educational program designed to meet the needs of each local community through a school district system, each with its own elected board of education.

As the needs for education in the early days developed, a number of school districts were organized until in 1911 the state had 7,333 local districts. These all were organized around natural pioneer communities which represented the economy and society of that time. As the economy and society changed, we note that the number of school districts has declined. Districts have changed only when the people within the community have decided that change is necessary.

This process has been moving forward slowly and at the present time has reached a more rapid pace than previously. The number of districts currently within Michigan is 4,345. All communities are concerned with education for their children and they best can meet the needs of the day when the community as a whole has an understanding of the educational conditions and needs of the day and realizes that as conditions within the world change it is necessary for our schools to change so that the graduates of our schools will be not only citizens of their community but will be enlightened citizens of the state, the nation and the world.

We are faced with many problems to produce citizens of this kind. These problems are in general those dealing with finance, teacher shortage, increasing enrollments, and additional facilities. There is no magic formula that can be developed to solve any of these immediately. We can, however, see improvements and improvements come in direct proportion to the understanding that the public has of all these problems.

I have faith that the people will find the solution for each problem as it arises and hope that as each generation solves a problem it realizes that the solution is not for all time. Education always has changed and it always will. We always will be a young nation and a young state so long as we are willing to accept change and adjust educational program to meet changing conditions and needs.

Mrs. Clark LaBaron Buried Tuesday

Mrs. Cora Elsie LaBaron, widow of the late Clark LaBaron, died early Sunday morning at her home on South Adrian street where she had lived for many years. Although Mrs. LaBaron had reached the age of 84, she had been active in her home and church until one week ago.

She was born in Barry county, Michigan, June 15, 1869, the daughter of Nathan and Lucinda Prentice Austin, coming to Tecumseh 40 years ago from Azalia, Lenawee Co. She was a member of the Assembly of God.

Mrs. LaBaron is survived by two sons, Arlie and Leroy and by seven grandchildren, two of whom she has cared for since the death of their afther, and by several nieces and nephews.

She was preceded in death by her husband in 1939, two sons, Floyd and Harry; a daughter Lucy; three sisters, Mathilda Reeves, Lillian Marsh and Mary Nixon and by two brothers.

The body was taken from the Green Funeral Home at noon on Tuesday to the Assembly of God church on Bidwell street where funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Donald L. McPherson. Add to LaBaron Funeral . . . . .

Mrs. MacPherson, accompanied by Mrs. Daisy Cubberly sang "Home Sweet Home" and "The Last Mile of the Way" as part of the service.

Burial was in Brookside cemetery with Clarence, Raymond and Frank Marsh of Tecumseh and Osborn Raymond and Wilbur Nixon of Ypsilanti as bearers.

HONORS

bership directory. It was reported that a fair response had been received to the questionaires sent to all known members and that many more were hoped for. A list of more than thirty names was read of those sending contributions for this purpose.

The toastmaster, Jack Puffer, introduced past and present teachers in the audience. Those from away included Newman Gamble, now of Kalamazoo and Mrs. Dorthy Trilcock Iseman of Detorit. Special applause greeted Miss Minnie Russell, who was well known to the older alumni. Graduates of the period before 1900 received special recognition as did the classes of 1944, 1934 and 1929 who were celebrating anniversaries.

In memoriam service by Alvin Brazee, called to memory eight alumni who had died since the last reunion: Emily Hall Rasmussen of the class of 1894, Winifred Wilson Bates 1898, Eolah Brown Bates 1905, Josephine Hayden Satterthwaite 1910, Leon VanValkenburg 1911, Perry M. Hayden 1919, Zadok St. John 1929 and Nerissa Fosdick Towle 1931.

James Temple of the class of 1929, celebrating his 25th anniversary welcomed the new graduates of 1954 into the alumni membership and James Hartsell responded on behalf of that class, 24 of whom were present.

The association was then entertained by a showing of the film, "God is My Landlord" which was produced by the late Perry Hayden. The president commented on the aptness of this selection as 1954 would have been the 35th reunion for Perry and his story was a fitting memorial.

The balance of the evening was spent in dancing on the spacious floor of the new gymnasium to the music of the ten-piece Products Orchestra.

Officers chosen for the coming year are: President, Dr. Richard Hammel; vice president, Richard Boyd; corresponding secretary and assistant, Ruth LaBounty Puffer and Betty Purkey Williamson; treasurer, Robert Williamson and recording secretary, Mildred Haines Wilson.

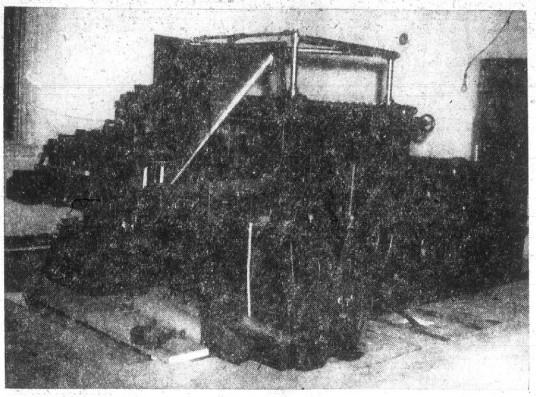
THE TECUMSEH HERALD

LENAWEE COUNTY'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER

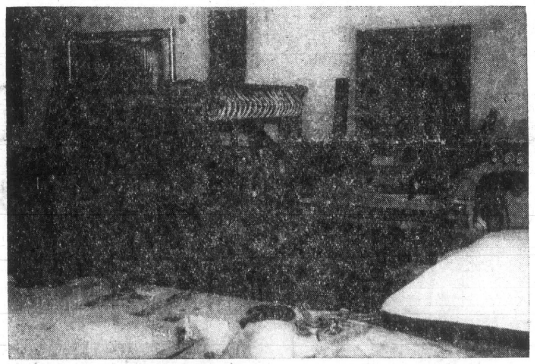
SERVING TECUMSEH, BRITTON, RIDGEWAY, MACON AND TIPTON

ONE HUNDRED THIRD YEAR — NUMBER 37 | TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, JUNE 17, 1954 | FIVE CENTS A COPY

After 76 Years, The HERALD Moves To New Location



THE NEW PRESS — This is the new Duplex press. It replaces the Babcock cylinder press that had been used for years in producing the newspaper. The new press means that eight pages can be printed at one time. On the old press only four pages could be printed at a time. The new press also gives the HERALD one more column per page. This means that the paper has 20½ more inches per page. In a 12-page paper this means 240 more inches of space that can be used for news, advertising and pictures. The press, weighing more than 12 tons, prints from a huge roll of paper that comes in four-page, six-page and eight-page sizes. A side view of the Duplex press is shown below.



After almost 76 years in the same spot, The Tecumseh HERALD made history last Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday by moving to a new location.

The HERALD is now located in the south end of the Weatherman building and occupies two street addresses. The office is at 117 South Evans street and the store room is at 119 South Evans street, formerly occupied by Tecumseh Electric's service shop and the Food Shop.

Gambles will occupy the old HERALD location on Chicago Blvd. As soon as the building can be renovated and redecorated, Don Martin, owner and manager, plans an expansion of his present store.

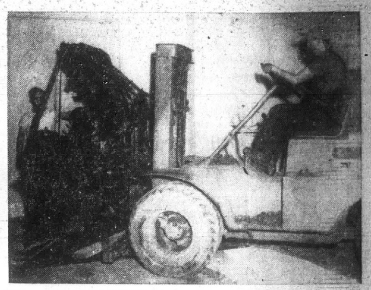
The paper's move was directed by Frank Hunter and Son of Adrian with assists from the Tecumseh Products Company and the R. S. Moore & Son Company.

The new location was renovated by Howard Truesdale, general contractor, and decorated by Ben Caudle. Asphalt tile came from and was laid by Palman's, the Marsch Company, and Tecumseh Electric wired the presses and installed new lighting.

A light green paint was used throughout the new quarters, including the composing room. Glass panels separate the offices.

Later in the summer a public open house will be held so folks can inspect the new quarters.

MOVING EQUIPMENT — More than a little concern was shown when the HERALD'S heavy, expensive machinery was moved to the new location. Here Art Karns of the Tecumseh Products Company gets under the linotype with his lift truck.



AND SUCCESSFULLY — After crossing Chicago Blvd., and going down the alley behind Schneider's Garage, Karns eases the linotype down in its new place. The same procedure was used for the job presses and other heavy equipment.

Two File For Board Of Education

Aden Mead and Dwight Hodges, both incumbents on the Tecumseh Board of Education have filed nominating petitions with Dr. Ralph Helzerman, board secretary.

The board of education election is July 12. Deadline for filing nominating petitions for this election was last Saturday.

Both men have served three-year terms. Mr. Hodges served as treasurer and Mr. Mead served as trustee.

At the last regular meeting the board authorized a five cent per hour raise for hourly rated employees, starting July 1. This raise is approximately equivalent to raises given teachers for the coming year.

The board also discussed the matter of tuition pupils, the closing of the Veterans Institute, boiler insurance, glass coverage for various buildings, and the safety of children on Ottawa street in front of Central School.

The board voted to award Donald Woodward, now serving with the armed forces overseas, a high school diploma for he has finished certain work specified by the board at an earlier date.

Following some discussion of the sale of East Branch school and the use of the school owned land north of the swimming pool by the City for parking, the board voted to sanction the latter if other land suitable for experimental agricultural projects is made available to the school by the City.

Rev. Brunger Assigned To Dundee Church

The Rev. Ronald A. Brunger, pastor of the First Methodist church here since Sept., 1951, will leave the local church this week to asume his new duties as pastor of the Dundee First Methodist church.

This was one of several changes announced in Detroit last Sunday at a meeting of the Ann Arbor district of the Detroit Methodist Conference.

The Rev. Brunger, his wife and their three children will move to Dundee Monday. Sunday he will preach his first sermon in the Dundee Methodist pulpit.

The Tecumseh pulpit will be filled Sunday by Mr. Lyle Harper of Duke University.

Since coming here from Stephenson, Mich., almost three years ago, the Rev. Brunger has been active in community affairs. He has been in demand as a song leader and he acted as pianist for the Rotary Club of which he was a member.

He received his bachelor degree from Albion College and he earned two graduate degrees from Boston University.

Adults Like New Pool

Seventy adults turned out Monday for the special night for adults planned at the new pool. The special time for adults only (those over 16) will be repeated tonight and next Monday night from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m., reports Carl Hale, pool manager.

Almost 3000 persons have used the pool, he said. This count was taken as of Monday.

Mr. Hale pointed out that for the sake of safety certain rules and regulations must be followed by those using the pool.

He said some of the smaller swimmers have been receiving minor cuts on their toes from climbing the walls of the pool instead of using the ladders.

He also asked that girls and women not wearing bathing hats refrain from wearing hair pins and barrettes while using the pool, since these items fall from the hair and also may cause cuts.

Exchange Will Sponsor Dawn Patrol

Tecumseh's Exchange Club again will sponsor the Dawn Patrol. This year the event will be held Sunday, July 4, at Tecumseh Field.

As in past years, proceeds from the event will be used for a civic project which has not been announced. Last year the club bought a pneolator for the police department.

Pilots all over Michigan, Indiana and Ohio are expected to attend.

The public is invited to the breakfast which will be served starting at 7 a.m. Last year about 1,000 persons were served. This year the club expects to serve 1,200 meals.

Members of the Civil Air Patrol will be on hand to park planes which will be exhibited. And a taxi service will provide transportation from the field to the hangar where the breakfast will be served, rain or shine.

Owen Partridge is general chairman of the event. He will be assisted by these committees:

Publicity and ground maintenance, Forest Abner, Otto Meier, Orville Bishop and George Derby; plane parking—Civil Air Patrol; auto parking—Art Harding, V. F. W.; transportation—Harvey Wilson; first aid—Dr. Richard Dustin; candy and pop—Archie Porter and Jack Morehouse; reception and registration — Russell Garno, Owen Partridge, Leon Williamson and Reginald Dixon; ambulance — Ellsworth Collins; food, kitchen and dining room — Wallace Whiting, George McCombs, Clarence Beach, Pete Thielan, Harry Curry, Clarence Keller, Warren Benham, Clayton Mikesell, Dwight Hodges, William Powell, James Barton, Fr. Tom Collins, Ed Nelson, Earl Updike, Paul Clauda, Chester Beach, Robert Bonner, Eldon Colthurst, David Dick, Earl Greene, Kenneth Hall, Neville Hart, Kenton Hunt, Jack Metcalf, Ollie Musch, Max Brandt, Harold Morey and Don Nettleman; ticket sales and accounting—John Saling, William Powell, Owen Partridge and Russell Garno; fire department — John Saling.

Is That So!

By Clara Waldron

Somewhere in those Elysian Fields, especially set aside for the well earned rest of editors and printers, there must be a few sardonic chuckles from the HERALD'S past over the assumption on the part of us "Johnny-come-latelys" that there is anything new under the sun.

To be sure that new press, which does everything but write editorials and correct our spelling, is producing a page with eight columns and a "mast head" which seems to shatter a precedent. But changes like that are just old stuff.

The HERALD, during the first half of its history, fluctuated from eight to six to seven and even nine colums. The nine column pages were nearly six inches taller also. Only four of them to be sure, but very impressive as pages go.

The very first edition in 1850 had four pages of seven columns each and it was described as a "Literary," Business and Family Paper." It leaned heavily on the literary side for quite some time, the front page being filled, save for one column of advertisements, with such spritely articles as one headed, "The tendency of the world toward organism under laws universal and absolute," "Being a discourse pronounced at Ann Arbor before the Literary Society of the University of Michigan by Rev. W. S. Curtis." On the same page, concession was made to those not of the intelligensia by a gem of fiction entitled, "Confessions of a Housekeeper."

The advertisements, of which there were a great many, provide almost the only clue to the life and times of the town. Apparently it was not good form to have your name in the paper for there were practically no local items except marriages and deaths and then only the stark facts were published.

Not until S. C. Stacy, and his nine columns took over during the 1870's, were there what might be termed the personals. Under his editorship the paper asumed a chatty style of reporting, especially after he adopted eight pages of six columns each, one page of which was devoted to what he called the "Chip Basket." The front page was used exclusively for items from nearby communities under such intriguing headings as "Ridgeway Rambles," "Britton Budget," "Raisin Racket," "Tipton Topics," "Manchester Matters" and "Lake Ridge Laconics."

About 1899, the paper became a semi-weekly, coming out on Tuesday and Friday mornings, four pages again but with eight columns. It maintained this form with slight variation for nearly

Golf Professional Miss Patty Berg Will Come Here

Patty Berg, headline artist of the women's tournament golf circuit, will appear at the Tecumseh Country Club, Thursday, June 24.

Beginning at 1 p.m., she will perform shots which have won her world-wide acclaim as an all time golfing great. Immediately after her demonstration clinic she will shoot nine holes, going around the course as part of a foursome composed of another outstanding woman golfer, the local pro, Leo Bishop and Kirk Smith.

Miss Berg is appearing through the courtesy of Wilson Sporting Goods Co. and the event is being sponsored locally by the Auxiliary of Herrick Memorial hospital. The committee in charge feels that this is a most unusual privilege for all those interested in golf in the Tecumseh area as Miss Berg's appearance at such a relatively small club is without precedent.

The public is invited and the committee hopes for a large gallery to watch the event.

The Auxiliary will use proceeds of Patty Berg Day for equipping the children's ward at the hospital.

Tickets will be sold at Hanna's Insurance, Eggleston's Jewelry and Butler's Garage.

There will be refreshments available at the club during the afternoon.

GOLFERS TRY TO BEAT PRO BISHOP

Sunday was Beat the Pro Day at Tecumseh Country Club, when 28 golfers tried to shoot against the score of Leo Bishop. It was low net with full handicap against Bishop whose low gross is 66.

Low net scores registered were Robert Bowers with a 66, Joe Horvath, 67; Frank Rice, 69; Bill Koster, 69; Bill Porter, 70; Frank Smith, 71.

Low gross for the day was made by Kirk Smith with a 72.

Lyle Gregg Heads Legion

Lyle Gregg is the commander of Underwood-Orr Post No. 34, the American Legion.

Succeeding Robert Lowe, Commander Gregg was elected last Thursday night.

Other officers elected include Vern Manwaring, first vice-commander; James Rohrer, second vice-commander; John Colson, chaplain; George Green, Jr., finance officer; Richard Colson, sergeant-at-arms; and William Zwick, historian.

Members of the post decided to discontinue meeting during July and August. The next meeting will be held Sept. 3 when the new officers will be installed.

GIRL BREAKS ARM IN FALL AT POOL

Isobel McCombs, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McCombs, 207 South Oneida street, broke her right arm in two places Saturday when she slipped and fell in the locker room at the new swimming pool.

She was taken to Herrick Memorial hospital for treatment.

TECUMSEH ELECTRIC ADDS TWO TO STAFF

Tom King and James Welker have been added to the staff of Tecumseh Electric as television technicians.

The company is still located in the Weatherman Building at 115 South Evans street.

Facing The News

THE REV. BRUNGER will leave the First Methodist church to be pastor of the Dundee Methodist church. His successor here has not been named.

MRS. HARRIET KNIGHT almost won a prize conducted by the Detroit Free Press. See The Silver Lining.

CONDUCTED BY BOB WARREN

WE HAVE MOVED TO OUR new location with a new press, a new name plate and some new aches and pains. The move was made without serious incident. Before we began the exodus from the Chicago Blvd. address, a number of folks called, asking if we needed help. To all those who offered help, many thanks, and to the Products Company and the Moore Lumber Co. special thanks for the use of the lift trucks that made the move easier. All of us here also are deeply appreciative of the sincere interest shown all over town and genuine concern of those who kept in touch with the move.

THE PAPER'S NEW NAME PLATE is a result of a combination of services. First, the art work was by Earl Bryan, Tecumseh sign painter. Earl wrote to Tecumseh, Ontario, some time ago for an authentic drawing of Chief Tecumseh. He used this drawing in painting the signs for the Chamber of Commerce that mark the approaches to the city and he used the same drawing of Chief Tecumseh in doing the art work for the paper's name plate which was engraved by Toledo Colortype of Toledo.

THIS IS A COINCIDENCE. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mohr live near Clinton. When this Bob Mohr was single he lived with his family, the Waldo Mohrs at 214 W. Logan. Down the street at 214 E. Logan lived another Robert Mohr with his folks the Roland Mohrs. For quite some time the two Bob Mohrs have been getting each other's mail and they still are. They are not related.

THE LINING SENDS ITS BEST wishes to the Rev. Ronald Brunger who is leaving the local Methodist church for the pulpit in Dundee. May he, his wife and their three wonderful children continue to grow spiritually and may they all enjoy their new home and friends in the Monroe County town.

NOISES FROM TRAINS ALWAYS have fascinated me so I should have a whale of a time in our new location "across the tracks." Choo choo trains go by a dozen times a day and quite a number of times at night.

OUR JANITOR HAS A SENSE of humor. In part of the building that houses our store room was this sign "Food Shop. Home Cooked Food." When the janitor scraped the paint off he did it in such a sequence that these words were left "Foo Sho Ho Coo Foo." Our apprentice said it should have been left this way because we might one day have a Chinese reader, but it all was scraped off.

Sister Follows Sister In Death An Hour Later

Two sisters, Mrs. Mirtie A. Arnold, 76, and Mrs. Jennie B. Poley, 78, were separated by death for just one hour Monday evening and joint services will be held for them this afternoon at 2:30 in the Collins Funeral Home.

The daughters of Cornelius and Sarah King Miller, both were born in Henry county, Ohio, Mrs. Arnold, May 23, 1878, and Mrs. Poley February 3, 1876.

Mrs. Arnold, who had made her home with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Comfort of Raisin for several years, died at 9:30 p.m. at Herrick Memorial hospital, where she had been a patient for only two and one-half days. She was a member of Tecumseh Friends church.

Survivors are her daughter, Mrs. Comfort; two granddaughters; two grandsons and several nieces and nephews. She was preceded in death by a daughter in 1905 and a son in 1953.

Mrs. Poley, who lived at 311 W. Patterson street died at her home at 10:30 p.m., one hour after the death of her sister. She had been in failing health for the past five years. She also attended the Friends church.

She is survived by seven sons, Clarence who lives in Monroe, Ralph of Milan, Orson and Dermont of Sturgis, Arthur of Erie and Lawrence and Joseph, Tecumseh; two daughters, Mrs. Adeline Ankeny, Ypsilanti, and Mrs. Blanche Jewell of Tecumseh; forty-five grandchildren and numerous great grandchildren.

Mrs. Poley's husband, Frank Poley, died in 1946 and she was also preceded in death by a son, George in 1948, a brother, Dermont in 1920 and by her sister Mrs. Arnold an hour earlier.

Services for both Mrs. Poley and Mrs. Arnold will be conducted by their pastor, the Rev. Edward Escolme and they will be buried side by side in Brookside cemetery.

City Officials Plan For The Future

City officials are planning for the future of Tecumseh. They are not thinking about the city a year hence; but they are actively concerned about Tecumseh 10 years from now and beyond.

First, the council some time ago appointed a nine-member planning commission whose members would meet, discuss city planning and make concrete suggestions to the council. City Manager Ed Nelson was named an ex-officio member to see that the planning group had a good head start.

Then the council approved the part time services of Stephen Spencer Page as a consultant to the planning commission. One of Mr. Page's first duties will be to advise in the preparation of a survey of the whole city of Tecumseh showing the homes, schools, churches, industries and parks.

From this survey a plat drawing will be made. This will be a composite of the City of Tecumseh which will be used by members of the planning commission, the city manager and the council for future overall planning.

The council and city manager have done other planning too. There is hardly a council meeting that goes by without some one wanting water and sewer to a new subdivision or a property owner who wants curb and gutter in front of his home. But the council never had a concrete policy for a guide, particularly for subdivisions.

But at a special meeting held Tuesday night the council and manager met with Michigan Municipal League officials for guidance on a possible bonding program that would possibly give the city means for providing water and sewer lines where they are needed.

And the council and manager have done preliminary work on discussing the possibility of some kind of ordinance that would govern the city's relationships with subdividers.

They also are working on future plans for taking care of curb and gutter work for the city's 26 miles of streets.

None of these plans have been fully formulated yet but at least planning has been started.

The new city has a long and perhaps rough road ahead but with the type of planning that has been done and that will be done, the future needs of the city will be met.

The HERALD and the Future

The HERALD also is planning for the future. Now housed in new quarters at 117-119 S. Evans street, the paper has a new and larger press that will enable it to publish eight columns of news and advertising per page.

If this newspaper had not had faith in the future of Tecumseh it would not have expanded to the present point. Nor would it be planning more expansion. But it has complete faith in the city's future and it already is planning steps that will give its readers and advertisers a more complete paper. Some of these steps will be undertaken, and, it is hoped, completed yet this summer. Chief of these steps is expanded readership.

And with this expanded circulation will come more and more diversified news. A sprinkling of this can be seen in this week's edition. Reference is made to a wider use of pictures and farm news. All around Tecumseh, Britton, Ridgeway, Tipton and Macon, the HERALD'S service area, are some of the finest farms in Michigan. Through mechanical limitations we of late have been derelict in our duties of reporting news of interest to farmers. Now, with more space with which to work, we can help the farmer keep abreast of his industry too.

Later, when school is in force again, we hope to have more school news and more sports news, both from Tecumseh and Britton schools and from the city's sports activities.

And as time goes by other important developments will be made in the HERALD, all with the goal in mind of making this newspaper one of the finest in the state.

We have faith in the future. And the planning and content of the HERALD will show this faith.

A sad commentary on modern civilization is that it seems to require a war to make people prosperous.

Machines perform 93 per cent of the hard work in our country's amazing industrial production, and a lot of the light work in factory and home. To mow lawns, cut whiskers, beat up eggs and do other domestic, industrial and recreational small jobs, manufacturers turned out more than 28 million small engines and fractional h.p. electric motors last year . . . And now electric tooth-brushes are coming out!

Letters To The Editor

Editor of Herald:

Enclosed is a copy of the letter sent to Mr. Fred Timby in response to the inquiry of the Palo Alto Junior Chamber of Commerce published in the last issue of the HERALD.

Thank you.

Sincerely yours,
Robert J. Murray, D.D.S.

June 15, 1954

"Mr. Fred W. Timby
Junior Chamber of Commerce
Public Health Committee
Palo Alto, California.

"Dear Mr. Timby:

"Your Palo Alto Junior Chamber o fCommerce is certainly to be congratulated for investigating the benefits of fluoridation for your children. As you undoubtedly know, the National Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Senior Chamber of Commerce have given their wholehearted endorsement of fluoridation.

"Now the question is — Why did Tecumseh, representing 5,000 people become the first city in the country TO TAKE FLUORIDE OUT of the city water supply, while 1,000 other cities representing 20,000,000 people HAVE FLUORIDATED their water supplies during the past three years?

"Many of the physicians and dentists in Tecumseh have urged me to reply to your injuiry, not in regard to the scientific advantages of fluoridation but rather the local factors influencing it here in Tecumseh.

"(1) First of all, some responsibility must rest with us, the dentists and physicans, in not educating enough people as to the benefits of this public health measure.

"(2) Our local newspaper consistently refused to take any action editorially or newswise toward fluoridation education. Due to this lack of education the public could not understand why they had not been consulted by vote regarding fluoridation. Paid advertisements for or against fluoridation were accepted and no effort was made to check the source or scientific background of this material.

"(3) In Tecumseh, during the 80 year period from 1850 to 1930, the population remained static while the population of the country was steadily increasing. Due to the establishment of a refrigeration enteprise in the 30's that has experieched exceptional growth, there has been a marked change in Tecumseh from an agricultural to an industrial community, with the accompanying adjustment problems.

"(4) Though signs at our city limits announce Tecumseh as the most progressive city in Michigan, Tecumseh has consistently opposed progress in health and education — for example — Pasteurization of milk was not required in Tecumseh until July 15, 1937, nine years behind the average United States city. Our school bond proposals are repeatedly defeated at the polls.

"(5) Local political issues took precedence over the health of our children.

"(6) Less than half of the registered voters bothered to go to the polls.

"Enclosed please find sample of the fear advertising distributed by the opposition, and an article from the May 1954 issue of the Journal of the Michigan State Dental Association entitled "Fluoridation — The Greatest Advance in Dental Public Health", by Fred Wertheimer, D.D.S., M.P.H., Chief Public Health, Denistry Section, Michigan Department of Health. Presented at meeting of the Public Affairs Committee of the Michigan Junior Chamber of Commerce, Lansing, Michigan, on January 16, 1954.

"Our Citizens Committee for Fluoridation is bringing this issue before the public again in November.

"It is interesting to note that an active Junior Chamber of Commerce with 100 charter members was organized here in Tecumseh less than two months after fluoridation was defeated.

"If I may be of any further help regarding our local situation, please advise, Technical information and public education materials are available from the United States Public Health Service and the American Dental Association.

"Thanking you for your interest in better public health through prevention rather than cure, I am

Sincerely yours,
Robert J. Murray, D.D.S."

PROGRAM PLANNING WORKSHOP SCHEDULED

"We're looking for a bargain," the tall, well-dressed businessman said.

"Everyone is," I answered.

"Yes, but we expect to find one. We want to locate in a nice neighborhood. The house should be well constructed, but we care if it needs some maintenance work."

In a few days, I came across such a place. It was a "bargain" too. The owners needed to sell at once, but the house was in poor shape for selling.

The man bought it. He and his wife repainted it and made other improvements themselves.

"We're tired," she said a week later on the street, "but in a good sort of way. Neither of us had ever had the fun of fixing up a house before. We're really thrilled beyond words. And, we feel better too."

One of the joys of home ownership is the fun of improving it to suit yourself. Sure it's work, but pleasurable at that.

There's one catch though. You have to buy a home before you can experience the thrill of reworking it.

But, we'll help you. Just phone the office for a date to see some of our home "bargains."

Mrs. Wade Hendershot conducted the period of devotions and a short business meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. Charles Mensing. Plans were discussed for Patty Berg Day at the Country Club, June 24.

The speaker of the evening was Miss Monetta Schafer, assistant professor of nursing instruction of the College of Nursing at Wayne University. Her topic was "International Nurses at Wayne" and she told of many of the student nurses that have been visitors in Tecumseh.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Wade Hendershot, Mrs. R. J. Tressler, Mrs. Ethel Coke, Mrs. Willis Porter and Mrs. Elmer Eberhardt and Mrs. W. T. Claxton of Britton.

The average U.S. farmer uses his tractor 700 hours a year, reports Robert G. White, M.S.C. farm engineer. Machinery is a better buy than labor if you put it to work but a poor buy if it stands idle.

Food Chain Finds Brain Food A Best-Seller

Encyclopedias and sirloin steaks are sharing the same shopping bags in a novel, neck-and-neck popularity contest that began last week in this city.

This unusual mating came about when The Kroger Company added brain food to its regular line of groceries, meats and produce by offering its customers a spanking new edition of The American International Encyclopedia. Late reports indicate that shoppers are snapping up the encyclopedia at such a merry pace that some of the fastest-selling meats and groceries are having a hard time keeping up with culture.

Applying its super-market buying "know-how" to encyclopedias, Kroger recently completed arrangements for its stores in this and other cities to feature the famous 16-volume set at the rate of a volume a week for a period of sixteen weeks. Original reckonings that more than 40 carloads of paper alone would be required by the estimated demand already appear to have been more than conservative. At the record low price of 89c per volume, the extraordinary demand would seem to indicate that many families have waited for an opportunity of this kind to own a fine encyclopedia at a price well within the most modest means.

The American International Encyclopedia now on sale at Kroger is the brand-new, 1954 edition offering more than 40,000 subjects, 3,250,000 words, over 3,000 illustrations. Formerly sold house-to-house at $50.00, the Kroger Company explains its ability to offer the set at less than one-third the original cost by the large economies of carload volume, its huge purchasing power, and "book-a-week" plan.

Is That So!

30 years, as long as it was owned by the Stacy family.

War restrictions on the use of paper in 1918 were responsible for the change to a Thursday weekly again and the smaller, seven column page that has been in use ever since. With the edition of September 26, 1918, a new editor, Emil Ahrens, first printed the HERALD on the Babcock cylinder press which made its last run of the paper last week.

The Tecumseh HERALD of the paper's mast head has gone through as many phases as has the format of its pages. Beginning in 1850, with large square capitals with only an outline of black, the lettering has had two periods of old English, one very flamboyant, several variations of Roman type and at least two sizes of the block printing now in use. The setting of the head has varied with the type. In fact the HERALD is so conditioned to change that it can take even an Indian in its stride.

When it comes to providing taste appeal, onions are an excellent way to obtain it. Use the big white onions called "Spanish" for milk flavor, and the smaller yellow ones known as "Yellow Gloves" for a slightly stronger taste.

been lucky" had sort of a bad-break last weekend. Mrs. Knight, 92, entered Bonanza Bill's crossword puzzle contest in the Free Press and a reporter called the HERALD office to take a picture of Mrs. Knight as one of the winners of the contest. Later, after closer checking, the Free Press discovered that Mrs. Knight had not won the contest. But she's not discouraged. She only planned to buy a new fishing license with the money, anyway. She gets a big kick out of fishing. Her son-in-law Floyd Bryan says Mrs. Knight always catches the biggest and most fish.

HAVE YOU NOTICED THE FINE roses in town and out in the country? They are beautiful and one of the finest displays is clinging to the city office building.

REMEMBER WHEN THE UM-MSC hassle came up and the East Lansing School wanted also to be known as a university. It died down but I was reminded of the story recently when my uncle who is an English teacher at UM was discussing the situation. He cracked: "Have you heard of that udder university?" There go all our MSC subscribers.

EVEN THE CALENDAR GAVE UP the ghost. The day we began to move from our Chicago Blvd. location, the calendar, so help me, fell from the wall in a heap. So we brought him, or it, along to our new location, too.

NEXT TO THE WORST PUN: When buying a pooch, be sure it's a bargain because a bargain dog never bites.

THIS IS ONE OF THE BEST bits on determination that I have ever seen.

Somebody said that it couldn't be done,
But he, with a chuckle, replied
That "maybe it couldn't" but we would be one
Who wouldn't say so, till he tried.
So he buckled right in, with the trace of a grin
On his face. If he worried, he hid it.
He started to sing as he tackled the thing
That couldn't be done, and HE DID IT.

Somebody scoffed, "Oh, you'll never do that;
At least no one ever has done it."
But he took off his coat and he took off his hat,
And the first thing we knew he'd begun it;
With the lift of his chin, and a bit of a grin,
Without any doubting or quiddit,
He started to sing as he tackled the thing
That couldn't be done, and HE DID IT.

There are thousands to tell you it cannot be done,
There are thousands to prophesy failure;
There are thousands to point out to you, one by one,
The dangers that wait to assail you;
But just buckle in with a bit of a grin,
Then off with your coat and GO TO IT;
Just start in to sing as you tackle the thing
That "cannot be done," and YOU'LL DO IT.

THIS IS ANOTHER ONE. It takes real determination to leave the fine air conditioned stores in town to return to walls of heat coming from hot sidewalks. Some of the stores would be a good place to stay — even to sleep.

INCIDENTAL INFORMATION: The brush haircut, as much a part of American college tradition as football, may be on the way out.

At least the number of Michigan State College men asking for a "butch" has declined steadily since the days immediately after World War II, barbers on and near the Spartan campus say.

"Around 1945, most of the men were just getting out of the service and were used to having their hair cut in brush," explains one barber. Now, barbers point out, only about 25 per cent of their college men customers ask for brush cuts.

All in all, college men are favoring neater haircuts which can be parted and are leaving the fancy "ducktail" and "boogie-woogie" trims to the high school students.

MISS DIBBLE TO GO TO WASHINGTON, D. C.

Mary Lou has had the high honor also of being selected as one of 10 members of a world panel, which will discuss topics of interest. The topic assigned to her is "public affairs" as it pertains to the nation, state and community.

320 ARE ENROLLED IN BIBLE SCHOOL

The largest registration for Vacation Bible school since the movement began in Tecumseh was reported Tuesday. There are 290 pupils and teachers in the three divisions that meet in the Baptist and Presbyterian churches.

The primary group, with 163 registered is the largest. It has 15 teachers. There are 82 beginners and 68 in the junior department. In spite of the large number of pupils, the supply of teachers is adequate and classes are getting under way.

Most of the time is occupied with worship and various types of handicraft work, which will be on exhibit on the closing day, June 25, at the Baptist church.

Jackson Freedom Festival To Observe GOP Founding

Covered wagons, horses and oxen will carry Michigan Young Republicans to the birthplace of their party, Jackson, during this city's Freedom Festival week, July 4 to 10, which commemorates the 100th anniversary of the founding of the GOP.

Plans for the overland journeys from several cities and an annual picnic already have been made by State Young Republicans.

Don't be surprised if, while driving along Michigan highways early in July, you happen upon part of the 24 covered wagons, their horses and oxen, and some 100 horseback riders. They're headed for Jackson where they plan to arrive on July 6, the exact date on which their forefathers 100 years ago held the first Republican convention and carved out the destiny of a new political party.

Forty persons expect to set out from Saginaw on horseback, according to Mrs. George Punches, who represented that city at a recent planning meeting.

Mrs. Betty Miller, James McCarthy, Janet White and Dennis Jenson, representing Detroit, said that the Motor City will send 10 covered wagons for the historic event and Alfred A. Sullivan, of Ypsilanti, said that city will dispatch a wagon, a surrey and six riders.

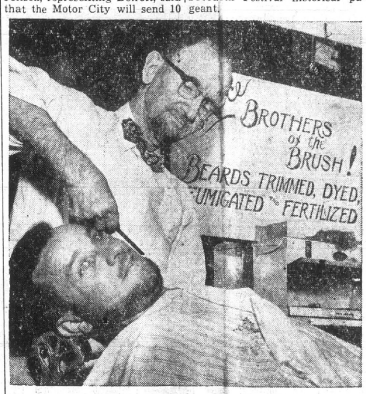
Twelve covered wagons, one drawn by oxen and 20 persons on horseback have agreed to come from Kalamazoo.

The wagon trains and horseback parties will rough it during their ride just as their ancestors who journeyed to Jackson 100 years ago from Michigan and northern Ohio and Indiana did for the first Republican convention.

The youthful Republicans will camp along the way on their overland ride and cook their food in the open.

Other groups are expected to come from Lansing, Muskegon, Flint, Grand Rapids and Bay City.

Those who make the trip at least will have the satisfaction of coming to the annual Young Republicans picnic the hard way. The picnic will include a dinner, selection of a Young Republican queen, a dance, and a visit to the Freedom Festival historical pageant.



HIRSUTE—Thousands of Jackson men are growing chin whiskers and beards to participate in the Freedom Festival at that city July 4-10 commemorating the founding of the Republican Party at Jackson 100 years ago. Getting his whiskers trimmed by a barber is Warren Blanchard, of Jackson, who decided that his whiskers needed touching up.

Driver Training Courses Seen Reducing Traffic Deaths, Injuries, Damages

A potential prevention of 17 highway deaths, 272 injuries and $775,000 in property damage losses in Michigan may be attributed to the 25,000 teen-agers who will complete high school driver-training courses this year. (Tecumseh High School has a course.)

This estimate was made by Automobile Club of Michigan Safety and Traffic Director Ernest P. Davis.

The figures represent the value of driver-training classes offered in 416 secondary schools in Michigan during 1953-54 sessions, Davis says.

Since the driver-training program was launched nationally 17 years ago, 1,400 lives have been spared and 50,000 injuries avoided, he estimates. Property damage mishaps prevented have saved Americans $144,900,000 as a result of driver-training in schools.

He adds, "Due to the remarkable job teachers perform in driver-education, students who complete this course have only half as many accidents as untrained drivers with equal experience. The record in Michigan for 15 years shows this.

"The money saved by halving the toll of accidents yields a return to the taxpayers of nearly $2.75 for every dollar invested. It costs about $34 per school year to train a student driver. Most of this total is used to pay the teacher's salary.

"Dual control cars are loaned free by auto dealers and text materials are furnished without charge by Auto Club," Davis says.

"Michigan's driver-training program is second to none," Davis states. "It would be even more effective if every high school student was given the chance to learn how to drive by such an effective means."

It Is Ordered, That Monday, the 21st day of June next, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition.

Protect Your Farm Pond With Grass

Protect the area around your farm pond with grass — whether it's a pond for fish, livestock, beauty, irrigation, or all four, advises Louis Hall, county agricultural agent. If you don't the banks, slopes and dam will erode and cave in and you'll have a mudhole.

A mudhole is not the best spot for fish, cautions Peter I. Tack, head of the Michigan State College fisheries and wildlife department.

If the pond is also for livestock, fence them out while grass is getting started and then both the stock and fish can enjoy the clear silt-free waters.

Red fescue, roughstalk meadow-grass (poa trivialis), turf grasses and alsike clover are best for seeding the bank and dam areas, notes Carter M. Harrison, M.S.C. forage crops researcher. Wind erosion is a problem as well as water erosion.

The shorter grasses are effective, pleasanter to view and easier to maintain.

A lot of ponds are in "saucer" areas of raw clay, explains Harrison, and some alsike clover in the seeding mixture will be helpful. For high organic soils, the poa trivialis is good. Red fescue comes in handy in fill clays that need heavy fertilizer.

The best time to seed the area is the same as for seeding a lawn or an alfalfa field — in early August. For off-season seedings, Harrison suggests a mixture of alsike clover and domestic rye grass.

Tony Curtis finds the willing arms of Mary Murphy a great morale booster in this tender scene from the technicolor drama "Beachhead." Frank Lovejoy co-stars with the pair.

PAST PRESIDENTS MEET

The Past Presidents of the Monday Club will meet Monday, June 21, at the home of Mrs. E. J. Aebersold on the Tecumseh-Clinton Road, for a potluck supper at 6:30 p.m.

Do You Want European Tour?

Members of the several Granges in this area will be interested in a European tour sponsored by the National Grange, oldest farm fraternity in the world.

For the first time in its 87 years, the National Grange offers to its members and others interested, a grand tour of European countries, England, Holland, Belgium, Switzerland, Germany, and France.

The tour starts from New York City on October 8, with the departure of the SS America of the United States Lines, and will end at New York on November 9 with the arrival of the SS United States. Air transportation by Harrison suggests a mixture of Trans World Airlines will be alsike clover and domestic rye available for those who prefer to fly.

Motor launch trips through the canal system of Holland, and motorcoach trips to points of interest within the several countries are included in the itinerary. Opportunity will also be provided for visits to agricultural areas.

Tours within this country, to and from National Grange Conventions have been popular for some years and have resulted in fine friendships and numerous reunions of former tour-mates. It is expected the European tour, planned to promote better international understanding wi peoples of other nations, will sult in establishing similar hap relationships.

Illustrated pamphlets with detailed information on the tou may be procured, without charge, from The National Grange Monthly, Springfield 3, Mass.

Christian Science Services Listed

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read at Christian Science services Sunday.

Man's dominion over all materiality is stressed in the readings from the King James Version of the Bible as well as those from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy. The Scriptural selections include the account as given in Matthew (14:22-32) of how Christ Jesus and Peter walked on the sea.

Readings from Science and Health include the following:

"In proportion as matter loses to human sense all entity as man, in that proportion does man become its master. He enters into a diviner sense of the facts, and comprehends the theology of Jesus as demonstrated in healing the sick, raising the dead, and walking over the wave. All these deeds manifested Jesus' control over the belief that matter is substance, that it can be the arbiter of life or the constructor of any form of existence", (309:5).

The Golden Text is from Psalms: "God hath spoken once; twice have I heard this; that power belongeth unto God" (62:11).

Harness Racing Is Scheduled For 27 Fairs In Michigan This Year

Michigan, fast becoming one of the nation's leading harness racing states, will have harness races at 27 fairs during coming weeks.

The number of such events is the same as last year. The Monroe County fair is a new one and replaces the one at Croswell which dropped harness racing.

Michigan's rise as one of the leading states for these events is due to the liberal purses offered. Money from the pari-mutuel tracks is used to match funds from the fair holding the race. Fair money is distributed by the Michigan Department of Agriculture's Bureau of Agricultural Industry of which Edward R. Zenner is chief.

While the number of harness racing events in 1954 will be no greater than last year, race horses of high quality are being attracted from a wider area.

A list of the 27 Michigan fairs to have harness racing this year together with the dates are: Allegan County Agricultural society, Allegan, Sept 12 to 18; Alpena County Agricultural society, Alpena, Sept. 6 to 10; Arenac County Agricultural society, Standish, Aug. 17 to 21; Barry County Agricultural society, Hastings, Aug. 3 to 7; Berlin Fair, Marne, Aug. 30 to Sept. 3; Calhoun County Agricultural society, Marshall, Aug. 23 to 28; Cass County Agricultural Fair Assn., Cassopolis, Aug. 8 to 14.

Local Garden Club Receives Honor

A highly gratifying award was made to the Tecumseh Garden club by the State Federation of Garden Clubs at its annual convention in Kalamazoo last week. The honor was bestowed on the local organization for its work in landscaping the grounds of Herrick Memorial hospital.

The convention, held on the campus of Western State College June 9 and 10, was attended by Mrs. Robert McCoy and Miss Mary McWilliams who represented the Tecumseh group. Three hundred fifty-eight delegates were present, representing 88 clubs, and Mrs. Robert Briggs of Jackson was re-elected state president.

It will be of interest to Tecumseh members to know that one of three life memberships given at this meeting was awarded to Miss Clara Snow, a frequent visitor of the local club.

Highlights of the program included an illustrated account of the experiences of student Richard Hooker as "Kalamazoo Ambassador" to Sweden; a lecture by Dr. Klomparens on the "Manufacturing Use of Fungus," especially in the field of antibiotics; and a talk, "More Garden for Less Work" by Mrs. Ann Wood, writer and lecturer from Swarthmore, Pa.

"Boarding" Cows Should Be Sold, Economist Says

Dairy farmers might better give low-producing cows away than keep "boarding" them in face of lower milk prices, advises Clayton Ingerson Asst. county agricultural agent.

Ingerson passes along these tips from C. Ray Hoglund, Michigan State College Agricultural economist, who warns that farmers can expect a 50 cents per hundredweight cut below 1953 milk prices.

Most farms can stand a cushion against this price drop, to the lowest point in 11 years, he says, and management is needed. Better use of quality roughages will help cut per-unit production costs for some. Others will benefit from increasing herd size. The biggest help will be to drop the low-producing cows and bring up the herd average.

Milk prices were good until late 1952 and then the price of cull cattle dropped. Farmers kept the "boarders" to add to the surplus of milk without getting a fair return.

Dairymen would do well to sell the "boarder" cows now for $150 compared with $250 in early 1952, or even give them away, stresses Hoglund. Every cow that doesn't pay for her feed, for the dairyman's labor and for her share of overhead is dipping into the owner's pocket every time she moves to the feed trough.

Three of the top women volunteers of the United States Savings Bonds Program gather at the White House beside a beautiful "flower savings bond" to call attention to the 13th anniversary of the Bond Program. Pictured with the First Lady, Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Honorary Chairman of the National Women's Advisory Committee of the Treasury's Savings Bonds Division, are Mrs. George M. Humphrey, wife of the Secretary of the Treasury and member of the committee, and Mrs. Oscar A. Ahlgren, President of the General Federation of Women's Clubs and chairman of the committee. Through the National Women's Advisory Committee, the three women leaders are urging American women to purchase Savings Bonds regularly, and to retain maturing Series E bonds for additional interest. The flower savings bond was a gift of the Allied Florist Association to the National Women's Advisory Committee.

YOU AND YOUR MONEY

A Penny Saved Is A Penny Earned

By Dr. Lawrence S. Ritter
Assistant Professor of Economics
Michigan State College

"A penny saved is a penny earned!"

This famous quotation is usually attributed to Benjamin Franklin's "Poor Richard's Almanac" and honored accordingly. This is as it should be, for old Ben certainly was a wise one and could coin a phrase with much truth in it.

Some of his lesser known ones undoubtedly should be repeated just as frequently. Such as, "A little house well filled, a little farm well tilled, and a little wife well willed, are great riches." Or "Fish and visiting relatives smell in three days." Or "There are more old drunkards than old doctors." Not to mention, "Love your neighbor; yet don't pull down your hedge."

But to return to the original subject: A penny saved is a penny earned. There is no doubt of this! At six percent compound interest, $100 put in a savings account today will grow to $200 in 12 years and to $400 in 24 years. Money earning six percent compound interest will double every 12 years.

In 120 years that original $100 will have grown to over $102,000! This even beats chain letters as a way of getting rich, and it has it all over working for a living.

There are a couple of hitches to this, of course, as far as you and I are personally concerned. For instance, who has $100 to put in the bank? And second, who can afford to wait around for 120 years? Nothing is perfect in this world, it seems.

And then prices of goods change, too, and it seems as though they always go up and rarely come down.

This poses a problem for the saver. Some people bought war bonds in 1940 for $18.75. In 1950 they got $25 back, but this $25 could buy only as many groceries as about $14 could back in 1940.

They had waited ten years and then couldn't buy as much with the $25 they got back as they could with the original $18.75 they had saved!

If they had bought common stocks or real estate or something else that goes up in price along with the prices of the things they buy, they would have been better off in 1950. But then they would have run the great risk that the things they put their savings into might have gone down in value, and thereby wiped out their savings!

So remember, if you have the money to save, if you can leave it alone and wait for the earning to occur over the years, and if you can find just the right place into which to put your savings, then old Ben was right — a penny saved is a penny earned.

"we've talked long enough, Bill"

This little thrush isn't giving her Galahad the brush. She's a teen who's keen about being a good party line neighbor... and she knows how.

She's hep to the fact other folks would like to talk, too. So she spaces her calls and makes them reasonably brief.

If other teens... and their elders, too... would follow her example, everyone would enjoy faster, better service straight down the party line. Telephone courtesy is as important as any other kind.

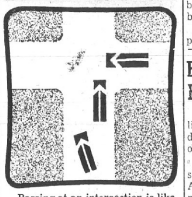
NO. 3 DON'T PASS AT INTERSECTIONS



Passing at an intersection is like the old parlor game of trying to pat your head with one hand, rub your stomach with the other and dance a jig at the same time. It's hard to do because you have to keep your mind on so many things at the same time.

The car you're passing may turn left.

The car you're passing may hide car coming from right.

The car you're passing may hide pedestrian crossing from right.

The car coming from your left may start up.

The car you're passing may dodge left to avoid car on right.

It's smarter to slow down and pass beyond the intersection, or speed up to pass before reaching the intersection.

Janet Bowser And Marvin Ery United In Marriage

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Art Bowser on West Monroe Road was attractive with summer flowers, Saturday, when at 12:30 their daughter, Janet Mae, was united in marriage with Marvin J. Ery, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Ery of Kehoe Road, Clinton.

Only the families of the bride and groom were present when the Rev. Alvin Brazee performed the double-ring service before the fireplace which was banked by pink and white peonies, the mantle being decorated with lighted candelabra.

The bride was very lovely in her gown of heavy, blush pink, satin. It was made with a fitted, hipline bodice, long sleeves and sweetheart neckline. The skirt which was joined to the bodice by a scalloped cording of the satin, fell into a long full train. Her veil, also blush pink, was held by a tiara of rose point lace and orange blossoms and was of finger tip length. She wore a necklace of rhinestones and her flowers were a cluster of pink Demure Rosettes and Pinnochio pompoms which trimmed a white Bible belonging to her aunt, Mrs. Richard Sheehee of Shelby, Ohio.

Madeline Ery, sister of the groom, was Miss Bowser's attendant and her gown was of pale pink satin taffeta, floor length, and made with long fitted bodice, which had a sweetheart neckline. The full skirt had a peplum draped in swallow tail effect and the costume was completed by gauntlet mitts and a tiara shaped headdress which matched the gown. She also wore a rhinestone necklace and clips, a gift of the bride, and carried a crescent bouquet of pale pink carnations accented by fushia maline.

Mr. Ery was attended by the bride's brother, James Bowser, as best man.

Mrs. Bowser's gown was of pink eyelet embroidery and the groom's mother wore navy blue with white dots and her accessories were white. Both had corsages of gardenias.

A family buffet dinner was served by Mrs. Paul Clauda and Mrs. Don Nettleman from a linen covered table where the decorated wedding cake was flanked by lighted tapers in crystal holders. Immediately after dinner the wedding party left for Shelby, Ohio. There an evening reception was given by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Richard Sheehe, for relatives and friends in that area.

A similar reception for Clinton and Tecumseh friends will be given by the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ery, on June 27.

When the new Mr. and Mrs. Ery left for a week's trip through the south, the bride was wearing a dress of nylon print with a blue topper an da corsage from her wedding flowers.

On their return they will reside in a trailer near the Bowser home.

Mrs. Ery is a graduate of Tecumseh high school with the class of 1953 and is employed at Tresco. Mr. Ery, who attended Clinton schools is an employee of the Ford Co. in Manchester.

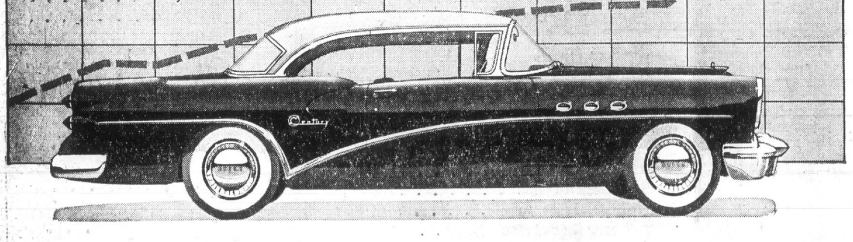
Success Story



---AND A GOOD TIP FOR YOU

WHEN it comes to sales, every car maker aspires to be up at the top of his price class.

Which is only natural. Popularity like that means success.

We know, because for years Buick has held such an envied position — the unquestioned sales leader in its class. And with good reasons in styling, room, power, value.

But today, folks like you have pushed Buick success even beyond such bounds.

Today, the top sales standings of a full generation have been changed.

Today, latest sales figures for the first four months of 1954 reveal this phenomenal fact:

In total national volume, regardless of price class, Buick is outselling all cars in America except two of the so-called "low-price three."

That's a tip too good to pass up.

That's the tip-off that Buick must have the hottest styling of the times and the sweetest performance of the year.

More important, that's the tip-off that Buick prices are well within the reach of more and more people — and that such prices buy a lot more automobile per dollar.

So why not look into the tomorrow-styled Buick that puts you so far ahead today?

Come in, or phone us this week for a demonstration. Then you can judge for yourself that Buick really is the beautiful buy — by far.

Death Wins When You Drive In Wrong Lane

The recent traffic accident in Maryland in which 10 persons lost their lives because one of the two drivers was traveling in the wrong lane is a glaring example of many accidents of that type which could be avoided by obeying the law and using common sense, said State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs in commenting on the state safety commission's current "Share the Road" campaign. Childs is a member of the commission.

"Crossing the yellow line or passing on a hill or curve is just like playing Russian roulette, except that the consequences can be much worse," Childs said. "Only the person who pulls the trigger dies in Russian roulette, but the wrong lane gambler also involves others when he loses.

"Head-on collisions have frightful results and these are accidents due to drivers being where they shouldn't be and need not be — in the wrong lane."

Childs also pointed out that many times careless and negligent drivers are the cause of accidents to others, but are not involved themselves. Failing to give a warning when turning, cutting in too soon after passing and improper passing are some of these causes.

"If drivers just used common sense and common courtesy most of our accidents would be avoided," Childs said. "This includes sharing the road fairly and staying in your own lane. Incidentally, unsafe passing is one of the violations enforcement officers watch for particularly because it causes so many bad smashups. So why not stay alive and stay out of trouble by carefully observing those rules of the road which have been set up for everyone's safety and protection."

Barbara Jean Meyer Is Bride Of Lawrence Young

Two young people from the Raisin Valley neighborhood were united in marriage Saturday evening at the Valley Friends church. Barbara Jean Meyer and Lawrence Ralph Young were married at 8 p. m. in a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Lawrence Cox, pastor of the church.

Peonies and gladioli massed with palms and lighted candelabra made the church a very lovely spot as Mrs. Harold Every played traditional music. She also accompanied Miss Betty Nimrichter and her violin in "A Perfect Day" and "The Lord's Prayer" and Miss Jean Lauenslager as she sang "Always" and "I Love You Truly."

Miss Meyer, given in marriage by her father, wore a bridal gown of satin and Chantilly lace with finger tip illusion veil caught by a lace cap trimmed with orange blossoms. The gown was floor length with a short train and a lace over-skirt in scalloped effect ending in a point in the back. Her cascade bouquet was of white mums and carnations.

The maid of honor was Bonnie Burgess and the bridesmaids were Kathleen Meyer, Barbara's sister, Kathleen Rucsnik, Sylvia Hollis of Northville and Johanna Young, sister of the groom. Their gowns of orchid, blue, aqua, pink and Nile green were of nylon net over taffeta all styled in the same fashion, with floor length skirts, lace midriffs and portrait neck lines. They wore matching headbands and carried cascade bouquets of shasta daizes and carnations.

Susan Butterff, little cousin of the groom from Brilton, as flower girl, wore yellow organdy made in floor length and carried a basket of summer flowers in pastel colors. The ring was carried by Tom Meyer, brother of the bride.

Mr. Young was attended by Fred Feight as best man, while his two brothers, Richard and Philip Young, Jim Winzeler and Ray Jackson, all of Tecumseh were ushers.

Mrs. Meyer, mother of the bride, wore pink lace over taffeta, with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations, while Mrs. Young's dress was of light blue nylon crepe. She also had white accessories and her corsage was of pink carnations.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception for nearly 200 people was held in the social room of the church which was decorated with streamers of white and clusters of wedding bells.

The cake was cut by Mrs. William Meyer of Addison and served by Miss Cloe Ann Meyer of Hillsdale and By Miss Francis McAdam. Miss Lois Tarnagin of Detroit and Miss Margie McKenzie of Mount Morris presided at the punch bowl and the guest book was in charge of Mrs. Ray Jackson.

The newlyweds left for a week in northern Michigan. Mrs. Young wearing a two piece dress of powder blue with white hat, shoes and purse. On their return they will live at Route 1, Tecumseh, where the groom is engaged in farming.

Barbara is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Meyer of 4450 N. Adrian Road and is a graduate of Adrian high school, class of 1952. She has been a student at the University School of Nursing and plans to continue her studies.

Lawrence, the son of Mrs. Lewis Young, graduated from Tecumseh high school in 1951 and is making farming his career.

Guests were present from Fremont, Ohio; Detroit, Jackson, Milan, Bellville, Ypsilanti, Hillsdale and Adrian.

The Silver Lining

Look for the silver lining
Whenever a cloud appears

CONDUCTED BY BOB WARREN

THIS IS ONE WAY TO identify a lost bird. The Steve Maples of Herrick park lost their aqua-colored parakeet. The bird was found in Adrian and the Maples were able to identify it because their small daughter had clipped the secondary feathers in the bird's tail when he had pestered her while she was pasting a few days before he came up missing.

OUR LITTLE GIRLS MURDER the king's English like a bunch of faithful Brooklyn Dodger baseball fans. One of the favorite expressions uttered by those who would cause a grammarian to toss in the book is this one: I liked it so well I keept on diddling it. Then a new one was added the other day when the older girl came home, breathless, to tell about a man she met who spoke with an accident. Them is our girls.

ALL OF US HERE APPRECIATED the comments on last week's paper. Moving to a new spot and the accompanying problems were a bit rough but we put out a paper that we were proud of and we thought every man in the back room deserved a medal for his efforts. Typical of the fine comments heard was this one by Bill Hamaker who said: 'That was a wonderful issue." Coming from a public relations and advertising man, this was music to our ears and very much appreciated.

WATCHING CHARLIE SEITZ viewing the army recruitment posters in the post office window, I asked him if he was thinking of joining up. He said "No, they don't want an old fellow like me." He was just interested in the picture and so was his faithful Airedale who follows Charlie everywhere.

THIS IS A NICE BIT OF retrospect:
Across the fields of yesteryear, he sometimes comes to me,
A little lad, just back from play — the lad I used to be.
He smiles so very wistfully once he has crept within,
I wonder if he hopes to see the man I might have been.

FEEDING A PARKING METER, Jack Hanna dropped a quarter on the sidewalk. I told him to leave it and I would pick it up when I swept, but he said he'll never see the day that he can't bend over to pick up two bits, so I let him have it.

THIS FISH STORY SHOULD END all fish stories. Neville Hart, high school principal, said he returned from his vacaton earlier than he had expected because he was sick of catching so many fish.

THREE OF THE HAPPIEST persons in Lenawee County are Mr. and Mrs. Leet Moyer and Mrs. Madeleine McKee, all of Tecumseh, who were granted their American citizenship papers last week. Our congratulations.

A LITTLE NOTE FROM Frank Buck of Adrian who writes "Re your poem in today's Silver Lining, there are always two ways to look at a thing,

"They said it couldn't be done
So I hopped right to it
And tackled the thing that couldn't be done
And couldn't do it."

Frank adds "This only proves that I read my HERALD."

JUST LIKE IN THE SONG, the cat couldn't stay any longer so the cat came back. A stray cat, fluffy and tawny-colored, was fed by Mrs. Jack Douglas of Jack's Market. The Douglas family had a dog and a cat so the stray was given to a farmer beyond Milan, more than 16 miles away, who promised it a good home. In three days the cat came back to the Douglas home. Feline expert Miss Clara Waldron says the farmer should have buttered the cat's paws. She said as soon as the cat licks its paws, it will remain where it is taken. She says oleomargarine also would have worked.

THE SPIRIT OF YOUTH IS wonderful. I was struck by this thought when I chatted with Tecumseh's new professional man, Dr. A. J. Phelan, Tuesday. Young, enthusiastic, Dr. Phelan is fresh out of medical school and raring to go in Tecumseh which he likes very much. But he has another reason for the light in his eye and the spring in his step. Saturday he will be married and he and his wife are building a new home on Seneca street. The Lining's best wishes go to this fine young couple.

THOUGHT FOR THIS WEEK — Education makes a people easy to lead but difficult to drive; easy to govern but impossible to enslave.

—Lord Brougham

Dawn Patrol Proceeds Go For Radio

Proceeds from the Tecumseh Exchange Club's Dawn Patrol breakfast will be used to buy a mobile transmitter and receiver (two-way radio) for the local fire department.

Russ Garno, club president, announced the choice Tuesday.

The Dawn Patrol and breakfast will be held at Tecumseh Field Sunday, July 4, beginning at 7 p.m. The public is invited.

Commenting on the two-way radio, Cecil Alderdyce, fire chief said: "This will give the department faster and safer fire fighting service in our expanded area and it will speed our contacts with other departments in our mutual aid plan."

Police Chief George Kilbourn said the radio also will be "piped" into police cars and sheriff cars.

The two-way radio will cost $489.

This will make the eighth year that the Exchange Club has sponsored community projects. In past years, the club has bought new uniforms for the high school band, a pneolator for the police department, an inter-communications system for Herrick Memorial hospital, concrete steps for the recreation field, a ceiling projector, lights for the softball diamond and a heater for the Boy Scout cabin.

The club also has contributed funds to the swimming pool, the March of Dimes, Hallowe'en and Christmas parties, the Community fund and the Red Cross.

It also has sponsored a Girl Scout troop for seven years.

Protane Gets Approval To Build Again

The Protane Gas Corporation will be allowed to rebuild on its present location on south Adrian street.

The council Monday night accepted the petition and plans from the company for rebuilding which will be done in accordance with state regulations.

After a discussion with two persons in the audience who turned out for the public hearing, the council voted to accept the plans of the company and to give it the go ahead signal.

Councilmen explained that the company, after its fire last summer, had petitioned the old council for rebuilding and that it was only fair for the company to have a hearing with the new council.

Councilmen also pointed out that safety measures as outlined by the state will be used by the company in rebuilding.

Finally, the council could not see why it should have any part in driving business out of town. Councilmen pointed out that the company was in the location before homes were built in the area and that it should be given a chance to rebuild.

American Citizens

Tecumseh gained three American citizens when Mr. and Mrs. Paul Maves and Mrs. Robert McKee were naturalized at the county court house in Adrian last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Maves were former Canadians and Mrs. McKee came to this country from France.

Granting the trio citizenship, Judge Rex Martin offered congratulations and told the new citizens to do these three things: to vote in every election, to remember the heritage of their native lands, and to be loyal to America.

From the left, the pictures show Mr. and Mrs. Maves and Mrs. McKee.

Survey To Supply City Water To Outlying Areas Approved By Council

City officials will have a survey made to see if water lines can be extended to outlying areas.

Councilmen Monday night authorized Ed Nelson, city manager, to employ Walter Frazier to make a survey of outlying areas.

According to the city manager, there are about two miles of water lines needed in outlying areas. These areas formerly were part of Tecumseh Township but are now part of the City of Tecumseh.

Residents in the areas now are using wells for their water supplies.

These outlying areas under discussion for possible water lines for the most part lie in Tecumseh Acres.

But they also are in other adjoining areas. Roads and streets which will be surveyed include W. Chicago, Occidental, S. Adrian, Shady Lane, Murray Drive, Russell, S. Union and Green.

Fireworks

A display of fireworks will be given on the recreation field Monday night, July 5.

The display, which will begin at dusk, is sponsored this year by the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce.

Glenn Kohler and Harold Easton are in charge of arrangements.

Economic Importance Of Seaway Cited By Prof. F.N. Menefee Of U.M.

The economic importance of the St. Lawrence Seaway to Michigan was cited by Prof. F. N. Menefee who spoke at the Rotary Club Tuesday night.

Prof. Menefee, long an advocate of the seaway and author of a book written about the seaway, is now professor of engineering mechanics at the University of Michigan.

Cailing himself a conservative, Prof. Menefee said the seaway's development will help to make southern Michigan "the garden spot of the world." He said Michigan would progress more during the next two decades than it has during the past 40 years.

Prof. Menefee made it plain that the seaway is closely tied in with industrial steel. It has, he said, a direct economic relationship with the Great Lakes and the reduction of the content of iron ore in the Messabi range in the upper peninsula.

The seaway, he said, will give Michigan industry a new source of iron ore located in Labrador and stock-piled in the Seven Islands in Canada which can be shipped via water all the way to Detroit and other cities.

A fresh supply of iron ore will keep industry from moving out of the Great Lakes area to the eastern seaboard where imported steel is cheaper.

This was the fourth attempt to get a favorable vote on the seaway, he said, but this time it passed and now a St. Lawrence Development Corporation with $105,000,000 capital and a five-man board of directors has been established by the American government. And a St. Lawrence Seaway Authority with a three-man board of directors has been established by the Canadian government. The Canadian lock will be built at Cornwall, Canada, and the American lock will be built at Messina, New York.

Prof. Menefee believes the seaway will pay for itself in 50 years. Tolls for using the locks will be used to defray the costs of construction. He said the American lock could be built in five years, possibly less time.

Recently Prof. Menefee's name as a member of the five-man board of directors to work out final details of the seaway was submitted to President Eisenhower by Sen. George Meader of this Congressional district.

PIT IS OPENED

The pit is owned and operated by Mrs. Luigo Gallo.

2 Local Men Seek State Posts

Two Tecumseh men have filed nominating petitions for the Aug. 3 primary election.

Fent E. N. Thatcher, a Democrat, will run for state senator from the 19th district. Son, Elmer R. Porter of Blissfield, Republican, is the incumbent.

Grenval W. Spangler filed petitions as a Democrat candidate for state representative from Lenawee county.

Rep. Rollo G. Conlin, incumbent, from Tipton, is the Republican candidate.

Those attending from here were John Slick, Warren Filter, Harold Warren, Commander Carson House, Harlan Boyce and Louis Richards.

Auxiliary members attending were Charlotte Boyce, Kathleen Richards and Nina Butler.

Richard Butler of the local post was installed as 6th District commander of the Michigan VFW.

Other state officers elected at the encampment were Leon B. Buer of Grand Rapids as commander of the Michigan VFW.

Delegates also elected Donald M. Draher, of Indian River, senior vice commander; Max C. McCarn, of Mason, junior vice commander; Christie J. Braun, of Lansing, quartermaster; Peter P. Darrow, of Ann Arbor, judge advocate; Dr. William T. McAlonan, of Detroit, surgeon, and the Rev. Marion Majors of Battle Creek, chaplain.

MR. SMITH IMPROVES

Frank K. Smith, who has been a recent medical patient at Herrick Memorial hospital for observation and treatment, has returned to his home and is making satisfactory improvement. His condition was the cause for anxiety for a few days.

Union St., Blvd. Light Will Remain

A petition signed by a number of residents for the removal of a traffic signal light at the Chicago Blvd., Union street intersection was denied by the council Monday night upon the advice of Ed Nelson, city manager.

The city manager told the HERALD that he advised against taking the light out for safety reasons, both from the standpoint of children and motorists.

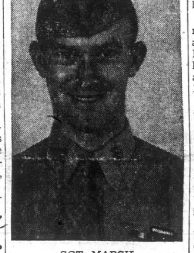
His statement follows:

"Since the discussion regarding the light we have had the state traffic department here to study the problem.

"We found that without the stop light persons crossing Chicago or making a left turn on to the boulevard take dangerous risks cutting into traffic; or they have to wait a long period before it is safe to cross or to make a left turn.

"We also found that children have a better chance to cross Chicago in safety when there is a break in traffic at Union street.

"We, however, will continue to study this problem and we hope we can come up with a solution so that residents in the immediate area will not have too much disturbance."



SGT. MARSH

Graduated from the Non-Commissioned Officers' Leadership School at the Marine Corps Air Station at Cherry Point, N. C., last month was Marine Sgt. William A. Marsh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin F. Marsh of 412½ W. Chicago Blvd., Tecumseh.

Des Ermia's Store Will Be Larger

Contractors are busy completing the renovation of Des Ermia's furniture store which burned last April.

They will be done with their work about July 10, reports Hugh Des Ermia, co-partner.

Saturday the store will hold an auction to sell remaining goods that have been on sale during the past three weeks.

After the contractors leave, the interior will be re-decorated.

When the store is completed it will have 4000 more square feet of display space.

"This will give us space to show a more complete line of furniture and appliances", Mr. Des Ermia said.

GEORGE OSTRUM TAKES OVER TEXACO STATION

George H. Ostrum, formerly of Petersburg, is the new owner of the Texaco service station at 121 N. Evans street.

The station's name has been changed to Ostrum's Texaco Service.

The station has been redecorated and new equipment has been added. It now has five employees.

BURGLARS BREAK IN SCHOOL LAUNDRY

Burglars broke into the new high school and the Acme Laundry Sunday night.

They tried to steal money from a pay phone at the high school but were not successful.

And they took a small amount of cash from a drawer at the laundry.

VFW HOMECOMING BEGINS JUNE 30

The annual homecoming celebration sponsored by the VFW will be held in Tecumseh city park (behind Easton's Friendly Service) beginning Wednesday, June 30. It will last four days and four nights.

The homecoming will feature rides, games, sporting events and concessions.

Is That So!

By Clara Waldron

There is a saying to the effect that nothing is so dead as yesterdays news. But perhaps the remoteness of the yesterdays alters the point of view, for, turning the pages of the more than one hundred published years of the HERALD, they come to life in a surprising fashion.

Seen through the broad perspective of more than a century, the paper falls into three distinct periods. Each is a reflection of the life of its time but even more it is a picture of the personality of the men who were its editors. The periods might be roughly characterized as the literary era, covering the first twenty-five years; the personal, "one big family" forty five years of the Stacys; and the news-conscious, "boost the town," modern age.

Business and advertising have had a conspicious part in each phase. It was not an individual but a group of "public spirited citizens" who put up the cash for the press and printing facilities to start the paper in 1850, and no doubt some of them at least were influenced by a desire to get their wares before the public. A similiar effort had been made as early as 1834, resulting in the "Tecumseh Democrat" which struggled along under many editors and expired in 1845.

The HERALD might well have suffered a like fate had it not been for one man. William Richard was the paper's financial "angel". An evidently successful furniture manufacturer, his other interests included the erection of a business block. There, somewhere on the horth side of Chicago street, east of the railroad, he furnished office space for the paper and it is recorded that he lost nearly $2,000 in backing it, which is public spirit in any man's book.

Most of the men who were technically the editors during this period, and there were many, had been educated and trained in the east and the paper reflected that training. The mast head carried the words—"Devoted to Literature and Science, Progress and Truth, Morality and Religion". The moving spirit back of that lofty slogan was a most remarkable man, who even when his name did not appear is credited with being the paper's editorial "ghost writer".

To say that Benjamin Baxter was a graduate of Dartmouth, a teacher, lawyer, a regent of the University and a state legislator is to give only the dry bones of his portrait. He was more than a scholar and a crusader, though he was both, and he was passionately interested in the natural resources of this region. He literally sank his personal fortune in early attempts to drain the "prairies" now Lenawee's most valuable land.

His editorials reflect these interests. The progress of the projected railroads and the hope they carried for Tecumseh's future, the temperance movement and anti-slavery, education and the interest of agriculture, beside national and world news were discussed in lucid prose that might be a model for today.

One quotation serves to portray the man and the town he loved. "The prosperity of our village," wrote Mr. Baxter," has arisen from no premature exertion or over strained speculation but is the natural development of the wants and resources of the country around".

In 1866 Mr. Richards sold to C. M. Burlingame who published the paper for about eight years and while it lowered its high literary tone slightly during his regime the general form was essentially the same.

It was in 1874 that the HERALD was purchased by a home town boy and adopted a radically different style. Consider Scovel Stacy was a son of the socially important Judge Stacy family, a graduate of the U. of M. and had been practicing law in his father's office. But it was when he became editor of his home town paper that he seemed to find scope for his particular talents.

The paper still had "improving" articles, culled from eastern papers or from the program of farmer's and literary clubs, but there were now increasing numbers of local items. There was also a refreshing mingling of personal comment with the news. "Ye ed." expressed himself on all subjects without bothering to retire to his own column. Informal was the word for Stacy. The page of personal news might well begin with such a line as, "Hot, hot-ter, hottest, Let's go fishin' ", or "Green corn next, cholera morbus

Eagles Give American Flag To Sutton School

In commemoration of Flag Day, June 14, Tecumseh Chief Aerie No. 1563 F.O.E. presented a poster to Sutton School District Six depicting the historic emblems which symbolize colorful chapters of American history, it was announced today by Thomas Gallant, Aerie president.

Presentation of the posters is being made to various schools in the United States by the 1,600 Aeries in the nation as part of an Eagle program "dedicated to a deeper understanding of our American heritage", and is designed to make the youth of the nation more familiar with and appreciative of the events which resulted in a democratic and freedom-loving nation.

Among the emblems depicted on the poster, with a brief underlying explanation of their historic significance, are the Flag of Columbus, Pilgrims' flag, Bunker Hill flag, Betsy Ross flag, John Paul Jones flag, and the Star Spangled Banner of today.

The Eagle poster was presented to Gene Simmons, director, representing the school.

CUSTARD APPOINTED

Robert Custard, 3070 Shady Lane, was appointed to the planning commission by action of the council Monday night.

Extended, Varied City Recreation Program Will Begin Next Monday

Tecumseh's city recreation program will begin next Monday.

Extension of the program to include play areas at Tecumseh Acres and Herrick Park has been announced by Lester Runk, director. These will be in addition to the program at Central School, and are offered in the hope that all the children will have an opportunity to take an active part.

The program at Tecumseh Acres and Herrick Park will be under supervision from 9 to 11:30 a.m. and playground equipment will be available at both places. The Tecumseh Acres Area will be located on the corner of Green Road and Shady Lane. Miss Lorissa Peotter will supervise the Herrick Park area. Mr. Runk has expressed concern that at present he has no one to take over the Tecumseh Acres supervision. Anyone interested in working with play supervision from 9 until 11:30, with pay, should contact Mr. Runk.

The tot lot, so popular with children between four and seven last year, will continue under the direction of Mrs. Victor Lawson, at Central School. This group will be enrolled as a class, meeting each morning from 9:30 to 11:30 Monday through Friday. Their activities will include painting, clay modeling, story hour and games.

In the afternoon Mrs. Lawson will conduct handicraft classes including those crafts offered last year as well as many new and different skills. Miss Lorissa Peotter will organize playground activities in the afternoon at Central, including softball, pingpong, croquet, horseshoes, checkers, volleyball, target games and tennis. An archery range will be set up on the athletic field for those interested in participating.

"Special days" programs in which so many children were interested last year, will be continued, with prize ribbons offered to winners. The close of the six weeks program will feature a giant field day, with contests for all age groups and prizes for all winners.

Swimming at the new pool has proved very popular. All children interested in swimming instruction should register, Friday or Saturday, June 25 and 26, with Mr. Carl Hale at the pool. A minimum age for instruction has been set at five years. If facilities are greatly overtaxed, the minimum age will have to be raised. Mr. Victor Lawson will conduct classes from 9 a.m. to 12 noon Mondays through Fridays.

Tests will be conducted for all swimmers, (excluding non-swimmers), on Monday, June 28, at 10 a.m. to determine classes needed.

Adults interested in swimming instruction are asked to register with Mr. Hale at the pool Friday or Saturday also. If enough interest is indicated an adult class will be included in the instruction program.

Many adults have asked, "Just what does the recreation program have to offer for me?" Mr. Runk replied to this question: "The recreation program can grow as rapidly and in as many directions as there is popular demand. Besides the organized softball games, we have had many requests for horseshoe pits. The recreation department has purchased equipment, and through the efforts of a group

Rain has raised scheduling cain with the Men's Softball League.

Re: Dr. Murray's Letter

Voltaire once wrote "I may not agree with what you have to say, but I will defend unto death your right to say it."

This is how we feel about Dr. Robert Murray's letter to the editor published last week. A lot of folks who have asked why the HERALD printed this letter, including its attack on the HERALD, fail to understand the concept freedom of the press which this newspaper sincerely believes in.

The belief in freedom of the press was the only reason why we gave Dr. Murray the space for his letter. Last week he had his say. Using this same concept of freedom of the press, this week we have our say; so let's analyze some of the points in Dr. Murray's letter.

1. On his first point that some of the responsibility for not educating the public as to the benefits of "this public health measure" must rest with dentists and physicians we agree; then we part company almost completely.

2. Dr. Murray is a man of short memory. True, in our editorial column we did not tell folks how to vote on the issue. We believe a voter has the right to make up his own mind as to how he wants to cast his ballot.

But we did have hundreds of columns of inches of news devoted to developments of the issue and we printed dozens of letters to the editor from those for and from those against. We are not attempting to take any bouquets for this treatment of the news. A newspaper should present both sides, but we are trying to jog Dr. Murray's memory a bit.

3. Of course advertisements were accepted from both sides. What a hew and cry would have gone up had the HERALD refused to accept these advertisements. As to checking the source of the ads we knew who the sources were on both sides. If Dr. Murray only knew how much the material was checked, particularly from the standpoint of the laws that govern newspapers, he would be amazed. But a fuller explanation of this point only would add salt to old wounds.

4. Yes, Tecumseh has changed from a rural to an industrial community and problems of governmental, economic and social changes have come about. But to say that Tecumseh is not a progressive community is without basis in fact. How does Dr. Murray think the new Patterson and the new high schools were built if folks had "repeatedly defeated bond proposals at the polls?"

5. Maybe there is such a group as a citizens' committee referred to by Dr. Murray but we have never heard of it. It would seem that city officials have all they can do at present without having the issue brought up again and so soon. To hear Dr. Murray tell it, he is a local government official. Of course he and his group have the right of petition to bring this to a vote, but it is too early after last March 8 to bring it up again.

6. We do not fully understand why he couples the defeat of the issue last March and the founding of the local chapter of Jaycees. Unless, by implication, he means that Jaycees actively will campaign to try to put the issue over next time.

7. Dr. Murray probably is a very fine dentist but as a public relations man he has a lot to learn. We used to think that "if and when," possibly in a couple of years, the pro group would get off to a lot better start than they did last time. Then Dr. Murray antagonizes most of the town, particularly folks who have been here for years. Unless he changes this approach and stops needling folks, nobody will be voting for the merits of fluoridation. If and when the vote does come up, it will again be a spite vote and probably again will be defeated. Let's stay on the so-called merits of fluoridation and leave out extraneous material.

There's a lot of truth to the beatitude "blessed be the peace makers." Personally, after what a lot of us went through last time, we would just as soon not see the issue ever come up again because we don't think it is worth all the wrangling and dissension it created. But it looks like it may come up again. If it does, let's stick to the real issue and quit antagonizing folks by referring to them as unprogressive just because they are individualistic enough to vote the way they choose.

FAST. How long do you suppose it takes the Federal government to spend its money? Quick idea: In all of fiscal year 1954, expenditures are estimated at something over $70.9 billion. That figures out to about $½ million every 4 minutes. More precisely — in the same time it took Bannister, the British runner to do the mile (3:59:04), the government was spending $538,243.02.

Letters To The Editor

Editor,
The HERALD:

A copy of the following letter has been sent to Mr. Fred W. Timby of the Palo Alto, California, Junior Chamber of Commerce. Our committee would appreciate your publishing it.

Public Health Committee
Palo Alto, California

"Dear Mr. Timby:

"Your request letter to investigate fluoridation here and why Tecumseh voted it out was answered by the losing side of the election. (R. J. Murry, D.D.S., answered being one on the side which was defeated.)

"Now I think it is proper and fitting that we on the winning side should also answer your request.

"I, as chairman of the anti-fluoridation committee, would like to quote from the record.

"First, Dr. Murray is a newcomer to Tecumseh having been here about two years. No one seems to know his background — why he came to Tecumseh or what his interest is in trying to promote this program fluoridation.

"Second, the citizens of Tecumseh have spoken by vote which is a mandate of the people.

"Third, he states in his letter that we the people are not educated. This is a falsehood because a child would have enough sense to know that no community like Tecumseh could have grown in population so fast as we have here. We were progressive in growth in such a short time for this reason.

"Fourth, in my way of thinking we have an intelligent class of good thinking American people. But Dr. Murray does not think so. If he really were sincere in wanting to know why we rejected this program this is the reason. Tecumseh has enjoyed pure undefiled water to drink for 125 years until it was decomposed by sodium fluoride. Of course he would not know this because he has not lived here very long.

"Fifth, he has not only insulted the intellegence of the people of this city but has also insulted the newspaper here because it printed both sides of this controvery. He says in his letter that the newspaper refused to print anything educational about this program fluoridation.

"Now if my mind serves me well I recall at least 20 to 25 ads in the HERALD of this so called education in fact, four full pages before the election.

"Sixth, I have lived here since 1919 and I have never seen a program that disrupted a community like this one did. After the election and up until now we the people, were getting friendly again and had peace and quiet here. Now Dr. Murray has again opened the wound and has thrown a bomb of disruption into this city and its people by his remarks in this letter to the editor in last weeks HERALD.

"He fails to understand that the obligation of American newspapers is to voice the sentiments and battle for the rights of the American people and also that the people are made intelligent and progressive by education of the whole people not merely of a favored few!

"I am sending you a complete clinical report from the Brusch Medical Centre, 831 Massachusetts Ave., Cambridge Mass., which conducted a Healy Allergen Blood Test on 500 children. The centre declares fluoridation a protoplasmic poison. I also am sending you reports by congressmen from Washington, also doctors' reports and court actions from different parts of the U.S. to prevent this hideous un-American liberty destroying program of the poison peddlers.

"I think that anyone who likes this witches brew should go and buy a barrel of I P.P.M. fluoride water and drink till his heart is content and stop making faces in the dark! And not try because they approve of it to cram it down their neighbors' and fellow citizens' throats.

"Surely no Christian would entertain even the thought of putting this lethal poison in his neighbors' drinking water against his will.

"We won this election because God was on our side, believe me. Because the obstacles and the free pour of money to defeat our side was tremendous.

"Do you really want to know the answer Mr. Timby? Ask Dr. Murray to search his soul. I am sure his conscience will inform him.

Yours truly,
Earl H. Bryan

approacheth" or "Awful dusty, dry week for news".

An improvement in the form of the paper drew the comment, "We have blacked our boots, put on a new dicky and a stove pipe hat" and, in answer to a complaint, he explained, "Intelligent compositor omitted word and intelligent proof reader failed to discover omission".

He might well have attended all the weddings in person, judging by their chatty descriptions. They include a feature that probably was not unique with the HERALD, a kind of social blackmail in the form of a published list of all the wedding gifts, down to the last handpainted pin cushion — with the names of the givers. It is to be hoped this was not a Stacy innovation.

He could and did write, and report well. The paper contained much of serious interest but throughout it had a folksy touch that was very popular.

There was not much change in its general style when George Stacy took over the Herald after his brother's death in 1897, following a short period when the paper was managed by their sister, Loana, and a relative Stovel Walker, of Clinton. The brothers wrote with much the same touch and had the same puckish sense of humor. They had another characteristic, a physical one which was common to nearly all the family and is one of the things always remembered about them. There was a congenital malformation of the hands of both men but, as their mother is recorded to have said, "My boys may not have all their fingers but there is nothing wrong with their brains". The HERALD proved she was correct.

George Stacy inaugurated the semi-weekly in 1898 and Mrs. Stacy continued the paper in that form following his death. In 1917 Mrs. Stacy's sister, Mrs. Frank Turner, inherited the paper and Mr. Turner published it for a few years. It was not the same without the brothers but their methods would not have suited the town or the time that followed their regime.

With its sale in 1918 the HERALD entered its third phase. Its editors since that time have been Emil Ahrens, Edwin T. Armstrong and Earl Wickwire, all of whom through various modifications moulded the paper into the news sheet of today.

"A group of ladies have expressed a desire for volleyball, softball, badminton, and archery, so a ladies' class to include these has been scheduled for Wednesday evenings from 7 to 9. Ladies interested in this class will be very welcome.

"Any other activities in which people are interested can be scheduled, if feasible, and anyone interested should contact me.

"With the many varied activities offered by the summer recreation program, it is hoped that all parents and children will be encouraged to take part in a summer of fun."

Katherine Strittmatter And Thomas Corkery Wed

Nuptial high mass was sung by Wallace B. Whiting, at St. Elizabeth Catholic church, Saturday morning when Katherine Alice Strittmatter and Thomas J. Corkery were married by the Rev. Fr. Thomas Collins. He also sang "Ave Maria" and was accompanied by Mrs. Ben Hammack Jr. at the organ.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Strittmatter of Detroit and her sister, Carol Ann, was her maid of honor. The groom, whose parents are Mrs. Roy Brisbin of Tipton and Daniel Corkery of Sand Lake, was attended by Donald Mayes of Tecumseh as best man. Ushers were Richard Colson of Tecumseh and Harold Anderson of Clark's Lake and little Gaye Louise Marburger of Birmingham was flower girl.

Satin with tulle and Chantilly lace formed the waltz length bridal gown and her veil of illusion was caught by a lace and pearl tiara. Miniature orchids and ivy on a white prayer book formed the bride's flowers.

The bridesmaid wore pale pink tulle, with matching headdress and her flowers were pink carnations and delphinium. A colonial bouquet of yellow mums with blue matine was carried by the flower girl who wore sheer white over blue. Both mothers wore navy blue, white accessories and orchid corsages.

After a 1 o'clock wedding breakfast at Bauer Manor, the guests spent a social hour at the Corkery home at Sand Lake and then Mr. and Mrs. Corkery left for a trip as far west as Wisconsin and Iowa.

For the summer, they will live in the Wilson apartment on S. Ottawa and Mr. Corkery will work in the office of the city manager. In the fall he will begin a mortician course at Wayne University.

The bride graduated from the Detroit schools and attended Michigan State College. The groom has been a student at Adrian College and has also attended Michigan State where he took business administration.

BRIDE-ELECT HONORED AT SHOWER FRIDAY

Miss Shirley Teske was happily surprised last Friday evening when she was the recipient of a shower of miscellaneous gifts from a group of 19 friends at the home of Miss Mary Glancy.

Hostesses were Miss Glancy and Mrs. Jerry Eggleston and the surprise came in the form of a treasure hunt on the part of the guest of honor with the gifts as the reward. Charades were also arranged and the prizes won were given to the bride-to-be.

A unique feature of the party were [illegible] in the form of hats made by Mrs. Eggleston for each guest. They were fashioned from the materials left from the gowns of the bridal party and their lovely hues aroused much admiration.

Refreshments were served from a table decorated by garden flowers.

Sally Ann Bale United In Marriage To Walter Glenn

The Tipton Community church was decorated with baskets of peonies and delphinium and lighted candelabra when, at 7:30 p.m., June 12, the Rev. Gordon Blossom, using the double ring ceremony, united in marriage, Sally Ann Bale and Walter Edwin Glenn.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Bale of Tipton and Mr. Glenn is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Glenn of Britton.

Before the ceremony, Miss Melba Belbeck sang "Because" and "O Promise Me," accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Jane Hearolde, and Robert Camburn played traditional music, including the wedding march as the bride entered on the arm of her father and "The Lord's Prayer" during the ceremony.

Miss Bale chose a wedding gown with a fitted bodice of Chantilly lace buttoned down the back and having long sleeves which ended in points over her hands. The skirt of nylon tulle over net and satin had a chapel train and her finger tip veil of nylon illusion was edged with lace and fell from a tiara of seed pearls and rhinestones. She carried a shower bouquet of white rose buds and lilies of the valley with streamers of white satin, and wore an heirloom brooch which had been worn by four generations of her family.

Nancy Owens of Toledo, a cousin of the bride, was her maid of honor and wore orchid net and lace with strapless bodice and lace bolero. The skirt was of taffeta under net and she wore a matching crownless hat of lace and net. Her flowers were pink and yellow daisies and blue delphinium in a shower effect.

William Mark of Clayton attended Mr. Glenn as best man and the ushers were the bride's two brothers, William and Richard Bale and the two brothers of the groom, Frank and Joseph Glenn.

The mothers of both bride and groom wore navy, Mrs. Bale with white accessories, Mrs. Glenn with navy. Both had corsages of red rosette roses.

Mrs. Elwyn Sell registered the 175 guests who gathered in the church social room for the reception. Mrs. Donald Holmes and Mrs. Albert Bailey, sisters of the groom, cut the four tiered wedding cake and were assisted in serving by Mrs. Frank Glenn, Mrs. Joseph Glenn, Mrs. Carl Bartell and Mrs. Douglas Daykin.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Glenn left for a trip of the eastern states, the bride wearing a beige suit with saddle brown accessories. Her corsage was of yellow daisies and delphinium and she wore a string of pearls that was a gift of the groom.

On their return they will live in Britton.

Mrs. Glenn, a graduate of Tecumseh high school with the class of 1952 and trained at the Stautsenberger secretarial school, works in the office of Tecumseh Products. The groom, who is employed at the Auto Parts Inc. in Adrian is a graduate of Britton high and spent two years in the army.

NEW ENGRAVING PROCESS — These pictures and their engravings represent a new process for the HERALD. You might even call them an experiment. The engravings are of plastic instead of the traditional zinc. The process is called scanagraving and the machine used to produce the engravings is made by Fairchild Camera Co.

These pictures are the same that appeared in last week's paper. They show Art Karns of the Tecumseh Products Company moving the linotype from the old Chicago Blvd. location to the HERALD'S new location on Evans street.

THE CUSTOMER INQUIRES

"Can I get my money when I want it?"

The ability of Adrian Federal, as an Insured Savings and Loan Association, to perform the record of paying withdrawals when requested (as shown below) is based upon these significant features:

1. Inherent liquidity provided by the monthly repayment of our mortgage loans.
2. A steady flow of additional funds from folks placing savings with our institution.
3. A basic liquidity provided by our holdings of Cash and U. S. Government Bonds — adequate to meet normal operations.
4. A reserve line of credit at the Federal Home Loan Bank equal to approximately 50% of our savings capital.

Like all financial institutions accepting savings, we reserve the right to request reasonable notice for the protection of all savers in event of economic emergencies. Normally, there is no waiting for your savings. Just present your account book and take your money in any amount up to the total of your account.

Edith J. Powell Bride Of John W. Thomas Saturday

In a candlelight service at the Friends church Saturday evening, Edith Josephine Powell and John William Thomas were married at 7:30. The Rev. Edward Escolme, assisted by the Rev. Alva Thomas, father of the groom, performed the single ring ceremony before a background of palms and baskets of roses and peonies.

Miss Martha Sentila of Adrian sang "Bless This House," "Savior Lead Us" and "Seal Us O Holy Spirit" before the ceremony and Mrs. Amos Wilson was at the organ as the bride entered on the arm of her father. She wore a floor length, long sleeved, dress of embroidered organdy over satin and tulle, with a head piece of roses and lilies of the valley and carried a white Bible decorated with an orchid.

The sister of the bride, Mrs. Kathleen Osburn, was matron of honor, wearing gold satin and net and carrying purple asters, while her college roommate, Martha Louise Pedigo of Westfield, Ind., in mist green taffeta and tulle, with yellow carnations, and Freda Marie Thomas, sister of the groom, in shell pink with pink and blue painted daisies, were bridesmaids.

Joseph Thomas of Anderson, Ind., assisted his brother as best man while John Powell, brother of the bride and Leroy Kittinger of Cleveland were ushers.

Mrs. Powell chose navy blue for her daughter's wedding while Mrs. Thomas wore a dress of navy blue. Both had corsages of red roses.

Barbara Powell, little niece of the bride, was flower girl and she was escorted by Philip VanValkenberg, the bride's nephew, while Rodney Thomas, a nephew of the groom, was ring bearer.

Mr. and Mrs. Raynor VanValkenberg acted as hosts at the reception in the church social rooms after the ceremony and Martha Sentila registered the guests as Sharon Pugh of Onsted cared for the gifts.

Mrs. William Powell cut the three-tiered wedding cake with its cluster of wedding bells and Lois Hartnett of Portsmouth, R. I., Lois Lawson, Ardis Drewyor and Beverly White of Adrian assisted with the serving.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Powell of 316 N. Pearl Street, has completed three years at Cleveland Bible College and will go to Asbury College, Kentucky in the fall for a liberal arts course. The groom, the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Alva Thomas of Mooreland, Ind., has received his A.B. degree from Houghton College at Houghton, N. Y., and a Th. B. degree from Cleveland Bible College. He also will enter Asbury Seminary in the fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas left for a week's tour of the southern states, the bride wearing pink and grey linen and the orchid from her Bible.

Mr. and Mrs. Raynor VanValkenberg entertained Friday evening at a rehearsal dinner, seating 36 guests at a table decorated by a floral centerpiece.

Other pre-nuptial events for the couple included a miscellaneous shower at the Friends church Wednesday evening immediately after midweek prayer meeting when the congregation presented them with many useful gifts.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

No Sale!

Right in front of Granny White's beautiful old house on Maple Avenue there's a brand-new sign: "Antiques. Inquire Within."

Now—don't get excited. Granny explained it all the other night—after we settled down in her parlor, me with my temperate beer, Granny with her tea.

I asked her if she was really going in the antique business. "Oh, no," says Granny, "I wouldn't sell anything. I put that sign up so folks would come in and talk—and look around. If they insist on a price, I tell them some outrageous figure! I guess I just like people," she said.

From where I sit Granny can be excused for her little ruse. She may be in her eighties, but her mind is young—and open. She's the kind of person who's made this town so wonderful. Granny not only likes people—but she respects them and their preferences and opinions. Come to think of it, "liking" and "respecting" mean much the same thing, don't they?

The program closed with the entire group singing, 'God Be With You 'Til We Meet Again," led by Leonard Stark. Myrna Bugbee was the narrator and presented the Whiteds with a book containing the life history. A recording was made of the entire program by Melvin Travis.

Refreshments were served from a table attractively decorated in a color scheme of yellow and white, the centerpiece being a large cake made in the shape of a cross.

Christian Science Services Listed

The vital importance of understanding the inspired Word of the Bible spiritually will be brought out at Christian Science services this Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christian Science" includes the following selection from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"The Scriptures are very sacred. Our aim must be to have them understood spiritually, for only by this understanding can truth be gained . . . It is this spiritual perception of Scripture, which lifts humanity out of disease and death and inspires faith" (547:23-25, 31-32).

From the King James Version of the Bible the following passages will also be read:

"For ever, O Lord, thy word is settled in heaven . . . O how love I thy law! it is my meditation all the day . . . Thy testimonies have I taken as an heritage for ever: for they are the rejoicing of my heart" (Psalms 119:89, 97, 111).

The Golden Text is from Isaiah: "Awake, awake; put on thy strength, O Zion; put on thy beautiful garments, O Jerusalem, the holy city" (52:1).

Expert drivers never pass unless they have time to get well beyond the car they're passing before they have to turn back into the right-hand lane. An oncoming car has to be a long way off.

"Cutting in" on the driver ahead is like threatening to bump into a man holding a cup of coffee in his hand. He wants to move over but he's afraid of spilling it. The driver ahead hates to slam on his brakes for fear of being hit from the rear — he hates to swerve right for fear of hitting a rough shoulder or taking to the ditch.

When passing never turn in front of a car until you can see it in your rear vision mirror.

Farmers' Day Set For July 7

Lenawee county farmers with any problems in agronomy can get answers by a visit to Michigan State College on Wednesday, July 7, suggests County Agricultural Agent Louis Hall.

The college farms will be the scene of a joint Crops and Soils Field Day with tours of research work being done by farm crops-men and soil scientists.

Wagon tours, starting at 9:30 a.m. and lasting all day, will start from the new seed storage warehouse, Mt. Hope and Beaumont roads, a mile south of the campus. Lunch will be served on the grounds and there will be a short program.

Farmers and industry representatives can compare Craig oats with Abegweit, Branch, Clintland and Michigan Experimental 5441. They can see white Genesee, Yorkwin and Cornell 595 wheat, red Seneca and Thorne wheat and two new varieties, Knox from Indiana and Pennoll from Pennsylvania.

Barley varieties, forages, pasture work, seed production, fertilizer placement and chemical weed and disease control will be featured. They can see the benefits of nitrogen sidedressing and high rates of corn planting. The seed warehouse, operated in cooperation with the Michigan Foundation Seed association, will be open for inspection.

Agent Hall notes that this will be a rare chance for farmers to find many farm crops and soil science research and extension men, specialists in many fields, gathered in a group and ready for questions.

CUSTOM NOTE: Twin-Turbine Dynaflow and Safety Power Steering are standard equipment on every Buick ROADMASTER at no extra cost.

It makes you feel like the man you are

You must know, of course, that a fine car is more than merely a means of fine travel.

It is, as the psychologists tell us, an extension of a man's own personality.

It reflects what you feel, what you like, what you are.

So we ask you to take the wheel of a Buick ROADMASTER like the one shown here—for it is, we have found, the automobile chosen more and more by those who are definitely moving ahead in the world.

You will find it a car that fairly breathes success.

From its size and its breadth and the magnificent modernity of its styling, you know it is a car of custom stature—and so does the watching world.

The wondrous windshield is a pride in itself. You don't just see the view—you command it.

You will find it, too, a car of luxurious obedience.

From the moment you ease your foot down on the pedal, you take immediate mastery of the road and of distance.

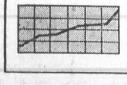
And you know it—in the silken whip of Twin-Turbine Dynaflow, the might of Buick's greatest horsepower, the magic cushioning of coil springs on all four wheels, the exhilarating ease of Buick Safety Power Steering at your hand.

But with all this, you buy with prudence when you buy a ROADMASTER.

For—though it is, and looks, custom production—it sells for the lowest price-per-pound in the fine-car field. And so wise an investment makes you feel even more like the man you are.

Drop in, or phone us this week, and we'll gladly arrange a demonstration.

BUICK SALES ARE SOARING!



Latest figures for the first four months of 1954 show Buick now outselling every other car in America except two of the so-called "low-price three." Better look into Buick if you want the beauty and the buy of the year.

The Silver Lining

Look for the silver lining
Whenever a cloud appears

CONDUCTED BY BOB WARREN

EVER SINCE READING Ring Lardner's "Comb 'Er Wet or Dry" I have gotten a big kick out of yarns heard in a barber shop. This one is a pip. Vic Lawson asked Rhae Henkel if a couple had another youngster. Rhae answered between clips: "I don't know. I haven't had a chance to read the paper and my wife hasn't told me." This repartee of tonsorial specialists reminds me also of the bald chap who dropped in to a clip joint and told his barber "O. K., George, tell me a hair-raising story." It really won't be long now.

DR. C. N. BRODERSEN points out that Charlie Seitz's dog was insulted last week when the Lining called it an Airedale. Charlie's faithful dog, Dr. Brodersen said, is an imported English Otter dog. Well, doggone.

ED HARPER SAYS HE did not begin his garden in February as was reported in IS THAT SO! several weeks ago. But his friend Pete Dermyer did and in spite of the fact that the garden froze twice, Pete is now getting big, crisp cabbages.

MR. AND MRS. PAUL MAVES left this week for an extended tour of Canada. They will be in a caravan of 95 trailers. July 13 Look Magazine will have an article about the Mexican caravan Mr. and Mrs. Maves took part in some time ago.

LUCKILY WE DON'T have many boo-boos in our ads. But one was called to our attention last week. Funeral director Ellsworth Collins chided us for placing his ad above that of one that read "Close-Out—Save $75" and below the "WANTED" of the classified page heading. We hope all merchants will be this good-natured if and when we pull our next boo-boo.

MRS. MILDRED H. RUSSELL of Seattle, Washington, sends a clipping from the Seattle Times that showed Chief Tecumseh of White Swan, Yakima County, and his daughter Kyonia, parading at the Fall City, Wash., celebration. Chief Tecumseh was in the City of Tecumseh (then a village) in 1935 for the Hayden Mill dance.

GRANDMA IS A TEACHER AND A very fine teacher too. She told this story: The professor of physics at Michigan State Normal College gave the fourth graders a lecture on astronomy. He thought the young folks could better understand the lesson if he presented it in simple words. After the lesson the teacher asked one of the students how he liked the lecture. The child replied: "Oh, it was o.k. but I don't think he knows much. He didn't use any big words."

GEORGE MC COMBS called to explain that a lot of folks will be hungry if they go to the Exchange Club breakfast Sunday at 7 p.m. Of course this should have read 7 a.m. in last week's paper. Incidentally, if you want to have a good meal and see a fine bunch of planes and at the same time contribute a bit to a worthy cause, go to the Exchange Club shindig next Sunday and, please, make sure you go at 7 a.m. which means morning.

PITY POOR JIM SPOONER. He was riding around town last week in a little cart pulled by a littler pony. And Jim has all those fine used cars, too, not to mention the new ones.

MY FAMILY, SINGULARLY or collectively is about as subtle as the kick of an army mule. For Father's Day they got me just what I always wanted—a sickle, so I could cut the grass and weeds along the creek's edge. But I foxed 'em. I haven't had time, so I showed our 11-year-old how to use it. Worked, too, until he joined the church softball team and got himself a paper route and now he doesn't have time. Well, the baby has a lot of time, so . . . .

MAYOR OLEY HANNA has a big sense of humor. After he had been given his derby at the Jackson Freedom Festival day held here last Saturday, he cracked: "We think a lot of Jackson. You know it is Tecumseh's biggest suburb."

THIS IS ONE FORTUNE that didn't go to the dogs. It went, instead, partly to the Democratic party. A Paris, Ill., judge ruled that 14 dogs will have to give up their $40,000 inheritance to 45 humans and the Dems. The political party and the 45 cousins of the dead man will split the fortune 50-50. The dogs got nary a bone.

COL. JOHN ANDERSON dropped in to say hello Monday. Formerly a printer's devil on the HERALD, he was ambzed at the new back shop and the new press. Col. Anderson is visiting his mother Mrs. R. K. Anderson. Formerly stationed at Newfoundland, he is now stationed at Richmond, Va.

ACCORDING TO THIS little bit, safety is just a state of mind:

Jaycees Will Sponsor Dale Carnegie Course

A Dale Carnegie course in leadership training will be sponsored locally by the Tecumseh Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The club voted at its dinner meeting last Thursday to sponsor the course which will begin in Sept.

Dave Norton of radio station WABJ explained the course to Jaycees at the dinner meeting.

The course, he said, has a goal of "constant personal improvement."

He said the course has 500,000 graduates in 300 cities and that General Motors Corp. alone has 80,000 graduates.

Not just a course in public speaking, he said the course also teaches skills and techniques in human relations.

Some of the principle things learned in the course, he continued, are how to conserve energy, how to avoid worry, how to conduct conferences and how to handle and deal with people.

Both men and women may enroll in the course.

VOTERS REMINDED TO REGISTER

Unregistered voters are reminded that they have until next Tuesday to register for voting in the Aug. 3 primary election.

Voters may register with Mrs. Naomi Sallows, city clerk, or with Al Merz, Tecumseh Township clerk.

Two Sentenced For Assault

A Tecumseh man was one of two found guilty of assault and battery in justice court last Thursday.

Johnnie Dew, 401 Adrian street, and Leroy Dew of Route 1, Clinton, were charged with the June 8 beating of John R. Rorick, Jr., a farmer near Seneca, after an argument over wages Rorick owed Leroy.

Johnnie was sentenced to pay a fine and costs of $83.60 and placed on probation for 60 days with the first 30 days to be spent in the county jail.

His brother, Leroy, was sentenced to pay a fine and costs of $58.60 and to spend 10 days in jail.

Cars Crash, 8 Injured

Five of eight persons injured in a two-car crash near Onsted Saturday night are improving in Herrick Memorial hospital.

Jerry Jaqua, 23, employed at the Tecumseh Products Company, has a possible neck fracture; his mother Mrs. Nellie Jaqua, 46, severe chest and neck injuries; Mrs. Fred Merx, 48, a fractured pelvis; Mr. Fred Merx, 65, a broken hip; Mrs. Norma Jaqua, 18, a broken leg.

Others injured in the accident and since released from the hospital were Michelle Jaqua, 12, Christina Wallace, also 12, and Dow Jaqua, 48. The Jaquas' son, Gary, 18-months-old, was not hurt.

According to Deputy Edward Kamke of Onsted, the car driven by Merx was struck broadside by the car driven by Dow Jaqua. The accident happened at Stephenson road and Brooks highway, northwest of Onsted.

Mr. Jaqua was given a traffic summons for failure to yield the right of way.

He told officers that he didn't see the Merx car until he was about a car length from the intersection, and then he thought he had time to get across safely.

Mr. Merx told deputies that he didn't see the Jaqua car until it was too late because of high weeds which obstructed his view at the intersection.

Fireworks

An old-fashioned Fourth of July is in store for Tecumseh folks next Monday night.

The Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce has purchased a display of fireworks costing $1,000 which will be set off at the recreation field beginning at dusk.

Glenn Kohler and Harold Easton, members of the board, have been in charge of arrangements.

Three Attend 4-H Meeting

Three Tecumseh area girls attended the 36th annual Michigan 4-H Club week at Michigan State College this week.

Joyce Taylor of Ridgeway and Margaret Knisel and Marjorie Wahl of Britton were among those present.

On the four-day program were talks by Dr. Marie Dye, dean of home economics and D. B. Varner, director of the Michigan Co-operative Extension Service. A candle-lighting ceremony, a 4-H dress revue and a tour of the Oldsmobile plant were other highlights.

Boys' counselors were Charles Kapnick and James Pelham, Lenawee county 4-H club agent. Girls' counselors were Jean Dilworth and Virginia Carr.

TWO WIN PRIZES

Leroy Betzoldt of Macon and Carl Rowe Henkel of Tecumseh won prizes at Charlie Butler's grand opening of the Hoss Tradin' Post under lights last week end.

Betzoldt won $100 in cash and Henkel won $150 on the purchase of a used car.

Dawn Patrol Will Zoom In Sunday

DR. MOHR

NEW DENTIST — Dr. Robert W. Mohr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Mohr, 214 E. Logan, will begin dental practice in Tecumseh about July 15.

Dr. Mohr graduated from the University of Michigan school of dentistry last month. He graduated from Tecumseh High School in 1942 and attended Albion College before going into the service during World War II.

He spent three years in the Pacific Theater of war and returned to Albion College, graduating in 1949 with a bachelor's degree.

After Sept. 1, Marilyn Peddersen, also a graduate of the University of Michigan, will be Dr. Mohr's dental hygienist.

Dr. Mohr will open his office in the Dustin building, corner of Mill and Brown streets.

About 300 planes of all styles, shapes and ages will zoom into Tecumseh Field at the dawn patrol sponsored by the Tecumseh Exchange Club next Sunday.

The first plane is due about 6:30 a.m.; the biggest rush will be about 8 a.m.

Forest Abner, director of publicity for the club, says the planes will drop down at about 40 to 75 miles an hour after stalling out with the pattern of landing 15 to 30 seconds apart for each plane. One will be behind the other at about 700 feet apart.

"This pattern of landing by itself is a great show," he said, "and nobody should miss it."

Planes will be on display for the public.

Pilots from Michigan, Ohio and Indiana are expected to attend.

The club also cordially invites the public to the breakfast which will be served in the hangar beginning at 7 a.m. and will continue most of the morning. About 1200 persons are expected at the breakfast.

Tecumseh Girl Scouts will assist in the dining room.

Proceeds from the day's event will go to buy two-way radio equipment for the Tecumseh Fire department.

Members of the Civil Air Patrol will be on hand to park planes which will be exhibited. And a taxi service will provide transportation from the field to the hangar where the breakfast will be served, rain or shine.

Owen Partridge is general chairman of the event.

DR. PHELAN

NEW DOCTOR — Dr. A. J. Phelan, M.D., will begin practice in Tecumseh July 15.

A native of Down River Detroit, he did his undergraduate work at Wayne University and Notre Dame, earning his doctor of medicine degree from Wayne University in 1949.

For three years he served in the U.S. Navy as a medical officer and he served his internship at Milwaukee County Hospital in Wis. For the past 10 months he has been at Bon Secours Hospital in Grosse Point as a general resident.

His office will be at 102 South Pearl street in the office formerly occupied by the late Dr. H. H. Hammel.

Roy Titley is the new president of the Tecumseh Rotary Club. Succeeding the Rev. B. O. Bashore, Mr. Titley was installed Tuesday night.

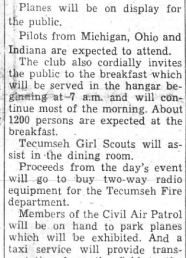
The Rev. Bashore was given a past president's pin by the Rev. E. C. Dickin, rector of St. Peter's Episcopal Church, representing the club.



DR. CRANE

AUTHOR—A review with a personal touch of Dr. Verner W. Crane's new book "Benjamin Franklin and a Rising People" is discussed in "Is That So!" on the first page of section two this week.

Dr. Crane, now a professor of American History at the University of Michigan, was born in Tecumseh and went to Tecumseh High School with the author of the HERALD'S most popular column.

The former Tecumseh lad is acknowledged as the leading contemporary authority on the life and time of Benjamin Franklin.

His new book reviewed this week has been published by Little, Brown and Co.

Patty Berg Thrills 300

Demon golfers in the enthusiastic gallery which followed Patty Berg around the Tecumseh Country Club course last Thursday gleaned many useful hints for future play.

But, golfers or not, the audience got more than its money's worth in watching and listening to that human dynamo. Her wit and good nature equalled her skill.

Three hundred persons watched the demonstration and the play of the foursome which followed. Judy Reynolds, the 19-year-old Kalamazoo girl, who was flown in from Spring Lake after winning the Women's Open there, shared the interest of the audience.

Her youth and charm plus her excellent playing captivated the watchers.

Miss Berg and Miss Reynolds played with Kirk Smith and Leo Bishop and the ladies scored a 39 while the men's tally was 37. Par for the course is 36.

Miss Berg commented to Mr. Bishop on the enthusiasm of the gallery and complimented them on their good manners and atmosphere of fair play.

The sponsoring committee of hospital auxiliary estimates that more than $300 will be realized for their important project of furnishing the children's hospital ward.

When Miss Berg learned the object of the demonstration, her manager said nothing was allowed to interfere with her coming. She even made a cash contribution of her own toward the cause.

Legion Appoints Six Delegates

Delegates for the American Legion state convention which will be held in Grand Rapids July 22, 23 and 24 were appointed at a meeting of Underwood-Orr Post No. 34 last Thursday.

Delegates are Commander Robert Lowe, Louis Schneider, Sr., Lawrence Cote, Lyle M. Grigg, Dermont Poley and Donald Wood.

The post drill team led by H. Anderson will take part in state wide competition with other drill teams July 23.

At the American Legion's 2nd District meeting in Ypsilanti last Thursday night Commander Robert Lowe of the local post was elected Legion Lenawee County Commander for 1954-1955 and Louis Schneider, Sr., was appointed a delegate to represent the 2nd District at the American Legion National Convention which will be held in Washington, D.C., later this summer.

Mary Dibble Meets Ike

Mary Lou Dibble, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merrick Dibble of Whelan Rd., Tipton, was one of two 4-H Club members to present President Eisenhower a bound volume of 4-H Club history while she attended the national 4-H Club camp in the nation's capitol.

A member of 4-H for eight years, Miss Dibble also was on a world panel of 4-H Club members. Her topic was "4-H in Public Affairs."

She was scheduled to relate her experiences at the 4-H Club week at Michigan State College this week.

Active in county, district and state 4-H Club work, her achievements include top honors in every field of 4-H Club work.

While she was in Washington, Miss Dibble, with the 1200 other delegates, were guests of the Senate Committee on Agriculture and Forestry and the House Committee on Agriculture.

They attended a fashion show at Beltsville, Md., Agricultural Research Center where Mrs. Ezra Taft Benson, wife of the Secretary of Agriculture and her daughters modeled gowns of new fabrics, the result of extensive research by the Department of Agriculture and textile manufacturers.

Mary Lou with three other Michigan delegates were guests of Senator Homer Ferguson and Vice President Nixon in Mr. Nixon's office. Many points of interest in the nation's capitol and Maryland were also visited.

5360 Swimmers Have Used New Pool Since It Opened

Five thousand three hundred and sixty swimmers have used the new swimming pool during the first 23 days it has been opened.

This was reported to the recreation board Monday night by Carl Hale, swimming pool manager, who pointed out that this was a 233 daily average. The 5360 count was through last Sunday.

Stores Close

Most Tecumseh stores will be closed Monday, July 5, for the Independence Day observance.

The United Savings Bank and the Tecumseh office of the Adrian Federal Savings & Loan Association also will be closed Monday.

The Tecumseh Post Office will be closed all day Monday but the lobby will be open from 2 to 4 p.m. for the convenience of box holders.

Coach Les Runk, director of the city recreation program, reports that the tennis courts at Central School have been relined and the nets are up ready for tennis players.

He also reported these figures on opening day of the recreation program: handicraft, 24; tot lot, 15; Herrick Park, 33; and Central School, 18.

Coach Runk pointed out that the number using the tot lot program is smaller than last year because several children are taking the beginners' swimming lessons.

All children from four to seven, he said, are welcome to take part in tot lot activities at Central School.

Monday instruction classes in swimming began at the pool with 250 registered for the beginners' group.

Instruction in this class will be given from 9 a.m. to 12 noon Monday through Saturday.

Tonight (Thursday) instruction classes will begin for adults who are just learning to swim.

These classes will be held Monday and Thursday nights from 6:15 to 7:15 but the class will not meet next Monday night because of the observance of July Fourth.

There are 75 intermediates and adults and members of the junior and senior life saving groups enrolled in this course.

Manager Hale points out that the pool is open daily from 2 to 4:45 and from 6:30 to 9:15 p.m. for all age groups.

But it will be closed at 8:45 next Monday night because of the fireworks display on the recreation field.

Soldier Enroute Here Injured In Train Wreck

A young soldier on his way to the Tecumseh area to visit friends was injured in a train wreck that injured 75 other persons last Saturday near Hallam, Nebraska.

Cpl. Ronald McDonnell, 22, a member of the 40th Division, was on his way from California to visit the Lyle Nason family at 9629 Tecumseh-Clinton Rd.

He called the Nasons Saturday night about 9 p.m. to tell them he was all right.

Cpl. McDonnell injured his hand in the wreck but he still tried to help in rescue operations.

Witnesses said "something was dragging" beneath one of the cars of the Rocky Mountain Rocket when the streamliner plunged into a ditch.

Railroad officials said the cause of the wreck had not been determined. One witness said that "something was on fire" when the Rock Island streamliner sped through Hallam.

Railroad spokesmen said that whatever was dragging spread the rails behind the engine, applying a braking action and preventing heavier casualties.

Eleven of the streamliner's passenger cars spilled over a 25-foot embankment.

The train was en route from Denver to Chicago.

Freedom Group Invades City

A caravan of bearded men and pretty women accompanied by a brass band with the help of the Army invaded Tecumseh Saturday morning.

But it was a peaceful mission, including square dancing in front of the Vogue Shop, Roy Titley's Insurance Agency and the Strand Theater.

No even a driving early morning rain dampened the spirits of the invaders who were publicizing the Freedom Festival which will be held for one week in Jackson beginning next Tuesday.

The event will commemorate the first Republican convention held under the oaks in Jackson in 1854.

At the stop here Saturday tickets to the festival were sold and greetings from Mayor James N. House of Jackson were extended to Mayor H. H. Hanna and the City of Tecumseh. Mayor Hanna also was given a derby hat and Mrs. Hanna was given a bonnet, representing the "props" used by the group in publicizing the event.

SMITH AND BISHOP TO PLAY IN MOTOR CITY TOURNAMENT

Kirk Smith, Tecumseh Country Club champion, and Pro Leo Bishop of the same club have been invited to play in the Motor City Open at Meadowbrook Country Club fro July 1 to 4.

The caddies of the Tecumseh club have played in the sectional qualifying meet for the International Junior Chamber of Commerce Award at the Lenawee Country Club. Those who qualified will now go to the state meet at the Jackson Country Club and later the four winners from each state will go to the international.

Out of ten places at the Lenawee meet the Tecumseh caddies took six. In the number-two spot was Val Spangler with an 83. Tied for third and fourth was Ron Gvrtzweiler, with 85. In fifth place was Dave Elliott with 88 and in sixth his brother John with 90.

Tied for 7th and 8th was David Lamkin, with 92 score while that long hitting boy, Dick Baker tied for the 9 and 10 spots with 94.

The Silver Lining

Safety is just a state of mind,
The guy in front can't be behind;
He's got to prove that, come what may,
His is the only right of way.
He doesn't think the sign means STOP;
He doesn't like the traffic cop;
Here is a man of such a breed;
He drives at such a fantastic speed
And glares at walkers, young and old;
He's ruthless, reckless, brazen, bold
What is his name? you'd never guess,
For, such is this bad traffic mess,
That, sad to say, we can't deny,
He may be you — he may be I.
—Selected Youngstown Bulletin.

IT WAS BOUND TO happen. Now the drive-in craze has hit churches and close to home, too. The Napoleon Baptist Church began drive-in services Sunday at the Maule Airport on M-50. The services are planned as a convenience for vacationers as well as home folk to attend church services without having to dress up on warm summer evenings.

OF COURSE IT NEVER happens here but this classic joke of Art Godfrey's always brings a chuckle from newspaper folks: "This fellow took out a subscription to the paper just so he could cancel it."

THIS IS THE CREED of a "culled lady." "When I works, I works easy; when I sits, I sits loose; and when a worries, I goes to sleep."

THOUGHT FOR THIS WEEK — As Independence Day approaches, think on these lines by de Tocqueville:

"I sought for the greatness and genius of America in her commodious harbors and her ample rivers, and it was not there; in the fertile fields and boundless prairies, and it was not there; in her rich mines and her vast commerce, and it was not there. Not until I went into the churches of America and heard her pulpits flame with righteousness, did I understand the secret of her genius and power. America is great because America is good—and if America ever ceases to be good, America will cease to be great."

JAYCEES PLAN PICNIC

The Tecumseh Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold a family picnic at Vineyard Lake Sunday, July 18.

Games and swimming are planned for the afternoon with a dance on the schedule Sunday night.

Families will furnish their own food with the club furnishing soft drinks.

Nearly 800,000 persons were injured in weekend traffic accidents last year.

RECEIVES HONOR

R. S. Moore & Son, Co., of Tecumseh has won nationwide recognition for outstanding services to the public in the 1954 public relations and merchandising contest conducted by the National Retail Lumber Dealers' Association, according to an announcement by Henry J. Munnerlyn, president of NRLDA.

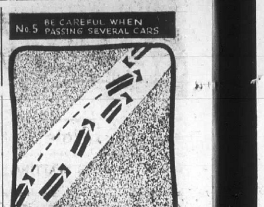
An official certificate of award will be presented to the company through the Michigan Retail Lumber Dealers' Association of which it is a member.

Entries were submitted by retail lumber and building materials dealers from 25 states. The contest judges were the editors of eight building industry publications.

HONORS DALE BOWEN

Twenty-six students from Michigan were among 1,731 students attaining a distinguished rating in their work at Purdue University during the second semester of the 1953-54 academic year, according to the list released by the office of the registrar. To attain this rating, a student must make an average of "5" or better for all work carried during the semester.

Dale J. Bowen Jr., 2541 Occidental Rd., Tecumseh, senior in electrical engineering.



Passing several cars in succession is like trying to jump a mud puddle which may be too big for one jump. Getting a little wet is nothing compared to getting caught by an oncoming car before you complete the pass.

In addition to the triple distance you have to go before you can get back on the safe side of the road there is still another hazard. Any one of the first two drivers ahead of you may also want to pass the car ahead — and pull out right in front of you.

So think twice before passing several cars at a time. When you do, be sure you have plenty of clear distance ahead and use your horn vigorously.

Shirley Teske Is Bride Of Richard S. Whelan

The Tecumseh Presbyterian church was beautifully decorated with formal flower arrangements Saturday evening when Shirley Ann Teske and Richard Spencer Whelan were united in marriage by the Rev. A. Jeschke of Grace Evangelical Lutheran church.

Lime lilies and white delphinium filled the altar vases and hampers of the same flowers with palms and lighted candelabra flanked the altar. White satin bows marked the family pews.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by Miss Mary Glancy as maid of honor and Mrs. Kirk Smith, Mrs. Jerry Eggleston and Miss Betty Moyer were bridesmaids. Larry Hart was Mr. Whelan's best man and Kirk Smith, Douglas Ailesworth and George Ruhl seated the guests. All wore summer tuxedos.

The bride's little niece, Jane Beasley and Amy Jo Kring were flower girls while Douglas Beasley, Miss Teske's nephew was the ring bearer.

Mrs. George Schippers was at the organ and before the ceremony accompanied the Misses Marlys and Evelyn Arnold as they sang "With This Ring" and "At Dawning."

Miss Teske's gown was of Chantilly lace, tulle and satin, the bodice made with short sleeves and a portrait neckline, formed of appliqued lace on pleated net, embroidered with pearls and sequins. The shirt had a pointed overskirt of the lace and ended in a chapel train. With it she wore nylon mitts, a double, fingertip length veil held by a pearl and brilliant tiara and a pearl choker which was the bridegroom's gift. Her flowers were gardenias in a crescent arrangement with stephanotis and green and white ivy.

Net over taffeta in green, orchid, blue and pink fashioned the identical gowns of her attendants. They had full, floor length skirts and strapless bodices of lace and net. Their lace jackets, half hats and mitts matched thier gowns. Miss Glancy, who was in green, carried an arm bouquet of yellow daisies and Mrs. Smith in orchid, Mrs. Eggleston in, blue and Miss Moyer in pink, carried white daisies accented by maline in the darker shades of their dress colors.

The flower girls, in yellow net over taffeta, also had matching half hats and their tiny formal bouquets were of yellow and white daisies.

Both Mrs. Teske and Mrs. Whelan wore street length dresses of lace and net. Mrs. Teske's was Dior blue and her accessories were pink while Mrs. Whelan's entire costume was in dusty pink. They wore similar corsages of Eucharist lilies.

Two hundred and twenty-five guests attended the reception at the Country Club following the ceremony, where they were welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. Lillard Brown Sr. and registered by Mrs. Harold Meade. Punch was served by Mr. and Mrs. LaRue Hart and Mr. and Mrs. Lillard Brown Jr., while the Misses Arnold served the cake and the bride's sisters, Mrs. Ned Lanning and Mrs. Roy Beasley poured coffee.

A green nylon cloth covered the serving table which had a centerpiece of pink roses and gypsophilia in a silver bowl flanked by candles in silver holders. A bridal wreath of gardenias trimmed the tiered wedding cake on a table draped in green organdy looped with pink ribbon.

Miss Jean Conlin of Tipton and Vivian Kurtz of South Bend, Ind., had charge of the gifts.

For her going-away costume, Mrs. Whelan chose a beige summer suit with brown accessories and a corsage of yellow carnations. They left for a trip to northern Michigan and on their return will reside in Tecumseh where the groom will be associated with his father in the farm implement business. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Fay Whelan of 214 E. Kilbuck St., he graduated from Tecumseh High School in 1952 and from Michigan State College with the class of 1954.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Teske of 208 N. Democrat St. and after graduating from Tecumseh High School in 1950, she received her B.S. degree from Michigan State Normal College in 1954.

Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Fay Whelan entertained the wedding party of twelve at a rehearsal dinner at the Clinton Hotel.

June is Dairy month, and you who have freezers will be interested in the studies made on freezing cream. A series of checks done in the Foods Service Laboratory at Michigan State College have shown that whipped cream can be frozen.

Dr. Pearl Aldrich, in charge of the Foods Service Laboratory, explains that sweetened or unsweetened, whipped or unwhipped, leftover 40 per cent cream can be frozen and stored for future use as a topping for salads and desserts.

Drainage from frozen whipped cream is very slight and there seems to be no quality deterioration, says Dr. Aldrich. Frozen unwhipped cream should be completely defrosted (but still cold) for whipping.

You won't want to leave unwhipped cream in the bottle to freeze it, however. Put it in a container which allows for some expansion during freezing.

It is easy to make your own milk shake right at home, say foods specialists at Michigan State College.

Just combine two cups of chocolate milk with one-half cup of vanilla ice cream. Shake is a beverage mixer or beat with rotary egg beater until foamy.

For use on bread and vegetables, butter users get flavor and Vitamin A.

"Please pass the butter" is a familiar phrase around the family dining table.

Homemakes reach often for the butter when preparing meals, too. They add it to vegetables, to those baked Michigan potatoes, to the foods they saute or brown, and to the cakes, pies and cookies they bake.

Mom knows the butter she uses helps her family get their supply of Vitamin A, important for growth and vision and for helping to keep the skin in good condition.

Butter and butter mixes are tops as bread spreads, too. Mrs. Jennie Bruffy, Extension Foods Specialist at Michigan State College, suggests these variations for sandwiches, for hot breads and hot cakes:

For honey butter, mix one-half cup butter (at room temperature) with one-half cup honey and whip until fluffy. Or, you can substitute maple syrup or peanut butter for the honey. Store any unused butter mix in the refrigerator.

The Eagle or the Oyster?

© Fritz Henle—Courtesy Cities Service Company

Now comes the season of the year when the Red, White and Blue is glorified in oratory throughout the land. Platitudes flow. Washington, Lincoln, Franklin, Patrick Henry, and Jefferson are quoted. For speakers bold enough to break with this tradition, we suggest the examination of a speech written by Merle Thorpe, editor of SERVICE Magazine, for the July issue. Theme—"The Eagle or the Oyster?"

For a people . . .
who elect opportunism rather than opportunity, who dream of security rather than success;
who believe political charity is a virtue;
who mock the frugal and plunder the thrifty,
who adopt the rule that if I don't succeed you are to blame, that what you have is as much mine as yours;
who contend that property is a shameful sign of success;
who whimper that failure is the noble cause; well-being is wicked; prudence, out-of-date; sacrifice silly—for such a people a fitting emblem is the Oyster.

For a people . . .
who faced nature in the raw, with privation the rule and hardihood a virtue;
who endured defeat, disease and disaster for a hundred years in order to get a foothold on the Eastern Seaboard, the while with one eye on the interior, a no-man's land, a cockpit for settling international rivalries and private grudges, disputed by wild animals and wilder redmen; who sacrificed thus for a belief in the worth and dignity of the individual; who believed that economic freedom was as important as political freedom;
who substituted "In God We Trust," for the Old World motto "In Government We Trust"; for a nation built by men, who dedicated their lives to achieve the realization of these beliefs,

I give you, fellow citizens—
the Eagle!

SLUYTER ELECTRIC APPLIANCES

Inside The Capitol

By Owen J. "Pat" Cleary, Secretary of State

An accurate barometer of fluctuations in business conditions in Michigan is the work burden of the Department of State.

That Michigan's economic position is sound and experiencing a substantial expansion, is apparent from a recent compilation of records by the various divisions of our department.

The first item of evidence is that collections by our Motor Fuel Tax Section have totaled $35,-894,574 for the first five months of 1954 as compared with $34,589,-203 in the same period of last year, or nearly 4% increase in motor fuel consumption this year.

Aircraft operations also show a substantial increase with collections on aviation fuel tax of $148,936 in the five month period to top the $140,415 realized in the five months of 1953.

Motor vehicles registered through June 15 this year total 2,989,551 as against 2,583,935 on the same date of 1953, an increase of 405,616.

Also reflecting the favorable economic position in Michigan is the continued increase in assets of the 50 state chartered savings and loan offices supervised by our department. As of May 31, 1954, total assets have soared to a new all time high of $236,129,-000. The annual increase of $44,-049,000 established a new record high for the amount of increase in any preceding twelve-month period.

During the first five months of 1953 assets in these mutually owned thrift savings and loan mortgage financing associations increased $12,990,000 as compared to the increase in the same period in 1954 of $17,468,000.

I believe that this favorable trend clearly indicates the public is thrift conscious and is acquiring funds to increase savings investments.

While there are similar increases throughout the non-monetary phases of our operation, these major items alone are proof positive to me of Michigan's continued growth and stability.

What Cows Averaged In '53

Michigan's Dairy Herd Improvement association cows averaged 9,653 pounds of milk during 1953, reports Clayton Ingerson, assistant county agricultural agent. They also averaged 378 pounds of butterfat with a 3.9 test.

This is a gain in milk production from 9,509 in 1952 and 8,525 in 1948 and a butterfat gain from 374 in 1952 and 344 in 1948.

The 1953 summary from Larry Johnson, Michigan State College extension dairyman, showed 44,-070 cows in 2,100 herds in 111 DHIA units. There were 21 local DHIA's that averaged more than 400 pounds of butterfat. Leading groups were Huron No. 1, Shiawassee No. 1, Isabella No. 1, Ingham - Williamston, Clinton - East, Oakland No. 2 and Livingston No. 1.

PYTHIANS HOLD ICE CREAM SOCIAL

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Wood and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hizer were co-chairmen for the ice cream social given by the Pythian Sisters and Knights of Pythias Friday evening. It was held on the lawn of their new hall at Pearl and Pottawatamie streets and the chairmen report that it was a success, especially as a social event.

They served homemade cake and pie as well as ice cream and plan to continue the socials every two weeks for the rest of the summer. The next one will be the evening of July 9 beginning at 4 p.m.

Is That So!

By Clara Waldron

It is not often that publishers like Little Brown and Co. offer a small town weekly a review copy of a new book of history by the "leading contemporary authority" on the subject. But neither is it an everyday occurrence for a small town to produce such an author. So it was on the basis of that honor rather than as a tribute to their erudition that the HERALD staff accepted a copy of "Benjamin Franklin and a Rising People" by Dr. Verner W. Crane.

Only another authority could possibly evaluate the place of this book in its field. We gladly leave that to such an authority and comment only as an awe-struck layman, part of the awe being a hold over from mutual high school days.

Then if was expected, as a matter of course, that the "Crane boys," Ronald and Verner would some day make names for themselves in the academic field. They have done so and this book, and others by "Dr. Verner," are no surprise to us.

"Benajmin Franklin and a Rising People" is not a book for a summer afternoon in a hammock. It is a scholarly history for historians but that does not mean it may not be read with a pleasure and profit by any American who has an interest in the forces that produced his country.

It is, of course, not intended to be read as a "life" of Franklin in the ordinary term but rather as a portrayal of the contributions he made to the progress of a "Rising People." Yet the reader is left with a vividly-real picture of the man himself.

The author is so completely informed of every detail of Franklin's life and work and of the world, in which he moved, that such a picture is almost inevitable.

One of the outstanding impressions left by the book is its complete, meticulous, documentation, and the painstaking research that have gone into its making. It is a specialized undertaking, of course, and yet it takes in the broad field of our early history.

In fact it is the kind of a book his friends would expect the author to produce, scholarly, but with a spark of humor which makes it very readable.

In his introduction, Dr. Crane says that Franklin's forbears were "admirable types of . . . the middling folk of the colonies." Did this fact have a bearing, perhaps an unconscious one, on his choice of a subject for his life study? The Cranes of Tecumseh were also admirable types of "middling folk." Most admirable, as the memories of many of the town's older citizens can attest. For two generations before Drs. Ronald and Verner, the Cranes had been carpenters, par excellence, to the village and its surrounding country. Solomon Crane and his son Theodore built during one of the more opulent periods in the town's history. They had choice woods to use and they used them like artists. They did much of the building in the expanding 1860's and 70's. Solomon was the contractor for the Presbyterian church and other large buildings and many of the spacious homes that Theodore constructed still stand as monuments to the skill and soundness of his workmanship.

This latest generation of Crane "middling folk" builds with words, with ideas, with facts, carefully fitted and evaluted, but the integrity of the workmanship is the same.

JACK PATTERSON GETS DeKALB AWARD

Jack Patterson, graduate, Britton-Macon Rural Agricultural School and President of the FFA for two consecutive years, was awarded the DeKalb Agricultural Achievement Award for outstanding scholarship, leadership, citizenship and agricultural accomplishments.

This award is presented by the DeKalb Agricultural Association to an outstanding senior studying vocational agriculture, and selected by his junior class members and vocational agriculture teacher.

Jack has shown outstanding leadership in guiding his newly organized FFA Chapter through its first two years, his advisors said.

State Police Are Ready For Holiday Rush

With the heaviest Fourth of July traffic in history expected this weekend, State Police operations have been geared to concentrate patrol coverage in the areas of congestion and high accident rates and pass days of all officers have been canceled to provide maximum enforcement strength.

"But even with the best efforts of every enforcement agency, we can still expect a heavy accident toll unless drivers cooperate by doing the very best job they know how at the wheel," said Commissioner Joseph A. Childs. "Traffic will be heavy and driving much more hazardous."

Childs pointed out that 30 persons lost their lives in highway accidents over the threeday Fourth of July weekend last year as compared to 20 during the fourday Memorial holiday weekend this year. The average for each summer weekend last year was 22.1 deaths.

"Our Memorial holiday record indicated improvement and showed that when they wanted to drivers can do better," Childs stated. "It is our hope they make an even greater effort this weekend to stay alive."

Childs urged drivers to plan their trips so that they do not have to rush, use extreme care in passing and "watch out for the other driver, because he can cause an accident, too."

"The only way to avoid an accident," he said, "is by driving as if your life depended upon it, because it does."

All State Police enlisted personnel, including detectives and others on special assignment, will be on duty, which will mean a 20 per cent increase in patrol strength over the weekend.

Vice President Will Come To Jackson July 6

Jackson, Michigan—Vice President Richard M. Nixon will speak here July 6, the third day of Jackson's week-long Freedom Festival.

The Vice President will appear as a representative of President Eisenhower who was unable to accept an invitation to speak on the "Under The Oaks Day" of the Centennial observance of the founding of the Republican Party here on July 6, 1854.

Mr. Nixon will be among several distinguished guests to visit Jackson during festival week.

Dr. Ralph Bunche, 1950 Nobel Peace Prize winner and chairman of the United Nations Trusteeship Committee, will speak on "International Good Neighbor Day," July 9, which is the sixth day of the festival.

The week of celebration will begin July 4 with "Freedom of Religion Day." Dr. Louis Evans, minister at large of the board of national missions of the Presbyterian Church of U.S.A., will speak.

Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, first Secretary of the Department of Health, Welfare and Education, will address Jacksonians and "Freedom Festival visitors on "Agriculture and Education Day," July 8.

Visitors to Jackson during the festival will see a sight already familiar to residents here — the world's largest sign. The sign, spelling out the words "Freedom Festival" is painted down 1,551 feet of Jackson's main street.

Another highlight of festival week will be the nightly presentation of a mammoth historical pageant by a cast of 1,700.

Christian Science Services Listed

The spiritual basis of man's true independence will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "God."

Man's God-given freedom will be brought out in reading from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, including the following passage (227:14-15, 24-26):

"Discerning the rights of man, we cannot fail to foresee the doom of all oppression. Slavery is not the legitimate state of man . . . Citizens of the world, accept the 'glorious liberty of the children of God,' and be free! This is your divine right."

Among the passages to be read from the King James Version of the Bible is the following (Isaiah 33:22): "For the Lord is our judge, the Lord is our lawgiver, the Lord is our King; he will save us."

Attributes Of Leadership

These attributes of leadership are listed by civil defense officials:

a. Knowledge: A good leader knows the problems, the resources available, and the many elements which are concerned in rescue and relief operations.

b. Good common sense: The ability and capacity to think clearly and make sound decisions, under conditions of great emotional stress, are an essential faculty of leadership. And as good common sense is necessary, delusions of grandeur is an extreme liability.

c. Courage: Perhaps this might be better described as emotional stability. Fear is inherent in the human race; but under the ordeal of emotional stress imposed by a great catastrophe, those with courage overcome fear and go on to carry out their tasks. There is a story of two civil war soldiers, one a giant and without fear, and the other a small fellow who had been henpecked all of his life. Said the big one: "I ain't afraid of anything. Even a cannon ball couldn't knock me over". Said the little fellow: "I'm scared to death, but I'm with you". Which one had the greater courage?

d. Fellowship: A good leader enjoys the fellowship of his group. He is void of arrogance, and is humble in his position. He leads by example, and does not ask his party to do anything he would not do himself.

e. Character: There is no more necessary attribute of leadership than moral character. This begets respect and confidence.

f. Initiative: Disaster operations would present so many unforeseen problems that it would require the highest development of initiative to meet them.

g. Aggressiveness: In disaster operations, the leader of any group must be aggressive to the utmost. The saving of life and property could not wait. Aggressiveness requires good physical condition, the capacity and the will to endure hardship, work hard and go without food, water and sleep for long periods.

Knowledge, common sense, courage, fellowship, character, initiative, and aggressiveness are some mighty fine traits. They not only are good in civil defense work. They are vital to any endeavor.

Are You A Heel At The Wheel?

Are you a heel at the wheel?

The National Safety Council, which is coordinating a nationwide Fourth of July safety campaign, holds up six mirrors. If you can see yourself in any of them, then be prepared to become a holiday statistic.

THE ME-FIRSTER — this is the selfish competitive character who must be first away from the traffic light, can't stand to have anyone pass him, and risks the life of anyone who gets in his way.

THE BIG I — this is the fellow who is too big for the rules. Others can obey the law and a code of decent and courteous behavior, but not this self-inflated big shot. He's above all that.
